Geno Auriemma to Return as USA Basketball Women's National Team Head Coach

University of Connecticut's Naismith Hall of Fame and Women's Basketball Hall of Fame head coach Geno Auriemma, who guided the USA Basketball Women's National Team to gold medals at the 2010 FIBA World Championship and 2012 Olympic Games, will return to coach the USA National Team through 2016, USA Basketball announced. Auriemma's selection was made by the USA Basketball Women's National Team Steering Committee and approved by the USA Basketball Board of Directors.

With 28-year coaching veteran Auriemma at the helm, the USA Basketball Women's National Team will compete in the 2014 FIBA World Championship (Sept. 27 - Oct. 5 in Ankara and Istanbul, Turkey), and if the USA qualifies, the 2016 Summer Olympic Games (Aug. 5 - 21 in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil), as well as additional USA training camps and exhibition games.

Louisville and Memphis to Compete in ESPN's Annual Play 4Kay

ESPN's annual Play 4Kay women's basketball initiative – in support of the Kay Yow Cancer Fund, in partnership with The V Foundation and the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) – will air seven games in a new format across ESPN, ESPN2 and ESPNU on Sunday, Feb. 16. In its eighth year, Play 4Kay is in memory of former NC State head coach Kay Yow, who lost her long, courageous battle with breast cancer. Louisville, ranked eighth in bracketologist Charlie Crème's espnW 2013-14 Preseason Top 25, will participate in the initiative, and Memphis will be featured in a game on ESPNU on Feb. 16 at 3:30 p.m.

Preseason WNIT

Louisville will compete in the 2013 Preseason Women's National Invitational Tournament. The Cardinals will host Loyola at the KFC Yum! Center on Nov. 9 at 7 p.m. The Preseason WNIT features a three-game guarantee format. The event opens Nov. 8 with first-round games. Second-round games will be played Nov. 10 and 11 and sites will be announced following the first-round results; semifinals will be Nov. 14; and the championship is set for Sunday, Nov. 17. Teams that lose in the first two rounds will play consolation games on the second weekend, Nov. 15-16. All games are hosted by participating schools. The championship game will be nationally televised live in HD on CBS Sports Network at 4 pm ET on Sunday, Nov. 17.

New Homes

Several American teams will be showing off new or improved facilities for the 2013-14 season. UCF has a new black-stained court, the only basketball team in the nation to feature a court that color. With the $47 million renovation and expansion of Moody Coliseum moving closer to completion, SMU Athletics revealed a new design that focused on branding the University and SMU Athletics as the Mustangs' exposure reaches unprecedented. In 2011, the Elma Roane Fieldhouse, named in honor of Memphis women's athletic pioneer and athletic administrator Elma Neale Roane, saw renovations begin. The $1.3 million Phase I project included a total renovation of the locker room areas for women's basketball and volleyball, a new student-athlete lounge, a new doctor's examination area and a coaches' meeting room and locker area. The Phase II renovations were recently completed in the Elma Roane Fieldhouse and have created entirely new athletic training and strength and conditioning facilities that will benefit the Tiger volleyball and women's basketball programs.

2014 Final Four

The 2014 Women's Final Four will be held in Nashville, Tenn. The semifinals will be held on April 6, with the title game played on April 8. The First and Second Rounds will be held March 22-25 and the Regional Rounds will be played March 29-April 1. The locations of the first, second and regional rounds have not yet been announced. Those sites will be released on Oct. 1.

The Last Two Standing

The American Athletic Conference enters 2013-14 with a great deal of momentum after having two teams play for the NCAA title in New Orleans in April. In addition to half the Final Four field and both title game participants, the league also features a team that made it to the NCAA Second Round (USF), three teams that qualified for the WNIT (Memphis, Rutgers, SMU), the top seeded team in its conference tournament last year (SMU) and two conference tournament title game participants (Connecticut, UCF). Six of the 10 teams finished .500 or better last year and four teams finished with 20 wins or more, including Connecticut (35), Louisville (29), USF (22) and SMU (21).

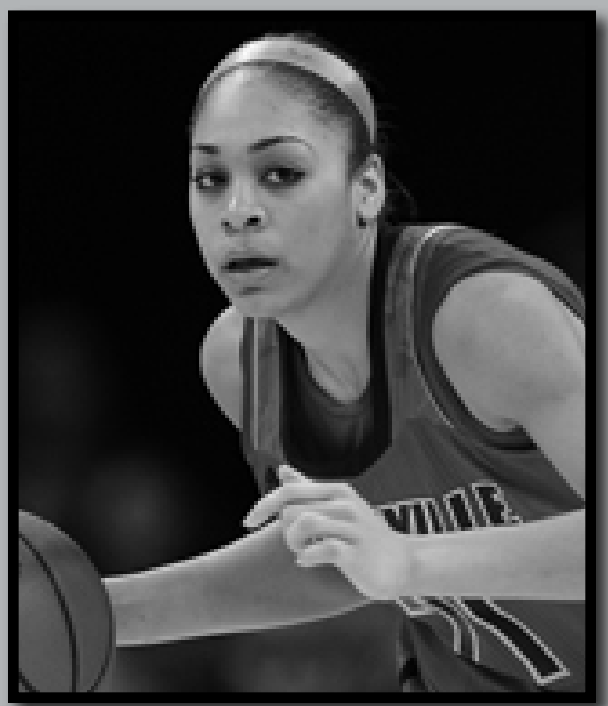

On the Red Carpet

The Louisville women's basketball team was nominated for a 2013 ESPY for Biggest Upset after the Cardinals defeated Baylor 82-81 in the Sweet 16 of the Oklahoma City Regional. Heading into the game Baylor had won 32 straight games behind the play of Brittany Griner, but Louisville held Griner without a basket for the entire first half. The Bears made a push late in the second half and didn't lead in the game until Odyssey Sims hit two free throws with 9.1 seconds left. Antonita Slaughter hit seven 3-pointers for 21 points and Shoni Schimmel had five treys. As a team, Louisville was 16-of- 25 to tie the NCAA Championship mark reached by four other teams and make the most ever in the regional semifinals or beyond.

USA Basketball Women's World University Games

Behind an outstanding defensive performance, the 2013 USA Basketball Women's World University Games Team never trailed and kept Russia at a distance for most of the second half on its way to claiming the gold medal in the 2013 World University Games with a 90-71 victory at Basket Hall in Kazan, Russia. The USA has won three-consecutive gold medals, and nine overall, at the World University Games.

Connecticut's Bria Hartley led the charge for the USA, scoring a game-high 17 points on 6-of-7 shooting from the field, including 2-of-3 from beyond the arc. Teammate Kaleena Mosqueda-added 15 points. The USA limited Russia to just 41.6 percent shooting (27-65 FGs) and 31.4 percent in the first half (11-35 FGs), and forced 20 turnovers, which led to 27 U.S. points. Louisville's Shoni Schimmel finished the tournament averaging 4.6 points and 3.0 assists in 12.8 minutes per game.

ABOUT THE AMERICAN

THE AMERICAN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

Not entirely unlike the nation that provides its namesake, the American Athletic Conference was born from an ideal in which members with ambitious goals are provided with the means to succeed in their quests for excellence.

With roots that extend to three conferences, the American Athletic Conference membership in 2013 – its debut season – consists of 10 institutions: the University of Central Florida, the University of Cincinnati, the University of Connecticut, the University of Houston, the University of Louisville, the University of Memphis, Rutgers University, Southern Methodist University, the University of South Florida and Temple University.

In 2014-15, East Carolina University, Tulane University and the University of Tulsa come aboard. The 2015-16 season sees the U.S. Naval Academy join the ranks in football only.

The American, which operated as the Big East Conference from 1979 to 2013, will immediately take a place at the forefront of Division I athletics, with schools that have played in a combined five Bowl Championship Series games, won four NCAA men's basketball titles since 1999, and won eight NCAA women's basketball championships since 1995.

Among the league's 2013 members, seven of The American's 10 football teams have been ranked in the top 13 in the BCS since 2006. Eight of the 10 teams have been in the BCS top 25 in that span. The 2013-14 membership will also include the most recent NCAA men's basketball (Louisville) and women's basketball (UConn) champions.

The 2013 season will mark the final year of a six-year arrangement with ESPN that gives The American national exposure on ABC television and the ESPN family of networks. ESPN, ESPN2 or ABC will carry a minimum of 19 American home football games each season. Championship Week in December includes three American games on either ABC, ESPN or ESPN2. At least four American games are featured on ESPN's Thursday-night package.

In addition, ESPN Regional Television will continue to produce and distribute its Game of the Week package to a nationally syndicated audience, reaching more than 30 million homes. Most of these games also will be available as part of the ESPN GamePlan subscription service. Finally, a minimum of five home games will be carried on ESPNU.

Following the 2013 football season, the American Athletic Conference enters new television partnerships with ESPN and CBS Sports which will give the conference unprecedented national exposure. The football portion of the contract, which begins in the 2014 season, calls for nearly 90 percent of conference-controlled games on national broadcast or national cable platforms. The first American Athletic Conference Football Championship, which will be played in 2015, will be carried either on ABC or ESPN on Championship Saturday.

In men's basketball, the new television deal calls for all conference-controlled games to be televised, with more than 63 percent slotted for national broadcast or national cable – a minimum of 107 games. The entire postseason tournament will be televised, including the championship game, which will be either on ABC or ESPN. Sixty percent of the American's women's basketball games will be carried on either national cable, regional sports networks or ESPN3.

American Athletic Conference teams will have access to the pinnacle of college football's postseason structure, both in the coming season and beyond. In 2013-14, the league champion will receive an automatic bid for the final edition of the Bowl Championship Series, including a spot in the VIZIO National Championship Game if it is ranked No. 1 or No. 2 in the final BCS standings. Moving forward, The American champion would be chosen for the College Football Playoff semifinals if it is among the top four teams following the regular season. Otherwise, the league would place its champion in either the Cotton Bowl, Fiesta Bowl or Peach Bowl if it is ranked higher than the champions of Conference USA, the Mid-American Conference, the Mountain West Conference and the Sun Belt Conference.

The American has additional partnerships with a number of bowl games that match conference teams against opponents from the Atlantic Coast Conference, the Big 12 Conference, the Southeastern Conference and Conference USA.

The Russell Athletic Bowl has the first selection of American teams after the conference's BCS representative is determined. The Atlantic Coast Conference will provide the opposition for the Russell Athletic Bowl, which is played in Orlando, Fla.

The American also is a partner with the Belk Bowl in Charlotte, N.C. Played in Bank of America Stadium, the Belk Bowl will select its American Athletic Conference participant after the Russell Athletic Bowl with the ACC again providing the opponent.

The American and the Big 12 conferences partner for the New Era Pinstripe Bowl at Yankee Stadium in New York City. In the event that the Big 12 is unable to send an eligible team to the New Era Pinstripe Bowl, Notre Dame could step in as the American team's opponent.

An American representative will face either an opponent from the Southeastern Conference or the Conference USA champion as part of arrangements with the BBVA Compass Bowl in Birmingham, Ala., and the AutoZone Liberty Bowl in Memphis.

The league also holds a partnership with the Beef 'O'Brady's Bowl at Tropicana Field in St. Petersburg, Fla. The Beef 'O'Brady's Bowl pairs the American representative against an opponent from Conference USA.

The postseason lineup gives American Athletic Conference teams access to at least six postseason games.

The American Athletic Conference administers to its membership from a state-of-the-art office located in Providence, R.I. The location of the conference headquarters – just steps from the city's Amtrak station and 10 minutes from T.F. Green International Airport – gives the conference easy access to its member schools.

The conference headquarters is equipped with a complete video production studio and small- and large-scale meeting rooms to accommodate the many coaches' and administrators' meetings held on-site each year.

COMMISSIONER, AMERICAN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

Mike Aresco, one of the most influential leaders in sports television and collegiate sports, was named Commissioner of the Big East Conference on August 14, 2012, and has overseen the successful rebranding of the league as the American Athletic Conference.

In his first year as commissioner, Aresco has overseen a strategic reinvention of the Conference which will keep The American at the forefront of Division I college athletics. By the 2015-16 academic year, the American Athletic Conference will include 11 all-sports members and Navy as a football-playing member. The Conference will launch a football championship game for the first time in 2015 and is the first league to explore staging its own postseason bowl game.

Aresco's first months were marked by his successful efforts to ensure the Conference's place within the College Football Playoff – the new system that will determine the national champion, beginning in 2014. Aresco was instrumental in securing the arrangement that will put the American Athletic Conference champion in a New Year's Day system bowl if it is the highest-ranked team among the champions of five conferences.

In the wake of the changes created by college sports realignment, Aresco moved quickly to solidify the conference, leading negotiations that resulted in the most favorable financial terms for the conference's football schools, after the withdrawal of the non-football-playing schools, who were referred to unofficially as the Catholic 7.

He simultaneously led the negotiations that resulted in television contracts with ESPN and CBS Sports, which will give the American Athletic Conference unprecedented national exposure with the two industry leaders in sports television.

Aresco then quickly and successfully organized the process whereby the conference was renamed the American Athletic Conference – a name that was immediately accepted in the college landscape – and he also oversaw the process that resulted in the new conference's popular graphic identity.

He has also successfully worked with the conference schools to arrive at an equitable distribution of existing revenue for the current and new conference institutions, bringing about a period of cohesiveness that is unprecedented in the league's history. He has restructured the conference office staff to maximize efficiency and better serve the needs of the membership.

Among his other significant accomplishments on behalf of the American Athletic Conference was the spearheading of expansion efforts, which resulted in the addition of Tulane University and the University of Tulsa and the transition to membership in all sports for East Carolina University, which was originally admitted to the league for football only; the planning for a conference digital network; successful negotiations for the 2014 men's and women's basketball championships at FedExForum in Memphis, Tenn., and Mohegan Sun Arena in Uncasville, Conn., respectively; and the launching of a brand marketing campaign. He is currently working on the conference's future bowl lineup.

Aresco came to the conference from CBS Sports where he was Executive Vice President, Programming. He was responsible for all college sports programming for CBS Sports and CBS Sports Network. Aresco oversaw the acquisition and management of CBS Sports college properties, including the NCAA Men's Basketball Championship, regular-season college basketball and football, conference basketball championship games, football bowl games and other programming. His responsibilities included game selection and scheduling, day-to-day operations, contract negotiations, identification of future acquisitions, development of programming strategies and coordination of new media and marketing initiatives.

Aresco played an integral role in the landmark deal that created the CBS Sports-Turner Broadcasting partnership, which resulted in the acquisition of the NCAA Men's Division I Basketball Championship rights through 2024. He managed the complex 14-year agreement that provides expanded national broadcast and cable coverage of the NCAA basketball championship. Aresco also was instrumental in the CBS Television Network's groundbreaking bundled rights agreement with the NCAA which granted CBS exclusive rights to the NCAA Tournament from 2003 through 2010. The 2010 NCAA Championship won a Sports Emmy in the Outstanding Playoff Coverage category. Aresco also played a key role in negotiating NCAA marketing agreements and in creating a partnership with IMG and the NCAA to assist in acquiring new NCAA corporate sponsors. He also was a significant contributor in the development of new media platforms for the NCAA Championship, including March Madness on Demand, a highly successful streaming platform.

In 2008, Aresco negotiated a historic 15-year agreement with the Southeastern Conference to televise the league's football and basketball games. The agreement also provided multiple new media rights for CBS, CBS Sports Network and CBS Interactive. He forged numerous basketball agreements with major conferences, including the Big East, ACC, Big Ten, Pac-12 and Big 12. Aresco recently negotiated 10-year extensions of the Army-Navy and Notre Dame-Navy football rivalries.

Aresco was the creator and executive producer of The Tony Barnhart Show, the critically-acclaimed college football show, as well as Courtside with Seth Davis, a highly-regarded weekly show devoted to college basketball, both of which air on the CBS Sports Network.

In 2004, he was appointed by the late NCAA President Myles Brand to the Basketball Partnership, a select panel whose mission was to explore ways to improve and promote college basketball. He is a charter member of the steering committee of the Columbia University/New York City Chapter of the National Football Foundation and serves on the board of the National Sports Marketing Network.

Aresco joined CBS Sports from ESPN where he was responsible for overseeing the acquisition, scheduling and development of long-term strategies for all ESPN college sports properties. Earlier in his tenure at ESPN, he was responsible for programming a wide variety of sports properties, including College Football Association, Big 10, and Pac-10 college football, NCAA events, including early rounds of the NCAA basketball tournament, the College World Series and various professional sports events, including thoroughbred racing, Top Rank Boxing, CFL football, Australian Rules Football, rodeo and yachting. He was the architect of ESPN's signature Thursday night college football series and helped develop ESPN's Bowl Week. He joined ESPN in 1984 as Counsel and was named Assistant General Counsel in 1988 before moving to the programming department.

Aresco is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Tufts University (B.A., magna cum laude, history), the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts (M.A., international relations), where he held a John Moors Cabot Scholarship, and the University of Connecticut Law School (J.D.). He practiced law privately in Hartford, Conn., for several years.

Aresco and his wife, Sharon, have two adult sons, Matthew, an Emmy-nominated television producer who owns a production company in Connecticut, and Brett, an aspiring actor who lives in New York City.

TV SCHEDULE

In its inaugural season, the American Athletic Conference will have 44 women's basketball appearances televised nationally between ESPN and CBS Sports Network. Commissioner Mike Aresco announced the dates, times and television designations for the 2013-14 conference schedule, as well as a number of nonconference games that will be carried by its national television partners.

"The American Athletic Conference is one of the premier women's basketball conferences in the country," said Aresco. We have the defending national champion in UConn, runner-up Louisville and NCAA tournament participant USF. We feature many impressive teams as well as an outstanding roster of coaches. We have established programs rich in tradition as well as strong up-and-coming programs that will each make their mark. Our league will be extremely competitive and entertaining. We are pleased that industry leaders ESPN and CBSSN, which strongly support women's basketball, will feature our conference games."

American women's basketball has a great deal of momentum after having two teams play for the 2013 NCAA title in New Orleans in April. It was just the fifth time that opponents from the same conference have matched up in the title game, and the second for the Cardinals and Huskies, who also met in the championship tilt in 2009. In addition to half the Final Four field and the national champion, the league also features a team that made it to the NCAA Second Round (USF), three teams that qualified for the WNIT (Memphis, Rutgers, SMU), a top-seeded team in its conference tournament last year (SMU) and two conference tournament finalists (Connecticut, UCF). Six of the 10 teams finished .500 or better last year and four teams finished with 20 wins or more, including Connecticut (35), Louisville (29), USF (22) and SMU (21).

The schedule is highlighted by a pair of matchups between defending national champion UConn and national runner-up Louisville, with both games televised on ESPN/ESPN2. The first rematch will be played on Feb. 9 at UConn, with the second played as part of ESPN2's Big Monday lineup on March 3. The Huskies will be making their second appearance in a Big Monday game after they travel to Baylor on Jan. 13 as part of the lineup. Last year's Conference USA regular season champion, SMU will be featured on ESPNU twice against the Cardinals. In addition, the Huskies will have five nonconference games televised on ESPN/ESPN2. Memphis will be featured against Louisville on Feb. 16 on ESPNU.

The CBS Sports Network schedule of American Athletic Conference games begins on Jan. 26, when USF, which made a run in the NCAA Championship, upsetting No. 7 seed Texas Tech before falling to No. 2 seed Cal by four points, plays at UConn. The Bulls previewed their role as challengers when they lost by only four in overtime last year to then-No. 2/3 ranked Notre Dame. Two days later, Louisville will play Rutgers on CBS Sports Network. The Cardinals and Scarlet Knights met once last year as the nationally ranked Cardinals (then-No. 15/13) squeaked out a win at home in overtime (66-57) on Jan. 8 at the KFC Yum! Center.

The first American Athletic Conference Women's Basketball Championship will take place March 7-10 at Mohegan Sun Arena in Uncasville, Conn. The March 9 semifinals will be televised on ESPNU and the final will be March 10 at 7 p.m. ET on ESPN/ESPN2.

2014 American Athletic Conference Women's Basketball Championship

Mohegan Sun Arena; Uncasville, Conn.

March 7-10, 2014

TOURNAMENT SITE

MOHEGAN SUN ARENA IN UNCASVILLE, CONNECTICUT

The American Athletic Conference entered into an agreement with Mohegan Sun Arena in Uncasville, Conn., to host the inaugural Women's Basketball Championship for the 2013-14 season. The WNBA facility will also host the first American Athletic Conference Women's Basketball Media Day on Oct. 14.

"We look forward to this partnership," said American Athletic Conference Commissioner Mike Aresco. "Mohegan Sun Arena offers our student-athletes, coaches and fans the best of many things –a world-class facility, a great destination and committed management. We feel that being at Mohegan Sun will enhance an already very successful women's tournament experience."

"We could not be more pleased to have been selected as the site of the American Athletic Conference Women's Basketball Championship, said Mitchell Etess, CEO of the Mohegan Tribal Gaming Authority. We believe we are the absolute best location for this tournament. Mohegan Sun has a long history of producing world-class events and we will work with the Conference to create an experience that is truly memorable for not only the student-athletes and coaches, but for each and every person who attends"

The Conference's women's basketball tournament has been one of the nation's strongest and most successful. Previously held in Hartford, Conn., the BIG EAST Women's Basketball Championship was the nation's attendance leader for nine straight years. The tournament produced 23 NCAA Final Four appearances, including Louisville and Connecticut in 2013, and nine national champions, including the Huskies' title this past season.

The 2014 Women's Basketball Championship will be held Friday, March 7 through Monday, March 10. All 10 teams in the league will participate in the championship, with seeding based on regular-season finishes. The top four seeds will receive byes to the quarterfinal round. The tournament winner will earn the league's automatic berth to the NCAA Championship. The semifinals will be televised on ESPNU, while the championship will be on ESPN or ESPN2. First round and quarterfinal games will be televised, with specific coverage plans to be released.

Home to the WNBA's Connecticut Sun, the 10,000-seat, state-of-the-art Mohegan Sun Arena opened in November of 2002, and is now internationally recognized as a premier facility. It is currently ranked as the No. 1 arena in the world, as well as the busiest in the United States by Venues Today. Mohegan Sun Arena was ranked third overall in Billboard Magazine's 2012 year-end reviews of the top 10 worldwide venues with a seating capacity between 5,001-10,000. Additionally, Mohegan Sun Arena was ranked fifth in the same category for the entire decade. The Arena has hosted championship boxing, college and professional men's and women's basketball, Davis Cup tennis, professional bull riding and professional bowling. The WNBA All Star Game has been hosted by Mohegan Sun Arena three times, with a fourth time this July.

UCF

NEWS & NOTES

The Knights will have a different look this season with only five letterwinners returning and seven newcomers joining the team. From a leadership perspective, however, four of the five returning letterwinners were starters, giving the Knights an advantage in experience. In fact, UCF is returning 60.4 percent of its scoring from last year and three of its top four scorers.

UCF went on a run last year after entering the Conference USA Championship as a No. 8 seed. The Knights won three-straight games to advance to the title game, becoming only the third No. 8 seed in C-USA history to advance to the semifinals.

The Knights are led by Briahanna Jackson, a 5-4 sophomore who led the squad in scoring last year (15.7 ppg). Jackson also averatged 5.2 rpg, 3.1 spg and 2.0 apg and was named to the C-USA All-Tournament Team after averaging 18.5 points and making 92.9 percent of her attempts from the line during UCF's run to the league title game. She broke the 15-year-old Conference USA freshman single-season steals record and became UCF's single-season steals record holder with 108.

Bryeasha Blair appeared in 26 games as a freshman, but sat out last year due to injury. She will return to the court as a redshirt-sophomore for the 2013-14 season. Joining Blair is a crop of newcomers ready to gain experience and help continue the momentum. There are three freshmen, three transfers and Brittni Montgomery, who sat out last year after transferring from Virginia Tech.

Head Coach Joi Williams is in her seventh season at the helm of the Knights. In her six seasons building the UCF program, Williams has already compiled an impressive list of accomplishments, including leading the Knights to the 2009 and 2011 NCAA Tournaments after her teams claimed Conference USA Championships in those seasons.

NEWS & NOTES

The Bearcats are looking to improve on the 12-18 record they posted last year and have nine returning letterwinners to help accomplish that feat. Leading the way is redshirt-senior guard Dayeesha Hollins, who averaged 15.4 ppg to lead the team last season. Named the team's Most Valuable Player for the second consecutive season, Hollins earned All-BIG EAST Second-Team honors last year. Hollins was a 77.5-percent free throw shooter in 2012-13, playing in 28 contests and averaging 33.9 minutes.

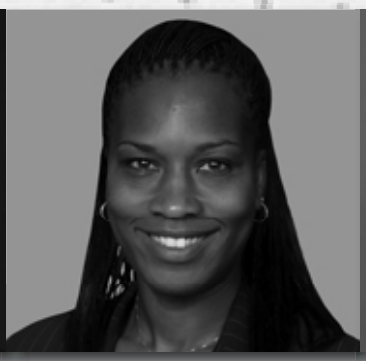

Senior forward Tiffany Turner returns after averaging 7.0 ppg and a team-high 6.0 rebounds per game last year. The only player to start all 30 games, senior guard Kayla Cook, will help four freshmen get acclimated to the college game.

A player to watch will be Alexis Durley who earned the team's Most Improved Player award last year. After Durley saw only 35 minutes of action during the first four games of the season, she worked her way into the starting lineup, making a total of 16 starts during her first season with the Bearcats. The guard scored double digits in six contests including chipping in 11 points during UC's BIG EAST tournament game against Seton Hall. Durley averaged 5.6 points, 2.4 rebounds and 1.6 assists last season.

The Bearcats will be looking to improve on the landmark strides that were made in 2011-12, when head coach Jamelle Elliott led Cincinnati to its most successful season in recent years after finishing with a 16-16 record – a seven-game improvement from 2010-11 and the most wins under Elliott. To cap the season, UC advanced to postseason play for the first time since 2005-06 and won its first postseason game in 10 years.

DAYEESHA HOLLINS

in their words...

We're really excited about our overall schedule this year. Our non-conference schedule features three teams from major conferences playing at Fifth Third Arena in Florida State (ACC), Iowa State (Big 12) and Ohio State (Big Ten) which will prepare us well for our first season in the American Athletic Conference."

NEWS & NOTES

UConn won the national championship for the NCAA record-tying eighth time in school history, defeating fellow American Athletic Conference member Louisville 93-60 on April 9 in New Orleans. UConn returns three starters and seven of its top-eight scorers from last year's national championship squad. The Huskies will be without the services of Heather Buck, Caroline Doty and Kelly Faris who were each lost to graduation. Faris, the Big East Defensive Player of the Year and a finalist for the National Defensive Player of the Year Award, was selected with the 11th overall pick of the 2013 WNBA Draft.

The Huskies enter the 2013-14 season having appeared in a record six-straight Final Fours and UConn has now advanced to at least the Final Four 11 times since 2000. The Final Four trip was UConn's 14th all-time, which is the second-most appearances in the history of the sport. (Tennessee has appeared in a record 18.) Faris, Bria Hartley and Kaleena Mosqueda-Lewis were honored on the All-NCAA Tournament Team while Breanna Stewart was selected as the Final Four MOP. Stewart's selection was only the four th all-time by a freshman and she is only the third Husky (Diana Taurasi, Maya Moore) to be named MOP of the Regional and Final Four in the same season.

Connecticut finished 35-4 in 2012-13 to post its eighth-straight 30-win season. The Huskies eclipsed the 30-win plateau for the 18th time in the last 20 years.

Saniya Chong is the lone freshman on the 2013-14 roster. The Ossining, N.Y. native averaged 34.4 points, 5.6 rebounds and 9.1 assists per game last season and helped her alma mater capture its first New York State Public School state championship. She was honored as the National Player of the Year by Parade Magazine and the National High School Coaches Association. The Ossining, N.Y. native was also selected as the Gatorade New York State Player of the Year.

Five Huskies competed with USA Basketball over the summer as Bria Hartley and Kaleena Mosqueda-Lewis earned gold for Team USA at the World University Games in Kazan, Russia and Moriah Jefferson, Breanna Stewart and Morgan Tuck led the Americans to gold at the U19 World Championship in Paneyezys, Lithuania. Breanna Stewart and Kaleena Mosqueda-Lewis now each have five gold medals while Bria Hartley and Morgan Tuck have four each. Moriah Jefferson also has two gold medals.

We have put together another challenging nonconference schedule and look forward to, once again, competing against the best teams in the country. I am also excited by the opportunity for our team to experience some different cities and tough competition as we look forward to our first year in The American."

HOUSTON

NEWS & NOTES

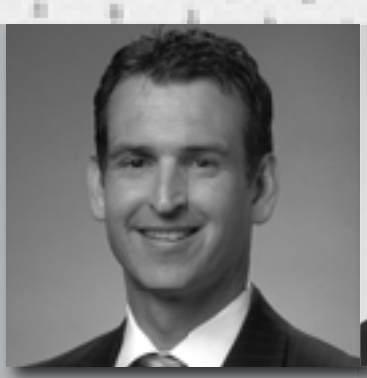

Houston returns four of its starters and nine of its 10 letterwinners from last season, with the group averaging 29 starts in a 30-game season. The Cougars have the advantage of returning 74 percent of last season's total scoring. Houston does not have a double-digit scorer returning, but the Cougars do have the benefit of balanced scoring. Five players who averaged 7.0 ppg or better during the 2012-13 season return to help the squad this year.

Despite playing with five freshmen and nine total newcomers last season, Todd Buchanan's rebuilt squad won 10 more contests than the previous year and knocked off the top two teams in Conference USA during the regular season. Sophomore forward Marche' Amerson was named to the C-USA All-Freshman squad after ranking second on the team with 9.1 points per game and 10.1 points per contest in league play. Amerson set a freshman record by starting in all 30 contests and placed in the top 10 of six other freshman records.

Yasmeen Thompson returns for her senior year after making a splash in her first season at Houston, where she led C-USA and ranked 10th all-time in program history in field-goal percentage (.553), while adding 8.6 points and a team-leading 8.5 rebounds per contest. Right behind Thompson on the boards was forward Te'onna Campbell, who averaged 8.2 rpg in 2012-13, which ranked eighth in the league. The senior returns for her final season after ranking second on the team last year with 32.9 minutes per game. She led the team and was fifth in the conference with 2.5 steals per game (76 total). Campbell had 10 boards in the first round of the C-USA Championship, her seventh game of the season with double-digit caroms.

Sophomore Alecia Smith returns after posting nine double-digit scoring performances in her rookie campaign for the Cougars.

The Cougars lost senior guard Porsche Landry to graduation, a big loss as the First Team All-Conference selection finished her career with 1,578 points, ranking seventh on the Houston charts. Including the scoring chart, Landry finished her career in the top 10 on 15 different Houston career lists.

NEWS & NOTES

The Cardinals are coming off an amazing season and are hoping to pick up right where they left off once 2013-14 kicks off. The Cardinals finished last year as the national runner up. But it wasn't just making the title game that earned UofL a great deal of respect and an increased national following. It was the way in which the Cardinals reached the most coveted game in women's college basketball - with no fear and an intense determination. In a tournament where upsets are rare and preseason brackets are often correct, Louisville knocked off powerhouse Baylor in the tournament's biggest upset in history. The Bears had been on a 32-game winning streak, led by Player of the Year Brittney Griner. The Cardinals held Griner, who finished her career as the second-highest scorer in NCAA history and averaged 33 points in the first two tournament games, scoreless until the second half. As a team, Louisville was 16-for-25 from behind the arc to tie the NCAA tournament mark reached by four other teams and make the most ever 3-pointers in the regional semifinals or beyond. The Cardinals added Tennessee to their list of victims, behind 24 points from Shoni Schimmel, before becoming the first No. 5 seed to reach the title game by beating Cal, a game in which Antonita Slaughter scored 18 points, all on 3-pointers.

Both Slaughter and Schimmel are back to lead the team as seniors this season. Schimmel led the team last year with 14.2 ppg and 136 assists, while Slaughter was third on the team with 10.1 ppg and a .358 3-point shooting percentage. Junior forward Sara Hammond was second on the team with 10.8 ppg and averaged a team-leading 6.4 rebounds per game.

While the Cardinals have players with a good deal of experience returning, they do lose the services of team leader Monique Reid, who averaged 9.2 ppg and shot 53 percent from the floor for the season.

UofL will need to fill Reid's role and add other offensive dimensions to complement the three-point threat that everyone will be watching for now after the display they put on last year.

SARA HAMMOND

in their words...

"We are excited about the schedule and the challenges it will bring us this season to help us prepare for the postseason. Our nonconference schedule has the potential to be the toughest in the seven years I've been at Louisville. We have always taken great pride in the quality of our nonconference opponents because they push us to be our best in a very competitive conference. The preseason WNIT will test the team early and provide some great match ups."

NEWS & NOTES

Memphis returns seven letterwinners from last year's WNIT team, but none with more than one year in the Tigers' blue and gray. Seniors Pa'Sonna Hope and Devin Mack both transferred to Memphis last season and will be relied on to help lead a four-member sophomore class that saw significant playing time last season. Guard Ariel Hearn was a C-USA All-Freshman team honoree after finishing the season as the team's second-leading scorer (13.8 ppg) and the team's assist leader, with 109 assists on the season. Hearn will be joined by fellow sophomores Asianna Fuqua-Bey (6.4 ppg, 5.4 rpg), Jaymie Jackson (3.9 ppg, 1.9 rpg) and Courtney Powell and should gain some offensive help with the return of redshirt freshman Mooriah Rowser to the Tigers' lineup. Rowser was the team's second-leading scorer with 12.0 ppg last season before suffering a season-ending knee injury in Memphis' third game of the season, a road win at Illinois State in the preseason WNIT.

That sophomore class is joined by a three-member freshman class in 2013-14 – Brandi Goodman, Breigha Wilder-Cochran and Taylor Williams.

Memphis was included in the field for the 2013 WNIT, the fourth consecutive postseason bid for the program under head coach Melissa McFerrin. Last year's appearance was the Tigers' third-straight WNIT trip. Memphis opened its 2012-13 season in the Preseason WNIT, defeating Grambling State in its season opener before suffering a loss to eventual Sun Belt champions Middle Tennessee in the second round.

The Tigers went on the road and upended eventual Missouri Valley Conference finalists Illinois State, despite losing Rowser to injury. One game later, the Tigers lost Bilqis Abdul-Qaadir for seven games with a broken hand, then suffered a season-long four-game losing streak that included losses to UAL R and Illinois, teams that were also included in the WNIT field.

Memphis hopes to avoid the injury bug this year, and with a full roster, continue the success that was already started with a young team.

in their words...

"This is probably the most challenging schedule in our history of Memphis women's basketball. But with that challenge, also comes great opportunity. It gives us an opportunity to show our young team what the elite of women's basketball looks like, and over time, we will rise to meet that challenge."

NEWS & NOTES

Head coach C. Vivian Stringer became the third Division I coach to reach the 900-career win milestone during the 2012-13 season in a 68-56 win over USF on Feb. 16. She joined UNC's Sylvia Hatchell on the women's side and Syracuse's Jim Boeheim on the men's side in the elite milestone win group. Other Division I coaches who have reached the 900-career victory mark include Tennessee's Pat Summit, Texas' Jody Conradt along with Mike Krzyzewski and Bob Knight in men's hoops.

The Scarlet Knights picked up some valuable experience last year, as first- and second-year players accounted for 65.0 percent of the playing time for the season. Of the five sophomores on last year's roster, RU was led by guard/forward Betnijah Laney who averaged a team-third best 9.7 points and a team-leading 5.0 rebounds per game. She stepped up in conference play, averaging 11.8 points and 5.4 rebounds per game. Of the freshman class, Kahleah Copper, who was named to the All-Big East Freshman Team, led the RU rookies in points (5.1), rebounds (3.5), and minutes (16.5). Additionally, she garnered five starts.

The Scarlet Knights boasted no juniors and the current crop of sophomores get a boost in the 2013-14 season with Illinois transfer Alexis Burke available to take the court.

Rutgers will look to continue its outstanding track record of success at home during the previous 10 seasons under head coach C. Vivian Stringer. Rutgers is 135-21 at the RAC since the 2002-03 season. The Scarlet Knights went 13-2 at the RAC last season, including a victory over No. 21/22 Miami on Dec. 16.

NEWS & NOTES

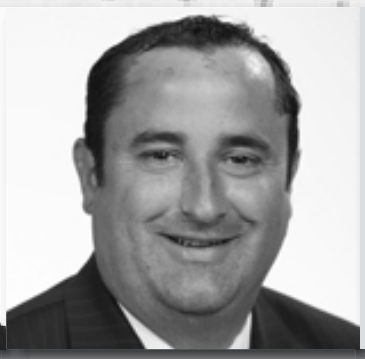

USF finished last season on a great run, as the Bulls stunned Texas Tech and its rowdy home crowd to secure the first NCAA tournament win in program history. Junior Inga Orekhova gained recognition in the tournament, hitting five 3-pointers and finishing with 20 points to help the Bulls defeat the Lady Raiders 71-70 and advance to a second-round test against second-seeded Cal. The Bulls finished the season 22-11 after taking Cal, ranked fifth nationally, into overtime in the second round. It was the Bulls' first trip in program history to the second round of the tournament.

Head coach Jose Fernandez will be looking for his fifth 20-win season with the program in 2013-14, trying to capitalize on the success and momentum of last year. The Bulls wrapped up the year receiving 35 points in the USA Today Coaches' Poll.

This year, the Bulls return three starters, including last year's two leading rebounders (Akila McDonald and Alisia Jenkins). USF also returns the third and fourth-leading scorers from 2012-13. The squad also adds Tamara Taylor, ranked the 17th-best junior college prospect in the nation by Collegiate Girls Basketball Report. After losing a pair of point guards to injury prior to last year, the Bulls will get both Shalethia Stringfield and Lauren Marcos Canedo back to the court. Joining that group will be eight new players, including six freshmen, as the Bulls look to repeat a trip to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in school history.

"We wanted to make sure we play a challenging nonconference schedule to get us ready for an 18-game league schedule. I think there is a good mixture of tough games that will be beneficial to us."

NEWS & NOTES

The Mustangs won their third regular-season conference championship last season, finishing with a 12-4 record in Conference USA. SMU also won the C-USA regular-season title in 2009 and the WAC regular-season crown in 2000.

Senior guard Keena Mays was named Conference USA Player of the Year and was one of 50 finalists for the WBCA All-America award after averaging 18.4 points per game and shooting a league-high 40 percent on 3-point attempts. The transfer scored 23 points with 11 rebounds in her first game in over a year, and scored 33 points in her second game at SMU. In her rookie campaign, sophomore Gabrielle Wilkins tied a Conference USA record and set the school record with 10 steals against SIUE Edwardsville. She also scored 12 points for a double-double and averaged 6.0 points per game in her first season. Senior forward Akil Simpson earned her second consecutive All-Conference USA selection, averaging 10.7 points and 8.1 rebounds per game. She had six double-doubles during her junior campaign, and was eight in C-USA with a 47.7 field goal percentage.

Head coach Rhonda Rompola earned her 400th career win with a 69-60 victory at home against Tulsa on Feb. 21. Rompola, entering her 23rd season at the helm of the program, is 401-263 for her career, which includes nine 20-win seasons and 12 postseason appearances.

The SMU women's basketball season begins Nov. 10, with nonconference home games played at the Curtis Culwell Center in Garland, Texas, before the re-opening of a renovated Moody Coliseum on Jan. 4. The Mustangs play five home games before the first season of American Athletic Conference competition opens with a nationally televised game at Louisville on Dec. 29. The Mustangs will make their debut in the renovated Moody Coliseum against USF on Jan. 4 as part of a doubleheader with the SMU men's team. The $47 million renovation and expansion of Moody Coliseum will be completed in December, so the Mustangs can host all conference games on campus. The renovated Moody Coliseum will provide many new and improved features, including a renovated main entry lobby, expanded concourses with raised ceilings, club seats, loge boxes, private suites, group suites, new event space, offices, team locker rooms and meeting space.

in their words...

"This is such an exciting time for our basketball program. We get to be part of history - opening up a new arena and being part of a new conference. In the American Athletic Conference, we will have the chance to play against some of the most successful programs in the nation and are looking forward to the opportunity."

Rhonda Rompola, SMU

A nationally ranked private university with seven degree-granting schools, SMU is a distinguished center for teaching and research located in the heart of Dallas. SMU's 11,000 students benefit from small classes, leadership opportunities, international study and innovative programs.

TEMPLE

NEWS & NOTES

The Owls return three starters and seven letterwinners from a team that went 14-18 last season. Temple made its 13th consecutive appearance in the Atlantic 10 Tournament Semifinals in 2012-13 after earning upset wins in both the first round and quarterfinals. The tough competition will continue into 2013-14, as 12 of Temple's 29 games this season will be against teams that played in the NCAA Tournament last year.

Head Coach Tonya Cardoza, who enters her sixth season at the helm with an overall record of 107-56, welcomes five newcomers in 2013-14, including two transfers along with three true freshmen.

There will be plenty of players to guide the new additions as three of Temple's four leading scorers from a year ago return this season, led by junior guard Rateska Brown who averaged 10.8 ppg.

Junior guard Tyonna Williams started in all 32 games as a sophomore, averaging 9.4 ppg and team-leading 5.0 apg.

Forward Natasha Thames will be the Owls' only returner in the senior class, which also includes Shi-Heria Shipp who played at George Washington for the last four years. Thames is the team's leading returning rebounder after averaging 8.0 rpg in 2012-13.

The Owls suffer a big loss in the graduation of center Victoria Macaulay who was named to the A-10 Second Team and A-10 All-Defensive Team (team-leading 14.1 ppg and 9.4 rpg).

Six teams in the American will be first-time opponents for Temple- Cincinnati, Houston, Louisville, Memphis, SMU and USF.

NATASHA THAMES

in their words...

"Obviously, this is our most challenging schedule in the history of the program and this is what you want- to play against the best and get this kind of exposure for Temple women's basketball. We are so excited to get started and to see what this season will bring. This schedule gives us the opportunity to bring in some terrific competition and to put people in the stands."

Tonya Cardoza, Temple
