The American Athletic Conference primary, secondary, wordmark and other conference logos are the cornerstones of our identity system. They distinguish the conference and present a cohesive, recognized image of our brand. Therefore, they must be used consistently and never be manipulated, changed, disassembled, used as part of other logos or otherwise modified.

All publications, web applications, advertising and on-campus depictions of the marks must be consistent with the branding guidelines outlined in the official conference brand standards guide, or otherwise approved by the conference office. The use of any conference logo for retail or resale purposes must be approved by the conference office and must comply with the conference’s licensing program policies.

To access downloads of the official conference logos and those of its members, please visit our Logo Downloads Page on our website at TheAmerican.org/branding.

NOTE:
Use of the American Athletic Conference identity is restricted to its member institutions and organizations authorized by The American and Learfield Licensing. For more information on officially licensed products, including exempt royalty free items, please contact Catherine Carmignani at ccarmignani@theamerican.org.
OFFICIAL COLOR PALETTE

The colors for the American Athletic Conference were chosen to represent the spirit of this great country, and to capture feeling of a rich and deep tradition. The Conference encourages institutions to utilize the American Athletic Conference logo in official institutional colors. Additional color options must be approved by the Conference office. It is very important to match these colors faithfully when reproducing the conference marks. It is preferred that all American Athletic Conference marks be used in the full color or two color versions whenever possible.

The primary and official logo of the American Athletic Conference utilizes a block letter ‘A’ that incorporates a stylized red star element in place of the negative space. While contemporary upgrades to the typeface have made it proprietary and unique, the classic ‘A’ block style font hearkens back to design styles of the mid 20th century.

The star element includes a white stroke enclosing it. The distinct tilt gives the iconic logo a dynamic and energetic personality. The elongation of the star’s top point adds a distinctive quality of aspiration, reach and responsiveness.

The star element and the ‘A’ are in a fixed relationship that should never be altered, modified, or repositioned in any way. A permanent and fixed white stroke exists on both versions of the primary logo and should never be removed, regardless of the application.

The primary logo should always be at least 1” in width to prevent issues of readability or recognition. For more in-depth guidelines, please refer to the “Minimum Size Requirements” page.

To access the official primary logo, please contact Catherine Carmignani at ccarmignani@theamerican.org or visit TheAmerican.org/branding to download.
Depending on application or context, the secondary logo with its stacked typeface may be necessary. Designed for brand recognition, the stacked logo utilizes the block letter ‘A’ with our wordmark underneath. In certain environments the secondary logo may be more applicable than the primary ‘A’ logo.

The typeface utilized in “American Athletic Conference” on the secondary logo is a customized typeface, therefore no attempt should be made to recreate it using official fonts—always use official logo files for distribution and usage.

The secondary logo should always be at least 2” in width. In order to prevent readability issues of the type in the secondary logo, it is particularly important that size requirements and proper usage guidelines be met. For more in depth guidelines, please refer to the “Minimum Size Requirements” and “Improper Logo Usage” pages.

To access the official secondary logo, please contact Catherine Carmignani at ccarmignani@theamerican.org or visit TheAmerican.org/branding to download.
In developing the wordmarks, the iconic red star of the primary mark has been excised for use as the “dot” on the letter “i” in American. Note that the relationship of this star element over the letter “i” is fixed and should never be altered, modified, enlarged or repositioned in any way.

The wordmark typography is not a standard typeface and was uniquely modified and spaced for the American Athletic Conference, therefore it should never be recreated. Always use the official production artwork provided.

The wordmark should always be at least 2” in width. In order to prevent readability issues of the type in the wordmark, it is particularly important that size requirements and proper usage guidelines be met. For more in-depth guidelines, please refer to the “Minimum Size Requirements” and “Improper Logo Usage” pages.

To access the official wordmarks, please contact Catherine Carmignani at ccarmignani@theamerican.org or visit TheAmerican.org/branding to download.
CHAMPIONSHIP LOGOS

The Championship logos are specifically designed to represent the Conference, and using the logos consistently is necessary to build brand awareness for the American Championships.

The American Athletic Conference has created a complete Championship brand guide for its Championship logos, including full usage guidelines.

For additional questions regarding the Championship marks please contact Catherine Carmignani at ccarmignani@theamerican.org

To access downloads of the official Championship marks and the full Championship brand guide, please visit our Logo Downloads Page on our website at TheAmerican.org/branding
The official digital network logos represent the American Athletic Conference's video media, which broadcasts on television and social media. A full logo, as well as a condensed version, have been created to fit multiple applications and environments. The primary mark and icon logo should be no less than 2" in width to prevent print and readability issues. For further reference on sizing guidelines, refer to the “Minimum Size Requirements” page.

Specific applications of the American Digital Network logos may require particular effects when being applied. If all guidelines outlined on the “Improper Logo Usage” page are met and uncertainty still exists, contact Catherine Carmignani for further guidance.

To access the complete ADN logo set, please contact Catherine Carmignani at ccarmignani@theamerican.org or visit TheAmerican.org/branding to download.
Official academic consortium logos have been created for the American Athletic Conference. The above displayed logos are also designed to be used for the American Athletic Conference’s academic symposium. The Academic Consortium logo should be no less than 2” in width to prevent print and readability issues. For further reference on sizing guidelines, refer to the “Minimum Size Requirements” page.

Specific applications of the Academic Consortium logo may require particular effects when being applied. If all guidelines outlined on the “Improper Logo Usage” page are met and uncertainty still exists, contact Catherine Carmignani for further guidance.

To access the complete Academic Consortium logo set, please contact Catherine Carmignani at ccarmignani@theamerican.org or visit TheAmerican.org/branding to download.
CLEARANCE AREA

The height of the star on all approved logos should serve as a guide for the minimum clearance space. In the event that the primary logo is smaller than 2”, the clear space may need to be increased as necessary.

On all three official American Athletic Conference logos, the height of the star (excluding the stroke) should be used to calculate clearance area.

Careful attention to the safe zone around the conference marks assures that they will always be easily read and never be combined or overlapped with any other logos, text, images or graphics.
MINIMUM SIZE REQUIREMENTS

MINIMUM SIZE
While there are no restrictions on the maximum size of the American Athletic Conference logo, there are guidelines for the minimum size. With the exception of the stand-alone ‘A’ mark, logos with the “AMERICAN” logotype should be no less than 2” in width to prevent print and readability issues.

The logos should always appear as large as possible for clarity and readability, while accounting for logo safe zones outlined on the “Logo Safe Zones” page.

Discretion may be used for sizing web content in the event that a 2” logo is too large. The logos must be scaled proportionately to accommodate applications as diverse as website graphics, campus banners, field markers and promotional materials.
DISCONTINUED LOGOS

Any of the above logos—or their variations—should no longer be utilized in any manner. Logos that are characteristically outdated are noted by their use of a different block serif font, gradients, and any “stacked” logo versions. Further questions about discontinued logo usage should be directed to: Catherine Carmignani at ccarmignani@theamerican.org
IMPROPER LOGO USAGE

Incorrect usage of the American Athletic Conference marks compromise the integrity of the brand and impedes our goal of achieving a unified branding effort. Therefore, variations of the marks are not permitted. This page outlines some incorrect usages of the conference logo that violate the established guidelines outlined by the American Athletic Conference. Please avoid any treatment, application or usage of the marks that alters branding elements, affects legibility or otherwise modifies the logos in any way.

LOGO USAGE

Some applications of an official logo may require certain effects to be applied, where there is uncertainty please contact: Catherine Carmignani at ccarmignani@theamerican.org
The American Athletic Conference primary, secondary and wordmark logos use type treatments that have been created for the conference, and are unique and exclusive to us. However, to provide greater flexibility, the Conference has selected typefaces that can be used to reflect the look of the Conference’s logos. This is the same font used in the words “AMERICAN” in our secondary and wordmark logos. It is clear, strong, easily readable, and a contemporary font. Using this selected type font assures that every communication from the conference and our member schools will adhere to a uniform, cohesive and consistent style and maintain brand integrity. Our official font family is UNITED. The sans serif font is UNITED SANS, and our UNITED SERIF. Because there are so many variations of each font, weight of the font in design and layout will be up to the discretion of the designer. To access the official typefaces of the Conference, go to TheAmerican.org/branding to download.

STADIUM COLLATERAL

BASKETBALL ARENA & FOOTBALL STADIUM
Conference members are required to prominently hang the banners of each conference members primary mark, as well as the Conference itself. There are no restrictions on the shape or size of each banner.

LED SIGNAGE
The use of the conference wordmark is mandatory for venue LED and Video Board signage. Conference branded signage should be included into your regular rotation.
The American logos are to be painted on the field, centered between the numbers and hash marks. The logos should be painted diagonally from each other facing the press box on the 25-yard lines. The base of the logo should stretch a total of at least 6 yards, or three on either side of the 25-yard line. In addition to logo placement on the field, the Conference will supply each institution with bulls-eye caps for chains and goalpost donut pads to be used during each home contest.
The American logos are to be applied within the designated area on both sides of the court between the Lane Line and the 3-point Line, in the precise orientations shown below. Guidelines are described as follows: (1) find the center-point between the base of the Lane Line and base of the 3-point Line; (2) from the center-point draw an imaginary line between the Base Line and the 3-point line—this serves as the centerline for the logo. (3) Horizontally center the “A” logo on the centerline, make sure there is equidistant spacing between the logo and all surrounding court markings. Logo should be 5.5’ feet in height (approx. 2.25’ above and 2.25’ below intersection). Both logos should face primary mid-court television cameras.
The American Athletic Conference logo should appear in at least one location on the wall behind home plate and in at least one location on the outfield wall. It is also encouraged that the American Athletic Conference logo be placed somewhere on field. Seen to the right, facing each respective dugout.

NOTE: The white version of the logo may be used here to keep from clashing with the green field.
The American logos should be painted on the field either diagonally from each other inside the playing boundary. For diagonal placement inside the playing boundary, an imaginary straight line should be used to determine the halfway point between the end of the Penalty Box and Midfield. Once determined, the “A” logo should be painted within the negative space clear of any field markings.
Depending on the vantage point of the camera, the “AMERICAN” wordmark should be painted in the top left-hand area between the end line and attack line, centered above the sideline. Another logo should be painted in the bottom right-hand area between the End Line and Attack Line, centered below the Sideline. Both logos must be facing the direction of the camera. The logos should each be 12 feet in length, and properly centered between their respective End Line and Attack Line.
The American logos should be painted on the field either diagonally from each other within the playing boundary or on the sideline opposite the television camera outside the playing boundary. For logo placement inside the field boundaries, the “A” logo should be straddling the Restraining Line which is drawn between the goal and middle of the field. For placement outside the playing boundary, the “AMERICAN” word mark should be centered above the Goal Area beyond the Sideline, facing the direction of the camera.
