Cascade Collegiate Conference Notes

LA GRANDE, Ore. - It's futbol time for much of the CCC as a number of schools open up the 2014 season this week.

Defending CCC and NAIA champion Concordia will be in Medford, Ore. for a pair of neutral-site games against Marymount and The Master's, who will also play Southern Oregon.

Corban visits Northern California for matches against Holy Names and William Jessup while Oregon Tech will be in the desert to take on Antelope Valley and Arizona Christian in Lancaster, Calif.

Northwest and Eastern Oregon also swing through California in early season play.

CCC Women's Soccer - 2014

Around The Cascade Conference

College of Idaho - None Provided.

Concordia - Concordia, the defending NAIA national champions, will make its season debut on Thursday in a neutral site game against Marymount University as part of the SOU Opening Gala. The Cavaliers continue its schedule on Saturday down in Medford, Ore. against The Master's College. Outscoring the Mustangs 11-1, Concordia is 3-0 all-time against The Master's College. Thursday's tilt will be the first ever matchup against Marymount.

Corban - After two great scrimmages vs. Chemeketa CC and the Corban alumnae last week, the Corban women's soccer team left Salem on Tuesday morning, headed for central California for the first two matches of its season. The Warriors open the 2014 campaign by competing in eight-straight road games before returning in mid-September for their home opener.

Eastern Oregon - EOU soccer opens up its season on Sunday, Aug. 24th when they travel to California to take on Cal State San Marcos.

Evergreen - The Geoducks opened up the 2014 campaign with a 4-1 win over visiting UBC Okanagan. Transfer Kenzie Phillips led the green and white with a pair of goals while keeper Kyla Kitts recorded 14 saves, which ties for fifth on the list of most saves in school history.

Northwest - The NU women hit the road this week for two games in Santa Barbara on the campus of Westmont College. They will play two GSAC opponents in Biola on Thursday and then host Westmont on Saturday in non-conference play.

Northwest Christian - When the Beacons take to the pitch for the first time next week, they will be fueled by nine returning players and eight newcomers. With the addition of three players from Solano Community College, NCU now has five Falcon alumni on the roster.

Oregon Tech - Tech's women's soccer squad opens play in Lancaster, Calif. this Friday and Saturday with games versus University Antelope Valley and Arizona Christian University.

Southern Oregon - Southern Oregon brought back 19 players and lost just six, but all six were starters and four of them started for at least four years. With the depth chart unclogged, the Raiders will have a new look in head coach Jenni Rosenberg's first full season, which starts Saturday against Marymount California University.

Warner Pacific - None Provided
