THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT!
LAST WEEK
Record-setting performances by Brody Oliver and Cameron Mayberry led Colorado School of Mines in a 44-14 romp at Fort Lewis last Saturday. Oliver became the RMAC’s all-time leader in receiving touchdowns, and Mayberry broke the Mines program rushing yards record as the Orediggers overcame a slow start to stifle the Skyhawks in Durango. Quarterback Isaac Harker was 32-of-47 for 345 yards and five touchdowns, producing a pair of 100-yard receivers in Riley Hoff (11 rec., 134 yards) and Oliver (9 rec., 127 yards) as Oliver caught four of Harker’s five scores. The Oredigger defense was busy producing arguably its best all-around game of the year with three interceptions - two by Anthony Makransky and another by Miguel Rosendo - and its third safety of the year in limiting FLC to only 188 yards of offense.

IN THE POLLS
Mines moved up three spots to #6 in this week’s AFCA top 25 poll, their highest showing under head coach Gregg Brandon and the program’s best since hitting #5 in 2004. The Orediggers are one of five Super Region 4 teams in the top 10 along with #1 Minnesota State, #5 Minnesota-Duluth, #9 Tarleton State, and #10 Midwestern State. Azusa Pacific received 13 votes in this week’s poll.

MINES VS. AZUSA PACIFIC SERIES
This will be the third meeting between Mines and Azusa Pacific in a series that began in 2016 ... Both teams have won at home for a 1-1 record ... Mines won the first meeting in a memorable 27-23 upset of then-#10 APU at Marv Kay Stadium in 2016 ... Azusa Pacific returned the favor last season with a 35-21 win in California ... This is Mines’ lone non-conference game of the year as Azusa Pacific is a member of the GNAC ... Mines is 3-1 in non-conference regular-season games and 4-2 overall outside of the RMAC under Gregg Brandon.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME
With the week 5 win over Colorado Mesa, Mines ran its home winning streak to 12 games. The Orediggers have not lost at Marv Kay Stadium since falling to Colorado Mesa in week 3 of the 2016 season, and are 17-2 overall since the facility opened in 2015.

OLIVER STANDS ALONE IN RMAC HISTORY
Brody Oliver’s record-setting career added another memorable moment last week when he set the RMAC career record for receiving touchdowns, catching his 51st on Mines’ opening score at Fort Lewis. Oliver didn’t stop there - he caught four in the game, his third career 4+ TD performance, to take his total to 54. Next up is the Mines career yardage record; Oliver stands only 120 yards shy of Justin Gallas’ Mines record of 3,561 compiled from 2002 to 2005. Oliver is NCAA football’s active leader in receiving touchdowns, and it isn’t even close: the next-highest total is 38, by Tiffin’s Charles Holland.

MAYBERRY SETS MINES RECORD
Oliver wasn’t the only Oredigger breaking records last week. Cameron Mayberry broke Mines’ long-standing rushing yards record of 2,576 yards set by Greg Marshall from 1989 to 1992. Mayberry - who still has another year of eligibility in 2019 - now has 2,584 career yards to go with 31 touchdowns. The Mines touchdowns mark is still a ways off -

TODAY’S GAME

Marshall scored 48 in his career - but certainly attainable as Mayberry is averaging 1.1 touchdowns per game in his career, including 1.6 TDs/game as a starter. This season, Mayberry is second in the RMAC in yards (816) and touchdowns (10).

A UNIQUE TRIO
Speaking of career milestones, Riley Hoff got into the act two weeks ago as he crossed the 2,000-career-receiving-yard milestone, and the senior now has 2,154 yards through the air. That gives Mines two unique combos: Hoff and Brody Oliver are the only active 2,000+ yard duo in NCAA Division II and one of only three in all of college football; if you add in Cameron Mayberry, Mines is the only team in NCAA football to have two 2,000+ yard receivers and a 2,500+ yard running back on its roster.

EVERYBODY SCORES
Mines is third in NCAA Division II in scoring offense at 47 points per game, but the term “offense” might be a little misleading in Mines’ case. That’s because the Orediggers have gotten non-offensive points in each of their last four games (18 total points) with three safeties, a defensive touchdown, and a special teams touchdown. The streak started with Logan Bock’s fumble return for a touchdown against CSU-Pueblo, and continued with safeties at New Mexico Highlands (by Bock and Averie Mansfield) and against Colorado Mesa (by James Kohlschmidt). At Western, a fumble on a kickoff caused by Nate Renfrew was collected in the end zone by Luke Jeter for a touchdown, and Bock did it again at Fort Lewis with a sack in the end zone for two. Mines’ three safeties this season are a program record.

STOPPING THE RUN
Mines’ run-stopping success has been key for the defense this year, as the Orediggers lead the RMAC allowing only 90.4 yards per game on the ground. Averie Mansfield and Logan Bock lead the team and the front seven in tackles, as Mansfield has racked up 38 stops (6.5 for a loss) and Bock 37 tackles (8.0 for a loss) with four sacks. Mines has held opponents to 75 or fewer yards on the ground four times this year, including 25 vs. Adams State and 53 vs. Western State.

LOOKING AHEAD
Mines stays home to host South Dakota School of Mines & Technology next Saturday at noon.
