AMERICAN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

The American Athletic Conference #AmericanRising

Not entirely unlike the nation that provides its name-sake, the American Athletic Conference was born from an ideal in which members with ambitious goals are provided with the means to succeed in their quests for excellence.

With roots that extend to three conferences, the American Athletic Conference membership in 2014-15 consists of 11 institutions: the University of Central Florida, the University of Cincinnati, East Carolina University, the University of Connecticut, the University of Houston, the University of Memphis, the University of South Florida, Southern Methodist University, Temple University, Tulane University and the University of Tulsa. The 2015-16 season sees the U.S. Naval Academy join the ranks in football only.

Under the leadership of commissioner Mike Aresco, The American, which operated as the Big East Conference from 1979 to 2013, has immediately taken a place at the forefront of Division I athletics, with schools that have played in four Bowl Championship Series games, won four NCAA men's basketball titles since 1999, and won nine NCAA women's basketball championships since 1995.

Two American Athletic Conference football teams were ranked in the top 15 of the final 2013 Associated Press poll. Five were selected for bowl games, including UCF, which won the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl and finished the season ranked No. 10 nationally. The conference produced 14 players who received All-America recognition by a major outlet.

The American had four players chosen in the first round of the 2014 NFL Draft, trailing only the SEC and the ACC among FBS conferences. UCF quarterback Blake Bortles highlighted a group of 12 American Athletic Conference players chosen when he was taken No. 3 overall by the Jacksonville Jaguars.

The success of The American in Year 1 was not limited to the gridiron. UConn won NCAA titles in both men's and women's basketball. The conference had the best postseason winning percentage of any league in men's basketball, while The American produced top-10 teams in baseball, men's soccer and men's golf and sent half of its participating teams to the NCAA Softball Championship.

The American Athletic Conference holds television partnerships with ESPN and CBS Sports which will give the conference unprecedented national exposure. The football portion of the contract, which begins in the 2014 season, calls for nearly 90 percent of conference-controlled games on national broadcast or national cable platforms. The first American Athletic Conference Football Championship, which will be played in 2015, will be carried either on ABC or ESPN on Championship Saturday.

In men's basketball, the television deal calls for all conference-controlled games to be televised, with more than 63 percent slotted for national broadcast or national cable – a minimum of 107 games. The entire postseason tournament will be televised, including the championship game, which will be either on ABC or ESPN. Sixty percent of the American's women's basketball games will be carried on either national cable, regional sports networks or ESPN3.

American Athletic Conference teams will have access to the pinnacle of college football's postseason structure. An American representative would be chosen for the College Football Playoff semifinals if it is among the top four teams following the regular season. Otherwise, the league would place its champion in either the Cotton Bowl, Fiesta Bowl or Peach Bowl if it is ranked higher than the champions of Conference USA, the Mid-American Conference, the Mountain West Conference and the Sun Belt Conference.

Additionally, The American has announced primary or secondary partnerships with 12 bowls for the next six-year cycle, ensuring multiple annual matchups against the nation's top conferences and providing desirable postseason destinations to member institutions and their fans.

The American Athletic Conference administers to its membership from a state-of-the-art office located in Providence, R.I. The location of the conference headquarters – just steps from the city's Amtrak station and 10 minutes from T.F. Green International Airport – gives the conference easy access to its member schools.

The conference headquarters is equipped with a complete video production studio, serving as the home of the American Digital Network, and small- and large-scale meeting rooms to accommodate the many coaches' and administrators' meetings held on-site each year.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

The American embarks on its second season of women's soccer with 10 of the conference's 11 member institutions sponsoring the sport. UCF, Cincinnati, UConn, East Carolina, Houston, Memphis, USF, SMU, Temple, and Tulsa comprise the membership for women's soccer in 2014.

UCF emerged victorious in the 2013 American Athletic Conference Championship, in a suspense-filled weekend in Orlando. Both semifinals and the final went to penalty kicks, with the Knights capturing the title over Rutgers.

Three teams from The American qualified for the 2013 NCAA Tournament, as UCF, Rutgers, and Louisville represented the conference. UCF would finish the year No. 22 in the NSCAA poll.

The American is poised for another year of success in women's soccer in 2014. UCF returns The American Championship's 2013 Most Outstanding Offensive Player Tatiana Coleman, in addition to two other members of the all-tournament team and The American freshman of the year Lena Petermann. USF, the host of the 2014 conference championship, returns seven starters to a team that did not lose at home in 2013.

Memphis was 11th in the nation in goals per game in 2013, outscoring its opponents, 51-28. UConn enters its 34th year under the direction of Len Tsantiris, who ranks second in wins all-time in NCAA women's soccer, while SMU looks to take the next step with 350-game winner Chris Petrucelli now in his third year in Dallas.

Mike Aresco has established himself as one of the foremost figures in intercollegiate sports as commissioner of the American Athletic Conference.

Aresco, who was named to his current position Aug. 14, 2012, has overseen a strategic reinvention of the conference, which has quickly become one of the premier conferences in the nation.

The American's first year produced a remarkable string of accomplishments as UCF won the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl and UConn won NCAA titles in both men's and women's basketball. American Athletic Conference teams had the best postseason winning percentage of any conference in men's basketball, as the league sent four teams to the NCAA tournament and saw SMU advance to the championship game of the NIT.

The American was the only conference to have a Bowl Championship Series win and teams in the Men's Final Four, the Women's Final Four and the College World Series in 2013-14. Teams from the conference finished in the national top 10 in football, men's basketball, women's basketball, men's soccer, baseball and men's golf.

The American features 11 members in the 2014-15 academic year: UCF, Cincinnati, UConn, East Carolina, Houston, Memphis, USF, SMU, Temple, Tulane and Tulsa. Navy joins in 2015-16 as a football-playing member. Among the milestones reached in Aresco's tenure have been the launch of a football championship game for the first time in 2015 and the league's staging of its own postseason bowl game.

Aresco's first months were marked by his successful efforts to ensure the conference's place within the College Football Playoff – the new system that will determine the national champion, beginning in 2014. Aresco was instrumental in securing the arrangement that will put the American Athletic Conference champion in a New Year's Day system bowl if it is the highest-ranked team among the champions of five conferences.

Aresco has played an active role in the formation of the College Football Playoff, serving on the College Football Playoff Management Committee and helping to select the 13 members of the CFP Selection Committee. Aresco also serves on the College Football Playoff Television and Site Selection committees.

In the wake of the changes created by college sports realignment, Aresco moved quickly to solidify the conference, leading negotiations that resulted in the most favorable financial terms for the conference's football schools, after the withdrawal of the non-football-playing schools, as well as the 2013-14 launch of the renamed and rebranded conference.

He simultaneously led the negotiations that resulted in television contracts with ESPN and CBS Sports, which have given the conference unprecedented national exposure and branding with the two industry leaders in sports television. Aresco then quickly and successfully organized the process whereby the conference was renamed the American Athletic Conference – a name that was immediately accepted nationally – and he also oversaw the process that resulted in the conference's popular graphic identity.

He has also successfully worked with the conference schools to arrive at an equitable distribution of existing revenue for the current and new conference institutions, bringing about a period of cohesiveness that is unprecedented in the league's history. He has restructured the conference office staff to maximize efficiency and better serve the needs of the membership.

Among his other significant accomplishments on behalf of the American Athletic Conference were the spearheading of expansion efforts, which resulted in the addition of East Carolina, Tulane and Tulsa as of July 1, 2014, and Navy as a football member in 2015; launching the conference digital network; successful negotiations for the conference's men's and women's basketball championships; and the launching of a brand marketing campaign.

Additionally, Aresco brokered a multi-year marketing rights agreement with IMG College, the industry leader in collegiate sports marketing, and oversaw the development of The American's new football bowl lineup, which features numerous annual matchups against the nation's other top conferences. Included in that lineup is the Miami Beach Bowl – a bowl game that will be owned and operated by the American Athletic Conference in a first-of-its-kind venture.

In basketball, Aresco has secured the conference's participation in The Men's Basketball Officiating Consortium, L.L.C., partnering with the Big 12 Conference, Conference USA, the Ohio Valley Conference and the Southland Conference to ensure that the highest-quality game officials are assigned to American Athletic Conference contests.

Aresco is a member of the Conference Commissioners Association enforcement working group and women's basketball working group. He serves on the management committee of the College Football Playoff and the board of managers for both the College Football Officiating, LLC, and Men's College Basketball, LLC.

Aresco has been a leader in the NCAA governance redesign efforts and a spokesman in various forums for the integrity of the collegiate model.

Aresco came to the conference from CBS Sports where he was Executive Vice President, Programming. He was responsible for all college sports programming for CBS Sports and CBS Sports Network. Aresco oversaw the acquisition and management of CBS Sports college properties, including the NCAA Men's Basketball Championship, regular-season college basketball and football, conference basketball championship games, football bowl games and other programming. His responsibilities included game selection and scheduling, day-to-day operations, contract negotiations, identification of future acquisitions, development of programming strategies and coordination of new media and marketing initiatives.

Aresco played an integral role in the landmark deal that created the CBS Sports-Turner Broadcasting partnership, which resulted in the acquisition of the NCAA Men's Division I Basketball Championship rights through 2024.

He managed the complex 14-year agreement that provides expanded national broadcast and cable coverage of the NCAA basketball championship. Aresco also was instrumental in the CBS Television Network's groundbreaking bundled rights agreement with the NCAA, which granted CBS exclusive rights to the NCAA tournament from 2003 through 2010. The 2010 NCAA Championship won a Sports Emmy in the Outstanding Playoff Coverage category. Aresco also played a key role in negotiating NCAA marketing agreements and in creating a partnership with IMG and the NCAA to assist in acquiring new NCAA corporate sponsors. He also was a significant contributor in the development of new media platforms for the NCAA Championship, including March Madness On Demand, a highly successful streaming platform.

In 2008, Aresco negotiated a historic 15-year agreement with the Southeastern Conference to televise the league's football and basketball games. The agreement also provided multiple new media rights for CBS, CBS Sports Network and CBS Interactive. He forged numerous basketball agreements with major conferences and negotiated 10-year extensions of the Army-Navy and Notre Dame-Navy football rivalries.

Aresco was the creator and executive producer of The Tony Barnhart Show and Court-side with Seth Davis, both of which aired on the CBS Sports Network.

In 2004, he was appointed by the late NCAA President Myles Brand to the Basketball Partnership, a select panel whose mission was to explore ways to improve and promote college basketball. He is a charter member of the steering committee of the Columbia University/New York City Chapter of the National Football Foundation and serves on the board of the National Sports Marketing Network.

Aresco joined CBS Sports from ESPN where he was responsible for overseeing the acquisition, scheduling and development of long-term strategies for all ESPN college sports properties. Earlier in his tenure at ESPN, he was responsible for programming a wide variety of sports properties, including College Football Association, Big 10, and Pac-10 college football, NCAA events, including early rounds of the NCAA basketball tournament, the College World Series and various professional sports events, including thoroughbred racing, Top Rank Boxing, CFL football, Australian Rules Football, rodeo and yachting. He was the architect of ESPN's signature Thursday night college football series and helped develop ESPN's Bowl Week. He joined ESPN in 1984 as Counsel and was named Assistant General Counsel in 1988 before moving to the programming department.

Aresco is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Tufts University (B.A., magna cum laude, history), The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts (M.A., international relations), where he held a John Moors Cabot Scholarship, and the University of Connecticut School of Law (J.D.). He practiced law privately in Hartford, Conn., for several years.

Aresco is a regular speaker and expert panelist at national symposiums and seminars on the topics of college athletics and sports television. He was awarded the 2013 Distinguished Graduate Award by the UConn School of Law Alumni Association.

Aresco and his wife, Sharon, have two adult sons, Matthew, an Emmy-nominated television producer who has his own production company in Connecticut, and Brett, an actor who lives in New York City.

2014 AMERICAN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE WOMEN'S SOCCER CHAMPIONSHIP

The 2014 American Athletic Conference Women's Soccer Championship will be decided at the home of USF, Corbett Soccer Stadium in Tampa, Fla., with semifinal matches on Friday, Nov. 7, and the final on Sunday, Nov. 9.

Nestled in the USF Athletics District, the Corbett Soccer Stadium provides fans the opportunity to be right on top of the action, while producing an electric environment.

The facility, which opened in 2011, includes a state-of-the-art, air-conditioned press box, a grandstand of nearly 1,000 seats, and a grassy berm surrounding three sides of the field creating a bowl type feel. The new field stretches 120-yards by 80-yards and overlooks the athletic building, the new football practice fields and the baseball/softball complex across the street.

It will mark the second consecutive year The American has held the Women's Soccer Championship in the Sunshine State. In 2013, top seed UCF downed Rutgers in penalty kicks to capture The American's automatic qualifier. The final and both semifinals were scoreless draws decided in penalty kicks. The weekend produced three teams in the NCAA Championship, as UCF and Rutgers were joined by Louisville in the field of 64.

This year's American Athletic Conference Women's Soccer Championship will kick off on Friday, Oct. 31, with first-round games at campus sites. The winners will advance to play quarterfinal games on Sunday, Nov. 2, with the single-elimination tournament culminating in the semifinals and final at Corbett Soccer Stadium the following weekend.

NOTEBOOK

- UCF captured the inaugural American Athletic Conference Championship with a victory over Rutgers in penalty kicks, advancing to the NCAA tournament. The Knights went undefeated in conference play, finishing the season ranked No. 22 in the NSCAA poll, after earning a national seed in their seventh-straight NCAA tournament appearance. UCF allowed just 14 goals over 23 games in 2013.
- The Knights were unbeaten in a program-record 18-straight games from Sept. 6 to Nov. 10, and posted their first unbeaten conference slate since 1999.
- Head coach Tiffany Roberts Sahaydak garnered conference Coach of the Year honors in her first year at the helm in Orlando.

NOTEBOOK

- Head Coach Neil Stafford enters his second season leading the Bearcats in 2014. Cincinnati won eight games a year ago, earning the No. 6 seed in The American Championship.
- The Bearcats return 81.4% of their scoring from 2013, including their top three scorers - Jae Atkinson, Katy Couperus and Emily Elsbrock.
- All nine of Cincinnati's conference games in 2013 were decided by one goal or fewer - four one-goal wins, four one-goal losses and a tie.
- The Bearcats' 2014 road slate brings them to eight states: Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee (twice), West Virginia, Illinois, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Florida (two games).

NOTEBOOK

- UConn returns 96.8 percent (30-of-31) of its goal scoring and 97.5 percent (79-of-81) of its total point production from an 11-9 squad in 2013.
- Sophomore forward Rachel Hill will spearhead the attack after a FirstTeam All-Conference season a year ago that saw her finish with a 13g-5a-31p scoring line.
- Hill will play with the U-20 United States Women's National Team at the 2014 U-20 FIFA World Cup in Canada in August.
- Redshirt sophomore Emily Armstrong returns in goal after a solid freshman campaign that saw her record a 1.49 GAA, 68 saves and six shutouts, starting every contest.
- Head Coach Len Tsantiris enters his 34th season at the helm of the UConn women's soccer program with a 511-180-50 all-time record, giving him the second-most wins in NCAA women's soccer history.

NOTEBOOK

- Houston will look to continue its strength between the posts after the departure of 2013 American Athletic Conference Goalkeeper of the Year Cami Koski. Koski finished her career with school records in goals against average (1.22), shutouts (17), goalie games played/started (63/55), minutes played (5,525), saves per game in a season (8.18 in 11 games) and saves in a game (17 at San Diego State on Sept. 8).
- Koski's 8.18 saves per game ranked fifth nationally.
- Houston returns its top two goal scorers from a year ago in seniors Kayla Walker and Alexis Weaver.
- Houston earned the American Athletic Conference Team Fair Play Award after committing just 56 fouls resulting in only three yellow cards during conference play.

NOTEBOOK

- Memphis advanced to The American semifinals in the conference's inaugural year, ousting second-seeded Louisville in the quarterfinals before falling to Rutgers in penalty kicks in the semis.
- Valerie Sanderson led The American and set a program freshman record with 17 goals, the second-most in a single season for any Tiger all-time.
- Sanderson is one of three all-conference selections who return to Memphis this year, along with Kylie Davis and Diamond Simpson.
- The Tigers were 11th in the nation in goals per game a year ago, and outscored their opponents 51-28 for the season.

NOTEBOOK

- The Bulls posted their second straight campaign with double-digit wins in 2013, and third in four seasons. Denise Schilte-Brown returns for her ninth season at the helm in Tampa.
- USF had four players receive All-Conference honors in 2013. Goalkeeper Christiane Endler, forward Demi Stokes and midfielder Cristin Granados earned second team accolades, while defender Leticia Skeete was named to the all-rookie team. Both Stokes and Skeete return this season.
- USF returns eight of its top 10 scorers from 2013 who accounted for nearly 61 percent of the team's total goals.
- The Bulls enter the year with three freshman goalkeepers after the graduation of Christiane Endler.

NOTEBOOK

- SMU returns four of its top five scorers from a year ago, along with two goalkeepers who split time for the Mustangs in 2013. Two of the four top scorers - Taylor Barg and Kelsey Gorney - did so as freshmen, with Barg being named to The American all-rookie team a year ago.
- Lauryn Bodden ranked fourth in The American in goals against average in 2013, holding opponents to a mark of just 1.11.
- Chris Petrucelli enters his third season at the helm in Dallas, having won his 350th career game overall in 2013. Petrucelli is a two-time NSCAA National Coach of the Year and has a national championship to his name.
- The Mustangs went 6-3-1 at home in 2013.

NOTEBOOK

- Seamus O'Connor enters his second season leading the Owls, looking to grow upon a solid start to the 2013 campaign. Temple won its first four contests of the year, all in shutout fashion.
- Shauni Kerkhoff returns for her junior season between the posts for the Owls, after etching her name in the Temple record book a year ago. Kerkhoff set the Owls' single-season records for goals against average (0.81) and save percentage (.887).
- 87% of Temple's offense in 2013 was produced by underclassmen. The Owls' 2014 roster features just one senior, as Alyssa Kirk returns after tallying three goals a year ago. The Owls have 11 juniors and 10 sophomores for Seamus O'Connor's second season as head coach.
