Description
The Swarthmore Athletics Department offers unpaid academic internships to prepare students for a career in sports management, sports information and athletic communication. An internship with Swarthmore Athletics provides valuable hands-on experience and allows students the opportunity to develop a portfolio of their work. Candidates for this internship should be knowledgeable about sports, creative, motivated, organized, and attentive to detail.

Expected Availability
Hours for this internship revolve primarily around game times, and the majority of game times occur on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons and evenings. While there will be flexibility with scheduling times for the internship, interns are encouraged to be available during these days of the week in order to get the full experience.

Responsibility
The Swarthmore Athletics internship program has different areas of focus listed below. Intern experiences may involve (but are not limited to) the following:

Game Day Operations
- Assist with pregame and postgame routines on game day
- Learn how to properly run game management activities like scoreboard operation, PA announcing, etc.

Graphic Design & Photography
- Create engaging visual content for digital and print media
- Capture, organize and edit photos

Sports Information
- Keep sports statistics electronically on StatCrew software
- Update scores, records, bio information, etc., online

Sports Journalism and Public Relations
- Write game recaps, press releases and feature stories to be published online and sent out to local and national media
- Gain experience interviewing coaches and players

Video Production & Broadcasting
- Produce feature videos, interviews, and game highlights
- Direct live multi-camera broadcasts of home games using professional production equipment
- Be the voice of the Garnet Sports Network as the play-by-play announcer or color commentator
