

2020-21 CoSIDA Publication & Digital Design Contest Results

For Immediate Release

TOPEKA, Kan. -- The 2020-21 CoSIDA Publications and Digital Design Contest award winners were announced Thursday as part of this year's #CoSIDA2021 Virtual Convention.

West Virginia University led the nation and the University Division with 21 total awards including 10 "Best in the Nation" awards and seven "Best Cover" awards. The University of Oklahoma had nine total awards and Princeton University had six awards.

Washburn University was second in the nation overall and led the College with 18 total awards recording six "Best in the Nation" awards and five "Best Cover" awards. Carson-Newman University had 12 awards and Lenoir-Rhyne University had 10. Johnson County Community College had six awards.

This year there were a total of 509 entries submitted in graphic design, media guide and video categories.

For a complete list of the 2020-21 CoSIDA Publications and Digital Design Contest winners, go to the CoSIDA Awards Page. Certificates will be available for download at a later date.

Questions can be directed to Washburn University's Gene Cassell, CoSIDA Publications and Digital Design Contest Committee Chair, at gene.cassell@washburn.edu.
