FOUR TALENTED STUDENT-ATHLETES HEADLINE 2023-24 WOMEN'S ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICA® TRACK & FIELD/CROSS COUNTRY TEAMS

AUSTIN, Texas – Four standouts in competition and in the classroom – Texas A&M University's Lamara Distin, Colorado School of Mines' Zoe Baker, College of Saint Benedict's Fiona Smith, and College of Idaho's Ellyse Tingelstad – highlight the 2023-24 Academic All-America® women's track and field/cross country teams selected by the College Sports Communicators (CSC).

Distin (Division I), Baker (Division II), Smith (Division III) and Tingelstad (NAIA) have each been named the Academic All-America® Team Member of the Year award winner for their respective divisions. Baker earns her Division II distinction for the third year in a row, while the remaining trio are each first time honorees.

Division I
A senior from Kingston, Jamaica, Distin has had a busy summer. She punched her ticket to Paris at the recent Jamaican Olympic Trials in her hometown. Distin qualified for her first Olympic Games following a gold-medal winning performance, as she cleared 1.89 meters to clinch her victory.

A three-time NCAA high jump champion, Distin had a memorable final season for the Aggies. She claimed her fifth SEC title and broke the NCAA indoor high jump record, soaring over 2.00 meters. In the classroom, Distin holds a 3.75 graduate school GPA in Texas A&M's Leadership Education, Theory and Practice program.

Seventeen of the 47 members of the Academic All-America® Division I women's track and field/cross country teams boast a perfect 4.00 GPA in their undergraduate work or graduate school. The 18 first team members have an average undergraduate GPA of 3.82. The entire women's team holds a collective average undergraduate GPA of 3.82.

Eight student-athletes are repeat selections on the Academic All-America® Division I women's track and field/cross country team with six veterans finding a spot on the first team. They include Sivan Auerbach (Oklahoma State), Nastassja Campbell (Washington), Zofia Dudek (Stanford), Dana Feyen (Iowa State), Axelina Johansson (Nebraska) and Taylor Roe (Oklahoma State). Liberty's Calli Doan and Iowa State's Madelynn Hill found a place on the second team. Doan earns her third consecutive spot on the Academic All-America® second team.

Division II
A graduate student from Longmont, Colorado, Baker is the first student-athlete in Colorado Mines history to earn Academic All-America® five times. She graduated with bachelor's degrees in computer science and applied mathematics, compiling a perfect 4.00 GPA. Baker is working on a master's degree in computer science. She has a 4.00 GPA in her master's program as well.

On the track, Baker finished fourth in the 2024 NCAA outdoor 10,000 meters and ninth in the 5000 meters. She was a 2024 NCAA indoors qualifier in both the 3000 meters and the 5000 meters, finishing 14th and 13th, respectively. Baker was named the NCAA Elite 90 Award winner at the '24 indoor championships. She won the RMAC title in the indoor 5000 meters and medaled in the indoor 3000 meters and the outdoor 10,000 meters this season.

Twenty-one of the 48 members of the Academic All-America® Division II women's track and field/cross country teams sport a sterling 4.00 GPA in their undergraduate work or graduate school. The 15 first team members have an average undergraduate GPA of 3.95. The entire women's team holds a collective average undergraduate GPA of 3.90.

A whopping 24 student-athletes, including 12 on the first team, are repeat selections on the Academic All-America® Division II women's track and field/cross country team. The 12 veterans on the first team include Baker, Audrey Bloomquist (Colorado-Colorado Springs), Auna Childress (Pittsburg State), Anna Kay Clark (Harding), Lindsay Cunningham (Winona State), Josie Coffey (Colorado Mesa), Annika Esvelt (Seattle Pacific), Kayla Goodwin (Central Missouri), Arika Harbo (Concordia-St. Paul), Kaylee Harp (Northwest Missouri State), Hannah Miller (Colorado Mines) and Alona Olshevska (Saginaw Valley State).

Twelve returnees found places on the second and third teams. The eight veterans on the second team include Kylie Anicic (Edinboro), Kaiya Firor (Western Colorado), Molly Maskin (Colorado Mines), Melissa Moreni (Colorado-Colorado Springs), Zoe Pentecost (Indianapolis) and the Azusa Pacific trio of Alysa Henry, Eliana Saunders, and Nicole Warwick. The four returning honorees on the third team include Addie Berens (Fort Hays State), Jordan Burnett (Colorado Mesa), Haleigh Eckert (Cedarville) and Leah Graybill (Shippensburg).

The Division II Academic All-America® program is being financially supported by the NCAA Division II national governance structure to assist the College Sports Communicators with handling the awards fulfillment aspects for the 2023-24 Division II Academic All-America® program.

Division III

Originally from Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, Smith is a three-time Academic All-America® selection. The senior student-athlete is a two-time first team choice, collecting these laurels in 2024 and 2023. She has a 4.000 GPA with her mathematics major. Earlier this spring, Smith was named the College of Saint Benedict's Athlete of the Year for the third time.

The USTFCCCA Scholar Athlete of the Year and Chi Alpha Sigma National Scholar of the Year in 2023, Smith put together an amazing senior season in 2023-24. She won four more individual national titles in cross country and track and field, and now has six for her career. Smith won the 10,000 meters and placed third in the 5000 meters at the NCAA Division III Outdoor Track and Field national championships. She was the first-ever MIAC student-athlete to repeat as national champion in the 3000 and the 5000 meters at indoor nationals. Smith started her productive year by winning the cross-country national title last fall.

She is a 16-time NCAA Division III All-American overall and a two-time MIAC Elite 22 recipient for cross country (2022, 2023).

Seventeen of the 49 members of the Academic All-America® Division III women's track and field/cross country teams hold a perfect 4.00 GPA in their undergraduate work or graduate school. The 16 first team members have an average undergraduate GPA of 3.89. The entire women's team holds a collective average undergraduate GPA of 3.88.

Seventeen student-athletes, including nine on the first team, are repeat choices on the Academic All-America® Division III women's track and field/cross country team. The nine first team returnees include Smith, Liz Barre (Carnegie Mellon), Megan Bell (Rochester), Isabella Hogue (Nebraska Wesleyan), Megan Johnson (Central, Iowa), Victoria Kadiri (Johns Hopkins), Emma Kelley (Washington U. in St. Louis), Caroline McMartin (Central, Iowa) and Kenadee Wayt (Mount Union).

Eight veterans earned spots on the second and third teams. The five second team returnees include Cassie Carr (Washington & Jefferson), Aubrie Fisher (Wartburg), Kate Isaac (Rochester), Hope Murphy (Baldwin Wallace) and Ally Sarussi (Washington U. in St. Louis). The third team returning trio includes Jenna Allman (Calvin), Shaelyn Hostager (Wartburg) and Julia Howarth (MIT). Fisher is a four-time Academic All-America® selection.

The Division III Academic All-America® program is being financially supported by the NCAA Division III national governance structure to assist CSC with handling the awards fulfillment aspects for the 2023-24 Division III Academic All-America® program.

NAIA

A senior from Joseph, Oregon, Tingelstad led the College of Idaho to another outstanding year. She helped the Yotes win Cascade Conference and NAIA national cross country championship titles while posting a perfect 4.00 GPA with her environmental studies major.

The Cascade Conference Student-Athlete of the Year, Tingelstad finished first in the Cascade Conference XC meet. She claimed a silver medal in the NAIA national championship XC meet. All total, Tingelstad earned three individual titles during the XC season. She also won the 5000 and the 10,000 meters at this year's CCC outdoor track and field championships.
Tingelstad was selected as the USTFCCCA NAIA West Region Women's Runner of the Year. Her classroom achievements were not limited to her first team Academic All-America® laurels. Tingelstad received recognition as a CCC Academic All-Conference pick and as an NAIA Daktronics Scholar-Athlete.

Nine of the 20 members of the Academic All-America® NAIA women's track and field/cross country teams hold a perfect 4.00 GPA in their undergraduate work or graduate school. The 10 first team selections have an average undergraduate GPA of 3.91. The entire women's team holds a collective average undergraduate GPA of 3.90.

Ten student-athletes, including six on the first team, are repeat choices on the Academic All-America® NAIA women's track and field/cross country team. The first team veterans include Tinglestad, Annika Alderfer Fisher (Goshen), Anna Hulstedt (Grace), Jessica Kampman (Dordt) and the Concordia-Nebraska duo of Kylahn Freiberg and Rylee Hacker.Concordia-Nebraska's Josie Puelz leads the second team veterans, giving the Bulldogs an NAIA-best three Academic All-America® selections to the track and field/cross country team. Joining Puelz as returnees on the second team are Hannah Antkoviak (Olivet Nazarene), Caitlin Dominy (Milligan) and Ana Mendoza Pineda (St. Francis).

The NAIA Academic All-America® program is being financially supported by the NAIA national governance structure to assist CSC with handling the awards fulfillment aspects for the 2023-24 NAIA Academic All-America® program.
