* Teams did not play a round-robin schedule in the league's first year. Drake was an NCAA Division II member that year. All teams qualified for the conference tournament from 1983-94.

^Since 1995-2000, the tournament host and next seven-highest finishers qualified for the tournament.

#From 2001-06 a six-team format was been used.

!From 2007-09 and 2011-18 an eight-team, double-bye, single-elimination tournament has been used.

$In 2019, an ten-team modified single-elimination tournament.

&In 2010, the league will play a modified eight-team, double-bye tournament in which teams advancing to the semifinals will play a double-elimination draw.

Gateway Conference (1983-92); MVC (1993-present).

The numbers in parentheses represents finish at conference tournament.

MSU won the first Gateway Conference softball championship, which featured nine of the 10 Gateway members. Drake, an NCAA Division II softball member at the time, did not compete in the tournament. Gateway MVP Becky Duffin posted four wins at the championship for Missouri State with three shutouts. The Bears advanced to the NCAA Midwest Regional and, after beating Missouri 1-0 in the opening game, were eliminated by the Tigers with two straight defeats.

Western Illinois advanced through the winner's bracket and held off host Missouri State to claim the crown. MSU forced a winner-take-all final with a 5-3 victory over the Westerwinds in game 18. In the title game, WIU took a 4-1 third inning lead and held off a seventh-inning charge to capture the Gateway championship.

Illinois State won its first Gateway Conference softball championship topping Eastern Illinois, Missouri State and Bradley twice for the crown. ISU won the title behind a sparkling effort from a pitching staff that did not allow a run in four games. Pitchers Maxine McGlaughlin and Lori Vogel worked a total of 28 scoreless innings and Linda Wendt added two more in the championship game against Bradley. Runner-up Bradley was paced by a .555 hitting performance from Gwen Seputis, who had three doubles and scored three runs for the Braves.

The Indiana State Sycamores defeated host Bradley, 3-1, to capture their first Gateway softball title. ISU, led by second-year coach Tracy Johnson, came through the winner's bracket of the tournament before taking a loss at the hands of Bradley in Game 18 to force the deciding game. During the tournament, Indiana State hitters pounded out 33 hits, while pitcher Wendy Dobbin picked up three wins and a save in ISU's five tournament games. The ISU championship was the first Gateway team title for the Sycamores in any sport.

Western Illinois won its second Gateway softball championship with a perfect 5-0 mark. The Westerwinds entered the league championship seeded seventh. WIU and Illinois State were two of 16 teams selected to compete in the inaugural Hardware's Softball National Invitational Championship. Western Illinois took third at the tournament, played in Macomb, Ill., while Illinois State finished tied for fifth. ISU beat S.F. Austin, Toledo and Northern Illinois while losing to Western Illinois and U.S. International. WIU posted wins over Princeton, Nicholls State, ILS and U.S. International, before suffering defeats to Iowa State and eventual champ, Michigan.

Wichita State shocked the league, winning its first Gateway softball championship from the fourth seed, defeating UNI, top-seeded Western Illinois and Indiana State twice to win the league title and automatic berth to the NCAA Tourney. In the NCAA tourney, Wichita State suffered two losses to Oklahoma State, 2-0 and 3-1, in the double-elimination regional. Gateway Most Valuable Player Patty Bautista helped the Shockers to their first Gateway title by posting a league-high 24 wins and 177 strikeouts.

The Salukis earned their first league tournament title with a thrilling 4-1 extra-inning win over Illinois State in the championship game. Illinois State handed SIU a 5-3 loss in game 18 to force a deciding game. In that game, the score was knotted at one in the bottom of the seventh when Saluki center fielder Kim Johannsen snared what appeared to be a game-winning extra-base hit off the bat of Robin Smith. Southern Illinois scored three in the top of the eighth to secure the win. Southern Illinois advanced to the NCAA Tournament, losing to Missouri, 1-0, and to Iowa, 2-0, before being eliminated.

Led by tournament Most Valuable Player Tina Zuccolo, the Drake Bulldogs successfully defended their MVC softball championship, beating host Missouri State, 3-2, in 14 innings in the championship game. Drake became the first league member to win back-to-back tournament titles in softball. The Bulldogs entered the tournament as the No. 7 seed after finishing the regular-season with a 6-8 league mark. The Bulldogs advanced to their first ever NCAA Tournament appearance, losing to Hawaii, 1-0, and at Kansas, 3-0.

The top-seeded Drake Bulldogs held true to their No. 1 seed as they won six-of-seven games in Omaha, Neb. Drake advanced through the loser's bracket after losing in a second-round game. The Bulldogs met Illinois State in the championship game and scored four runs in the top of the seventh inning to win 4-0 and force a decisive second game against ISU. That game, too, was decided in Drake's final at-bat, as the Bulldogs rallied with two runs in the bottom of the seventh to capture a 2-1 victory and the conference crown. Tina Zuccolo of Drake was named tourney MVP.

For the first time in league history, just eight teams participated in the conference tournament. Illinois State came through the consolation bracket to defeat Wichita State twice on the final day -- in a rain-soaked tournament -- to take the league's automatic berth to the NCAA Tournament. Tournament MVP Toni Rios of ILS hit a home run in the final championship game, and she led the tournament with nine hits, adding seven RBI. ILS advanced to the NCAA Tournament and posted a 1-2 record, getting the Valley's first win in NCAA tourney play since 1989.

Missouri State, the No. 3 seed, won its first title since 1983 with a four-game sweep. The Bears allowed just one earned run in the four games, and MSU's Kate Madden was named tournament Most Valuable Player. Seventh-seeded Bradley provided the biggest surprise of the tournament, advancing to the championship round. Top-seeded Illinois State placed third. With the MVC tournament title, MSU automatically qualified for the NCAA championship, where the Lady Bears lost to Cal State-Northridge and UCLA in regional tourney action.

Missouri State claimed back-to-back NCAA tournament trips by defeating Drake, 7-4, in the MVC tournament championship game. Tournament MVP Wendy Farthing was 2-0 in the tournament with a 1.58 earned run average. MSU then defeated Drake in the second of two championship games for the league's automatic NCAA tournament berth. All four of MSU's victories were against higher-seeded teams, as the Bears entered the tourney as the No. 5 seed. In the NCAA tournament, MSU fell to nationally ranked Washington and Oklahoma in regional play.

The Missouri State Bears advanced to the NCAA tournament with a 4-0 record at the Arby's MVC Softball Championship. Missouri State entered the tournament as the No. 2 seed, but the surprise of the tournament might have been Creighton's finish, as the top-seeded Bluejays were winless at the league tournament after going 16-2 in league play during the year. Missouri State picked up the league's first win in the NCAA softball tournament in four years with an upset of top-seeded and No. 8 Stanford in the first round of regional action.

The league's regular-season champion Creighton won the league championship by taking all four of its games at the postseason tournament. The Bluejays hit a tournament-record .407 in their four tournament wins. Two individual pitching performances of note were MSU's Nora Cagwin's near perfect game - spoiled by Bradley's Amy Fouts with two outs in the bottom of the seventh; and SIU's Carisa Winters league-record-tying 17-strikeout game against UNI in a 1-0 loss to the Panthers. Creighton's Temple Windhorst earned MVP honors for the Bluejays, who advanced to their first NCAA softball tournament since 1990.

Illinois State rode junior pitcher and tournament MVP Nicole Kurth to the tournament title, as the Redbirds earned their fourth Valley tournament crown and third NCAA berth. Kurth tossed every inning of ISU's four tournament victories and shut down the Creighton Bluejays in the title game by recording a tournament record nine consecutive strikeouts. Five different Redbirds batted .333 or better at the conference championship, including Becky McMurtry, who led all hitters at the conference tournament as she batted .500 (6-of-12).

A two-out, RBI single by Illinois State's Bridget Fournie capped a furious comeback that resulted in a, 4-3, 12-inning win and an NCAA berth for the Redbirds. In the title game, Illinois State scored two runs in the bottom of the 12th to beat Creighton after the Bluejays had pushed across a run in the top of the inning. Illinois State's Nicole Kurth tossed a complete-game, her fourth of the tournament, as she held Creighton to seven hits over 12 innings, while fanning 11 batters. Creighton's Shelli Mellegaard also went the distance, allowing just one earned run over 11.2 innings. She fanned eight.

Creighton earned its second straight Missouri Valley Conference Championship title, as the Bluejays shut out tournament host, Southern Illinois, 5-0, in the league's rain-shortened post-season. Because of four inches of rain and continuing showers on Friday, the loser's bracket of the double-elimination, six-team tournament was cancelled. In a winner-take-all contest in front of 598 at Charlotte West / Rochman Field, Creighton hurler Tammy Nielsen, the Valley Pitcher of the Year, scattered five hits and fanned 10. Nielsen was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player. Southern Illinois, the tournament's No. 1 seed and MVC regular-season champ, earned an at-large bid to the 64-team national tournament for the second-straight year. Also for the first time in league history, the championship game was broadcast. The contest was seen on FSN Midwest, Metro Sports and Fox Sports Digital Central.
