HARVARD, PRINCETON SHARE IVY LEAGUE TITLE

With Harvard's win at Yale and Princeton's loss at Dartmouth on the final Saturday of the season, the Crimson and the Tigers shared the 2013 Ivy League football title.

At the Yale Bowl in New Haven, Conn., Harvard extended its winning streak to four and made it seven straight over Yale with a 34-7 victory in the 130th playing of "The Game." The win put the Crimson (9-1, 6-1 Ivy League) in position for a share of the Ivy title but it would need some help from the Big Green.

Up at snowy Memorial Field in Hanover, N.H., Dartmouth provided the assist Harvard needed in the form of a 28-24 victory over Princeton to give the Tigers (8-2, 6-1 Ivy) their only conference loss and create the two-way tie atop the standings. The win secured the Big Green (6-4, 5-2 Ivy) sole possession of third place and its third-straight year finishing in the top half of the League.

Harvard captured its 15th Ancient Eight crown and its seventh under head coach Tim Murphy. The Crimson's 9-1 record marked the sixth time the Crimson accumulated nine or more wins under coach Murphy.

For Princeton, it marked the 10th Ivy title and the first for fourth-year head coach Bob Surace, who guided his squad to its first conference crown since 2006 when the Tigers shared the title with Yale.

Surace became just the third person ever to win an Ivy League title as a player and a head coach. Dartmouth's Jake Crouthamel won the 1958 title as a player and won three-straight Ivy championships as the Big Green's head coach in 1971-73. Buddy Teevens also accomplished the feat for Dartmouth as a player in 1978 and as the Big Green's head coach in 1990 and 1991.

The only other former players who have served as head coaches are David Archer (played at Cornell 2001-04, is the current head coach at Cornell 2013 to present), Jim Hofher (played at Cornell 1976-78, was head coach at Cornell 1990-97), Jim Knowles (played at Cornell 1983-86, was head coach at Cornell 2004-09) and Jake McCandless (played at Princeton 1948-50, was head coach at Princeton 1969-72).

NOTES

- 2013 was the year of the offense for the Ivy League. The Ancient Eight was ranked fourth among all NCAA Division I Football Championship Subdivision conferences at 27.99 points per game per team, behind the Southland Conference (35.12 ppg), Pioneer League (28.97 ppg) and Big South Conference (28.41 ppg).

- League teams combined to post 40 or more points 19 times this season -- Princeton (6), Harvard (4), Brown (4), Cornell (2), Dartmouth (1), Penn (1) and Yale (1). The only losses in those games were Harvard in its 51-48, triple-overtime defeat to Princeton on Oct. 26 and Penn in its 42-41 season-ending loss to Cornell.

- Princeton posted a breakout year offensively, setting all-time Ivy League bests in scoring offense in all games (43.7 points per game) and in Ivy only games (45.3 ppg) and total offense in Ivy only games (3,626 yards, 518.0 yards per game). The Tigers' total offense numbers surpassed the previous League high-water mark of 3,566 yards (509.0 ypg) by Harvard in 2000.

- Princeton junior quarterback Quinn Epperly became the first player in Ivy League history to account for more than 40 touchdowns in one season as he totalled 43 (25 passing, 18 rushing) in 10 games. His 25 passing touchdowns tied the school's single-season mark with Doug Butler in 1983. Epperly set an NCAA Division I record on Nov. 2 when he completed 29 straight passes in the 53-20 victory over Cornell.

- Epperly's five-straight weekly honors set the League's single-season record and his six career weekly honors are tied with Keith Elias for the most in school history.

- Epperly (2,137 pass, 570 rush) and Dartmouth sophomore Dalyn Williams (1,773 pass, 563 rush) were among the top dual-threat FCS quarterbacks in terms of yardage in 2013. Both finished in the League's top 10 in both passing and rushing yards.

TEAM-BY-TEAM NOTES

BROWN

Senior TB John Spooney finished his career as one of the top rushers ever to play at Brown. He became the seventh player in school history to rush for 1,000 or more yards in a single season, finishing with 1,170 yards, fifth best in school history. His 1,545 career rushing yards rank eighth all-time at Brown.

COLUMBIA

Senior P Paul Delaney's career average of 39.5 yards per punt ranks as the longest average in school history. His 42.4 yards per kick average and 81 punts set school single-season bests. Senior PK Luke Eddy closed his Columbia career with 25 field goals, trailing only Jon Rocholl's 38 field goals from 2005-08. Eddy ended his career as Columbia's all-time leader in PATs with 72.

CORNELL

Senior WR Grant Gellatly finished his career ranked second at Cornell in career receptions (194) and receiving yards (2,486) and was fifth in all-purpose yardage (3,766 yards). Gellatly had a school-record 10 career 100-yard receiving games and two 200-yard games in his career. Freshman P Chris Fraser became the fourth Big Red player to be named Ivy League Sophomore/Rookie of the Year, joining company with Derrick Harmon (1981), John McNiff (1989) and Jeff Mathews (2010). Fraser set the school's single-season mark in punting average at 42.9 yards per punt.

DARTMOUTH

Senior RB Dominick Pierre capped his career as Dartmouth's second-leading rusher all-time with 2,638 yards. Pierre became the fifth player in the program's 132-year history to run for 1,000 yards in a season. The Big Green had five players named first-team All-Ivy for the third time in the last four seasons with two offensive linemen -- senior Cohle Fowler and junior Scotty Whitmore -- on the first team for the first time since 1996.

HARVARD

Harvard has now recorded an Ivy League-record, 13th-straight seasons with at least seven wins -- with no other Ivy team even having seven such seasons. Head coach Tim Murphy has led the Crimson to six of its 15 League titles. Harvard has had a player receive Ivy League Player of the Year honors in each of the past four seasons -- Gino Gordon (Co-Player) in 2010, Josue Ortiz (Defensive) in 2011, Colton Chapple (Offensive) in 2012 and Zach Hodges (Defensive) in 2013.

PENN

Penn enters next season having scored in 123 consecutive home games. The Quakers have never been shut out at home under head coach Al Bagnoli. The last time Penn did not score at home was a 24-0 loss to Dartmouth on November 18, 1989. Senior QB Billy Ragone capped his Penn career in the school's all-time top three in -- passing yards (5,104, 3rd), passing completions (437, 3rd) passing attempts (786, 2nd), passing touchdowns (36, 3rd) and total offense (6,724, 2nd).

PRINCETON

Senior DL Caraun Reid became the fourth player in Princeton history to be named to the All-Ivy first team three times and the first since Matt Evans (1996-98). Senior WR Roman Wilson matched Princeton's single-season touchdown reception record (11) with Derek Graham, who also caught 11 touchdowns in 1984. Wilson's 919 receiving yards were sixth-best in school history and the second-best in 28 years.

YALE

Junior WR Deon Randall's 85 catches were just one shy of the school record established by Eric Johnson in 2000. Randall recorded 135 touches between rush attempts, receptions, kickoff and punt returns and pass breakups and totalled 1,021 all-purpose yards.

The 2013 season was officially the 58th season of Ivy League football. Although the League's official founding was February 1954, the first year of athletics competition was the 1956-57 season.

TITLE HISTORY

Harvard captured its 15th Ivy League title to take sole possession of third place in all-time conference championships, while Princeton moved into double digits with its 10th Ancient Eight crown and its first since 2006.

Though Dartmouth's last Ivy League title was in 1996, the Big Green still leads in League titles with 17:

No	Team	Last Title
17	Dartmouth	1996
16	Penn	2012
15	Harvard	2013
14	Yale	2006
10	Princeton	2013
4	Brown	2008
3	Cornell	1990
1	Columbia	1961

In 58 seasons, 21 teams have secured the Ivy title with perfect 7-0 records. Penn has gone through the conference slate unblemished eight times, followed by Harvard (5), Dartmouth (4), Yale (3) and Princeton (1).

In six of the League's last 10 League champions have posted 9-1 overall records en route to hoisting the Ivy trophy -- Brown in 2005, Princeton in 2006, Harvard in 2008 (shared the title with Brown), 2011 and 2013 (shared the title with Princeton) and Penn in 2010.

Yale's 2007 team was the last 9-1 team that did not win the League crown. That season, the Bulldogs' only loss was a season-ending defeat to Harvard, which went a perfect 7-0 en route to the Ivy title.

Four Ivy League football student-athletes played one last game for their respective schools with Cornell quarterback Jeff Mathews in the East-West Shrine Game, Harvard tight end/long snapper Tyler Ott and Princeton defensive lineman Caraun Reid in the Reese's Senior Bowl and Harvard defensive back D.J. Monroe in the College All-Star Bowl.

In the East-West Shrine Game on Jan. 18, Mathews became the 52nd Ivy League football player to play in the 89th edition of the longest-running college all-star game in the country. He served as captain for the East squad and was 4-of-5 passing for 37 yards and one interception. He was sacked once and his two rushes resulted in minus five yards. The East defeated the West 23-13.

In the Reese's Senior Bowl on Jan. 25, Ott and Reid were on opposite sides with Ott on the North team and Reid on the South team, becoming the 11th and 12th Ivies to receive Senior Bowl invitations. Reid recorded back-to-back sacks for minus 12 yards early in the third quarter for the South squad. He was listed as one of five "Buzz-Worthy" players by NFL.com following the game. Ott assisted on a tackle for the North team. The South won 20-10.

In the College All-Star Bowl on Feb. 14, Monroe played for the Nationals squad, which was coached by former Clemson head coach Danny Ford. The Nationals beat the Americans 12-6.

SEASON OPENERS

Ivy League teams have racked up a 42-30 (.583) record over the first weekend of play in the past nine seasons (2005-13). League teams have combined to start with a .500 record or better in seven of those seasons (7-1 in 2005, 6-2 in 2013, 5-3 in 2006, 2010 and 2012 and 4-4 in 2008 and 2011). Teams from the Ancient Eight have fared better at home over that span with a 25-11 (.694) mark.

LAST TO START

For the eighth time in the past 10 seasons, the Ivy League claims the distinction of having one of its teams be the last in NCAA Division I (Football Bowl Subdivision or Football Championship Subdivision) to kick off the college football season.

This year, Penn and Princeton share the honor as both were in games with official kickoff times of 6:06 p.m. on Sept. 21. The Quakers were hosting Lafayette, while the Tigers were at home against Lehigh. Dartmouth came close to joining Penn and Princeton but the Big Green's season-opener at Butler kicked off at 6:03 p.m.

Cornell was the final team to open the 2004, 2006, 2007 and 2011 seasons, Penn was the final team to kick off the 2009 and 2010 seasons and Dartmouth was the final team to start the 2012 season.

Historically, Ivy League teams are among the last to begin play with their eight season openers usually falling on the third Saturday in September.

PRESEASON POLL

Picked to win its fourth title in five years, Penn was the preseason selection of a panel of media representatives to win the 2013 Ivy League football title. Penn (6-4, 6-1 Ivy League in 2012) received 11 of the 17 first-place votes and a total of 129 points. The Quakers have been voted the preseason favorite twice in the last three polls (2011 and 2013) and 10 times under head coach Al Bagnoli, who embarked on his 22nd season roaming the Franklin Field sidelines.

IVY LEAGUE FOOTBALL ON TV

A number of Ivy League football games were broadcasted live on various different regional/national television networks throughout the 2013 season.

The NBC Sports Network (NBCSN) featured a six-game schedule for the 2013 season with Randy Moss and Ross Tucker returning for a second-straight season to comprise the two-man booth calling the League's games on the network. The Ivy League's six games on NBCSN were part of NBC Sports Group's combined coverage of college football games this fall. Including the 2013 season, NBCSN (previously branded as VERSUS) has televised 30 Ivy League football matchups featuring all eight schools over six seasons (2008-13).

The League also boasted seven games on FOX College Sports (FCS) via a sublicensing agreement between NBCSN and FCS. Eric Frede (play-by-play) and former NFL star Steve DeOssie (analyst) were slated to call these games.

Other television appearances for League teams included one on The Comcast Network, one on the YES Network, three on the Lafayette Sports Network and six on ESPN3. All other Ivy football home games were streamed live on The Ivy League® Digital Network. A complete listing of Ivy football games on television this season can be found on team-by-team schedule page in this release.

INSIDE IVY LEAGUE FOOTBALL

Same show, new home.

"Inside Ivy League Football," the weekly online radio show dedicated to Ivy League football, returned for its third year for the 2013 season at its new home on The Ivy League® Digital Network.

Airing Wednesdays at 7 p.m. and hosted by Dan Loney and Brian Seltzer, "Inside Ivy League Football" took an in-depth look at all the on-field gridiron action and all the news and notes surrounding football in the Ancient Eight.

Each episode was packed with highlights, statistics and expert analysis in its 'Around the Ancient Eight' segment. With its interview segments 'Program Profile' and 'Alumni Spotlight,' the show visited with players, coaches and administrators who impact Ivy League football, both past and present, in exclusive one-on-one conversations.

Fans and alumni can engage with the show via Facebook (facebook.com/InsideIvyLeagueFootball) and Twitter (@insideivyfb, #IvyFootball) and contribute content for its 'Social Media Mash' segment with chances to win prize packs courtesy of The Ivy League.

Episodes from the first three seasons are available on The Ivy League® Digital Network at IvyLeagueDigitalNetwork.com.
