CASCADE COLLEGIATE CONFERENCE

WELCOME TO THE 2023 CASCADE COLLEGE CONFERENCE CROSS COUNTRY CHAMPIONSHIPS

On behalf of the Cascade Collegiate Conference and our participating schools, welcome to the 2023 Men's and Women's Cross Country Championships.

Like the expansive mountain range from which we draw our name (Cascade) — which runs from northern California to southern British Columbia — the CCC has evolved into one of the largest conferences in the NAIA. Formed in 1993, the CCC now boasts 23 member schools, including full and associate members located in Idaho, Oregon, Washington, Montana, Arizona, California and British Columbia, Canada.

Our vast geographical footprint and diversity among institutions provides over 3,000 student-athletes in the CCC an incredible experience to compete all around the western United States in: baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, track and field, volleyball and wrestling. Supported by wonderful athletic administrators and coaches, CCC student-athletes compete with fire and passion on the fields, courts, mats and tracks. It is within this competition that bonds are formed among teammates, as well as opponents, taking part in the shared experience that is intercollegiate athletics!

We wish all of the student-athletes well as they compete for a CCC Championship!

#ThisIsTheCCC

Sincerely,

Robert Cashell

ABOUT THE CASCADE COLLEGIATE CONFERENCE

Originally formed in 1978 as a scheduling alliance for volleyball, the Cascade Collegiate Conference has evolved into one of the NAIA's most formidable leagues. Due to the abolition of the district format as a means of qualification for national championships in 1993, the CCC became an NAIA affiliated Conference and now sanctions championship competition for men and women in basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, track and field, and wrestling along with baseball for men, and softball and volleyball for women.

Original members of the conference included The College of Idaho, Concordia University, Eastern Oregon University, George Fox University, Northwest Nazarene University, Oregon Institute of Technology, Southern Oregon University, Western Baptist College (now Corban University), and Western Oregon University.

Four original members have since left – George Fox in 1995 (now NCAA Division III), Western Oregon in 1998 (now NCAA Division II), Northwest Nazarene in 2000 (now NCAA Division II) and Concordia in 2015 (now NCAA D II).

New members have joined the ranks of the conference – Cascade College and Northwest University in 1997, The Evergreen State College and Warner Pacific College (now University) in 1999, with Northwest Christian University joining the league in the fall of 2007. In 2009 Cascade College ceased to operate thus leaving the conference.

In 2014 Walla Walla University and Multnomah University joined the CCC as full members with competition starting in fall of 2015. NAIA legislation sponsored by the conference Council of President's was passed in 2014 allowing for per-sport membership. That outcome led to the February of 2015 acceptance of Carroll College (m/w soccer, softball), Rocky Mountain College (m/w soccer) and the University of Providence (m/w soccer, softball) as associate members in those sports. In June of 2015 The University of British Columbia became the fourth associate member when their application to join the CCC in softball was accepted by the Council of President's. British Columbia baseball was approved for associate membership in March of 2016 with m/w golf and m/w track & field joining in 2018. In July of 2017 men's wrestling became the 7th men's sport sponsored by the conference. Four new schools joined the CCC as associate members to participate including Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University, Menlo College, Montana State Northern and Simpson University. In 2018 Life Pacific College was approved for associate membership in men's wrestling. In 2019 Arizona Christian University and Vanguard University were approved for associate membership in men's wrestling. In May of 2019 Lewis-Clark State College was approved for full membership with competition set to begin during the 2020-21 season and women's wrestling was approved as a conference addition bringing women's sports sponsorship to eight. In 2022 Life Pacific eliminated wrestling from their offerings thus departing the conference.
