WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN

Originally founded as the ECAC Metro Athletic Conference in 1981, league administrators and school officials decided the conference needed a facelift in 1988. The following names were banded about before ultimately deciding on Northeast Conference: North Shore, Eastern, Northeastern, Northeast, Northern, Eastern Private Intercollegiate, Big North, Great North

NEC ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICANS

Former Sacred Heart center Kibwe Trim became the sixth Academic All-American in NEC history when he was tabbed to the ESPN The Magazine first team as a senior in 2005-06. He became the second NEC player to earn first team distinction, joining Saint Francis U's Mike Iuzzolino, who was named Academic All-American of the Year in 1990-91. Two-time recipient Rob Krimmel of Saint Francis U is in his first year as head coach at his alma mater.

NEC IN POSTSEASON PLAY

NEC SPOTLIGHT TEAM
LIU Brooklyn • 2012-13

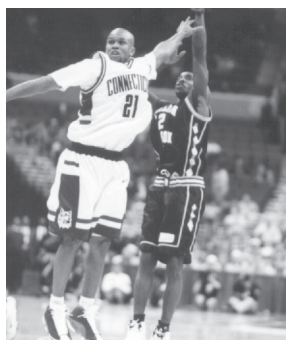

In the 30+ years of NEC men's basketball history, no team had ever "three-peated" as champion until LIU Brooklyn etched its name in the league recordbook in March of 2013. The Blackbirds once again hoisted the trophy on their home court, beating Mount St. Mary's, 91-70, before a raucous, sellout crowd at the WRAC and nationwide ESPN2 audience. The star-studded team saw senior forward Jamal Olasewere earn honorable mention AP All-America honors and land a spot on the Lou Henson All-America team, while junior guard Jason Brickman led the nation in assists. LIU head coach Jack Perri won the Joe B. Hall Award for the nation's top first-year head coach. The Blackbirds won 72 games and posted a 44-10 record in NEC play over the three championship seasons.

NEC IN THE NCAA

Greatest Single Game Performance

Elijah Allen • FDU vs. Connecticut • NCAA Tournament, March 12, 1998

In one of the most dazzling individual performances of the 1990s in NCAA Tournament play, FDU's Elijah Allen connected on 14-17 field-goal attempts, including 6-7 from three-point range, and scored a 1998 NCAA single-game tournament-high 43 points as the Knights nearly upset second-seeded Connecticut. The 43 point outburst stands as the third highest total in East Region history.

"THE SHOT"

March 9, 1993

In what will forever be known as "The Shot," Rider's Darrick Suber earned a place in NEC annals and ESPN Championship Week history in 1993. The Broncos and Seahawks battled tooth-and-nail for 39-plus minutes as Suber and Wagner's Bobby Hopson waged their own individual duel. With the Broncos trailing by a point in the game's waning seconds, Suber went coast-to-coast and hit an off-balance leaner just inside the free-throw line as time expired. The victory sent the Broncos Zoo into a frenzy and for a short time, brought the NEC into the forefront of the college basketball world.

PRE-NEC HISTORY

LIU • 1939-41

Led by legendary head coach Clair Bee, LIU captured the NIT Championship in both 1939 and 1941. Some interesting facts about those championship teams:

- The Blackbirds accepted the 1939 NIT Championship trophy from Dr. James A. Naismith.
- Si Lobello, the Blackbirds' leading scorer from 1939-41, was killed in World War II.
- The 1938-39 team posted a perfect 24-0 record.
- Bee, who was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1967, compiled a 412-87 record (.826) at the school.

MOON MAGIC - ROBERT MORRIS KNOCKS OFF KENTUCKY IN POSTSEASON NIT

March 19, 2013

It was a 48-hour period like no other. From the moment the matchup was announced, the Robert Morris campus transformed into the focal point of the college basketball world.

The chance to host Kentucky – the winningest program in NCAA history – in the Postseason NIT may have been a stroke of good fortune, but Robert Morris took full advantage of the opportunity.

When the nationally-televised game ended in dramatic fashion with the Colonials on top, it took on even greater significance, both within the RMU community and throughout the Northeast Conference. As a single unifying event, it had no equal. The Conference became ONE on the night of March 19, flush with #NECPride.

Robert Morris led almost the entire way, never blinking in a rare visit from one of college basketball's Goliaths.

"This is a shot in the arm for them and they deserve to win the game," UK head coach John Calipari said. "If we'd have won at the buzzer, it would have been a shame."

The triumph took some of the pain out of a heartbreaking end to the regular season. Robert Morris cruised to the NEC title but lost to Mount St. Mary's in the conference tournament. The defeat dashed the Colonials' hopes of making the NAAs, though the chance to play Kentucky hardly felt like a letdown.

"It's probably the greatest consolation prize you can possibly have," coach Andy Toole said.

Fans scooped up the 3,500 tickets in a matter of hours on Monday then lined up outside in the blustery March wind well before tipoff of arguably the biggest game in school history.

Though disheartened about missing the NAAs, in a way, it may have served as a blessing. While the NAAs would have provided Robert Morris with a brief moment in the sun, the NIT gave the school of just over 3,600 undergraduate students an opportunity to host a program that would never otherwise have made the trip.

Kentucky earned a top seed in the NIT but was forced to hit the road because Rupp Arena is hosting NCAA games this weekend.

Robert Morris scored the game's first 10 points while the Wildcats -- who typically play in front of home crowds in excess of 23,000 -- stumbled their way through a series of miscues and appeared rattled in a gym with wooden bleachers that swayed underneath the feet of a clamoring student section chanting "Bobby Mo" every chance it could.

The Colonials never folded, making 8 of 12 shots during one stretch to move back in front 49-36 then holding off a late Kentucky push to send students leaping over tables and onto the floor in a delirious celebration.

It wasn't the NAAs, but in a way, it might have been better.

"For them to be able to come here and us get a victory, it's a great thing for the university," RMU's Velton Jones said. "It's just crazy."
