Men's Soccer Championship

PRESENTED BY

NOVEMBER 14 & 16
JOSEPH J. MORRONE STADIUM
STORRS, CONN. * HOSTED BY UCONN

Welcome to the 2014 American Athletic Conference Men's Soccer Championship

The 2014 American Athletic Conference Men's Soccer Championship presented by ProHealth Physicians is in Storrs, Conn., hosted by UConn at Joseph J. Morrone Stadium. With its seating capacity of 5,100 and a natural grass-playing surface, Joseph J. Morrone Stadium is one of the finest college facilities in the nation. Four teams from the eight-team bracket -- UConn, USF, SMU and Tulsa advanced to the semifinals. No. 3 SMU will play No. 2 Tulsa at 5:30 p.m. ET on Nov. 14. In the other semifinal on the same day, No. 1 UConn will play No. 4 USF at 8 p.m. ET. The championship game will be held at Noon ET on November 16.

The semifinals will be broadcast live on The American Digital Network at www.TheAmerican.org/DN. Sunday's championship game will be carried live by ESPN3 and will air tape-delayed on ESPNU at 10:30 p.m. ET.

2014 AWARD WINNERS AND ALL-CONFERENCE TEAMS

OFFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Cyle Larin
UConn, So., F

Larin earned Offensive Player of the Year honors after scoring a team high nine goals and 21 points for the season. The forward leads the conference in several categories, including points per game (1.40), goals per game (0.60) and shots per game (4.13). Larin, last year's American Rookie of the Year, also garnered First Team All-Conference honors. The sophomore helped lead UConn to the 2014 American regular season championship as the Huskies tallied 19 points and a 6-1-1 mark in league play.

MIDFIELDER OF THE YEAR

Adria Beso Marco
UConn, Sr., M

Beso Marco was named The American's Midfielder of the Year for the second consecutive season. The senior team captain, a Lleida, Spain native, helped lead the Huskies to a 6-1-1 mark in league play. UConn is riding a six-game win streak entering conference semifinals action. During the regular season, Beso Marco scored his first career-game winning goal in the Huskies' overtime win over Yale on Oct. 28. He recorded a season-high two assists in UConn's quarterfinal win over fifth-seeded Temple.

DEFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Sergio Campbell
UConn, Sr., B

Campbell was awarded American Athletic Conference Defensive Player of the Year honors, leading a UConn backline that allowed just three total goals in conference play. The Huskies were tops in The American with a 0.36 goals against average in league play and recorded eight total shutouts on the year, five of those coming in conference play. The senior also earned the league's preseason Defensive Player of the Year honor and was a unanimous choice for First Team All-Conference honors.

GOALKEEPER OF THE YEAR

Spasoje Stefanovic
USF, So.

Stefanovic was recognized as the American Athletic Conference Goalkeeper of the Year, sharing the honor with SMU's Michael Nelson. The sophomore started all 18 games for USF and logged 1584:38 minutes in the net with 53 saves.

ROOKIE OF THE YEAR

Cheikh Stephane Coly
UConn, Fr., M

Coly was tabbed the conference Rookie of the Year after providing defense in the midfield for a UConn team that finished first in the league in goals allowed (3) in conference play. He has started all 18 of UConn's matches this season and finished his first year in Storrs with two points and one goal. Coly was a unanimous choice for the All-Rookie team and garnered American Rookie of the Week honors twice this season.

COACHING STAFF OF THE YEAR

UConn

UConn head coach Ray Reid and his staff led the Huskies to its 13th-ever conference regular season title and the top overall seed in the American Championship. It was the second regular season crown for UConn in the last three years.

GOALKEEPER OF THE YEAR

Michael Nelson
SMU, R-Fr.

Nelson was tabbed the American Athletic Conference Goalkeeper of the Year with USF's Spasoje Stefanovic. Nelson ranks second in the conference in goals against average (0.92) and top-three in total saves (55) and shutouts (5).

TEAM FAIR PLAY AWARD

USF

USF earned the Team Fair Play Award after totaling just 106 points (76 fouls, six yellow cards and zero red cards) during conference play. The Fair Play Award is given to the team that accumulates the fewest points: foul (one point), yellow card (five points) and red card (10 points).

JOSEPH J. MORRONE STADIUM

Joseph J. Morrone Stadium (Storrs, Conn.) has been selected as the site of the 2014 American Athletic Conference Men's Soccer Championships, as announced by the conference this spring.

The tournament begins Nov. 8 with the quarterfinal rounds at campus sites before the semifinals (Nov. 14) and finals (Nov. 16) take place at UConn. Connecticut, which went 9-1-2 last season at home, will host the conference championships for the first time since 2007 when it defeated Notre Dame, 2-0, to win its seventh ever conference title.

Joseph J. Morrone Stadium, with its seating capacity of 5,100 and a natural grass-playing surface, is one of the finest college facilities in the nation. The natural grass-playing surface measures 75 by 120 yards.

Fans have flocked to Storrs in record numbers to watch a perennial national contender for over a decade. Since 1999, the UConn men's program has ranked in the top-five in attendance every year, including leading the nation in average or overall attendance in 1999, 2000, 2002, 2004, 2006, 2007 and 2008.

Morrone Stadium has undergone major aesthetical improvements over the past few years. This new-look facility has been funded by both state monies and by private contributions through the UConn Friends of Soccer support organization.

These enhancements include: new aluminum bleachers; banners and retired numbers atop the press box and along the fence line; replacement of the natural grass surface, with new grass and an irrigation and automatic watering system installed; and one of the top press boxes in the country, with accommodations for over 20 media outlets.

The fully enclosed and heated aluminum-sided press box measures 120 feet. It includes a 60-foot midsection for working media, rooms for television and home and visiting radio, an enclosed upper camera deck, and special hospitality areas for guests.

Up-to-date information regarding the 2014 American Athletic Conference Men's Soccer Championship will be available through Championship Central at www.theamerican.org.

AMERICAN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE #AmericanRising

Not entirely unlike the nation that provides its name-sake, the American Athletic Conference was born from an ideal in which members with ambitious goals are provided with the means to succeed in their quests for excellence.

With roots that extend to three conferences, the American Athletic Conference membership in 2014-15 consists of 11 institutions: the University of Central Florida, the University of Cincinnati, East Carolina University, the University of Connecticut, the University of Houston, the University of Memphis, the University of South Florida, Southern Methodist University, Temple University, Tulane University and the University of Tulsa. The 2015-16 season sees the U.S. Naval Academy join the ranks in football only.

The success of The American in Year 1 was not limited to the gridiron. UConn won NCAA titles in both men's and women's basketball. The conference had the best postseason winning percentage of any league in men's basketball, while The American produced top-10 teams in baseball, men's soccer and men's golf and sent half of its participating teams to the NCAA Softball Championship.

The American Athletic Conference administers to its membership from a state-of-the-art office located in Providence, R.I. The location of the conference headquarters – just steps from the city's Amtrak station and 10 minutes from T.F. Green International Airport – gives the conference easy access to its member schools.

The conference headquarters is equipped with a complete video production studio, serving as the home of the American Digital Network, and small- and large-scale meeting rooms to accommodate the many coaches' and administrators' meetings held on-site each year.

MEN'S SOCCER

The American embarks on its second season of men's soccer with eight of the conference's 11 member institutions sponsoring the sport. UCF, Cincinnati, UConn, Memphis, USF, SMU, Temple, and Tulsa comprise the membership for 2014.

USF won the 2013 American Athletic Conference Championship. The Bulls defeated the UConn Huskies 6-5 on penalty kicks for the inaugural American men's soccer title.

The American had three bids to the 2013 NCAA Tournament. The Huskies made a dramatic run through the NCAA Tournament, but saw their postseason dreams end in the quarterfinal round with a 2-1 loss at then No. 8 Virginia.

Fourteen players from The American received NSCAA All-Region honors while Andre Blake (UConn), Adria Beso Marco (UConn) and Mark Sherrod (Memphis) were named NSCAA All-Americans.

Joseph J. Morronne Stadium will serve as the host of the 2014 American Men's Soccer Championship. Quarterfinals will be played at campus sites on Saturday, Nov. 8. The semifinals will be held on Nov. 14, with the final on Nov. 16.
