The Cascade Collegiate Conference Championships

Concordia secured both the men's and women's CCC Golf Championships presented by U.S. Bank early this week. For the women (338-328-325—991), it was CU's eighth straight conference title. Concordia's Kelsey Whiles earned the individual medal for the tournament and was named Player of the Year.

On the men's side, it was the second consecutive title for Concordia who finished the tournament in record fashion setting an all-time low of 870 strokes. Concordia's Ryan Melnychuk received the individual medal for the tournament while Corban's Kade Crossland held out for the Player of the Year honors.

Both Concordia teams will now turn their attention to the NAIA tournament after earning the automatic bids,

Notes From Around the Cascade Conference

College of Idaho – None submitted

Concordia – None submitted

Corban – MGOLF: Kade Crossland garnered the CCC Player of the Year honors thanks to his CCC scoring average of 71.7. The Warriors finished in second place overall as a team, just beating out OIT and Warner Pacific by one stroke thanks to David Patterson's 40' birdie putt on the 18th and final green of the tournament.

WGOLF: Brooke Spencer collected All-Conference accolades for Corban as one of the top-seven golfers in the CCC. Corban finished in fourth place overall as a team at the CCC Championships.

Northwest Christian – None submitted

Oregon Tech – Both the Oregon Tech men's and women's golf teams closed out their season with a third place showing at this week's Cascade Collegiate Conference championships. Josh Whitley led the Owls with a seventh place finish overall with Janelle Ferlan placing seventh overall on the women's side. Jeff Corkill, in his second season leading both squads, earned CCC Men's Coach of the Year accolades.

Warner Pacific – MGOLF: The Knight men placed in a tie for 3rd at the CCC Championship Tournament. Royce Rosenthal was the top WP individual in 7th place overall. Freshman Glenn Linder shot a career best 71 in round three, and jumped into 9th place overall – also a career best.

WGOLF: Taylor Akamine and Scotti Jo Helmick posted top 10 finishes at the CCC Championship Tournament. The Knights as a team placed 5th. Helmick finished her four-year career at Warner Pacific with two tournament medals and 20 top ten finishes.
