LSC FOOTBALL PLAYOFFS SET

Texas A&M-Commerce won its first Lone Star Conference title in 24 years and 21st overall to earn the top seed in the upcoming conference playoffs.

A&M-C will host Tarleton State in one of the championship bracket games on November 8. On the other side of the title bracket, Angelo State hosts Midwestern State. The Week 10 winners meet for the playoff title in Week 11, while the Week 10 losers will meet for third place.

LSC FOOTBALL

The Lone Star Conference regular season wrapped up last week. Here is a closer look at last week's games:

- A&M-Commerce downed McMurry 91-13 and is the only team at any NCAA level to score over 90 points this season. The Lions have now accomplished the feat twice after beating East Texas Baptist 98-20.
- Angelo State defeated Tarleton State 34-31 for the first time since 2000 and the first time in Stephenville since 1999.
- Midwestern State clinched its 15th consecutive winning season with a 48-7 win over Texas A&M-Kingsville.
- The 31-21 victory gave Eastern New Mexico its second straight Wagon Wheel win over West Texas A&M.

LSC football teams are 36-32 overall this season. The squads are 5-1 combined versus the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, Great Lakes Valley Conference and Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference teams, which are also in NCAA Super Regional Four.

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK

OFFENSIVE

Kyle Washington, Angelo State University, JR, QB, Humble, Texas, Humble HS

Washington threw and completed a career high 28-of-49 for 360 yards including a 4-yard pass to Chris Omigie with 31 seconds left to rally the Rams to a 34-31 win over Tarleton State. The junior threw four passing touchdowns and rushed for 93 yards on 23 carries in first win over the Texans since 2000. It is his third game of the season of at least 300-yards passing. He is the LSC leader in total offense averaging 341.2 yards per game. He improved his career record to 12-8 as a starter and has now completed a touchdown pass in 15-straight games.

DEFENSIVE

Tre'von Taylor, Texas A&M University - Commerce, FR, LB, Cypress, Texas, Woods HS

Taylor turned in arguably the best defensive performances in the NCAA this season especially coming from a freshman pressed into action due to injuries. Taylor was a one-man wrecking crew against McMurry. The former defensive lineman turned linebacker in the Lions scheme recorded a game-high 11 tackles including seven solo stops. He accounted for 5.5 tackles for loss with 4.5 of those sacks. All told, he knocked the War Hawk offense back for a whopping 40 yards. His 4.5 sacks set a new A&M-Commerce school record and his 5.5 tackles for loss tied the school record. His most athletic play of the game came on an attempted swing pass to the McMurry running back. Taylor correctly diagnosed the play, and fought off a blocker to making a leading interception. After the pick, Taylor scampered 21 yards for the score. Taylor and the Lion offense limited the War Hawks to only 18 rushing yards and 318 yards of total offense.

SPECIAL TEAMS

Saul Martinez, Texas A&M University - Commerce, SR, K, Pittsburg, Texas, Pittsburg HS

Martinez set a new Lone Star Conference and A&M-Commerce record for made point after attempt made and attempted. He was a perfect 13-for-13 in the Saturday's 91-13 win over McMurry. Martinez is fifth in the NCAA in points per game averaging 12.3 points. He is also the leading scorer for kicking with 111 points, ranked tied for 65th in all of the NCAA.

OTHER TOP PERFORMERS

Chauncey Harris, Midwestern State University, broke for a 60-yard touchdown run on the second play of the second half to spur a 28-point third-quarter outburst in Midwestern State's 48-7 win over Texas A&M-Kingsville Saturday night at Javelina Stadium. The senior running back recorded his fifth career 100-yard rushing performance going over the century mark for the second straight week. Harris went for a season-high 171 yards on 17 carries a week after gobbling up 169 yards on 25 carries against Texas A&M-Commerce. The Converse Judson High product moved into 11th place on MSU's all-time rushing list with 1,551 yards.

Jeremy Alridge-Mitchell, West Texas A&M University, had 114 yards rushing and two touchdowns on 15 carries at Eastern New Mexico Saturday. It was his seventh consecutive game of over 100 yards rushing and fifth of two touchdowns or more on the ground. ENMU entered the game allowing a league-best 86 yards rushing per game as A-Mitchell became just the second opponent and first running back to rush for more than 100 yards against the Greyhounds this season. A-Mitchell had three receiving yards and 58 kick return yards for 175 all-purpose yards.

Jeremy Buurma, Eastern New Mexico University, scored the first two touchdowns of Saturday's Wagon Wheel game against West Texas A&M and never looked back, on the way to Eastern's second straight win over the Buffaloes. He rushed for a career-best 81 yards and completed 75 percent of his passes. Buurma completed five of his six third-down attempts, with one of the completions successfully converting three third-and-long situations. His performance helped ENMU charge to a 21-0 lead and hold the ball for 41:08 of play.

Zed Woerner, Tarleton State University, had a spectacular showing in Saturday's game against Angelo State. The sophomore QB from Marble Falls, who began the season as the third string quarterback, was forced to play the entire game following an injury to starter Collin Strahan on the second offensive play of the game. Woerner responded by throwing for 302 yards on 31-44 passing with a touchdown and an interception. He also ran for 20 yards and a score.

Deric Davis, Texas A&M University - Commerce, was responsible for four of the Lions 12 offensive touchdowns in the 91-13 rout of McMurry that clinched the Lone Star Conference Championship outright on senior day. Davis opened the scoring with a two-yard run with 9:19 showing on the clock in the first quarter. His second score came with 12:48 on the clock in the second quarter when he again scored on a rush in short yardage situation, this time from five yards out. Davis came out and took over the quarter back duties to open the second half, and promptly opened with a 43-yard strike to wideout Vernon Johnson. Later in the third, Davis connected with Smith on two-yard pass. Half, two, of his four passes went for scores and the senior finished perfect on the game completing all four of his attempts. In two seasons against McMurry, Davis has been responsible for 10 touchdowns after scoring six rushing TDs in 2013. Davis has been a huge reason why the Lions lead the nation in scoring averaging 54.2 points per game.

Marc Martinez, Tarleton State University, had the best individual game of his stellar four-year playing career Saturday night in his final home game for Tarleton. The senior from Waco led all players with a career-high 19 tackles and also had two of the Texans' three turnovers – a fumble recovery, which he ran back 68 yards to set up the first Tarleton touchdown of the night, and an interception. Martinez and the Texan defense shut down the Angelo offense over the first half, holding the Rams to just three points on just 168 total yards of offense.

Rush Seaver, Angelo State University, led the Ram defense with a 16 total tackles and 1.0 tackle for loss in the 34-31 win over Tarleton State. Seaver and the defense opened the game by forcing five-straight punts and ended the game with three-straight punts and an interception to seal the win. It is the sixth game of the season of at least 10 tackles for the senior linebacker. He is currently No. 3 in NCAA Division II averaging 14.1 tackles per game.

Hunter Streuling, West Texas A&M University, was all over the field once again for the Buffs this weekend as he tallied 11 total tackles and 10 solo stops which led the team. It was Streuling's third game of double-digit tackles and first of 10 solo tackles. He now has back-to-back double digit total tackle games.

Seth Bailey, Eastern New Mexico University, keyed a defensive effort which limited West Texas A&M to a season-low 266 yards of total offense, below their average of 427.4 yards per game. In the first half, Eastern allowed just 35 offensive yards and charged to a 21-point lead. With the Hounds leading 14-0 in the first quarter, Bailey forced a fumble, which led to a Greyhound touchdown, just three plays later. The turnover marked the fifth time this season in which Bailey was involved in a turnover.

Eric Olson, Midwestern State University, made a season-high five tackles including a sack to play a key role in Midwestern State's best defensive efforts of the season. The senior defensive end from Wichita Falls sacked Texas A&M-Kingsville's Trey Mitchell for a 17-yard loss late in the third quarter while also recording a quarterback hurry. The Mustangs limited Texas A&M-Kingsville to 147 yards of total offense holding the Javelinas to 44 total yards over the final 10 possessions of the game.

Glenn Roberts, Tarleton State University, led the Texans special teamers with 88 yards on three kickoff returns.

Mitchell Cox, Eastern New Mexico University, scored seven points in the Greyhounds 10-point win over West Texas A&M for the Wagon Wheel. His 40-yard field goal at the end of the third quarter put Eastern up by 24 points, which heavily impacted the fourth quarter. Four of Cox's six kickoffs went for touchbacks and he had a 43-yard punt in the first quarter.

Andy Alkhaszshvili, Midwestern State University, connected on field goals from 33 and 37 yards out and was a perfect 6-for-6 on point-after attempts to account for 13 points in Midwestern State's 48-7 win over Texas A&M-Kingsville Saturday night at Javelina Stadium.
