Returning Scorers & Rebounders
- For the second year in-a-row, Texas State will be having to replace three (Ojai Black, Bobby Conley, Kevin Gilder-Tilbury) of its top four scorers from last season.
- Unlike last season when the Bobcat returned 39 percent of their scoring and 30 percent of their rebounds, the 2017-18 squad brings back 44 percent of the scoring and 48.4 percent of rebounders.
- Two of the top three rebounders are back. Nijal Pearson led the team with 5.7 per game and Immanuel King was third at 4.6 per contest.
- The biggest hit for TXST will be from beyond the arc. Of the seven returners, they combined to make 78 of the 217 made three-pointers in the 2016-17 season. Tyler Blount (22) and Pearson (37) combined to make 59 three-pointers.

Who’s Back
- The Bobcats return seven players from the 22-win 2016-17 squad.
- Nijal Pearson started all 36 games last season as a freshman. He led the team in rebounding at 5.7 per game and 49 steals and is the top returning scorer at 13.3 points per game. The Beaumont, Texas native shot 43.7 percent from the field, 34.6 percent on three-pointers and 72.1 percent at the free throw line. Over the last nine games of the season, Pearson connected on 17-of-38 (44.7%) shots from long distance.
- The only other returning starter is Immanuel King. He netted 5.6 ppg on a team-best 55.6 field goal percentage and grabbed 4.6 rebounds per game last season. His 38 blocks were the most on the team and tied for the sixth most in a single-season in program history. The big man came alive in the Sun Belt Conference Tournament with nine blocks over the three contests to earn all-tournament honors.
- Nedeljko Prijovic contributed 4.2 ppg and 3.7 rpg off the bench while averaging 17.3 minutes per game. He finished with a 42.7 field goal percentage. Defensively, the Serbian totaled 23 blocks and 22 steals in his freshman campaign.
- Also playing in all 36 games off the bench was Marlin Davis. Last year’s back-up point guard ended his freshman season contributing 3.2 ppg, 1.5 apg and 1.2 rpg.
- Tyler Blount knocked down 22-of-63 three-point attempts during the year in 35 games. He contributed 2.8 ppg and 0.7 rpg. Also made all five of his free throw attempts during the year.
- Deris Duncan appeared in 21 games and averaged 1.0 points and 0.7 rebounds a contest.
- Eric Terry redshirted the 2016-17 season.

Fresh Faces
- The 2017-18 Bobcats will feature eight new players with four true freshmen, three junior college transfers and one NCAA Division I transfer.
- Isaiah Gurley, Tre’Larenz Nottingham, Alex Peacock and Petar Radojicic all have two years of eligibility remaining.
- Coming in as true freshman are Shelby Adams, Reggie Miller and Quentin Scott.
- The 8-man class consists of 5 guards and 3 forwards.
- Gurley is a 6-foot, 3-inch shooting guard and arrives to the Bobcats via McLennan Community College. During his lone season playing for the Highlanders, he averaged 17.5 points per game while shooting 51.0 percent from the field, 34.7 percent on three-pointers and team-high 81.3 percent at the free throw line. He also grabbed 5.2 rebounds and handed out 2.3 assists per contest. Was named to NJCAA All-Region V team, NTJCAC Newcomer of the Year and First Team All-NTJCAC.
- Nottingham is a point guard that played two years at Mt. San Jacinto College in California. He was a two-time First Team All-California Community College Athletic Association (CCCAA) and All-Pacific Coast Athletic Conference selection. Was the first two-time all-state selection from the school since former NBA player Jamaal Tinsley. Averaged 19.2 points, 5.9 rebounds, 5.4 assists and 2.3 steals as a sophomore. His 635 points, 242 made free throws and 76 steals led the CCCAA in 2016-17. Was named the PCAC North Player of the Year in 2016 after averaging 16.4 ppg, 4.4 apg and 3.3 rpg his freshman year.
- Peacock averaged 10.5 points, 5.9 rebounds, 1.6 assists and 1.2 steals per game his sophomore season at Iowa Western Community College. Graduated from Normal Community High School in Normal, Illinois where he led the Ironmen to a 33-2 record and runner-up finish in the IHSA 4A State Tournament as a senior. That year he put up 19.8 ppg, 8.9 rpg and 5.3 apg on his way to be named Pantagraph Co-Player of the Year and Second Team Illinois Basketball Coaches Association 3A/4A All-State.
- Shead is a transfer from Cal Poly. He will sit out the 2017-18 season because of NCAA rules. In his year and a half with the Mustangs, he appeared in 38 games with 18 starts. The Pflugerville, Texas native averaged 5.3 points, 3.4 assists and 3.2 rebounds per game in 21.9 minutes per contest. Shead also recorded a 2.3 assist-to-turnover ratio and shot 37.8 percent from the field.
- Adams is a 6-foot, 3-inch guard from Judson High School in Converse, Texas that is right outside of San Antonio. Was rated a three-star recruit by Rivals. During his senior year, he averaged 21.4 points, 3.8 rebounds, 2.8 assists and 2.3 steals per game while shooting 49.8 percent from the field and 78.0 percent at the charity stripe. His performance earned him TABC 6A All-Region IV and All-District 27-6A first team honors. During his junior season he was also named first team all-region and all-district along with being named First Team TABC 6A All-State.
- Miller was a two-year letterwinner at Klein Forest High School in Houston. Averaged 13.0 ppg, 5.0 apg, 5.0 rpg and 3.0 spg as he helped the Golden Eagles achieve a No. 1 ranking in Texas, finish 17th in the USA Today Boys’ Basketball Top 25 and 34-1 record. He was a TABC 6A All-Region first team selection, All-District 15-6A first team pick and was District 15-6A Defensive MVP.
- Scott played this past season at Conrad Academy in Florida. He graduated from A.J. Ellender High School in Houma, Louisiana. Averaged 17.4 points, 10.0 rebounds, 1.6 assists, 1.3 blocks and 1.3 steals per game to earn LSWA Class 4A All-State team honors. Also named to The Courier/Daily Comet’s All-Region First Team, All-District 7-4A First Team and District 7-4A MVP.
- Sule was a two-year letterwinner at Cinco Ranch High School in Houston. As a senior, he averaged 10.8 points and 7.2 rebounds per game while helping lead the Cougars to the UIL Class 6A Region 3 quarterfinals. His junior year saw him put up 7.3 ppg and 7.6 rpg in 17 contests. Prior to attended Cinco Ranch, Sule and his family lived overseas where he did not compete in a competitive basketball league.

Season Improvement
- Texas State improved its record by 4.5 games in the 2016-17 season compared to its 2015-16 record. That improvement was tied for the 60th best in all of Division I.
- Also improving by 4.5 games was Baylor, Delaware, Illinois, Mount St.
Mary's, Nicholls State, Northwestern State, Richmond, Samford, South- eastern Louisiana and Wichita State.

- The Bobcats tied for fifth among all 23 Texas programs with Baylor. Finishing ahead of TXST was TCU (9), UTSA (8.5), Lamar (6.0) and Prairie View A&M (5).
- Among the 12-team Sun Belt Conference, TXST was the third most improved team. Only Troy (10) and Arkansas State (9) had a better improvement from the 2015-16 season.

Stingy Defense

- Texas State ended the 2016-17 season giving up 62.7 point per game, tied for the 16th lowest in the nation with Villanova.
- It was the highest ranking since Danny Kaspar took over as the Bobcats' head coach. Both the 2014-15 and 2015-16 teams ended the season ranked 22nd in the country.
- The point average is the second lowest in the Danny Kaspar era and lowest since the shot clock was reduced from 35 seconds to 30.
- Texas State also finished the year in the top 100 the following defensive categories:

16-17 TXST Team Records

- During the 2016-17 season, Texas State set team records in assists and blocks and tied the program record for games played in a season.
- The Bobcats rejected 160 shots last season to break the previous school mark of 120 by the 2005-06 team.
- TXST players dished 526 assists last year to best the previous season best of 520 recorded in the 1989-90 season.
- 36 games were played by Texas State in the 16-17 campaign tied the program record set by the 1978-79 team.

Pearson On The Rise

- Nijal Pearson had an outstanding freshman season that saw him set the freshman record for points in a season with 477.
- His point total was second on the team and the 24th most in program history. Both he and Kavin Gilder-Tilbury surpassed the 400-point barrier last season, the first Bobcat duo since the 2008-09 campaign to accomplish the feat.
- Pearson lead the team in rebounding (5.7), made free throws (106), free throw attempts (147) and steals (49). The season also saw him be named to the 2016 Outrigger Resorts Rainbow Classic All-Tournament team and earn Sun Belt Conference Player of the Week honors on March 6.
- The Beaumont, Texas native ended the year having played the most minutes ever by a player in school history at 1,182.
- With another 400-point season 2017-18, he would become the 20th Bobcat to record two 400-plus point campaigns. The last TXST player to do so was Joel Wright in 2012-13 & 2013-14.

Kaspar Ranks Among Texas Coaches

- Entering the 2017-18 season, Texas State head coach Danny Kaspar is the winningest active coach when leading a Texas-based program among the Lone Star state's 23 Division I schools with 523 victories.
- Kaspar ranks second among all active Division I coaches in Texas in career victories. Ahead of him is Houston's Kelvin Sampson at 556 wins.
- When compared to all active coaches at all three NCAA levels in the state of Texas, Kaspar is second when in charge of a Texas school (Lonn Reisman; Tarleton State; 635) and third in career victories (Reisman & Sampson).
- Entering his 27th season as a head coach, Kaspar has compiled a winning percentage of .666. The percentage is the fourth best among all current Division I Texas school coaches with at least five years of head coaching experience.

3-PT Shooting

- When the 2017-18 season concludes, someone other than Kavin Gilder-Tilbury will lead the team in three-point shooting percentage for the first time since the 2012-13 campaign.
- The former Bobcat was the team's three-point shooting percentage leader each year in his collegiate career.
- Tyler Blount is the top returner having made 34.9 percent of his shots from beyond the arc. He ranks second among with returning Bobcats in made three-pointers (22) behind Nijal Pearson's 37.

Home Sweet Strahan

- When playing in Strahan Coliseum, Texas State has compiled a 293-174 record for a 62.7 winning percentage.
- The Bobcats have compiled 37 wins in Kaspar’s four seasons with 23 victories coming over the past two years.
- Prior to last season, the Bobcats had seen an increase of average attendance. The 2016-17 season saw TXST set a program record with a total attendance of 37,576.

All-Time Best KenPom Rating

- For the second year in-a-row, Texas State recorded its best KenPom rating in program history.
- The 2016-17 squad finished ranked 174th, besting the previous mark of 201 set by the 2015-16 team.
- KenPom is an advanced analysis of college basketball. The site was created by Ken Pomeroy and started tracking stats for the 2001-02 season.
• The other two home dates are against non-Division I opponents
  Ecclesia College (Dec. 19) and McMurry (Dec. 6).
• Road trips for the Bobcats will take them to Abilene Christian (Dec. 9), Colorado State (Dec. 17), Houston Baptist (Dec. 2) and Rice (Dec. 22).

In-Season Tournament
• This is the second straight year that Texas State will play in a tournament during the regular season. Last year saw the team make the trip to Hawaii and take home the Rainbow Classic title.
• The Men Against Breast Cancer Showcase will see the Bobcats face
  Air Force in Colorado Springs, Colo. to open the season.
• Texas State will conclude the showcase over Thanksgiving with a trip to Stockton, Calif. There the team faces Arkansas-Pine Bluff, Canisius and Pacific.
• It will be the first time the Bobcats have played in a tournament in back-to-back seasons since playing in seven straight from the 2006-07 season to the 2012-13 campaign.

SBC Schedule
• The Sun Belt Conference slate will feature an 18 games per team for the second year in-a-row.
• Texas State will play seven schools twice and four schools once.
• All games will be played on a Thursday/Saturday schedule this year.
• The four single games for the Bobcats will be at Arkansas State (Jan.
  11) and Little Rock (Jan. 13) and home games against South Alabama
  (Jan. 4) and Troy (Jan. 6).
• Bobcats will play home-and-home games with Appalachian State,
  Coastal Carolina, Georgia Southern, Georgia State, Louisiana, ULM and UTA.

SBC Tournament
• The Sun Belt Conference Tournament will again take place in New Orleans at Lakefront Arena.
• It will be the second straight year that all 12 teams will compete in the conference tournament.
• The tournament will be played March 7-11 with a day off on the 8th between the first round and quarterfinals. Seeds 1-4 will receive a bye into the quarterfinals.
• All games of the first round, quarterfinals and semifinals will be broadcast on ESPN3. The championship game will air on ESPN or ESPN2 at a time to be determined.

A late addition to the 2017 signing class, Alonzo Sule lettered two years at Cinco Ranch High School in Houston. Averaged 10.8 points and 7.2 rebounds per game as a senior. Made 135-of-239 (56.5%) shots from the field. Helped the Cougars advance to the UIL 6A Region 3 quarterfinals. Played in 17 games as a junior. Recorded 7.3 ppg on 54-of-90 (60.0%) shooting and grabbed 7.6 rpg during the 2015-16 season. Finished high school career with 44 blocks, 37 steals and 25 assists.
Danny Kaspar is in his fifth season at Texas State, after coaching 13 seasons as the head coach at Stephen F. Austin, where he guided the Lumberjacks to a 246-141 record that included seven 20-win seasons. Kaspar enters his 27th season as a head coach ranked among the Top 25 winningest active Division I coaches with an overall career record of 524-263 and has the 29th highest winning percentage.

The 2016-17 season saw Texas State finish 22-14 to achieve the first winning season in program history in 14 years. The campaign also saw the Bobcats make its first postseason tournament appearance in 20 years with a berth in the CollegeInsider.com tournament and reach the finals of the Sun Belt Conference Tournament to come within a victory of making the NCAA Tournament.

Texas State’s win total gave the program its second 20-win season in program history since becoming a Division I program and first since 1993-94. During the Bobcats’ run to the CIT quarterfinals, the team won its first postseason game as a NCAA program, picked up the first postseason win since 1980 and won two postseason contests for the first time since 1979.

A trip to the SBC Tournament Championship game saw Texas State defeat ULM in the quarterfinals and shock No. 1 seed UTA in the semifinals before falling to Troy in the finals. It was the program’s first conference tournament finals appearance since 1999. Performances by Kevin Gilder-Tilbury and Imamouhinga N’Diaye saw the duo be selected to the SBC All-Tournament team.

Following the conclusion of the 2016-17 regular season Gilder-Tilbury was selected All-Sun Belt Conference First Team, the first all-conference first team selection since 2003, and NABC All-District 24 Second Team. A four-year player for Kaspar, Gilder-Tilbury ended his career sixth in school history with 1,385 points and is the only player in Bobcat history to finish with 1,000+ points, 500+ rebounds, 100+ steals and 50+ blocks in a career. Another standout member of the 2016-17 team was Nijal Pearson, who set the freshmen program record for points in a season with 477.

In the 2015-16 season, Kaspar guided the Bobcats to a 15-16 record and the program’s second straight appearance in the quarterfinals of the Sun Belt Conference Tournament. Thirteen of the 15 victories came against Division I opponents, the most by a Texas State team since the 2010-11 season. He became the 25th active head coach to reach the 500-career win mark when the Bobcats defeated Troy 78-57 at home on Mar. 3.

Kaspar is the third coach in program history to increase his win total each of his first three seasons. The seven-win increase from his first season to third year is the largest in Bobcat history.

The 2014-15 season saw Kaspar guide Texas State to a six-win improvement, the most in a single season since the 2006-07 year. The Bobcats also made their first appearance in the Sun Belt Conference Tournament, and earned their first win in the event by beating UT Arlington 68-62 in the quarterfinals. Defensively, Kaspar improved on an impressive 2013-14 season by lowering the Bobcats points allowed to 59.8 per game, which is the lowest average in a single season at Texas State since 1982-83. The 59.8 points per game were the fewest points allowed in the Sun Belt Conference and ranked among the Top 23 defenses in the country. Individually, Emani Gant was named All-Sun Belt Conference Second Team and Second Team TABC All-District 24.

In his first season at Texas State, Kaspar led the Bobcats to their best defensive performance in over 15 years and the third best performance since 1982-83, allowing just 66.0 points per game. The Bobcats led the Sun Belt in scoring defense. Their best single-game performance was at UL Monroe, when the Bobcats allowed just 36 points, the fewest by an opponent since 1985.

Shortly after he was named Texas State’s head coach, Kaspar received the National Association of Basketball Coaches’ (NABC) Hugh Durham Award, which is given to the nation’s top mid-major coach, and was named the 2012-13 NABC District 23 Coach of the Year, Texas Association of Basketball Coaches’ (TABC) Coach of the Year, and Southland Conference Coach of the Year after leading SFA to its best NCAA Division I record at the time with a 27-5 overall record. The Lumberjacks won their third Southland Conference championship in six years and a berth to the NIT. It was the second time Kaspar was named SLC Coach of the Year. He also earned the honor in 2007-08.

“In the end, the relationships with all the high school coaches in Texas, AAU coaches and everyone in general was what we were really looking for,” said athletics director Larry Teis, when introducing Kaspar as Texas State’s head coach. “We talked to former players, mainly Jeff Foster, who we relied upon to help us look at some candidates. Jeff did a great job, and his number one pick was Danny Kaspar. Gregg Popovich from the San Antonio Spurs is very high on Danny and his coaching abilities, which really helped. In the end, in the State of Texas, nobody won more games in the last six years (2007-13) than Danny Kaspar.”

Stephen F. Austin's winning percentage of 84.4 percent; Kaspar’s last season, ranked fourth among NCAA Division I teams entering the NCAA Final Four.

“I have followed Danny Kaspar and his teams for many years. He has been one of the most successful coaches, not only in the State of Texas, but nationally as well. You win championships with defense, and he is a defensive mastermind. I am proud to support this great University and to be a part of the Texas State Basketball family.”

-Jeff Foster, former Texas State Bobcat and NBA player

The Lumberjacks' 27 wins included victories over teams from the Big XII (Oklahoma), Big West (Long Beach State), Conference USA (Tulsa) and the Sun Belt Conference (Florida International).

SFA led the nation in scoring defense after allowing just 51.2 points per game. The Lumberjacks also were the best in the nation in scoring defense in 2010-11 with 56.7 points per game and had the second-best average in 2007-08 and 2008-09 with 56.4 and 56.1 points per game respectively. In 2012-13 SFA ranked seventh in field goal percentage defense with 38.0 percent and 18th in three-point field goal percentage defense. Offensively, SFA ranked 29th in field goal percentage with 46.8 percent and was among the top 24 teams in assists.

The Lumberjacks were sixth in scoring margin after winning games by an average of 13.6 points and were among the top 13 teams in rebounding margin with a 6.9 advantage. Kaspar led SFA to back-to-back Southland Conference Championships in 2007-08 and 2008-09. The Lumberjacks finished the 2007-08 season with a 26-6 record, which was the previous best mark as a NCAA Division I program, and earned the team a berth to the NIT. The mark would later be surpassed in Kaspar’s final year with his 27-5 record in 2012-13.

The 2007-08 league title was SFA’s first-ever Southland Conference Championship and marked the first league title for the program since SFA won the Gulf Star Conference in the 1986-87 season, under Harry Miller, one of Kaspar’s mentors.

In 2008-09, Kaspar led SFA to the SLC Tournament championship to earn the school’s first NCAA Tournament berth in school history after winning its second consecutive SLC title with a 13-3 league record. Overall, the Lumberjacks compiled a 24-7 record.

During his tenure at SFA, Kaspar turned the Lumberjacks struggling program into one of the Southland Conference’s most consistent winners. He guided SFA to the SLC Tournament in 11 of his 13 seasons as coach, and advanced to the championship game five times. The program Kaspar left behind at SFA was very different from the one he inherited. During the two seasons prior his arrival, the Lumberjacks recorded just four and six wins, respectively. Beginning in his second season, the Lumberjacks became a competitive force in the SLC.

That year, SFA finished the regular season with a 13-14 record in the regular season, was fifth in the SLC standings with a 10-10 league record and qualified for the SLC Tournament for the first time in five years. The fifth-place finish was the best finish in league standings since the 1996-97 campaign.

In 2002-03, the Lumberjacks posted their first 20-win season since 1986-87 with a 21-8 overall record and a 16-4 league mark to finish in second place. The team advanced to the finals of the SLC Tournament, both firsts since SFA had joined the SLC.

In the 2003-04 campaign, the Lumberjacks once again won 21 games and made their second straight SLC tournament finals appearance. The second straight 20-plus-win season marked the first time since the mid-1980s the Lumberjacks had put together two straight seasons with 20 or more wins.

SFA posted a 17-12 mark in 2005-06, including a 9-7 fourth-place finish in Southland Conference play. The Lumberjacks entered the SLC Tournament as the No. 4 seed and defeated McNeese State, 72-70, in the first round, advancing to the semifinals for the third time in four years.

In 2007-08, Kaspar led SFA to the SLC Tournament championship to earn the school’s first NCAA Tournament berth in school history after winning its second consecutive SLC title with a 13-3 league record. Overall, the Lumberjacks compiled a 24-7 record.

During his tenure at SFA, Kaspar turned the Lumberjacks struggling program into one of the Southland Conference’s most consistent winners. He guided SFA to the SLC Tournament in 11 of his 13 seasons as coach, and advanced to the championship game five times. The program Kaspar left behind at SFA was very different from the one he inherited. During the two seasons prior his arrival, the Lumberjacks recorded just four and six wins, respectively. Beginning in his second season, the Lumberjacks became a competitive force in the SLC.

That year, SFA finished the regular season with a 13-14 record in the regular season, was fifth in the SLC standings with a 10-10 league record and qualified for the SLC Tournament for the first time in five years. The fifth-place finish was the best finish in league standings since the 1996-97 campaign.

In 2002-03, the Lumberjacks posted their first 20-win season since 1986-87 with a 21-8 overall record and a 16-4 league mark to finish in second place. The team advanced to the finals of the SLC Tournament, both firsts since SFA had joined the SLC.

In the 2003-04 campaign, the Lumberjacks once again won 21 games and made their second straight SLC tournament finals appearance. The second straight 20-plus-win season marked the first time since the mid-1980s the Lumberjacks had put together two straight seasons with 20 or more wins.

SFA posted a 17-12 mark in 2005-06, including a 9-7 fourth-place finish in Southland Conference play. The Lumberjacks entered the SLC Tournament as the No. 4 seed and defeated McNeese State, 72-70, in the first round, advancing to the semifinals for the third time in four years.

Kaspar served as an assistant coach at SFA under Miller from 1983 through the 1986 seasons. During his three seasons as an assistant, the Lumberjacks recorded two 20-win seasons, won 16 games in the other season, and never finished lower than third in the conference.

A 1978 graduate of the University of North Texas, Kaspar is no stranger to winning. He spent nine seasons as the head coach at the University of the Incarnate Word in San Antonio. During his tenure, Incarnate Word posted an overall record of 219-52, which was the best record for any four-year Texas institution during the 1990s. In 1999, The Sporting News named him National Small College Coach of the Year.

His teams at Incarnate Word posted nine straight 20-win seasons, including five seasons where his teams won 25 or more games. Kaspar’s Incarnate Word teams also won or shared five regular season conference titles as well as four conference tournament titles. He was tabbed the Heart of Texas Conference Coach of the Year four times during that span. In August of 2014, Kaspar was honored by Incarnate Word by being placed into its Hall of Fame.

Prior to becoming a head coach, Kaspar served as an assistant for some of the legends of college basketball coaching. In addition to working under Miller, he also was on the staffs of Billy Tubbs, Gene Iba and Dr. Gerald Stockton.

During his one season with Tubbs at Lamar, the Cardinals won the Southland Conference title and advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament in 1980.

In 32 years as a collegiate coach, Kaspar has only been associated with six teams with losing records. In two of those seasons, the teams were one win away from .500 records.

Kaspar and his wife, Deborah, have a daughter, Nicole, who graduated from Texas State in December, 2013.

“Danny Kaspar is a very good basketball coach and you can see how much he loves the game from being around him. Having spent time with Danny you walk away being very impressed with him as both a person and coach, and also with his basketball knowledge and passion for improving.”

-Brad Stevens, Head Basketball Coach Boston Celtics
JIM SHAW
ASSISTANT COACH
Fifth Season at Texas State
13th Season Overall
Grinnell, 2003

Jim Shaw is in his fifth season at Texas State and third as an assistant coach. He served as the director of basketball operations for the Bobcats during the 2013-14 season.

Shaw helped guide the Bobcats to one of the top turnaround programs in program history when the Bobcats improved from eight wins in 2013-14 to 14 victories in 2014-15.

On the court, he works with the Bobcat guards. He is also in charge of scheduling and helping to coordinate the team’s offensive and defensive game plans.

As director of operations, Shaw coordinated travel, practice, equipment and setting up Danny Kaspar’s basketball camp.

He came to Texas State after serving one season as director of operations at Texas Tech. While with the Red Raiders, Shaw was in charge of coordinating practice times, team travel and meals, recruiting travel, making the weekly schedule for the team, and assisting with compliance, life skills, and academic monitoring.

In his lone season at Texas Tech, the Red Raiders won their first Big 12 Tournament game since 2010, and tripled their conference win total from the season before.

Prior to going to Texas Tech, Shaw spent six years as the video coordinator at Nebraska, where he oversaw all aspects of the video operations, including video exchange, taping workouts and games, breaking down video and organizing the video library.

He also helped coordinate Nebraska’s player appearances in the community and assist with the team’s efforts in NLI Life Skills Team Award challenge. During the offseason, he played an integral role with the Doc Sadler Basketball Camps by assisting with all phases of camp planning and supervision.

While with the Huskers, Shaw helped three squads advance to postseason play. In 2008-09, the Huskers were 18-13 and earned a berth into the National Invitational Tournament (NIT). It was the second straight year that culminated with a postseason NIT appearance for the Huskers and included a 500 finish (8-16) in Big 12 Conference play, both firsts in a decade for the program. Previously, Shaw helped Sadler guide UTEP to an NCAA berth in 2004 and an appearance in the 2005 NIT.

Shaw joined Nebraska’s staff after serving as a graduate assistant at UTEP under Sadler and Billy Gillispie. Shaw handled all duties surrounding the Miner’s video system during his three years in El Paso, and was heavily involved with directing camps and clinics, including serving as director for the Doc Sadler Basketball Camps each of his last two years. He also has significant experience in recruiting efforts and all areas of player development.

A native of San Antonio, Shaw earned his undergraduate degree in economics at Grinnell (Iowa) College in 2003. He added a master’s degree in business administration from UTEP in 2005.

Shaw was a four-year letterwinner at Grinnell, helping lead the Pioneers to four straight Division III national scoring titles, including an all-division scoring record of 124.9 points per game in 2002-03. He led Grinnell to a league title as a sophomore and senior, and in 2001, paced the conference in made three-pointers while pushing the Pioneers to the NCAA Tournament.

ROBERT GUSTER
ASSISTANT COACH
Second Season at Texas State
19th Season Overall
Missouri-Rolla, 1999

Robert Guster is in his second season as an assistant coach at Texas State after serving 10 years as an assistant coach at UTSA.

During his tenure with the Roadrunners, Guster assisted with recruiting, academics and scheduling, in addition to on-the-floor coaching duties. He helped lead UTSA to its first-ever NCAA postseason victory in any sport, captured one conference championship and made two conference tournament title game appearances. The Roadrunners broke 20 school records and had eight players earn All-Conference honors with three being tabbed the league’s Freshman of the Year.

Guster went to UTSA after a two-year stint at Southeast Missouri State in Cape Girardeau, Missouri, where he was an assistant coach under head coach Gary Gamar. While at SEMO, he was heavily involved in the Redhawks’ recruiting efforts and also oversaw the program’s academic affairs.

Prior to his stint at SEMO, Guster was an assistant coach for five seasons at Missouri State-West Plains Community College head coach Tom Barr from 1999-2004. The Grizzlies posted a 120-36 record during that span, and 10 players that he directly recruited signed to play NCAA Division I basketball.

Top players during Guster’s tenure at West Plains included NJCAA All-Americans Jason Detrick, who played in the Final Four with Oklahoma, Tavoris Thompson, who made a junior college record 29 three-pointers in a two-game span, and Terrel Everett, an All-Big 12 player at Oklahoma.

As a standout player, Guster was the starting point guard for two seasons at West Plains before finishing his collegiate career as a starter at Missouri-Rolla, now known as Missouri S&T. He helped the Miners post back-to-back winning seasons while leading the team in assists both seasons and pacing the MIAA conference in assist-to-turnover ratio.

Guster is a native of West Monroe, Louisiana and earned his bachelor’s degree in history at Missouri-Rolla in 1999. He received his master’s degree in elementary education from Missouri State in 2002.

He and his wife, Melissa, have one daughter, Alivia, and a son, Shiloh.

TERRENCE JOHNSON
ASSISTANT COACH
Third Season at Texas State
Ninth Season Overall
Southern, 2001

Terrence Johnson is in his third season as an assistant coach at Texas State. Johnson arrived in San Marcos after coaching at Samford University and serving as an AAU coach in Houston.

“I’m very happy to have Terrence Johnson join us,” head coach Danny Kaspar said. “He is a very personable, hardworking and enthusiastic person who I think relates very well to basketball players at the collegiate and high school level. Terrence and I have known each other for a long time and I feel very comfortable with his knowledge of the game and all that goes along with creating a successful collegiate basketball program.”

While at Samford, Johnson coached three players to All-Conference honors, including two players he recruited to the All-Southern Conference Freshman team in 2012.

Johnson has worked with some standout players during his career, most notably Langston Gally who played collegiately at St. Joseph’s and currently plays for the New Orleans Pelicans after being named to the NBA All Rookie Second Team in 2014-15 with the New York Knicks.

Johnson also conducted individual workouts with some of the best players in the region including Amos Olatayo of ULM, Jarvis Ray of TCU, Etridge Moore of UL Lafayette, and Hollis Price of Oklahoma among others.

Johnson developed his relationships as one of the most noted AAU coaches in the Southwest. He founded Hollis Price Elite AAU and was the head coach from 2006-10. During that time he won the 2008 Louisiana State Championship.

Most notably, Johnson was the head coach of Texas PRO 17-U where he coached standout players like McDonald’s All-American Jarret Allen (Texas), Galen “G” Robinson (Houston), Alex Hobbs (Boise State), Jarrey Foster (SMU) and current Bobcats Najil Pearson and Marlin Davis.

“We will look forward to him recruiting mainly in the Houston, and L-10 corridor as he is from New Orleans,” Kaspar said. “We hope to expand our recruiting with his knowledge of these areas.”

Johnson received his bachelor of science degree in microbiology at Southern University in 2001 and earned his master of art degree in education administration at Prairie View A&M in 2011.
ALEX HAUSLADEN
ASSISTANT COACH

Fourth Season at Texas State
11th Season Overall
Arkansas, 2006

Alex Hausladen is in his fourth season as the director of men’s basketball operations at Texas State after serving five seasons as an assistant coach at Southeastern Louisiana.

A practitioner of advanced analytical statistics, Hausladen’s primary responsibilities with the Bobcats includes scheduling, scouting, recruiting, serving as the compliance liaison as well as coaching and academic support.

He also has experience with coordinating summer camps, a role he performs at Texas State. Camps he has worked include: Arkansas, Arkansas State, Kentucky, Marquette, Maryland, Memphis, Wake Forest and Wisconsin.

While Hausladen was at Southeastern, the Lions produced five All-Southland Conference players, four All-Louisiana players and three National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) All-District players.

His career has also included stops at Christian Brothers University and the University of the Ozarks. During his time at Christian Brothers he helped the Bucs to a two-year record of 47-17, the 2009 South Region Championship and a pair of NCAA Division II Tournament berths.

While there, he coached one First Team All-American selection, four All-Region selections, as well as the 2009 South Region and Gulf South Conference-West Division Player of the Year.

At University of the Ozarks, he coached post players in addition to film exchange, recruiting and scouting. One of the players he signed was named to the American Southwest Conference All-Freshman team, and finished as one of the top three-point shooters in school history.

He began his career in collegiate basketball as a student manager and video coordinator at Arkansas when the Razorbacks played in the 2006 NCAA Tournament. There, he worked with former NBA player Ronnie Brewer, who was the 14th overall pick in the 2006 draft by the Utah Jazz.

Hausladen graduated from Arkansas in 2006 with a bachelor of arts degree in history. He completed his master of education degree at Christian Brothers in December of 2008.

Hausladen attended Marquette University High School in Milwaukee and spent three seasons as a student assistant coach.

CODY SAN MIGUEL
GRADUATE ASSISTANT COACH

Third Season at Texas State
Third Season Overall
Texas State, 2016

Cody San Miguel is in his third season as a graduate assistant at Texas State after serving two years as the head coach at Hill Country Christian School in San Marcos. One of his main duties is serving as the video coordinator.

San Miguel led Hill Country to the second round of the TAPPS playoffs and an undefeated district record in 2014-15.

He also was a director and coach for the Hoops 101 Basketball Camp for youth that ranged from grades 2-12 from 2011-15, and coached multiple teams with Hoops 101 Select Basketball program during the same span.

In addition, he was a student assistant coach at Lehman High School in 2012-13 and was a coach for Dripping Springs summer league team.

San Miguel began his coaching career after serving in the U.S. Marine Corps from 2006-11.

PHILLIP PONGRATZ
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF SPORTS INFORMATION

Third Season at Texas State
Sixth Season Overall
Tennessee-Chattanooga, 2009 & 2011

Phillip Pongratz is in his third year as an assistant director of sports information at Texas State and serving as the men’s basketball contact. He previously worked for a year as the assistant sports information director at Texas A&M-Kingsville.

During his time at in South Texas, Pongratz was the main contact for softball, volleyball, women’s basketball, women’s golf, cross country and track & field. He covered the men’s track & field team’s fourth place performance at the 2015 NCAA Division II Outdoor National Championships and promoted javelin thrower Javan Gray to earn Capital One Academic All-America First Team honors.

Previously Pongratz served as the assistant director of athletic communications at fellow Lone Star Conference school Eastern New Mexico University for two years. His primary sports he covered were baseball, men’s basketball, men’s soccer and volleyball, while assisting with all other sports as well.

Before working at ENMU, he served as a media relations assistant at Louisiana Tech. Pongratz was the main contact for men’s basketball, women’s soccer and women’s tennis. During his tenure, he covered the Bulldog basketball program that made their one and only appearance in the Western Athletic Conference basketball championship game.

Pongratz worked in the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga Media Relations Department from January 2009 to May 2011 where he served as a student assistant and intern. During his time at UTC, he assisted with all phases of the Mocs’ public relations including serving on the state crew for a number of sports while also assisting with promotions and game operations.

Pongratz has also assisted with media operations for the 2009 NCAA Division I FCS Championship game, the 2010 NCAA Division I Men’s Golf Championships, the 2009 and 2011 Southern Conference Men’s and Women’s Basketball Championships and the 2009 and 2010 Southern Conference Softball Championships.

He earned his bachelor’s degree from Tennessee-Chattanooga in sport and leisure services administration in 2009 and his master’s of business administration in 2011.

Pongratz has been an active member of the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) since 2011.
