

2009-10 CAA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The start of the college basketball season is just a few weeks away and we are excited about the prospects for another strong year in the CAA. The conference is celebrating its 25th Anniversary in 2009-10, and along with remembering the great moments from the past, we're hoping this season will provide plenty of new highlights.

QUICK HITS FOR 2009-10:

- Eleven players who earned All-CAA honors are back, including 2009 CAA Player of the Year Gabriela Marginean of Drexel. The CAA teams also return 75% of their starters from a year ago.
- Two of the top three scorers in the nation return in the CAA. James Madison guard Dawn Evans and Drexel forward Garbiela Marginean finished the 2008-09 season averaging 23.8 and 23.3 points per game, respectively.
- The CAA returns 16 of the season's top 20 scorers and 14 of the top 20 rebounders. The conference also welcomes back five of the top six leaders in assists and steals.
- For the second time in three years, multiple CAA teams earned berths in the NCAA Women's Basketball Championship. Drexel earned the league's automatic bid and VCU received an at-large bid. With James Madison in the Women's National Invitational Tournament, the CAA has had at least three teams in postseason action for four consecutive seasons.
- CAA women's basketball saw over 20 games broadcast on television in 2008-09. All 12 teams made at least one appearance and the same is expected for the 2009-10 schedule.

This prospectus contains a breakdown of all 12 CAA teams and information is current as of September 4, 2009, but is subject to change.

CAA Basketball Media Day will be held on Tuesday, October 20 at the ESPNZone in Washington, D.C. We hope you're able to join us.

If there is any other information that you need, feel free to contact the CAA office at any time.
