IRVINE, Calif. -- Azusa Pacific, Academy of Art and Hawai'i Hilo all moved up in the PacWest standings after each team swept a doubleheader over the weekend.

The Vulcans won both of their games against Hawai'i Pacific in order to move up to second place in the PacWest standings. Azusa Pacific moved past Biola in the PacWest standings after a doubleheader sweep to move within 3.5 games of first place. In the first game of the series, Kat Ung threw a complete-game shutout that was preserved by Brielle Fraijo's outfield assist. The centerfielder threw out the tying run at home plate for the final out of the 1-0 victory.

This week, Academy of Art concludes its busy trip to the islands with four games against both Hawai'i Pacific and Hawai'i Hilo. The Urban Knights take a three-game winning streak into those two series. Azusa Pacific is currently the hottest team in the conference with a six-game winning streak, and the Cougars will play against the top team in the West Region on Wednesday when they travel to La Jolla for a doubleheader with UCSD.
