Oklahoma State Athletes Attend Night to Shine in Oklahoma City and Enid

Oklahoma State Football, Soccer, Equestrian, Cheer, Pom and Pistol Pete attended The Tim Tebow Foundation’s Night to Shine in Oklahoma City and Enid on Feb. 9.

Night to Shine is an unforgettable prom experience for individuals with special needs ages 14 and older. On Feb. 9, more than 540 churches volunteer to host this special event from around the world and over 90,000 honored guests will get to be a king or a queen for the night, making it their true Night to Shine.

Robert Miller, Oklahoma’s Churches Night to Shine Chairman was overjoyed with the attendance of Oklahoma State Athletes and the mark the left on the individuals taking part in the event.

“"The Cowboys blessed us beyond belief with Cheer, Football, Soccer, Tennis, Equestrian and even coach video. As a Special Needs Father, Posse member and Alumni, Thank you,” Miller said.

It is an honor to serve these incredible men and women making sure it is a night that they will never forget.

“"This event is so powerful,” Miller said. “The athletes come thinking they are going to bless the participants. But they leave being the ones that are truly blessed by this event.”

Night to Shine is scheduled every year on Feb. 9. If interested in volunteering for next years event or donating please visit timtebowfoundation.org
