UNION COLLEGE

FOUNDED 1795

Stephen C. Ainlay President

Strom ThackerVice President of Academic Affairs and Dean of the Faculty

Union College traces its beginnings to 1779. Several hundred residents of northern New York, certain that Burgoyne's defeat at Saratoga two years before would mean a new nation, began the first popular demand for higher education in America. These residents pursued that dream for 16 years until, in 1795, Union became the first college chartered by the Regents of the State of New York. The first trustees consciously attempted to bring their new college into the mainstream of their world. The very name, Union, carried echoes of the new national union. More immediately and directly, it recognized the fact that the College was an outgrowth of a new sense of community among the several religious and national groups in the local population. Union's founders were determined to avoid the narrow sectarianism characteristic of earlier American colleges; today, Union is one of the oldest nondenominational colleges in the country.

Union did not share the heavily classical bias of most colleges of the day. Its motto ("Sous les lois de Minerve nous devenons tous freres," or "We all become brothers under the laws of Minerva") is significantly of French rather than Latin origin. Union was among the first to introduce French on an equal level with Greek and Latin. In the 1820s, when the classical curriculum was the most widely accepted field of study, Union introduced a bachelor's degree with greater emphasis on history, science, modern languages, and mathematics. This liberality of educational vision characterized Union during the early years of the term of Eliphalet Nott, president from 1804 to 1866. Science and technology became important concerns; chemistry was taught before 1809, a degree in scientific studies was added, and in 1845 Union became the first liberal arts college to offer engineering. The College was one of the first to offer work in American history and constitutional government and did pioneer work in the elective system of study.

By about 1830, Union was graduating as many students as any other college in America. Along with Harvard, Yale, and Princeton, it was spoken of as one of the big four. Students came from the South and West as well as the East. Among them were the father of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the grandfather of Winston Churchill, a president of the United States (Chester A. Arthur, Class of 1848), seven cabinet secretaries, 15 United States senators, 91 members of the House of Representatives, 13 governors, 50 important diplomats, more than 200 judges, 40 missionaries, 16 generals, and 90 college presidents, including the first presidents of the Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Vassar, Smith and Elmira.

Nott's ingenious schemes for financing higher education, including a statewide lottery, also were instrumental in building Union's reputation. Innovations under the leadership of Andrew Van Vranken Raymond, president from 1894 to 1907 include the establishment of a Department of Electrical Engineering and Applied Physics, headed by the "electrical wizard" of the General Electric Company, Charles P. Steinmetz. The new department gave impetus to the development of strong programs in science and technology and attracted attention and applications to the College.

The 20th century brought other changes to Union. In 1970, the College adopted co-education and welcomed the first class of two dozen women transfer students. Today, roughly half of Union's students are women. More recently, the College has added programs in Asian Studies, Bioengineering, Film Studies, Nanotechnology, and Neuroscience.

In 2004, the Minervas were inaugurated to broaden the educational experience for students, faculty and staff. Every incoming student is assigned to one of seven Minerva Houses, joining upperclass students, faculty and staff in a house affiliation. Each Minerva, with its own budget and governing council, is a center for intellectual and social activity. Union's fraternities and sororities continue a proud tradition of service. Theme Houses are a popular option for students who seek residential affiliation with others who are committed to themes such as community service, environmental awareness, art, music and language.

The College has done important experimental work in interdepartmental studies, which is reflected in a number of programs that cut across the lines of academic disciplines. Organized interdepartmental majors are offered in numerous areas, and the College has also developed programs that enable students to work toward both a bachelor's degree and an advanced degree. The Common Curriculum (General Education) has received national recognition, and the College has an innovative program of Writing Across the Curriculum. Efforts to renew and enhance the College's academic programs and curricula continue to be supported by major foundations.

MESSA RINK AT ACHILLIES CENTER

Originally constructed in 1975 with a gift from Henry Laurence Achilles, Union College's ice hockey rink underwent major renovations during the summer of 2003 after a gift from alumnus Frank L. Messa '73.

Renamed Frank L. Messa Rink at Achilles Center, Union's new-look facility was officially unveiled for competition on October 18, 2003 as the men's hockey team hosted Merrimack.

With a seating capacity of 2,054, and standing room only areas that will allow sellout crowds to reach nearly 2,300, Messa Rink is one of the most intimidating venues for visiting teams in ECAC Hockey. The Dutchmen have won 61 percent of their home games over the past three seasons and compiled a 15-game winning streak on home ice from November 2013-October 2014.

The team's success has resulted in packed-houses at Messa. Since 2009-10, the Garnet and White have generated 51 sellouts.

The home of Dutchman Hockey has provided many highlights through the years:

- Seven straight seasons (2009-14) of hosting ECAC Hockey playoff action, including five consecutive quarterfinal series appearances.
- Cleary Cup-clinching victories in 2011 and 2014. Union won its first-ever regular season title on February 26, 2011 with a 5-0 win against Princeton. On February 21, 2014, Union captured the Cleary Cup with a 5-0 win over Clarkson.
- On March 12, 2010, Union and Quinnipiac played the second-longest game in NCAA history (150:22), a five overtime affair that lasted 5 hours 56 minutes and ended at 1:03 a.m.
- Messa hosted the ECAC Women's Hockey Championships in 2004 and 2005.

In 2014, a new LED lighting system was installed at Messa. The lighting system saves considerable energy, keeping in line with the College's commitment to sustainability. The brighter atmosphere eliminates dark areas in the stands and benefits the players as well, as the previous metal halide lights often raised temperatures at ice level.

In 2003 renovations enabled Union to provide a first class venue for Division I hockey, as well as numerous programming opportunities for the College and community at large. Phase I of the $1.5 million renovation project included the installation of a high-tech chilling and dehumidification system. New spring-loaded boards and seamless glass provide a safer playing environment on the ice, while better sight-lines were made for the fans, and a redesigned seating area improved the rink's traffic pattern.

Henry L. Achilles

Phase II of the project, completed during the 2003-04 academic year, included the construction of five locker rooms and the addition of restrooms and shower areas for use by the Union athletic teams and outside community groups. A multipurpose function room, a 2,000 square foot sports medicine area, a reconfigured lobby and improved ADA access and seating were all part of the project's second phase.

The lower level of Frank L. Messa Rink at Achilles Center contains locker room space for more than 175 athletes. The locker rooms, capable of handling up to five teams at one time, are used by Union's varsity teams and visiting teams for intercollegiate and interscholastic contests and tournaments. During the fall, Union's football team uses a 100-locker facility that can be separated for team meetings or for use by two smaller teams. During the spring, the men's and women's lacrosse teams have locker rooms in the lower level of Achilles Center.

The men and women's hockey teams have dedicated locker rooms that are located on the main level of the rink. In addition to stalls for each player, both locker rooms contain a private coach's locker room. Also located on the main level of Achilles Center is the Travis J. Clark '00 Strength Training Facility, which is utilized by the men's and women's varsity squads.

The Garnet Blades Men's Hockey Locker Room and Hockey Training Center were dedicated on November 13, 2004. Hockey alumni, along with the help of the Athletic Department and College Relations, launched a campaign to raise $125,000 for a new men's hockey locker room and weight training area.

MISSION STATEMENT

To promote and support the Union College men's hockey program in an attempt to provide the necessary resources to sustain competitive excellence within ECAC Hockey and the NCAA. At the same time, this club will provide an exciting atmosphere for all its members.

TESTIMONIALS

"I would like to most sincerely thank the Garnet Blades for their selfless contributions to the Union Hockey Program. Not only does their generosity allow for Union Hockey to continually improve and compete at the highest level of college hockey, but its support throughout the season is deeply felt by players, coaches and staff. The Garnet Blades provide the backbone for the Union Hockey Family - a presence that continually allows the program to attract high quality individuals to Union College. Every player has benefitted from the GB donations and friendship; through the Garnet Blades, Union Hockey is able to constantly progress and thrive."

Troy Grosenick '14

"If it were not for the Garnet Blades and their immense support, I would not have even been recruited to Union College and would have missed out on the best four years of my life. The Blades provided the program with opportunities, such as recruiting all over North America, that allows the program to compete at the highest level. Their support is deeply appreciated by the whole program, from the current players, to the coaches and staff, and across the entire alumni base. It's organizations like the Garnet Blades that make me proud to say I am a part of the Union Hockey Program. Thank you."

Daniel Carr '14

The Garnet Blades are the foundation of the Union College Hockey program. Their continued support of past, present and future Dutchmen hockey players has propelled Union Hockey into one of the top programs in the country. As a proud Union Hockey alumni, I am forever grateful for the Garnet Blades. Thank you for the unwavering support and generosity."

CAPITAL SKATES TROPHY

The Capital Skates Trophy was added for the Second Capital Skate Classic in 1997 to add significance to the game. The Capital Skates Trophy features two skates, originally ordered for former Rensselaer forward Mauro DiPaulo, on top of an octagon-shaped base.

In front of the skates are three pucks, one with a Union logo, one with a Rensselaer logo and the third displaying the name of the trophy.

The trophy is awarded to the school that captures the regular season series, based on the most points earned in the two league games.
