UC Riverside is a major research university and national center for the humanities, offering students a supportive, collegial learning environment with nationally and internationally recognized faculty dedicated to the highest standards in research, teaching and public service.

Located on nearly 1,200 acres near the Box Springs Mountains in Southern California, the park-like campus provides convenient access to the vibrant and growing Inland region. This is an ideal setting in which to study, work and live in a community steeped in rich heritage, offering a dynamic mix of arts and entertainment, and an opportunity for quality living.

UC Riverside began its rich history in 1907 as the Citrus Experiment Station to support the state’s emerging citrus industry. It became a campus of the University of California in 1954. As the 21st century begins, UC Riverside resembles its undergraduate students: energetic and enthusiastic about the quest to innovate the future with distinct opportunities. California has invested millions of dollars in the construction of new buildings at UCR. Within these state-of-the-art structures, discoveries are being made in laboratories and studios, and knowledge is shared in classrooms.

The future also holds great opportunity for UC Riverside to pursue enduring excellence. As the University continues to attract top faculty and students, it is also committed to enhancing programs and resources to maintain the highest academic quality. UCR offers 101 Bachelor’s Degree Programs, 52 Master’s Degree Programs, 42 Ph.D. Programs, and 13 State Teaching Credential Programs. UCR recently welcomed its first students to two new programs, a School of Public Policy and a Medical School. UCR ranks in the top tier of universities nationwide and is the 55th ranked national public university according to U.S. News & World Report.

Enrollment in fall 2013 was over 21,000, with 22,000 predicted by the year 2020. 62% of Bachelor’s Degrees are completed by students within four years and 32% within five years.

THE HIGHLANDERS NAME
In 1954 when UCR opened its doors, the student body began a quest to find the right mascot for the new campus. There were 67 varied suggestions to start with and six made it to an election, but none of them were accepted. Then, a write-in campaign led by the men’s basketball team suggested the name “Hylanders”, which was adjusted to its current spelling and won easily when brought to a student vote. The name Highlanders fits in well at UCR based on its proximity to the Box Springs Mountains and that it is the highest elevation of the UC campuses.
