TEAM NOTES
• Kansas’ 17 3-pointers were the second-most ever by a KU team in a game and the most by a Jayhawk squad in a conference game.
• KU has now hit 16 or more 3-pointers three times this year. The Jayhawks accomplished that feat just once in the 21 seasons since the beginning of the 3-point line.

• The Jayhawks also tied a program high with 20 3-point attempts in the second half.
• KU featured three players score 20 or more points for the first time since Frank Mason III (22), Devonte’ Graham (21) and Josh Jackson (20) each surpassed 20 points against Oklahoma State on Jan. 14, 2017.
• Kansas’ 86.7 percent (13-of-15) clip from the free throw line was the team’s best in a game this year with a minimum of 10 attempts. It also marked the first time in five game the Jayhawks notched double-digit free throws.
• The 12 lead changes, all in the first half, were tied for the most ever in a KU win.
• With their 92 points, the Jayhawks moved to 4-0 this season when scoring 90 or more points and 61-1 in the Bill Self era when surpassing the 90-point plateau.

• Texas’ 52 second-half points marked the second time a KU opponent has scored more than 50 points in a half this season. Arizona State notched 58 points in the second half of its win over Kansas on Dec. 10. Prior to that game vs. ASU, KU hadn’t allowed an opponent to score 50 or more points in a half in 47-straight games.
• UT’s 42-26 edge in points in the paint were the most by a KU opponent in 2017-18 and marked just the second time the Jayhawks were outscored in the paint this season.
• Texas also set KU opponent season highs with 44 rebounds and 18 offensive rebounds.
