The Big Sky Conference Championship returns to the Phoenix area for the 13th straight season, and plays at the Ocotillo Golf Resort for the seventh straight season.

Ocotillo Golf Resort will serve as the host course for the 22nd women's golf championship.

The 27-hole resort was designed by Ted Robinson and opened in 1986. It is recognized as one of the Top 50 Resorts by Golf World and a 4 1/2 star golf course by Golf Digest.

Ocotillo is not a desert-style course like so many in the Phoenix Valley. According to the official Web site, the course offers "lush fairways and cascading waterfalls." Water comes into play on nearly every hole, and the course features more than 100 sand bunkers.

The Big Sky women will play the blue and white courses during the 54-hole tournament.

Idaho Seeks First Big Sky Title

It's been nearly 20 years since the Idaho Vandals last played in a Big Sky Women's Golf Championship.

After forays in the Big West and WAC Conferences, the Vandals are back, hoping to take care of unfinished business.

Lisa Johnson's squad enters the 2015 Big Sky Conference Women's Golf Championship at the Ocotillo Golf Resort as the favorite to win this year's title. The Vandals figure to receive stiff competition from defending champion Portland State, as well as Southern Utah, Montana, Sacramento State and Northern Arizona.

Idaho is led by senior Leilanie Kim, the 2014 WAC medalist. Kim led the Big Sky with an average of 73.55 strokes per round. As a unit, the deep Vandal club averaged 299.48 strokes per round, the only Big Sky team to break a 300 average. Kaitlyn Oster averages 74.62 strokes per round, which ranks third in the Big Sky. Kristin Strankman averages 75.59 strokes per round, which ranks fourth.

Portland State is seeking their eighth Big Sky Championship. The Vikings averaged 305.19 strokes per round. The Vikings are led by reigning Big Sky Player of the Year and 2014 league medalist A Ram Choi. The Surrey, B.C. native is gunning to become the first player in league history to repeat as medalist, and just the third to win the tournament twice.

Northern Arizona, which has won, seven Big Sky championships, has played well this spring. The Lumberjacks averaged 302.35 strokes per round in the spring.

GOLF WEEK RANKINGS

| | |
|--------------------|-----|
| Idaho | 88 |
| Portland State | 126 |
| Northern Arizona | 131 |
| Montana | 139 |
| Sacramento State | 142 |
| Southern Utah | 162 |
| Montana State | 177 |
| Weber State | 186 |
| Northern Colorado | 189 |
| Eastern Washington | 199 |
| North Dakota | 239 |
| Idaho State | 256 |

Montana features a lineup capable of going low as it proved when it record and 896 at a tournament last fall. Sophomore Barbora Bakova and senior Tara Green both figure to be in the hunt for medalist honors.

Southern Utah and Sacramento State are also teams to watch.

The Thunderbirds tied for third last year, and four golfers are back. Sophomore Taylor Viquelia finished second a year ago, while senior Monica Jung was ninth.

The Hornets finished second last season. Senior Sagee Palavivatana has finished in the top 20 twice at conference. Junior Rockelle Sande tied for fourth last year.

Montana State also appears to be peaking at the right time, and could be a darkhorse. The Bobcats beat eight Big Sky teams at the Wyoming Desert Classic, and were just three strokes behind Idaho. Katie Greear tied for fourth at last year's championship. Janelle Reali tied for sixth.

The 54-hole tournament begins Sunday at 6:30 a.m. Pacific. The final round is Tuesday starting at 6:30 a.m. Pacific.
