Track & Field Competing in LSC Championships

With several of the NCAA Division II and Lone Star Conference event leaders, the Texas A&M-Kingsville men’s and women’s track and field teams will compete in the LSC Championships Thursday, Friday and Saturday in San Angelo.

The meet will be in the Angelo State Stadium on campus. The heptathlon and decathlon events begin Thursday at 1 p.m. and they conclude Friday morning beginning at 10:30 a.m.

The first of the field event finals are set for 3 p.m. Friday and the first running events are at 6 p.m.

Saturday’s field event finals start at 11 a.m. and the running event finals will begin at 5:30 p.m.

The Javelina and Texas A&M-Commerce men have alternated winning the team title the past four years. The Javelinas took the (Continued on Page 4)

The top six teams in the LSC standings will advance into the league tournament. The Javelinas are currently in fourth place and two games back of third-place Angelo State.

Eastern New Mexico is in fifth place and six games behind the Javelinas.

The Javelinas downed Cameron three out of four earlier in Lawton, Okla., in games that didn’t count in the LSC standings. The Javelinas are 32-13 overall and 11-9 in the conference while Cameron is 15-28 overall and 5-15 in the league.

Levi Zents, senior third baseman from Fort Worth (Keller Central), leads the Javelina hitting with a .353 batting average. He has nine doubles and two triples.

Kohl Ullman, sophomore infielder from Houston (St. Pius X), is hitting .299 with eight doubles and a triple and Manny Loredo, junior outfielder from McAllen (Memorial), has a .296 average and seven doubles, a triple and four homers.

The Javelinas are hitting .285 as a team.

Jarred Taylor, senior righthander from Vidor, has a 3-0 record on the mound and his (Continued on Page 6)

Big Series

Victoria Schoonard-Saborio, junior infielder from Elk Grove, Calif., hit .533 (8-15) in the Javelina softball series with Western New Mexico last weekend. She had two home runs, a triple and three doubles. She had 10 runs batted in and scored eight times.

The Texas A&M-Kingsville softball team is one of six Lone Star Conference teams advancing into the league’s postseason tournament this weekend in San Angelo, and the Javelinas will face Texas A&M-Commerce at 11 a.m. Friday in a first round matchup.

Angelo State, the top seed in the tournament, will host the meet at Mayer Field.

The Javelina reached the playoffs by finishing sixth in the 11-team conference.

They take a 29-25 season’s record into postseason play. The Javelinas were 15-15 in the LSC standings.

Commerce finished 38-8 overall and 23-7 in the league. The Lions were tied for third in the final standings but were seeded (Continued on Page 2)

Going For Third

Javier Lopez, senior from Cordova, Spain, will be going for his third consecutive Lone Star Conference 110-meter hurdle gold medal when he competes in the Lone Star Conference Championships Friday and Saturday in San Angelo. He also ran a leg on the winning 400-meter relay teams in 2015 and 2016.
CONGRATULATIONS TO THE Javelina softball team for:
...Reaching the Lone Star Conference postseason tournament.
...Finishing the regulation season with a 29-25 record.
...And giving the fans a preview of what could become a powerhouse in the sport in the upcoming years.

The two top hitters for the Javelinas are freshmen: Loren Kelly, granddaughter of former Javelina football player and coach Frank Kelly, and Anastasia Leibas.

Head coach Craig Nicholson and assistant coach Justin Lewis are to be commended on doing an outstanding job with the Javelinas and getting them into the mixture in what is arguably the best softball conference in the nation.

Look for this weekend’s LSC tournament in San Angelo to be a battle royale.

JAVELINA FANS CAN take in a doubleheader this weekend by going to San Angelo.

Not only will Angelo State be hosting the softball tournament but the Lone Star Conference track and field championships as well.

OFFICIALLY, THERE WERE 1,124 high school athletes competing in the Region IV-4A and Region IV-2A track and field meets last weekend in Javelina Stadium.

They were from 184 high school from the Southeastern quarter of the state.

An estimated crowd of 4,000 was on hand for Saturday’s finale.

These meets get Texas A&M-Kingsville and the Kingsville area lots of visitors each spring.

THE STRENGTH OF Lone Star Conference softball this season could be seen in the 25 athletes who were selected as finalists for the 2018 National Fastpitch Coaches Association national player of the year award last week.

Five players from the LSC were among the finalists. The most any other league had on the list was three.

The LSC finalists are sophomore pitcher Kinsie Hebler and senior catcher Mariah Jameyson of Texas A&M-Commerce, junior infielder Kylee Moore and junior infielder Suka Van Gurp of West Texas A&M and senior pitcher Brandy Marlett of Angelo State.

The top 10 will be announced May 15 and the recipient of the award this season will be announced June 4.

TWO LONE STAR Conference teams were selected for the NCAA Division II South Central Region women’s tennis playoffs last weekend.

Only four regional squads were selected. Some regions had as many as seven teams advancing into the playoffs.

Representing the LSC were Midwestern State and Cameron. The Javelinas defeated MSU in LSC play and lost to Cameron, 5-4.

The other teams were St. Mary’s and St. Edward’s, both fourth through a tie-breaker system.

In their meetings this season, Commerce slipped by the Javelinas, 5-2, 7-6, 4-3 in a three-game series in Commerce.

Two freshmen are leading the Javelinas in hitting.

Loren Kelly, outfielder from Rockport (Rockport-Fulton), and Anastasia Leibas, infielder from Del Valle, have .339 averages. Leibas has 14 doubles and six home runs. Kelley has three doubles and a homer.

Roxy Chapa, junior from McAllen (Sharyland), hits .326 with 14 doubles, a triple and 12 home runs.

The Javelinas hit .276 as a team.

Sarah Gilbert, senior righthander from Chipley, Fla., has an 11-8 record in the circle and her earned run average is 2.58.

Breanna Smith, sophomore lefty from San Antonio (Churchill), has a 15-15 record and a 3.10 ERA.

The Javelina pitchers have a cumulative ERA of 2.96.

Commerce has seven players who are hitting .300 or better.

Mariah Jameyson, senior catcher from Seattle, Wash., has a .542 average with 12 doubles and 22 home runs.

Kinsie Hebler, senior utility player from Houston (Cypress-Fairbanks), is hitting .414 with 13 doubles and 15 homers.

Baylea Higgs, senior outfielder from Arlington (Timberview), has a .411 batting average with six doubles, five triples and a home run.

The Lions hit .360 as a team.

Emily Otto, freshman from Richmond (Lamar Consolidated), has a 16-4 pitching record and a 2.44 ERA.

Katie Dean, junior righthander from Whitesboro, has a 13-1 record and a 2.90 ERA.

The Commerce cumulative pitching ERA is 3.11.

The winner will face top-seeded West Texas A&M at 4 p.m.

Friday in a semifinal contest.

Tarleton State (seeded No. 3) and Cameron, the fifth seed, will meet at 1:30 p.m. Friday in another opening round game and the winner will face top-seeded Angelo State at 6:30 p.m. Friday.

The semifinal winners will meet at 2 p.m. Saturday for the championship.

Even in Italy
The Javelina, or least a skinny cousin of Porky, was seen in a museum in Florence, Italy, by Javelinas Stuart and Dina Dornburg on a recent trip to Europe. Stuart is a former Javelina football player.

Midwestern was an automatic qualifier as the champion of the LSC and St. Mary’s automatically qualified as the Heartland Conference winner.

The regional champs will advance into the finals May 8-11 in Surprise, Ariz.

ANGELO STATE HAD the grand opening of its new press box at LeGrand Stadium recently.

It was the kickoff for the ASU spring football game activities in the facility.

Richard and Betty Mayer donated the funding for the press box. The 7300-square football facility houses restrooms and concession stands on the first floor, media and VIP suites on the second floor and coaches’ and VIP suites on the third floor. There is a covered video deck on the roof.

The press box was approved by the Texas Tech University System board of regents in 2016 as a part of a $99.7 million capital projects plan for the ASU campus.

THE NCAA DIVISION II universities in Puerto Rico have played a big role in the post-Hurricane Harvey rebuilding work on their island.

Puerto Rico-Bayamon, Puerto Rico-Mayaguez and Puerto Rico-Rio Piedras are part of the rebuilding process and had their athletic seasons affected by the storm.

The Division II governance leaders voted in January to provide legislative relief to the Puerto Rico members during the next five years.

The schools will not be required to fulfill certain membership duties, such as paying dues and meeting sports sponsorship requirements. They will have to provide a progress report to the division at the end of each academic year.

ANOTHE NCAA DIVISION II school that also provided countless hours of volunteer work in the South Texas area hit by Hurricane Harvey is Texas A&M-Kingsville.

The athletes from the Javelina teams spent many hours going into the areas hit hardest by the hurricane to help with cleanup, working in food kitchens, etc.

Once the storm hit and the damage was done, the response from the Javelinas was immediate.

LONE STAR CONFERENCE spring football notes:

...Defense dominated as the Blue team defeated the Gold, 43-10, in Angelo State spring game.

Offensively, Charlie Rotherham, Carsen Cook and Austin Tracy split time at quarterback.

The Javelinas will open LSC play Sept. 15 with the Rams in San Angelo.

Six members of the Texas A&M-Kingsville women’s golf team have been recommended for letters by head coach Stefanie Gray.

Brittany Rodriguez, senior from Corpus Christi (Moody), will be receiving her fourth letter.

Bianca Silero, junior from Palmview, is receiving her third letter.

Lettering for a second time is Reanna De La Cruz, sophomore from Austin (Westlake).

Players lettering for the first time are Kristina Gutierrez, freshman from Laredo (St. Augustine); Madison Lake, freshman from Victoria (East), and Abigail Wilcoxson, freshman from Conroe.

The Javelinas will compete in the PGA Minority Championships May 9-13 in Port St. Lucie, Fla., to conclude their season.

of four 2019 NCAA Convention proposals last week. At its next meeting in August, the council will finalize sponsorship of the proposals for a membership vote in January.

One proposal will include modules on eligibility and recruiting rules as well as health and safety education designed for coaches.

It will serve as a voluntary resource for schools unless the proposal to require the completion of modules in place of the annual mandatory coaches’ test is adopted at the convention.

Under the proposal, coaches who do not complete the required modules will not be permitted to recruit off-campus or participate in countable athletically related activities with their team.

“We’re trying to equip our coaches with a better set of tools that will assist them with understanding NCAA rules and regulations and health and safety,” Glen Jones, president at Henderson (Ark.) State and chair of the Presidents Council.

The council also supported the following proposals:

…A proposal to allow athletes to receive actual and necessary expenses, such as meals, lodging, apparel and transportation, from an institutional staff member to participate as a member of an outside team.

…A proposal to define and clarify academic misconduct before enrollment at an NCAA school.

…A proposal to amend the NCAA banned-drug classes to mirror the World Anti-Doping Agency list of prohibited classes.

The council agreed to eliminate the requirement that an athlete must receive written approval from the school’s president or chancellor, or his or her designee, before the athlete participates in a non-institutional, charitable or non-profit promotion.

This change will eliminate the requirement in equestrian, tennis and golf that a coach must receive written approved before teaching a private lesson.

This proposal will not require a full membership vote and will take effect Aug. 1.

The council opposed one concept that would have eliminated the requirement that athletes be academically eligible in order to represent the school in media activities. The council did support one piece of the concept which specified that an athlete should not miss class for media activities.

EALIER THIS YEAR, the NCAA Division II Presidents Council approved nearly $1.3 million to support enhancements in Division II championships.

The allocation covers 23 budgetary requests, most of which pertain to officiating fee increases and addition participation opportunities. The requests will be included in the 2018-21 budget.

The changes include altering the baseball championship format and increasing the squad and travel party sizes for the women’s and men’s tennis championships.

Chapa Named LSC Hitter of the Week

Texas A&M-Kingsville catcher Roxy Chapa was named the Lone Star Conference softball hitter of the week last week.

Chapa, junior from McAllen (Sharyland), broke the school record for most home runs in a season when she got her 12th in the second game of a doubleheader with West Texas A&M.

She had three home runs in five games last week.

Chapa had an .823 slugging percentage in the games.

Chapa helped the Javelinas win two of three games against nationally ranked West Texas.

Former Texas A&M-Kingsville defensive back Derrick Thomas is a member of the USA Skeleton Team and is working for a spot on the squad that will compete in the 2022 Winter Olympic Games in Beijing, China.

Thomas was with the Javelinas in 2008-10 and was an All-Lone Star Conference honoree. He received his degree in business administration from the University.

Thomas is active in the San Antonio community and this includes being involved with the Leon Valley Economic Development Committee, Big Brothers/Big Sisters REACH Counsel Advisory Board and My Brother’s Keeper San Antonio. He is currently the top-ranked rookie bobsled skeleton athlete.

A product of San Antonio Jay High School, after finishing his career with the Javelinas he was with an Arena Football League team in his hometown but when he didn’t get his opportunity in the NFL, he turned his interest to the bobsled.

He tried out for the team last summer and was selected as the No. 1 rookie.

The skeleton event is similar to the luge but the rider goes head-first rather than feet first.

Thomas works five days a week on his preparation in the event and this is expected to continue until the Olympic lineup is selected for 2022.

The skeleton event is a self-funded sport and a drive is underway to raise money to help Thomas as he prepares for the Olympics.

Women’s Golf To Enter PGA Minority Tournament

The Texas A&M-Kingsville women’s golf team ended its regulation season at the Lone Star Conference Championships in Abilene last week.

The team will enter the PGA Minority Championships May 9-13 in Port St. Lucie, Fla.

The Javelinas finished eighth in the LSC team standings with a 656 score.

Tarleton State won the team title, beating out West Texas A&M by 10 strokes.

Reanna De La Cruz, sophomore from Austin (Westlake), was low for the Javelinas with a 156 score. She finished 23rd.

The PGA Minority Championships will have several divisions. The men’s competition will be based on the NCAA divisions. All women’s teams, regardless of NCAA and NAIA division, will be in one division at the tournament.

Schools with women’s teams taking part are Bethune Cookman (Fla.), Chicago State, Delaware State, Governors (Ill.) State, Houston-Victoria, Incarnate Word, Lincoln (Mo.), North Carolina A&T, Savannah (Ga.) State and Texas A&M-Kingsville.

Three LSC Golf Teams in Poll

Three Lone Star Conference teams were ranked in the NCAA Division II West Region women’s golf poll compiled by the NCAA Division II Golf Committee last week.

Tarleton State was No. 4, West Texas A&M No. 5 and Midwestern State No. 10.

Four future LSC members (2019-20) are ranked. Dallas Baptist is No. 1, St. Mary’s No. 8, St. Edward’s No. 9 and Rogers (Oklahoma) State No. 12.

Cervantes LSC Male Field Athlete of the Week

For the second time in four weeks, Texas A&M-Kingsville thrower Richard Cervantes has been named the Lone Star Conference male field athlete of the week.

Cervantes had been recognized April 4.

The junior from Mission (Sharyland) won two gold medals at the LSU Alumni Gold Meet in Baton Rouge, La., and automatically qualified for the NCAA Division II championships in both events.

He broke his own school record in the shot put, throwing 63-2.75. His throw in the discus was 184-0.

Cervantes had the best throws in each of the events in NCAA Division II going into last weekend’s schedule. He was also the only athlete who has automatically qualified in the events.

Cervantes is the seventh honoree from the Javelina men’s team to be named LSC athlete of the week.

Throwing mate Andrew Perez, freshman from Taft, has been honored as the men’s male athlete of the week; Javier Lopez, senior hurler from Cordova, Spain, has been the male track athlete twice, and Charles Greaves, junior from Bridgetown, Barbados, has been honored as male field and male track athlete of the week.

Co-Leader
Loren Kelly, freshman outfielder from Rockport (Rockport-Fulton), holds a share of the hitting lead for the Javelina softball team this spring. Going into this week’s Lone Star Conference postseason tournament, she is hitting .339 along with Anastasia Leibas, freshman from Del Valle.
