SOUTHLAND CONFERENCE

"The Southland Conference shall be a premier NCAA Division I conference by leveraging institutional collaborations to accomplish academic success and athletics excellence. It shall achieve the highest level of academic success, including the establishment of policies and procedures that encourage, support, and promote academic accomplishments, including the graduation of its student-athletes; and, to competitively perform in an exemplary manner in all sports, striving for Conference championships in order to participate successfully in NCAA championships."

-The Southland Conference's Vision and Mission Statements

Closing in on six decades of service, the Southland Conference continues to be a model of innovation and consistent achievement as it celebrates the academic and athletic accomplishments of its member institutions and more than 2,600 student-athletes. The Southland operates within a structure of shared core values by its membership: Excellence, Student-Athlete Focused, Integrity, Diversity and Inclusion, Sportsmanship, and Fiscal Responsibility.

Now entering its 59th year, the Southland Conference has transformed itself into a dynamic and respected consortium of eight comprehensive universities in Texas and Louisiana. Beginning with a historic meeting of five original institutions in Dallas on March 15, 1963, the Southland Conference set on an extraordinary course that has proven successful well into the 21st Century.

The members of the Southland Conference are Houston Baptist University, the University of the Incarnate Word, McNeese State University, University of New Orleans, Nicholls State University, Northwestern State University, Southeastern University and Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi. All told, the membership of the Southland encompasses over 50,000 current students and an alumni base of nearly 550,000.

Southland cities encompass approximately five million people, and its geography covers many of the nation's top 100 television markets, including Houston, San Antonio, New Orleans, Shreveport and Baton Rouge. League institutions, their locations, and many of their namesakes are significant to the history of the South Central and Southwest regions of the U.S.

Southland institutions are annually positioned among the nation's best public and private universities, exemplified by superb undergraduate and graduate education rankings, and featuring unique and accomplished curriculums at the bachelor's, master's and doctoral levels. Member universities are frequently acknowledged for their superior standing in areas such as college buy value and return on investment, student engagement, best-in-region status, favorable student-to-faculty ratios, service learning, military-friendly designations, honors programs, online learning, faith-based learning, and access to higher education for all income levels.

Numerous Southland alumni have earned acclaim as business, medical, education and government leaders and innovators, iconic entertainers such as filmmakers, musicians and television/film actors, and athletes that starred at the professional and Olympic levels to earn hall of fame distinction.

Athletically, the Southland Conference sponsors championship play in 18 sports at the NCAA Division I level. Women's sports include basketball, beach volleyball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, tennis, indoor and outdoor track and field, and volleyball. Men's sports include baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, tennis, and indoor and outdoor track and field. Since 2015, the Conference has also administered the Southland Bowling League, an affiliated women's sport that has produced NCAA national champions in three of the last four years.

The Conference boasts automatic qualification in all NCAA team sports, and league members have taken advantage of this access with recent wins in NCAA baseball, softball, football, and basketball championships. Additionally, Southland teams have won numerous contests in other national postseason events.

The Southland has also taken a lead role in the NCAA Division I Football Championship Subdivision by serving as the host conference for the annual DI national championship game in the league office's base of Frisco, Texas, since 2011. Working with its partners, the City of Frisco and Hunt Sports Ventures, the Southland's hosting role has been reaffirmed three times since the initial game, that will remain at Frisco's Toyota Stadium at least through the 2025 game.

The league also has a tradition of innovation and creativity with its work in television, corporate sponsorships, officiating services and the use of technology in its efforts to support its membership and the well-being of student-athletes.

The Southland has long partnered with ESPN Networks throughout the broadcast company's history, and the league and its members are producing more than 200 television productions each year on the network's various platform. The league has also developed broadcast opportunities with other national and regional networks.

Previously, the league launched the Southland Conference Television Network from 2008-2015, and broadcast more than 160 events to a network reach of roughly 13 million households throughout Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma. During its run, the network earned numerous College Sports Media and Telly Awards.

The Conference has also developed a comprehensive corporate sponsorship program that aligns the business community with league initiatives and championship events. The Southland's corporate sponsorships are managed by Van Wagner Sports & Entertainment, a national leader in multimedia rights representation.

The Southland was the first Division I conference to develop a comprehensive football officiating agreement with another league when it partnered with Big 12 Conference in 2007, giving the league a first of its kind dual program that combined singular training, observation, video review and development, a model followed by many other Division I conferences today.

Advancing technology has also aided the Southland's efforts to best serve its membership and be a trendsetter in Division I. In 2014, the Conference became the first FCS league to fully-implement football instant replay regardless of whether games were televised. The league has remained updated in many operational areas, including the development of other technological partnerships in instant replay, digital video exchange, compliance services and championship events.

As it has done throughout the league's history, Southland football has continued to succeed at a remarkable level, and today ranks among the best FCS leagues in the nation. League members have an annual expectation of competing for the national championship with multiple teams advancing to the NCAA playoffs each year. Since 2000, Southland teams have defeated 24 FBS opponents.

The Southland's football heritage has sustained itself through numerous membership and classification changes, from the NCAA College Division in 1964 (that became Division II in 1973), to fully-joining Division I in 1975. The Southland was an NCAA Division I-A league from 1978-81, before joining the ranks of then Division I-AA for football in 1982 (known as FCS since 2006), its home ever since.

During its tenure as a Division I and I-A conference, the Southland Conference initiated the startup of the Shreveport, La.-based Independence Bowl in 1976. The Southland representative served as the host team of the bowl until 1980, compiling a 2-3 record in those contests, and the Bowl remains in existence today.

The Conference can lay claim to six national championships, including College Division championships through former members Arkansas State (1970, UPI) and Louisiana Tech (1972, National Football Foundation). Louisiana Tech also won the first NCAA-sanctioned national title, winning the Division II championship in 1973. Tech followed that with the UPI's Division II national championship in 1974. Former member Louisiana-Monroe won the 1987 Division I-AA national championship, and outgoing member Sam Houston claimed the 2020 FCS national championship.

Since joining I-AA/FCS, the Southland has appeared in nine NCAA Championship games, and overall, the league sports 70 all-time playoff victories. McNeese State boasts a league-best 16 national playoff appearances and played in the 1997 and 2002 NCAA Championship games. Nicholls and Northwestern State each have six playoff berths, followed by Southeastern with three. UIW made its FCS playoff debut in 2018.

In recent years, Southland student-athletes and coaches have been among the nation's best. In 2010, Stephen F. Austin quarterback Jeremy Moses won the Walter Payton Award, designating him as the best player in FCS. Sam Houston quarterback Jeremiah Briscoe added back-to-back Payton Awards in 2016 and 2017. In 2020, Southeastern quarterback Cole Kelley received the Walter Payton Award, and UIW freshman signal-caller Cameron Ward was the recipient of the Jerry Rice Award as the nation's top freshman. Sam Houston head coach K.C. Keeler earned the Eddie Robinson Award, the FCS national coach of the year, in 2016.

The Southland is one of five FCS conferences with at least 200 selections (216) in the National Football League draft, and there have been 32 Southland players taken in the draft since 2000. Among the former NFL stars from the Southland include Fred Dean, who became the first league player to earned induction into the Professional Football Hall of Fame in 2008. Dean also represents the Southland in the College Football Hall of Fame and was joined by former McNeese State and NFL star Leonard Smith in the College Hall in 2014.

Men's basketball has also experienced a tremendous amount of success during the Southland's history. The league has sent four teams to the NCAA Sweet Sixteen, as well as a squad to the NIT Final Four. Basketball stars Karl Malone, Joe Dumars, Jeff Foster, Dwight "Bo" Lamar, Andrew Toney, Mike Oliver and Thomas Walkup played in the Southland Conference.

Punkie Johnson, Nicholls

In 2006, Northwestern State, playing as the No. 14 seed in the NCAA tournament, defeated No. 3 seed Iowa, 64-63, in first-round action. The league saw a record seven men's basketball teams reach the postseason in 2018, and overall, 24 teams have earned postseason tournament berths since 2015.

Last season, Abilene Christian earned a No. 14 seed in the NCAA tournament and knocked off Big 12 Tournament champion Texas, 53-52. The Wildcats, who ranked among the top teams nationally all season in defensive metrics, forced 23 Longhorn turnovers and recorded 11 steals.

In women's basketball, the Southland has enjoyed its share of tradition with former member Louisiana-Monroe advancing to the 1985 NCAA Women's Final Four, and Stephen F. Austin became the eighth program in NCAA Division I history to reach 1,000 wins in 2017.

In eight of the last nine seasons, at least three Southland teams reached the postseason, and in 2018 and 2019, four women's squads earned postseason berths. A Southland team has played in the WNIT 17 times, including 12 of the last 13 years.

Baseball has emerged as a constant Southland Conference strength with the league earning numerous national rankings and NCAA tournament success. The Southland consistently ranks among the top conferences in the country, and annually records multiple non-conference victories against the Big 12, American, Conference USA, Sun Belt and SEC.

In 2017, Sam Houston became the first league program to win an NCAA Regional and advance to the Super Regional round. In the 2021 MLB Draft, Sam Houston outfielder Colton Cowser became the highest-drafted player from the conference, going fifth overall to the Orioles.

Ed Orgeron, Northwestern State

Softball continues to enjoy success on a national level, beating nationally-ranked opponents every year since 1995. In NCAA tournament competition, the Southland has racked up 18 wins.

The Southland also has a proud history in volleyball with former member Texas-Arlington representing the conference numerous times in the NCAA tournament, including a run to the NCAA Volleyball Final Four in 1989.

Track and field has also served as a proud asset for the Southland Conference as the league has produced numerous national champions and Olympic medalists. The Southland boasts 28 men and five women student-athletes who have won NCAA track and field national championships, including most recently, Northwestern State's Jasmyn Steels, the 2020 NCAA Indoor long jump champion. The league has also produced U.S. Olympic track and field medalists Earl Bell, Thomas Hill, Al Joyner and Charles Austin, along with other Olympians representing the U.S. and other countries.

The league has sent multiple teams into postseason play for golf on numerous occasions, including in 2012 when three Southland teams – Lamar, Southeastern and Texas-Arlington – competed in the NCAA tournament. Additionally, during the past six seasons the Southland has sent 18 golfers to compete as individuals in NCAA Division I regional play. Lamar also won a pair of NCAA Division II national championships in 1967 and 1968.

The Southland has increased sponsorship and championship opportunities for female student-athletes in recent years, adding golf, soccer, bowling and beach volleyball as sponsored league sports.

Wade Miley, Southeastern Louisiana

The Southland Conference has repeatedly demonstrated its commitment to the academic and athletic success of its student-athletes. While successful on the fields and courts, the league has repeatedly demonstrated its commitment to the academic and athletic success of its student-athletes. During the last decade, no other NCAA Division I conference has improved its Academic Progress Rate as well as the Southland has.

With the F.L. McDonald Postgraduate Scholarship Award, the league annually honors male and female scholar-athletes with a stipend for postgraduate study. Additionally, the Scholar-Athlete Award is given to each institution's male and female student-athlete with the highest grade-point average.

The Academic Performance Award annually signifies the athletic department with the best overall ranking in the NCAA APP. Also, student-athletes with grade-point averages above 3.0 are honored on the Southland's annual All-Academic teams and Commissioner's Honor Roll. More than 2,500 Southland Conference student-athletes were honored on the 2020-21 Fall and Spring Commissioner's Honor Rolls, including 528 with perfect 4.0 GPAs.

The Steve McCarty Citizenship Award, initiated in 2005-06 and named after the former Stephen F. Austin athletic director, properly recognizes accomplishments away from the playing courts and fields for a male and female student-athlete.

In addition to providing expanding opportunities for student-athletes, the Southland Conference and its member institutions are very involved in various community outreach programs. Many of these programs provide positive life skills training such as academics, citizenship and leadership to school-aged students in Southland communities. The Southland Strong Community Service Award honors this effort.
