

Presidents' Athletic Conference

All-Sports TrophyMen's All-Sports Trophy Goes To W&J, Women's To Grove City

Washington and Jefferson captured the PAC Men's All-Sports Trophy for the fourth straight year, topping runner-up Grove City by one-half point in the final tally. W&J, who edged Grove City by one point in last year's men's trophy race, won men's championships in football, baseball, and golf, while GCC took titles in cross country, swimming, and tennis. On the women's side, Grove City claimed five championship titles and placed second in the other four PAC sponsored sports to win the Women's All-Sports Trophy for the third year in a row and seventh time in the last eight years. The Lady Wolverines won league crowns in soccer, cross country, tennis, swimming, and golf. Bethany finished second in the women's standings, ten points back, with basketball and softball titles. The all-sports trophies are awarded annually to the schools which enjoy the best overall varsity success among the membership.
