The nation's newest Division I-A football conference kicks off this fall when Conference USA hits the field for its inaugural season.

Six schools will battle for the conference championship and the St. Jude Liberty Bowl berth that comes with it. With half of the league's members coming off winning seasons and the other three schools aimed at continuing their improvement, enthusiasm is running high for a successful debut campaign.

The league will enjoy outstanding television exposure in its initial season with a 13-game package, which debuts with the first-ever Conference USA football game on Friday night, August 30, when Tulane travels to Cincinnati. The remainder of the package will be seen on Saturday afternoons, featuring conference games, as well as matchups against members of the ACC, Big East, Big 12, Pac-10, SEC and WAC.

Cincinnati is coming off a 6-5 campaign that included a win at Virginia Tech (No. 10 in the final AP poll), a victory over 1995 St. Jude Liberty Bowl champion East Carolina and close losses to Kansas, Kansas State and Toledo, all winners of 1995 bowl games.

In head coach Rick Minter's second campaign, the Bearcat defense showed tremendous improvement and is poised to accomplish even more this season. Sam Garnes (100 tackles and a school-record six interceptions) leads a secondary that helped UC record 20 interceptions and finish eighth in the nation in pass efficiency defense. First team C-USA All-Stars Darius Felder and Brad Jackson return at defensive tackle and linebacker, respectively, while LB Philip Curry has recorded more than 200 tackles during the past two seasons.

Cincinnati's offense is led by multi-dimensional WR/KR Robert Tate. Tate led the nation in kickoff return average (34.3) and was C-USA's leader in receiving yards (81.4 per game) and all-purpose yards (155.4 per game). Running back Orlando Smith broke into the starting lineup midway through last season and posted three consecutive 100-yard rushing games with UC recording a 5-0 record when he rushed 15 times or more in a game. Three starters return to an offensive line that established a school standard by allowing just 12 quarterback sacks.

Kicker Eric Richards was a semi-finalist for the Lou Groza Award after kicking three field goals in a game three times and finishing fourth in the nation in field goals per game (1.45).

Eight returning starters are back on each side of the ball at Houston as Kim Helton's young Cougars are growing up and hoping to be a factor in the inaugural Conference USA race.

Although UH no longer employs the Run and Shoot offense, QB Chuck Clements is putting up phenomenal numbers that may rival former Cougar All-Americans David Klingler and Heisman Trophy winner Andre Ware. Last season, Clements completed 245-of-437 passes for 2,641 yards and 15 touchdowns to move into the Top 10 in virtually every UH career passing category. Clements' favorite targets are split end Damion Johnson (31 catches-377 yards) and H-Back Charles West (tied for first in receptions in C-USA with 50). Antowain Smith, Jermaine Williams and Jay McGuire combine to form a solid running game. Smith led UH with 608 yards on 152 carries, including 122 yards at Florida in his collegiate debut, while Williams averaged a team-leading 5.2 yards per carry.

The line should be the strength of the Houston defense this season. Nose tackle Gary Haynes teams with DT Leonta Rheams and DE Rusty Foster to lead the Cougar rush up front. Outside linebacker Mike Parker is back after recording 107 tackles at inside linebacker last season. Moving into his vacated inside spot is Vaughn

Robert Tate, Cincinnati

Chuck Clements, Houston

Tyrus McCloud, Louisville

Washington, a transfer from Kilgore Junior College.

After facing eight teams that won seven or more games last season, UH is again facing imposing teams such as LSU, Southern Cal and North Carolina this season.

Home games with Sam Houston

State and Southern Mississippi have been moved from the Astrodome to on-campus Robertson Stadium.

Louisville head coach Ron Cooper enters his second season at the helm of the Cardinals, who are seeking a fourth consecutive winning season, a feat U of L has not accomplished since 1972.

Louisville's fortunes for winning are enhanced by a defense that returns seven starters from a unit that forced more turnovers (41) than any other school in Division I-A last year. Cornerback Sam Madison, who finished fourth in the nation with seven interceptions, teams with Tony Bethel, John Fuqua and Rico Clark as the entire starting secondary remains intact. Linebacker Tyrus McCloud was Conference USA's Defensive Player of the Year last season after recording 126 tackles. He is one of just eight active college football players to record more than 250 tackles over the last two seasons.

The Cardinal offense has a few holes to fill, but capable replacements are ready. Running back Frank Moreau had the second-most yards ever by a U of L freshman last season and should take the place of Calvin Arrington, C-USA's leading rusher in 1995. Jason Payne should step in at QB for the efficient Marty Lowe, while Notre Dame transfer Steve Misetich is ready to bolster the offensive line, succeeding All-American tackle Roman Oben, who has moved on to the NFL. Wide receiver Miquel Montano became just the second receiver in school history to catch 50 passes in a season and is joined by flanker Robert Bates and TE Mike Bogan as U of L's top pass-catching threats.

After opening the season at arch rival Kentucky, the Cards will face perennial powers Penn State, Baylor and Michigan State, before opening conference play. A date at Carquest Bowl champion North Carolina looms later in the season.

Second-year head coach Rip Scherer is looking for a more consistent offense to put Memphis into the thick of the conference race. Qadry Anderson, whose shoulder injury in week one forced him to miss a month of action, enters the fall as the number one signal caller. He will work behind an experienced offensive line that returns four starters, including second team All-Conference USA center Ken Newton. With last season's regulars departed, no fewer than three tailbacks and four fullbacks will share time running the ball. Chancy Carr (17.6 yards per catch) leads a receiving corps that is relying on several youngsters to develop quickly.

The Tiger defense has proven to be proficient over the past several years in forcing turnovers, creating at least one turnover in 25 of the last 26 games, and at least one interception in 15 of the last 18 outings.

Memphis returns two players that registered more than 100 tackles last season in LB Richard Hogans and FS Keith Spann. Hogans recorded 10 or more tackles in five of the final six games, including 18 against Southern Miss, en route to a 111-tackle season. Spann chalked up 104 stops and had three interceptions, including one which he returned for a touchdown.

Veterans Jesse Allen (72 tackles) and Marcus Gary join Hogans to form a strong linebacking corps. All-American and first round NFL selection Jerome Woods needs to be replaced at strong safety, while twins Kevin and Keith Cobb should start at cornerback.

Ken Newton, Memphis

A veteran Southern Miss squad will take the field this fall as head coach Jeff Bower and the Golden Eagles aim for a third straight winning season. Fifty letterwinners and 15 starters, including nine on offense, return for USM's first season in a Division I conference.

USM's offensive line may be the most experienced in the league, with all five starters, including second team All-Conference USA tackle Daryl Terrell, along with several top reserves back in the fold. The line will be blocking for QB Heath Graham, ranked in the Top 10 in virtually every passing category at USM in less than two seasons, and running backs Eric Booth and Harold Shaw (who combined for 752 yards on 182 carries). Graham's top passing target should be Ryan Pearson, who needs just eight receptions and 505 yards to become the Golden Eagles all-time leader in both categories.

On defense, Southern Miss must replace its top two tacklers and three other regulars. Linebacker is the spot most affected, where a combined 214 tackles by two starters must be replaced. Marchant Kenney (93 tackles) is the lone returnee at this position, with Lytrel Pollard and T.J. Slaughter slated to move into starting roles. Second team C-USA All-Star Robert Brown and Cedric Walthaw, who has moved from linebacker, should anchor the defensive line. Cornerback Rod Thomas heads up a secondary that would like to return to its 1994 form, when it finished second in the nation in interceptions with 25.

Along with a special teams unit that was hard hit by graduation, the Golden Eagles will be challenged by a schedule that sees them opening at Georgia and Alabama, playing just four home games, and finishing the season at Florida State.

The presence of several talented, young offensive performers should have head coach Buddy Teevens excited about the impact that Tulane could have on Conference USA's first season.

Running back Jamaican Dartez set the school record for single-season rushing yards by a freshman with 544, while scoring 10 touchdowns, as many as any Tulane back has had in the last 50 years. Fellow newcomer Shaun King became the first Green Wave freshman to pass for more than 1,000 yards, finishing with 1,046.

Dartez and King are two of 10 returning starters on a Green Wave offense that showed dramatic improvement in taking care of the ball last season, committing 20 fewer turnovers than it did in 1994. Other notable returnees include: second team All-Conference USA tackle Cyril Brockmeier, WR Derrick Franklin (462 yards, 15.9 per catch), WR Jeff Ligon (330 receiving yards) and second team All-Conference USA TE Cory Geason.

Defensive tackle Keith Cook and LB Derrick Singleton lead the charge on defense. Cook was a second team All-Conference selection, while Singleton led the Green Wave in tackles eight times last season, finishing with a total of 126. Three starters are back in the secondary, including CB Tellius Carr, SS Pat Miller and FS Elijah Freeman.

Brad Palazzo missed just one field goal attempt last season, while kick returner Jeff Ligon had more returns (29) and yards (625) than any other player in the conference.

Each Conference USA school will square off against each other once, with the league champion moving on to battle a team from the Big East Conference in the 38th annual St. Jude Liberty Bowl. The game will be televised live by ESPN and is scheduled for Friday, December 27.

PRESEASON AWARDS

The Cincinnati Bearcats have been chosen the preseason favorite to capture the inaugural Conference USA football championship, as voted by the league's head coaches. Senior wide receiver/kick returner Robert Tate of Cincinnati was chosen as the conference's Offensive Player of the Year as well as its Special Teams Player of the Year. He is joined on the preseason All-Conference team by seven Bearcat teammates.

Led by the C-USA preseason Defensive Player of the Year Tyrus McCloud, the Louisville Cardinals were selected to finish second. U of L placed four other players on the preseason All-Conference team, including offensive lineman Steve Misetic, a transfer from Notre Dame.

Southern Miss was chosen to finish third. Three Golden Eagles, including DB Rod Thomas, were named to the All-Conference team.

Memphis was selected to finish fourth. The Tigers were represented by three players on the All-Conference team, including OL Ken Newton and LB Richard Hogans.

Rounding out the preseason poll are Houston and Tulane. The Cougars begin their first season of competition in Conference USA led by All-Conference QB Chuck Clements, who is closing in on several UH passing records. Tulane placed four players on the preseason All-Conference team, including RB Jamaican Dartez and TE Cory Geason, a first team All-Conference USA selection last season.

DOME, SWEET DOME

Conference USA is home to two of the four domed stadiums in college football. Houston hosted the first college football game played in a dome, when it played Tulsa on September 11, 1965 at the Astrodome. Tulane moved into the Louisiana Superdome on September 20, 1975, where it defeated Mississippi. Syracuse and Minnesota are the other Division I-A institutions that play its home games in a dome.

The Astrodome

Conference USA (C-USA), one of the nation's newest intercollegiate athletic conferences, has blasted off to a great start in its inaugural season of competition. C-USA consists of 12 universities and spans 12 states across the United States, more than any other Division I-A conference.

Conference USA is comprised of UAB, Cincinnati, DePaul, Houston, Louisville, Marquette, Memphis, UNC Charlotte, Saint Louis, South Florida, Southern Mississippi and Tulane. Eleven of the institutions began athletic participation in 1995, while Houston will join competition this fall.

The conference officially unveiled its name, logo and commissioner on April 24, 1995, at Harry Caray's Restaurant in Chicago. Michael Slive was named the first commissioner of Conference USA by the presidents of the 12 institutions.

Conference USA sponsors 18 sports, including Division I-A football, which begins this fall.

The league sponsors championship competition in the following men's sports: baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, tennis, and track and field (indoor and outdoor). C-USA also will sponsor the following women's sports: basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, tennis, track and field (indoor and outdoor), and volleyball. Rifle is a combined sport. The league's championship competition is enhanced by NCAA automatic bids to the C-USA tournament champion in volleyball, men's and women's basketball, men's soccer and baseball.

Beginning in August, six member institutions (Cincinnati, Houston, Louisville, Memphis, Southern Mississippi, and Tulane) will compete for the first Conference USA football championship. Each school will play five conference games, with the regular season champion earning an automatic bid to the St. Jude Liberty Bowl. Conference USA also has a five-year football television contract with Liberty Sports.

In men's basketball, Conference USA is comprised of three divisions (Red, White and Blue). The 1996 men's basketball season produced six postseason teams (4 NCAA and 2 NIT), and by season's end, C-USA was ranked as the fourth best conference in the nation by the RPI. The conference will embark on its second season of a six-year basketball television agreement with Creative Sports and ESPN.

Women's basketball, which also has a three-division format, is coming off a memorable first season, as well. Four C-USA teams earned NCAA Tournament bids, the third highest among Division I conferences. Women's basketball, along with volleyball, soccer and baseball, will enjoy significant television exposure throughout the upcoming year.

Other C-USA accomplishments during the inaugural season included Saint Louis making its 37th appearance in the NCAA Men's Soccer Championship, Louisville making its sixth straight NCAA volleyball appearance, South Florida advancing to the NCAA Volleyball Championship for the second time in three years and Saint Louis making its first-ever postseason volleyball appearance at the National Invitational Volleyball Championship. South Florida and Tulane made appearances in the NCAA Baseball Championship. The Memphis women's golf team made its first trip to the NCAA Championship and the league had several NCAA competitors in track and field, tennis and golf.

The presidents of the 12 member institutions serve as Conference USA's Board of Directors, chaired by Dr. Joseph Steger of Cincinnati. C-USA has been designated one of eight conferences that will have direct representation on the Division I Board of Directors in the new NCAA governance structure.

M ichael L. Slive was named the first commissioner of Conference USA on April 24, 1995. Dr. V. Lane Rawlins, president of the University of Memphis and the first chair of the Board of Directors, made the introduction at a press conference at Harry Caray's Restaurant in Chicago.

Under his direction, Conference USA enjoyed an outstanding inaugural season. The league was rated among the top five in men's basketball, with two teams reaching the NCAA Sweet 16 and one in the Elite Eight. Four C-USA women's basketball teams earned NCAA Tournament bids, the third highest among Division I conferences. Nineteen teams and 14 individuals represented Conference USA in postseason competition in 1995-96.

Slive's leadership has translated into prominent national television exposure for Conference USA, as well. Beginning this fall, the league will embark on a five-year television contract with Fox/Liberty Sports, which will carry C-USA football. In 1996-97, Conference USA will begin its second season of a six-year agreement with Creative Sports and ESPN to televise men's basketball. Liberty Sports has also become a television partner for C-USA women's basketball, volleyball, men's soccer and baseball.

As the 1996-97 season begins, Conference USA debuts its inaugural football season in August and, in December, will send its regular season champion to the St. Jude Liberty Bowl.

Slive's guidance has also been beneficial for the league on a national level. As the NCAA enters its restructuring phase, Conference USA has been designated one of eight conferences that will have direct representation on the Division I Board of Directors.

Slive has an extensive administrative and legal background in intercollegiate athletics. He served as commissioner of the Great Midwest Conference since its formation in 1991, and was instrumental in the Great Midwest becoming one of the most successful and exciting conferences in the nation in the 1990's. The Great Midwest was ranked as high as fourth and no lower than eighth among the nation's conferences in men's basketball in its four seasons. The league also finished in the top three in national attendance for men's basketball in its final two seasons.

His previous athletic administrative experiences include: assistant director of athletics at Dartmouth College (1968-69), assistant Executive Director of the Pacific-10 Conference (1979-81), and Director of Athletics at Cornell University (1981-83), prior to developing his sports practice specializing in representing colleges and universities in athletic-related matters.

In May, 1993, Slive was appointed chair of the first NCAA Infractions Appeals Committee. He is also chair of the National Letter of Intent Special Appeals Committee. The 55-year old Slive is a member of the National Association of College and University Attorneys (NACUA), the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA), the Collegiate Commissioners Association (CCA) and the Sports Lawyers Association.

A native of Utica, N.Y., Slive was senior partner and founder of the Mike Slive-Mike Glazier Sports Group. Prior to the formation of the Slive-Glazier Sports Group in 1990, Slive was a partner in the Chicago law firm of Coffield Ungaretti & Harris. He operated his own practice in Hanover, N.H., and served as judge of the Hanover District Court from 1972-77.

Slive graduated from Dartmouth College with a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1962. He earned a Juris Doctor from the University of Virginia Law School in 1965 and an LLM from the Georgetown University Law Center in 1966.

Slive and his wife, Elizabeth, are the parents of a daughter, Anna. The Slive family resides in Chicago.

COUGAR CALLS

- ★ QB Chuck Clements enters his senior season ranked in the UH Top 10 in four career passing categories: fourth in completions (460), fifth in attempts (840), fifth in passing yards (4,695) and seventh in total offense (4,489).
- ★ Senior WR Charles West has caught at least one pass in all 22 games since being moved from defensive back prior to the 1994 season.
- ★ Junior LB Mike Parker led the Cougars in tackles for the second straight season making 107 stops, including 61 solo.
- ★ The Cougars will play two games at on-campus Robertson Stadium this season, the opener with Sam Houston State on Aug. 31, as well as the Nov. 9 conference match with Southern Miss. Robertson served as the regular home of UH football until 1950, and that was also the last time the Cougars played more than one game there in a season.
- ★ Clements led two conferences in total offense in 1995--the Southwest Conference and C-USA--averaging 235 yards.
- ★ Houston's game at Tulane on Nov. 2 will mark the first time UH has been a visiting team in a domed stadium.
