Beth DeBauche
OVC Commissioner

COMMISSIONER'S WELCOME

On behalf of the administrators, coaches, and student-athletes of the 12 member institutions of the Ohio Valley Conference it is my sincere pleasure to welcome you to the 2012 OVC Men's and Women's Cross Country Championship. Over the course of this championship you are going to witness the best of what intercollegiate athletics has to offer as our student-athletes compete with integrity, dedication and pride in an effort to win an OVC Championship.

Over the course of this academic year, our student-athletes have dedicated long hours, balancing demands in the classroom and on the field, as they pursue their academic degrees and goal of winning an OVC Championship. Your patronage during both the regular season and the OVC Championship greatly enriches the student-athletes' competitive experience. We are grateful for your attendance, and ask that you show your team loyalty by loudly cheering while still demonstrating respect for opposing participants and fans.

We want to thank the Jacksonville State staff and the many volunteers for their hard work and dedication in hosting this event.

Further thank you for your support of the 2012 OVC Men's and Women's Cross Country Championship, for your attendance not only means a great deal to our dedicated student-athletes, but it also helps to promote the many activities that support the student-athletes of the Ohio Valley Conference. While you are in attendance we encourage you to enjoy the competition, cheer on your favorite teams and show respect for competing student-athletes and fans by demonstrating good sportsmanship. We are glad you could join us as we seek to write another fine chapter in OVC history and feel confident that together we are going to make this an event for which we all can be proud.

Thank you for supporting our over 3,000 OVC student-athletes as they pursue their dreams!

Sincerely

Beth DeBauche

Greetings from the City of Oxford:

On behalf of the citizens and members of the City Council, it is my pleasure to welcome you to the City of Oxford as you participate in the Ohio Valley Conference Men's and Women's Cross Country Championship.

We are very happy and honored to have each of you in Oxford as you gather for this exciting competition. Oxford is a beautiful and historic city known for its friendly hospitality and I hope you have the opportunity to visit some of our local attractions. We offer a wide variety of wonderful hotels that are very conveniently located, and many excellent restaurants for your dining pleasure. I am sure you will also enjoy shopping for the latest fashions at one of our many shopping centers. I believe you will find that Oxford offers something for everyone. We extend to you all the courtesies and services of our city, and I am sure you will find the citizens of Oxford friendly and helpful.

Best wishes to each of you as you participate in this Cross Country Championship. We hope you enjoy your visit to Oxford, Alabama and that you will have the opportunity to visit us again soon.

Sincerely,

Leon Smith
Mayor, City of Oxford

THE OHIO VALLEY CONFERENCE

Now in its 65th year, the Ohio Valley Conference continues to build on the success that has made it the nation's eighth-oldest NCAA Division I conference.

In May 2011 the Conference expanded for the second time in four years, adding Belmont University which begins competition in the 2012-13 academic year. The addition of Belmont gives the OVC 12 members, the most the league has had at one time in its illustrious history. The move added a second team in the city of Nashville and was the first addition to the league since Southern Illinois University Edwardsville joined in 2008.

The 2009-10 school year saw a change in leadership as Beth DeBauche was named the seventh full-time Commissioner in league history on July 28, 2009. She is currently one of just five females to be the head of a Division I conference, and one of just eight to lead a Division I conference all-time. The last three commissioners of the OVC have moved onto jobs as the commissioner of the Big Ten, Big 12 and the Mid-American Conferences.

The OVC's proud history dates back to 1948, but seeds for the new league were actually planted in 1941. It was then that Roy Stewart, the athletics director at Murray State, Charles "Turkey" Hughes, the athletics director at Eastern Kentucky, and Kelly Thompson, the public relations director at Western Kentucky, first broached the idea of forming a new conference. Discussions were put on hold by World War II, but reemerged Feb. 27-28, 1948 at the Kentucky Hotel in Louisville as the three original institutions combined with Morehead State, Louisville and Evansville to form the OVC.

In the 1950s, the OVC became a pioneer on a much more significant scale socially. During times of racial segregation, league member Morehead State became one of the first non-traditionally black mid-southern institutions to accept a black student. In 1958, Marshall Banks earned athletically-related aid at Morehead, which signed a second black athlete, Howard Murphy, a year later. In 1961, Murphy earned all-conference recognition as a halfback in football. With racial barriers broken, the rest of the institutions in the league began to provide educational and athletic opportunities to African-Americans.

The OVC also has made a statement in the NCAA Baseball Championship in recent years, with its teams involved in several memorable contests in the last decade. Tennessee Tech surprised Wake Forest in the opening round of the 2001 tournament and Southeast Missouri stunned host Alabama in the opening round of the 2002 championship. Five years later, Austin Peay captured the collegiate baseball world's attention by taking Vanderbilt, the 2007 No. 1 overall seed, to extra innings. Eastern Illinois pushed host Nebraska to the limit in 2008 followed by Tennessee Tech's memorable contest against host Clemson in 2009.

Through the early years of the league, administrators wrestled with fan behavior due to the close proximity of the Conference members and the intense rivalries which developed. Just as it did decades ago, the OVC took the leadership role on what has become a national issue. In 1995, the OVC implemented a first-of-its-kind "Sportsmanship Statement," a policy which promotes principles of fair play, ethical conduct and respect for one's opponent. The statement has become a model for others to follow across the nation, and has answered the challenge of the NCAA Presidents Commission to improve sportsmanship in collegiate athletics.

The vision of leadership demonstrated by the Founding Fathers in 1948 remains alive today as the Ohio Valley Conference prepares for the future. One example is in regard to the current trend in collegiate athletics administration for increased involvement of university presidents in setting policies and making rules. The presidents of OVC institutions, however, have always governed the Conference, long before presidential governance became a national theme.

The Ohio Valley Conference sponsors the following sports: baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, tennis and track for men, and basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, tennis, track and volleyball for women. In addition, the OVC also sponsors the combined men's and women's sport of rifle.

Now in its seventh decade of competition, the Ohio Valley Conference has grown significantly from its humble beginnings while increasing the number of athletics opportunities it provides for students. Current league representatives include charter members Eastern Kentucky University, Morehead State University and Murray State University, along with Austin Peay State University, Belmont University, Eastern Illinois University, Jacksonville State University, Southeast Missouri State University, Southern Illinois University Edwardsville, Tennessee State University, Tennessee Technological University and the University of Tennessee at Martin.
