MEDIA WORK AREAS -- A media work room, interview room and buffet area will be located at Scottrade Center. There are 12 telephones in the working media room at Scottrade Center. Telephones are available on a first-come, first-served basis. In addition, The Valley will provide a faxing service; please contact Mike Kern or a member of the The Valley communications staff if you need something transmitted. High-speed wireless internet access is available in the working press room. Please see a member of the Valley staff (Telecommunications Help Desk within the room) for log-in information. Separate circuits have been established for print and electronic media.

PRACTICES -- Interviews are not allowed during any practice. Videographers wishing to shoot B-roll during Thursday's shoot-arounds may do so, but only from the endzones. Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, practices/morning shoot-arounds are closed to all members of the media (except for approved members of the MVC or CBS television network).

MEDIA CREDENTIALS -- You must wear your credential at all times during games or while in Scottrade for interviews. You will need your credential to gain admission to the Coach of the Year luncheon at the Four Seasons Hotel (sixth-floor ballroom), the Hall of Fame Breakfast at the Peabody Opera House (Midland State Bank Ballroom), and the Hospitality Room in the City View A-B suite (13th floor) of the Sheraton. All credentials not picked up at the Sheraton on Wednesday, Feb. 29, will be left at the press entrance -- located on the west side -- Walnut Street or 15th Street -- of Scottrade Center. You must present a photo ID to receive your credentials.

MEDIA BUFFET -- The media buffet is in the Blues Press Box, which is located on Level 5. Media members should take the freight elevators, located on the media workroom level -- next to the Scottrade Center operations office -- to Penthouse Level 5. A credential is required for admittance to the media buffet. You will only be able to go through the line once. Please note the hours of operation -- which is located on the Schedule of Events in this manual and on the back of your credential -- for the media buffet.

MISSOURI VALLEY CONFERENCE 2011-12 Men's Basketball

PHOTOGRAPHERS AND TV FILM CREWS – Still photographers and videographers must either stay seated or kneeling within the photographer boxes located on the left side (as you face the basket) of the west goal (as you face the scorer's table, it is the goal to your right) and the right side of the east goal. Photographers and videographers will not be allowed along the sideline apron of the court – in front of the official scorer's table, the press tables or team benches – at any time after competition begins, including the team 30- and 60-second timeouts and all media timeouts. The lone exception is Valley TV Network videographers. Still photographers may not place tripods on or beside the playing court or attach strobes to the backboard or goal standard, without permission from the MVC.

Stations are prohibited from using lights for "live shot" purposes while games are being competed – including team timeouts [the four (4) 30-second timeouts and the one (1) 60-second timeout] and media timeouts – during the tourney.

CLEARANCES – For the first time in the 22-year history of the State Farm MVC Championship in St. Louis, all games of the tournament will be televised nationally. Telecasts (all of them in HD for the second-straight year) will be cleared on Fox Sports Midwest, Fox Sports Indiana, Fox Sports Kansas City, Comcast SportsNet Chicago, and selected alternate channels when Fox Sports Midwest has a programming conflict. All games not in that footprint will also air on ESPN3. Sunday's championship game will air on CBS Sports. The CBS telecast of the 2012 State Farm MVC Championship game will mark the seventh-straight year the tournament finals have aired on national over-the-air television on CBS. The 2006 telecast of the Bradley-Southern Illinois final marked the first national broadcast on network television for The Valley (not including NCAA Tournament action) since Wichita State lost to BYU, 93-92, on Jan. 28, 1989, also on CBS Sports.

VALLEY TOURNAMENT ON THE INTERNET – Box scores will be available on the Missouri Valley Conference's web site – www.mvc-sports.com. Live stats and play-by-play, courtesy of MRR Systems, will be available by visiting The Valley site. Members of the working press who wish to access a live stat feed of the tournament games on their laptop may do so by connecting to the arena's internet access and directing their web browser to the following location: <http://mvc.statbroadcast.com>

COURTSIDE AUDIO – The MVC will provide feeds from post-game news conferences to courtside radio broadcast locations (mult-box located at mid-court on row M1).

STATISTICS – Typed play-by-play, complete halftime and final boxes will be provided to members of the media. Box scores will also be provided to television and radio play-by-play entities at all media timeouts, and additional media members might be added upon request. In addition, a complete transcript of the post-game interview sessions will be provided moments after the games, courtesy ASAP Sports. If you would like the transcripts e-mailed to you, please contact a member of the Valley communications staff.

Team statistics, game programs and flip cards with numerical rosters and officials' names will be available to the media in the working press room before each game. Following each game, the Valley will update each advancing school's all-game statistics and make them available in the press room.

Members of the working press who wish to access a live stat feed of the tournament games on their laptop may do so by connecting to the arena's internet access and directing their web browser to the following location: <http://mvc.statbroadcast.com>.

It currently supports Internet Explorer version 5 and above, all versions of Firefox, Opera version 10 and above and Netscape version 8 and above. StatMonitr is also currently supported on Safari for Mac, the iPhone browser, the Android browser and newer models of Blackberry browser.

POST-GAME INTERVIEW TRANSCRIPTS – The league is utilizing the services of ASAP Sports, the FastScripts® company, to provide telephonic transcription coverage of our press conferences and interviews. Please see a member of the MVC communications staff to be added to the distribution list. The transcripts will not include any locker-room interviews, however, the MVC will provide quotes from select student-athletes from the locker room.

MISSOURI VALLEY CONFERENCE 2011-12 Men's Basketball

INTERVIEW POLICIES – The head coach and at least two players from each team will be brought to the interview area following a 5-minute "cooling off" period after each game. The cooling off period begins when the coach enters the locker room. The winning coach and players will be interviewed first, (not longer than 15 minutes) followed by the non-winning coach and players. The interview room moderator is Joe Dalfonso. The locker rooms will be open to the media for a minimum of 30 minutes after the cooling-off period ends, provided media representatives are present the entire time. Head coaches will be available for one-on-one interviews after each press conference, but interviews should take place in locker rooms or another secure area – not in the hallways.

RIGHTS-HOLDING RADIO INTERVIEWS – The rights-holding radio station may conduct interviews with an assistant coach and/or players not requested for the interview room (courtside preferred, or right outside the locker room, but these interviews cannot impede traffic in the hallways). Immediately following a game (before the head coach returns to the locker room), the flagship radio station may conduct a brief interview with the head coach at the courtside radio position. The total interview time (total shared time with MVC TV or rights-holding radio) may not exceed four minutes and can be terminated by the media coordinator at any time.

BLOGGING POLICY – Each credential holder (including television, internet, new media, and print publications) has the privilege to blog (e.g., real-time or time delayed journal entries) during competition. All media entities entering a blog must post the mvc-sports.com and/or archmadness.com link on their site. All blogs must be free of charge to readers. A blog description includes in-competition updates on score and time remaining in competition as well as description of the championship and competition taken place during the given time.

PRESS ROW TELEPHONES – There are a limited number of press row telephone lines – two per rights holding institutional radio stations, and select others (installed upon request and for a cost) – for use during the tournament. Media coordinator Mike Kern will assign seating for the broadcast positions, determined by seedings and team bench locations. Jeff Waldman of the Missouri Valley Conference staff will handle the tournament's main press row number – 314/589-5832 – so if you need a voicer sent back to your market, please notify Kern or Waldman.

POOL REPORTER – In the event a situation would dictate so following a game, media coordinator Mike Kern will serve as the pool reporter. He will work in conjunction with Missouri Valley Conference Coordinator of Men's Basketball Officials Eddie Jackson to get your questions answered.

ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAM – Selected members of the media will be asked to vote on an all-tournament team, including an outstanding player. Ballots will be available at the start of the second half of the championship game.
