

DIVISION III FOOTBALL ALL-AMERICA (1973-)

(The following information was compiled by Kent Stephens at the College Football Hall of Fame)

APLA

Associated Press Their "Little All-America" team began in 1934 and had both D2 and D3 players on the same team until they separated classifications in 2017.

FCIII

Football Coaches The AFCA began selecting small college All-America teams in 1967. In the early 70's they had two teams: College I (D2 & NAIA -I) and College II (D3 & NAIA- II) These names were changed to Division II and Division III. In 1996, NAIA teams were removed and were given their own All-America teams. For simplicity I'm using the Division III name throughout. At times there were instances where D3 players were named to their College I team.

SID

Sports Information This D3 All-America team that began in 1978 and ended in 2002, has had several sponsors down through the years: Pizza Hut (1983-89), Champion USA (1990-93) and Hewlett Packard (1995-2002). No sponsor from 1978-82 or 1994.

DH

Don Hansen Don Hansen Football Gazette. Hansen began naming D3 All-America teams for the Football News before breaking out on his own. For sake of clarity, I placed the entirety of his selections under the DH banner.

D3

D3football.com This is a web site dedicated to covering D3 football.

I have simplified many of the position designations. I combined all all-purpose, kick returns, punt return, return and special team selections into one designation (KR). I have also combined all offensive tackle, guard and centers into one (OL). Fullbacks and halfbacks were combined into one (RB). I combined all defensive lineman designations as well as linebacker and defensive back categories into simplified categories (DL, LB & DB). I have also attempted to separate WR & TE's from early years when these players were called ends.

At times I would find multiple spellings of the same name. I went with what I thought may be the most likely spelling. This errors certainly are not the only ones in this document. I proofed my work and corrected multiple mistakes and I am sure if I went over this document a third or even a fourth time I would find more.
