▲ MEC NOTEBOOK

WEEK 5 PLAYERS OF THE WEEK

• Tevin Brown, a redshirt freshman from Cincinnati, Ohio, is the Offensive Player of the Week after leading the Yellow Jackets to their first Mountain East Conference win with an 18-13 decision over Urbana. Brown rushed 26 times for 132 yards averaging 5.1 yards per carry.

• C.J. Davis, a sophomore from Hagerstown, Md., and Kevin Coffie, a sophomore defensive back from Beltsville, Md., share the league's Defensive Player of the Week recognition. Davis helped ninth-ranked Shepherd limit Charleston to just 123 yards of total offense with seven tackles and an interception. Coffie had four tackles on the day but broke up six passes and surrendered just one reception to his receiver on 83 snaps.

• Torie Wagner, a junior from Severn, Md., earned MEC Special Teams Player of the Week honors for his efforts against Shepherd. He returned a kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown against the ninth-ranked Rams -- the longest in the league this season. Wagner also had 26 punt return yards to become UC's single season leader (since re-starting football in 20013) in that category.

NEWS & NOTES

• This will mark the first week in MEC history that two teams from the league are nationally ranked in both major polls (AFCA/d2football.com) with Shepherd (9th/10th) and Concord (23rd/21st) making it in the top 25.

• Four different MEC quarterbacks have two 300+ yard passing games this season: Cooper Hibbs (FSU), Jeremy Musselman (WVWC), Brian Novak (CU) and Ray Russ (NDC). Six different QBs have thrown for over 300 yards this year.

• Three running backs in the league are averaging over 100 yards per game with Rahmann Lee leading the way with 128.2 yards per game, followed by Calvinaugh Jones (121.4) and Marvin Elam (107.6).

• Shepherd is 14-0 in two seasons of play in the Mountain East Conference.

• SU quarterback Jeff Ziemba has yet to throw an interception in 107 attempts. The Rams are one of just four teams not to throw an interception this season.

• Shepherd is 19-of-23 (83 percent) in third down situations of less than four yards.

• The Rams lead the country in total defense allowing just 156.4 yards per game. SU has allowed more than 10 points in just two of its five games this season.

• Shepherd's C.J. Davis is the only MEC player to earn Defensive Player of the Week and Special Teams Player of the Week honors this season. He leads the Rams with 412 all-purpose yards despite not playing any snaps on offense.

• SU is out-scoring opponents 127-17 in the first half and has yet to allow a point in the third quarter this season.

• Concord is one of only five teams in NCAA Division II to average more than 50 points a game this season.

• CU's Ryan Stewart has at least one touchdown reception in each of his last four games. He has been on the receiving end of nine of Brian Novak's 14 TD tosses.

• Concord's offensive line has allowed only three sacks in 143 passing attempts.

• CU uses team defense with six players recording over 20 total tackles this year and 13 players have at least one tackle for a loss.

• Charleston's defense held Shepherd to under 100 yards rushing for the first time in 28 games. Prior to week five's game against UC that saw Shepherd rush for 83 yards, the last time it was held to under 100 was the first week of the 2012 season against Shipensburg.

• UC's Torie Wagner became the school's single-season leader for punt return yards against Shepherd. He has 197 punt return yards on 12 attempts and one touchdown. Wagner also ranks sixth in the country in combined kick and punt return yardage with 505.

• Wagner is averaging over 107.6 all-purpose yards per game (10th in the league) despite not playing on offense.

• Notre Dame's Ray Russ went 121 pass attempts without being intercepted before surrendering one in week four against Charleston, establishing a new league mark.

• Russ leads the MEC with 15 touchdown passes this year. He has thrown at least two touchdown passes in every game this season.

• 26 of Mitchel Shegos' 35 receptions have gone for first downs.

• West Liberty continues to lead the league in fewest penalties (14) and penalty yardage (150).
