The NCAA has developed a new ranking system to replace the RPI as the primary sorting tool for evaluating teams during the Division I men's basketball season. The new ranking system was approved in late July after months of consultation with the Division I Men's Basketball Committee, the National Association of Basketball Coaches, top basketball analytics experts and Google Cloud Professional Services.

The NCAA Evaluation Tool, which will be known as the NET, relies on game results, strength of schedule, game location, scoring margin, net offensive and defensive efficiency, and the quality of wins and losses. To make sense of team performance data, late-season games (including from the NCAA tournament) were used as test sets to develop a ranking model leveraging machine learning techniques. The model, which used team performance data to predict the outcome of games in test sets, was optimized until it was as accurate as possible. The resulting model is the one that will be used as the NET going forward.

The NET was built to create a ranking system that was as accurate as possible while also evaluating team performance fairly. To ensure fairness, certain types of data were omitted from the model. Of key importance, game date and order were omitted to give equal importance to both early and late-season games. In addition, a cap of 10 points was applied to the winning margin to prevent rankings from encouraging unsportsmanlike play, such as needlessly running up the score in a game where the outcome was certain.

OGDEN, Utah (October 18, 2018) – After sweeping the Big Sky regular season and tournament titles in 2017-18, Montana has been tabbed an overwhelming favorite to repeat as conference champions in the league's preseason coaches' and media polls.

Coaches could not vote for their own team while the media – made up of the league's sports information directors and Big Sky media members – could vote for all 11 teams.

Montana collected 10 first-place votes and 100 points in the coaches' poll while earning 33 of 35 first-place votes in the media poll to tally 383 points. The Grizzlies return over 85 percent of their scoring from last season's NCAA Tournament squad that posted a 26-8 record and a 16-2 mark in the Big Sky Conference.

Montana welcomes back four senior starters including three All-Big Sky honorees from a season ago. Highlighting Montana's experienced squad is senior guard Ahmaad Rorie, the Big Sky Preseason MVP, who averaged 17.2 points, 3.7 assists and 1.2 steals per game to be selected to the All-Big Sky First Team in his junior campaign. The Grizzlies and fifth-year head coach Travis DeCuire will also rely heavily on another preseason all-conference pick in senior guard Michael Oguine (All-Big Sky Second Team) as well as senior post Jamar Akoh (All-Big Sky Third Team) and senior guard Bobby Moorehead.

Weber State came in second in both the coaches' and media polls. The Wildcats collected one first-place vote and 90 points from the coaches while totaling 346 points and two first-place nods by the media.

Under the Big Sky's all-time winningest head coach Randy Rahe (248 wins), the Wildcats return three starters off last season's 20-11 squad that finished in a tie for third in the regular season standings with a 13-5 record. Junior guard Jerrick Harding, a preseason all-conference selection, ranked second in the league last season with 22.0 points per game to be named a unanimous All-Big Sky First Team honoree. Weber State will also look to senior forwards Zach Braxton (All-Big Sky Third Team) and Brekkott Chapman to return the Wildcats to the postseason in 2018-19.

Capturing the league's first postseason title by winning the CollegeInsider.com Tournament (CIT) last season, Northern Colorado was voted third in both polls. The Bears totaled 70 points from the coaches while tallying 261 points in the media poll. In just his second season, Jeff Linder guided the Bears to a school-record 26 wins while finishing fifth in the league. A Big Sky Preseason All-Conference pick, senior guard Jordan Davis looks to lead the Bears to another postseason appearance after falling just short to top seed Montana in overtime in the Big Sky semifinals last season, 91-89.

Eastern Washington was tabbed fourth with 63 points in the coaches' poll and 261 points by the media. The Big Sky Championship runners-up return four starters for the 2018-19 campaign, but will have to look for someone to step into the leading scorer role after losing last season's Big Sky MVP Bogdan Bliznyuk to graduation. The Eagles posted a 20-15 record under first-year head coach Shantay Legans while tying for third in the conference to appear in the College Basketball Invitational.

Portland State (55 points) edged out Montana State (53) and Southern Utah (53) for fifth place in the coaches' poll while Idaho State closely followed with 50 points for eighth. The Vikings posted the best non-conference record across the conference last year with a 10-3 mark before finishing with a 20-14 overall record and an appearance in the CIT.

Montana State senior guard Tyler Hall, a Big Sky preseason selection, is one of four returning starters for the Bobcats. Hall enters his senior season ranked 11th on the Big Sky career scoring list with 1,861 points after earning second team honors from the Big Sky last season.

Rounding out the coaches poll was Idaho (34), Sacramento State (27) and Northern Arizona (10).

In the media poll, Montana State came in fifth with 194 points while Idaho totaled 192 for sixth. Portland State fell in closely behind with 189 points for seventh. Idaho State (176), Southern Utah (128), Sacramento State (115) and Northern Arizona (46) completed the poll.

OGDEN, Utah (October 17, 2018) – After leading Montana to regular season and tournament titles during his junior campaign, guard Ahmaad Rorie has been named the Big Sky Men's Basketball Preseason MVP as one of six Preseason All-Big Sky selections as voted on by the conference's head coaches, sports information directors and Big Sky media members. Coaches were allowed to vote for their own players.

Rorie is joined on the guard-heavy preseason team by fellow Montana senior guard Michael Oguine, Weber State junior guard Jerrick Harding, Montana State senior guard Tyler Hall, Northern Colorado senior guard Jordan Davis and Portland State sophomore guard Holland Woods.

This is the third-straight year the Big Sky's preseason all-conference team has been made up primarily of guards.

An All-Big Sky First Team honoree a season ago, Rorie earned a spot on his second-straight preseason team after finishing seventh in the league in scoring last season with 17.2 points per game and ranking third in assists (3.7) and eighth in steals (1.2). He also came in fourth with a 1.9 assist-to-turnover ratio and an 85.0 free throw percentage.

Rorie was named a Big Sky All-Tournament Team selection as he helped the top-seeded Grizzlies earn a NCAA Tournament berth by claiming the Big Sky Championship, finishing the season with a 26-8 overall record and 16-2 conference mark. He also captured NABC All-District 6 First Team honors.

Named the Big Sky Tournament MVP, Oguine averaged 15.8 points (11th in Big Sky) while ranking fifth in the league with 1.4 steals per game to earn All-Big Sky Second Team and the recognition of Big Sky Defensive Player of the Year.

Harding is the lone unanimous All-Big Sky First Team recipient returning from last season after averaging 22.0 points per game to rank second in the Big Sky as a sophomore. He enters the season with 979 career points, the most points ever by a Weber State player in their first two seasons.

A NABC All-District 6 First Team selection, Harding scored a league-high 46 points in an overtime victory over Montana State in the regular season finale last season to tie for 10th in the league's single-game scoring list and the most by a Big Sky player since 1993. Harding ranked as one of the top-shooting guards last season, hitting 88.2 percent from the charity stripe (3rd in Big Sky), 53.0 percent from the field (9th) and 42.5 percent from behind the arc (8th).

Last season's preseason MVP, Hall was named to the preseason team for the third-straight season after garnering All-Big Sky Second Team honors in 2017-18. Hall enters his senior season ranked 11th on the Big Sky career scoring list with 1,861 points and second in three-pointers made with 315.

Hall ranked sixth in the league with 17.5 points as a junior while topping the Big Sky with a 90.7 free throw percentage and ranking second with 3.2 three-pointers per contest.

Davis earned preseason all-conference honors for the second consecutive year after collecting All-Big Sky Third Team accolades while averaging 16.3 points for 10th in the league last season. Davis was named a Big Sky All-Tournament Team honoree while also guiding the Bears to the CollegenInsider.com Tournament title with a 26-12 record to claim the Big Sky's first postseason championship.

Woods rounds out the preseason team after earning Big Sky Freshman of the Year honors and leading the league with 5.6 assists per game a season ago. He recorded 10 or more assists on four occasions, ranking second in the Big Sky with a 2.2 assist-to-turnover ratio. Woods averaged 10.5 points per outing and came in fourth with an average of 1.5 steals.
