HARVARD, DARTMOUTH, PENN SHARE TITLE

Harvard, Dartmouth and Penn lay claim to the 2015 Ivy League football title as each finished conference play with identical 6-1 records. The Big Green earned its League-leading 18th Ivy title, while Harvard and Penn now each have 17 Ivy titles to their credit.

Dartmouth started championship Saturday in dramatic fashion, fighting from behind to grab a 17-10 victory over Princeton in the waning seconds in from the home crowd at Memorial Field. The Big Green, which had trailed for less than a total of 10 minutes all season, played from behind for a majority of the game. Down 10-7 to start the fourth quarter, Dartmouth knotted the score when junior placekicker Alex Gakenheimer booted a 22-yard field goal with 4:54 to play.

After a couple of defensive stops, the Big Green got the ball back on offense with one more chance to secure a share of the Ivy title. Senior quarterback Dalyn Williams delivered just that, engineering the game-scoring drive that was capped off by a screen pass to senior running back Kyle Bramble who weaved his way 12 yards to the end zone with 24 seconds to play. Williams ended his four-year tenure with the Big Green holding numerous school records, including passing yards (7,458), total yards (8,952), completions (620), completion percentage (62.7) and pass attempts (989)

Down in Philadelphia at Franklin Field, Penn scored on its first four possessions and never looked back in a 34-21 Trustees' Cup win over Cornell. Junior quarterback Alek Torgersen threw for 195 yards on 15-of-22 passing and two touchdowns to sophomore wide receiver Justin Watson. Torgersen also ran for 42 yards on eight carries and a touchdown. Watson finished the day with 133 receiving yards on nine catches to become just the fourth player in Ancient Eight history to record seven 100-yard receiving games in a season.

In the 132nd playing of The Game, Harvard left no doubt in securing a program-best, three-straight Ancient Eight title in a 38-19 triumph over Yale. After the Bulldogs opening the scoring with a first-quarter touchdown to go up 7-0, the Crimson took command with 31 unanswered points en route to defeating Yale for a ninth-straight time in the storied series.

Harvard senior quarterback Scott Hosch posted a record day by breaking the school's single-season passing record (2,827) and tying the record for most touchdown passes in The Game with four. He also moved into a tie for second place on the school's single-season passing touchdowns list with 22.

POSTSEASON NOTES

• Sharing the Ivy League title by three teams in one season has happened only four times in the conference's 60-year history:

1966 Dartmouth, Harvard and Princeton (6-1)
 1969 Dartmouth, Yale and Princeton (6-1)
 1982 Harvard, Penn and Dartmouth (5-2)
 2015 Harvard, Dartmouth and Penn (6-1)

• Penn head coach Ray Priore became just the seventh person to win an Ivy football title in his first season, following Princeton's Dick Colman in 1957, Dartmouth's Jake Crouthamel in 1971, Joe Yukica in 1978 and John Lyons in 1992, Penn's Ed Zubrow in 1986 and Cornell's Jim Hofher in 1990.

• The League closed the regular season in position to have two teams ranked in top 25 when the final polls come out in January. It would mark the first time two Ivy teams were ranked in the final polls since 2007 when Yale was 22nd in The Sports Network Poll and 21st in the CollegeSportingNews.com/AFCA Poll and Harvard was 20th in the CollegeSportingNews.com/AFCA Poll. Harvard looks to be ranked in the final polls for the fourth time in five years, while Dartmouth could receive its first season-ending ranking since 1996.

• Penn defeated two ranked teams in the same season for the first time since 2006 (at No. 22 Lafayette and vs. No. 17 Harvard). This year, the Quakers defeated No. 5/4 Villanova on Sept. 24.

• The League garnered four STATS national weekly honors this season -- Dartmouth senior quarterback Dalyn Williams (Offensive, Oct. 5), Columbia junior placekicker/punter Cameron Nizialek (Special Teams, Nov. 2), Harvard freshman wide receiver Justice Shelton-Mosley (Freshman, Nov. 9) and Penn sophomore wide receiver Justin Watson (Offensive, Nov. 16).

• Former Harvard standout and current New York Jets quarterback Ryan Fitzpatrick became the all-time Ivy League leader in touchdown passes in the National Football League, tossing his 138th career pass on Nov. 12 against the Buffalo Bills. He surpassed Columbia's Sid Luckman, who threw for 137 touchdowns with the Chicago Bears.

TEAM-BY-TEAM NOTES

BROWN

Brown has finished .500 or better in nine-straight seasons and finished in the top half of the Ivy League in eight of the last nine years under head coach Phil Estes. Senior RB Seth Rosenbauer rushed for his first 100+-yard game of the season in the Bears' season finale with 128 yards on 19 carries.

COLUMBIA

Senior RB Cameron Molina rushed 655 rushing yards against Ancient Eight opponents in seven games this season. Over his last two games against Cornell and Brown, Molina combined to rush for 325 yards on 69 carries with two touchdowns coming in the Brown game. Junior QB Skylar Mornhinweg had his first multi-touchdown game through the air, throwing for two scores in Columbia's season finale vs. Brown.

CORNELL

Senior RB Luke Hagy ended his Cornell career fourth in all-purpose yardage (3,997), fifth in touchdowns (26), sixth in rushing yards (2,336 yards) and ninth in receiving yards (1,582). Earlier this season, Hagy became the first Ivy League player to surpass 2,000 yards rushing and 1,500 yards receiving in a career.

DARTMOUTH

Dartmouth has held the distinction of owning the most Ivy League titles more than 50 years (1965) despite not winning a crown since 1996 before this year. The Big Green has won six straight against Princeton, its longest win streak in the series. Dartmouth entered the season finale having trailed for a total of 10:03 all season, then chased the Tigers for 35:23. The last Big Green victory when trailing entering the fourth quarter came four years ago at Brown in a 21-16 triumph.

HARVARD

Head coach Tim Murphy has wins 17 wins in the series with Yale, the most wins for any coach in series history. Harvard's nine-consecutive victories in the series is the longest for either team in the 132-year history of The Game. The Crimson closed the season having won 15 straight away from Cambridge, a new program record. The senior class of 2016 finished with a 36-4 record to match the class of 2015 for most wins during the Ivy League era (since 1956).

PENN

Penn won six-straight games to close the season, the first time the Quaker had a streak of that length since 2010. Penn's seven overall wins and six Ivy League wins were the most since 2010 and marked a winning record for head coach Ray Priore in his first season. Junior QB Alek Torgersen has thrown a touchdown pass in 18 of 20 career games, including 14 of his 15 career Ivy League contests. He has either passed or rushed for a touchdown in 16 straight games. In last six games, Torgersen was 6-0 with 1,460 yards and 15 passing touchdowns.

PRINCETON

Sophomore QB John Lovett tied for the Ivy League lead with nine rushing touchdowns and was responsible for 13 scores (three passing and one receiving). Junior QB Chad Kanoff became the 10th Princeton quarterback to throw for at least 2,000 yards in a season and finished with 2,304 passing yards this season for the sixth-most in school history.

YALE

The 132nd playing of The Game marked the first time a game was played under the lights in the 101-year history of the Yale Bowl. Senior QB Morgan Roberts ended his three seasons at Yale with a career high in completions (38) and attempts (65) in the Bulldogs' season finale vs. Harvard. He finished his career as the school's all-time leader in total offense (6,494) and passing yards (6,182).

60TH SEASON OF IVY LEAGUE FOOTBALL

The 2015 season was officially the 60th season of Ivy League football. Although the League's official founding was February 1954, the first year of athletics competition was the 1956-57 season.

THE IVY LEAGUE IN NCAA STATISTICS

The Ivy League was among the FCS leaders in several individual and team statistical categories to close the 2015 season.

Click here to view a national rankings summary for any Ivy League school or for the conference.

STREAKS

With the Nov. 14 loss to Penn, Harvard had several streaks stopped -- 22-straight victories (was the longest streak in the NCAA Football Championship Subdivision and tied for the most in Division I football), 16-straight conference games (was the most in the FCS) and 11-straight at home (was the second most in the FCS).

Harvard ended the regular season still leading the FCS in consecutive road wins with 15. The Crimson last lost away from home on Nov. 10, 2012 (30-21 at Penn).

SCORING CONSISTENCY

Harvard has been a model of consistency on offense, especially when it comes to reaching the end zone over the past 17 seasons. The Crimson currently owns a consecutive scoring streak of 178 entering the 2016 season.

With its Oct. 18, 2014, win over Cornell, Harvard reset the Ivy League's consecutive points-scoring streak. The last time the Crimson failed to scratch the scoreboard was Sept. 19, 1998, in a 24-0 loss at Columbia. The previous record of 162 straight games without being shutout was held by Brown, which had its scoring streak halted on Oct. 13, 2012, in 19-0 defeat at Princeton. Penn had its 136-game scoring streak come to an end in a 6-0 loss to Brown on Oct. 29, 2011.

EXTRA SESSIONS

The overtime records of Ivy League teams since the extra sessions were added for college football in 1996:

Dartmouth	4-6 (.400)
Harvard	5-2 (.714)
Penn	6-6 (.500)
Princeton	9-8 (.529)
Yale	5-3 (.625)

BATTLE OF UNBEATENS

The Oct. 30 matchup between then No. 15/16 Harvard and then No. 22 Dartmouth was the first Ivy League football game pitting ranked teams since No. 25 Harvard defeated No. 11 Yale, 37-6, on Nov. 17, 2007.

LAST TO START

For the 10th time in the past 12 seasons, the Ivy League claims the distinction of having one of its teams as the last in NCAA Division I (Football Bowl Subdivision or Football Championship Subdivision) to kick off the college football season.

This year, Princeton claims the dubious honor with its 6 p.m. start against Lafayette on Sept. 19. Cornell was the final team to open the 2004, 2006, 2007 and 2011 seasons, Penn was the final team to kick off the 2009, 2010 and 2013 seasons and Dartmouth was the final team to kick off the 2012 and 2014 seasons.

Historically, Ivy League teams are among the last to begin play with their eight season openers usually falling on the third Saturday in September.

SEASON OPENERS

Ivy League teams have racked up a 49-39 (.557) record over the first weekend of play over the past 11 seasons (2005-15). League teams have combined to start with a .500 record or better in eight of those seasons. Teams from the Ancient Eight have fared better at home over that span with a 28-13 (.683) mark.

THE IVY LEAGUE, NATIONAL FOOTBALL FOUNDATION TO CO-HOST BUSHNELL CUP PRESENTED FOR THE SIXTH-STRAIGHT YEAR

The National Football Foundation & College Hall of Fame (NFF) and the Ivy League partnered for the sixth-consecutive year to co-host a special press conference and reception, presented by the Pasadena Tournament of Roses®, to bestow the Asa S. Bushnell Cup to the League's Football Players of the Year.

The event took place Monday, Dec. 7, the day before the 58th NFF Annual Awards Dinner in New York City, at 12:30 p.m. ET in the Vanderbilt Room of the famed Waldorf Astoria Hotel. The organizations also announced that the Tournament of Roses, which sponsored the event in 2014, has agreed to continue as the presenting sponsor of the event. The presentation will be carried live on The Ivy League Digital Network (ILDN) at ILDN.tv.

Continuing a tradition that began in 2011, the Ivy League recognized its offensive and defensive players of the year by presenting the Bushnell Cup to cap off the 2015 season. This year's Bushnell Cup finalists -- two offensive and two defensive -- will be announced on Tuesday, Dec. 1.

Presented annually since 1970, the Asa S. Bushnell Cup honors its namesake, a 1921 Princeton alumnus and the commissioner of the Eastern College Athletic Conference from 1938 to 1970. The Bushnell Cup is awarded by a vote of the Ivy League's eight head football coaches to the players who display outstanding qualities of leadership, competitive spirit, contribution to the team and accomplishments on the field.

YALE'S JAURON AMONG 15-MEMBER CLASS TO BE INDUCTED INTO THE COLLEGE FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

Dick Jauron, one of Yale's most distinguished student-athletes, was among the 2015 class inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame at the 58th National Football Foundation (NFF) Annual Awards Dinner on Dec. 8 at the Waldorf Astoria in New York City.

Jauron was the 109th former Ivy Leaguer to be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame as a player. The League also boasts 29 inductees as coaches.

GOGLAK BROTHERS TO RECEIVE NFF OUTSTANDING CONTRIBUTION TO AMATEUR FOOTBALL AWARD

Former Princeton kicker Charlie Gogolak and former Cornell kicker Pete Gogolak were named co-recipients of the 2015 NFF Outstanding Contribution to Amateur Football Award by the National Football Foundation & College Hall of Fame (NFF).

The Gogolaks were honored at the 58th NFF Annual Awards Dinner on Dec. 8. The brothers accepted their award alongside the recipients of the other NFF Major Awards, including Jim Hawthorne (the recipient of the Chris Schenkel Award for excellence in broadcasting) and Michigan State Athletics Director Mark Hollis (the recipient of the John L. Toner Award for excellence in athletics administration). The NFF also presented NFF Legacy Awards to former SEC Commissioner, former Cornell Director of Athletics and Dartmouth graduate Mike Slive and former Big 12 Senior Associate Commissioner for Football Donnie Duncan.

First presented in 1974, the NFF Outstanding Contribution to Amateur Football Award provides national recognition to those whose efforts to support the NFF and its goals have been local in nature or who have made significant contributions to the game of football either to the manner in which it is played and coached or to the manner in which it is enjoyed by spectators. The Gogolaks become the 39th and 40th recipients of the award.

PRESEASON POLL

Harvard entered the 2015 Ivy League football season in a familiar position -- as the preseason favorite to keep the conference crown in Cambridge for another year.

Harvard garnered 11 of the 17 first-place votes and a total of 130 points from a select panel of media representatives to sit atop the League's preseason prognostications for the fifth time in eight years. Over the previous seven seasons, the Crimson has captured four Ivy titles (2008, 2011, 2013, 2014) and finished second three times (2009, 2010, 2012). Harvard has been voted first or second in the preseason poll and finished the season first or second in each of the past seven campaigns under head coach Tim Murphy.
