BLACKBIRDS WELCOME KNIGHTS TO STEINBERG CENTER MONDAY

- The LIU Brooklyn women's basketball team will be looking to bounce back from a loss in the team's first Northeast Conference game of the season when they host Fairleigh Dickinson in the Steinberg Wellness Center Monday night. The second NEC doubleheader of the season, the women's game will tip-off at 5 p.m., with the men's squads to follow in a 7:30 p.m. matchup.
- Most recently, LIU suffered a loss to Bryant Saturday. The Bulldogs (8-4, 1-0 NEC) had the first two baskets of the game, and led wire to wire, despite the Blackbirds making many attempts to take the lead. With the loss, the Blackbirds are now 3-9 overall, 0-1 in the NEC.
- Junior Sophie Bhasin led LIU with 11 points and seven rebounds, along with two steals.
- Sophomore Brianna Farris had 12 points in the loss, while sophomore Shanovia Dove had 10 points, five rebounds, three steals and three assists for LIU.
- Senior Letava Whippy returned after missing two games to an injury, and had seven points and three rebounds.

ALL-TIME SERIES

This will be the 66th matchup between LIU and FDU women's basketball, in a series that dates back to 1977. The Knights hold the all-time advantage in the season, 38-27, but the Blackbirds have recent history on their side. Last year, LIU won both matchups between the two squads.

SCOUTING THE KNIGHTS

Fairleigh Dickinson comes to the Steinberg Wellness Center at 3-8 overall, 0-1 in the NEC. The Knights have lost three straight, including a 82-53 defeat at the hands of CCSU Saturday in the conference opener.
 FDU has wins over Manhattan, Army and Saint Peter's this season. The Knights have two common non-conference opponents with LIU, having lost to NJIT (68-64), and Monmouth (71-66).

FDU is led by junior guard Kelsey Cruz, who is averaging 18.0 points per game. Cruz had her best game of the season in a loss to Siena last week. The guard had 27 points, shooting 50% from the field.
 Redshirt junior Erika Livermore has returned from ACL surgery last season to be a force for the Knights. The center averages 16.8 points per game and 10.8 rebounds per game. Saturday's loss at CCSU snapped a streak of three straight double-doubles for Livermore, and it was also her first game without a block all season. She leads FDU with 33 blocks so far this year.
 Senior point guard Amanda Andrades is third on the team in scoring, with 10.8 points per game. She also leads the team in steals, with 3.4, and averages 6.3 assists per game.

SNAGGING STATISTICS

The Blackbirds' high-pressure defense has hit its stride, and the stats reflect it. LIU is currently first in the Northeast Conference and 14th in the nation in steals per game, as the squad averages 12.2 per game.
 Senior Letava Whippy is also ranked on the national stage. She is currently 21st in the nation and first in the conference in steals per game (3.0), and third in the NEC and 29th in the nation in offensive rebounds per game (4.0)

SHA-NIIIIICE!

Junior Shanice Vaughan came this close to a triple-double in LIU's win over Howard. The guard had a career-high 11 rebounds, along with 9 assists and 9 points.

HIGHS VS. HOWARD

LIU's 83-74 win over Howard on December 14 marked several season highs for the Blackbirds' squad. It was the highest field goal percentage by the team this season (42.2%), highest three-point field goal percentage by the team so far this year (43.8%), and the most points put up by the squad all year (83).

LIU also had four blocks and 17 team steals against the Bison, both then season highs.

40 MINUTES OF FAST

- Head coach Gail Striegler has instituted a new style of play this season, based on the full-court pressure defense that Nolan Richardson made famous at Arkansas, as he led the men's basketball team there to the 1994 NCAA Men's Basketball championship title.
- As covered in the Fort Greene Patch at the start of the season, Striegler plans to give opponents "40 Minutes of Hell," this season.
- "We're going to press after every made basket and try pressing off some missed baskets, which is something people rarely do," said Striegler. "We've spent quite a bit of time working on it. We're probably going to give up some layups doing that, but it will speed the game up and make people take quick shots, and hopefully get some easy baskets."
- Striegler studied the system this summer, right from the source. "First of all Coach [Striegler] is a student of the game," said Richardson. "That's what I noticed when we were having our conversations about pressure defense." Richardson's system, which he described as "a riot I have control of" is predicated on players making lightning-quick decisions, a situation that sometime can be hard for a coach to stomach. Richardson understood the dilemma this might presents for Coach Striegler. "When you take a coach that understands the game like she does sometimes it's tough to watch because you're giving players more control of the defense. They're on the floor and they need to make decisions. It's a game that your opponents don't normally work on. Opponents would have to practice for [Striegler's team], prepare for her, while all she has to do is get her team to do the things they're doing and not worry about the opponents that they're playing."

PRESEASON POLL

- The LIU Brooklyn women's basketball team was selected to finish eighth in the Northeast Conference, according to a poll taken of the leagues coaches.
- The Blackbirds were picked behind Robert Morris (who received five first place votes), Sacred Heart (four first place votes), St. Francis Brooklyn (one first place vote), Wagner, Saint Francis U., Bryant and Mount St. Mary's. Rounding out the poll were Fairleigh Dickinson and Central Connecticut State, who tied for ninth place.

STEINBERG WELLNESS CENTER (FORMERLY THE WRAC)

- To honor David J. Steinberg's impressive 27-year legacy as president of Long Island University, LIU Brooklyn's Wellness, Recreation and Athletic Center (WRAC) was renamed the Steinberg Wellness Center during a dedication ceremony Wednesday, April 24, at 3 p.m. inside the WRAC.
- The ninth president of LIU, Dr. Steinberg was appointed April 1, 1985. During his tenure as chief executive, LIU grew into one of the largest and most comprehensive private universities in the United States. Under his leadership, the University's endowment increased from $4.8 million to nearly $80 million and its enrollment rose from 19,000 to over 24,000.

LIU ON THE WEB

- For the third year in a row, home LIU Brooklyn women's basketball games will be seen live via the internet, free for all viewers.
- In conjunction with Pack Network, the Northeast Conference launched NEC Front Row, in 2012, an online digital network with multi-platform access.
- All home contests and select road conference games not broadcast regionally or nationally will be seen on necfrontrow.com.

THE NORTHEAST CONFERENCE

- The Northeast Conference celebrates its 34th anniversary this season. The 10-member conference dates back to 1981, when it originated as the men's basketball-only ECAC-Metro Conference.
- LIU Brooklyn is one of the six charter institutions that helped form the alliance in 1981.

HEAD COACH GAIL STRIEGLER

Seventh Season • Central Arkansas, 1990

Gail Striegler enters her seventh season at the helm of the LIU Brooklyn women's basketball team in 2014-15, having put together an impressive stretch of three seasons from 2009-12. Striegler's unit in 2011-12 won 21 games, and over the three seasons, won 62 games, the most over a three-year span in program history.

Using a high-tempo brand of basketball, LIU went 11-1 in its non-conference schedule in 2011-12, defeating two teams from the Colonial Athletic Association (Drexel and William & Mary) and a pair from the Atlantic 10 (Charlotte and La Salle). Perhaps the biggest win, however, came at the Peppermill Holiday Classic in late December.

After defeating host Nevada handily in the opening round, Striegler led the Blackbirds to a thrilling 64-63 win over previously unbeaten Oklahoma State in the title game. The Cowgirls, a member of the Big XII conference, would go on to win 22 games and take home the Postseason WNIT crown at the end of March.

Striegler guided 2012 graduate Ashley Palmer to a record-setting career, putting her in a position to score a school-record 2,044 points. Palmer closed her four years in downtown Brooklyn as one of only two players in Northeast

Conference history to score 2,000 points and record 1,000 rebounds in a career.

The first recruit that Striegler nabbed as the head coach at LIU Brooklyn, Palmer's classmate Kiara Evans, also made waves in her three years at the school. Evans, a transfer from Louisville, was a three-year starter and accumulated 448 assists to rank first in school history.

The prior year, Striegler led LIU Brooklyn to 19 wins and an 11-7 record in the ultra-competitive Northeast Conference. The victory total -- tied for the fourth-most in single-season school history -- gave the Blackbirds 41 triumphs over two seasons, the second-most for a two-year stretch in program history.

After inheriting a depleted roster for her inaugural season, Striegler engineered a dramatic turnaround in her second trip through the Northeast Conference. Following a nine-win campaign, she guided an upstart Blackbirds team to a 22-10 finish for an 11-game turnaround and a trip to the NEC championship contest. The 22 victories tied for the second-highest win total in Long Island history and the team completely reversed its conference record from the previous season, going 14-4 in 2009-10.

Striegler led the short-staffed Blackbirds to a 9-20 record in her first season in Brooklyn. Playing with as few as seven active players for most of the season, the team was involved in eight losses that were decided by two points or less. Striegler guided a team that showed remarkable grit and determination and played tougher than its record showed.

Striegler came to Brooklyn from Georgia State, where she spent the 2007-08 season as assistant coach and recruiting coordinator, bringing in a recruiting class that was nationally ranked by the Collegiate Girls Basketball Report. Prior to her stint at Georgia State, Striegler spent eight seasons as the head coach at the University of Central Florida, leading the Knights to three consecutive Atlantic Sun championships from 2003-2005.

In her eight years at the helm of UCF, Striegler compiled a 106-128 record. After taking on a rebuilding project, she posted four seasons of over 15 victories, including two 19-win campaigns.

She was named Atlantic Sun Coach of the Year on two occasions -- 2003 and 2005. Striegler and the Knights jumped from the Atlantic Sun to Conference USA in 2005-06. Her team posted a nationally-televised win over Texas-El Paso in front of a school-record crowd to celebrate that inaugural season. Several of her players earned postseason honors, including all-conference and all-tournament accolades.

Striegler's teams also found success in the classroom throughout her tenure. Her 2005-06 squad was selected to the Women's Basketball Coaches Association Academic Top 25 Honor Roll. Striegler's student-athletes were also members of UCF's Scholar-Athlete lists and conference all-academic teams.

UCF captured a third consecutive regular-season first-place finish and top tournament seed with a 16-4 league record en route to a 19-10 overall mark in 2004-05. That season, the Knights finished ninth in the nation in blocked shots per game.

That followed a 17-13 campaign in 2003-04 and a 19-11 season in 2002-03 that ignited the three-year run. Striegler's 2001-02 team was 17-13 and ranked 20th in the nation in three-point shooting percentage and blocks per game.

A native of Fayetteville, Ark., Striegler spent five years at Stephen F. Austin as the top assistant coach and recruiting coordinator. During her time at Stephen F. Austin, the Ladyjacks advanced to the NCAA Tournament five times, including a trip to the Sweet 16 in 1996.

A highly-respected recruiter, Striegler's 1998 recruiting class was ranked 13th by Women's Basketball Journal and Blue Chip Report, while her 1997 class was ranked 17th by the Blue Chip Report. She also signed and coached numerous All-Americans while at Stephen F. Austin.

Prior to her time at Stephen F. Austin, Striegler was the top assistant coach on the staff at Northwestern State for three seasons. During her time there, the Lady Demons amassed a 65-16 mark, earned a WNIT bid in 1992 and compiled three consecutive 20-win seasons.

Striegler began her coaching career in 1990 at Arkansas as a graduate assistant where she took part in on-court workouts as well as on-campus recruiting and public relations. There, she was part of a team that posted a 28-4 record en route to winning the Southwest Conference regular season and tournament championships and advancing to the NCAA Tournament Sweet 16.

As a student-athlete, Striegler was a member of the Central Arkansas women's basketball team, earning All-Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference honors in 1988-89. She was inducted into the Central Arkansas Hall of Fame in the fall of 2006.

Always aware of community and commitment, she has volunteered with the March of Dimes, Special Olympics, Habitat for Humanity, Make-A-Wish Foundation, Boys and Girls Clubs, Hoops for Scholars and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Striegler, who holds a Bachelor of Science degree in kinesiology from Central Arkansas and a Master of Science degree in the same discipline from Arkansas, resides in Brooklyn, N.Y.
