THIS IS THE WCHA

MARKING ITS 24TH SEASON COMPETITION IN 2022-23, THE WESTERN COLLEGIATE HOCKEY ASSOCIATION IS HOME TO A RECORD 19 WOMEN'S NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP TEAMS SINCE 1999. IT HAS ALSO PRODUCED EIGHT PATTY KAZMAIER MEMORIAL AWARD WINNERS, 115 ALL-AMERICANS AND 222 OLYMPIANS. WOMEN'S COLLEGIATE HOCKEY'S MOST SUCCESSFUL CONFERENCE, THE WCHA BOASTS EIGHT OF THE TOP PROGRAMS IN THE SPORT.

The Women's League of the Western Collegiate Hockey Association, the top league in all of women's collegiate hockey, proudly celebrates its 24th season of competition in 2022-23, its first under the leadership of Interim Commissioner Tracy Dill.

Founded in 1999, the WCHA has been at the forefront of growing and raising the profile of women's hockey nationwide as the league continues to churn out national champions, Patty Kazmaier winners, Olympians and professional players. The league consists of eight premier institutions that offer the best in both educational and athletic environments.

The eight current members of the WCHA are Bemidji State University (Beavers), University of Minnesota (Gophers), University of Minnesota Duluth (Bulldogs), Minnesota State University (Mavericks), The Ohio State University (Buckeyes), St. Cloud State University (Huskies), University of St. Thomas (Tommies), and University of Wisconsin (Badgers).

No women's hockey conference can top the impressive list of national accomplishments of the WCHA. Since 1998, member teams have earned a record 19 NCAA and AWCHA national championships while finishing as the national runner-up eight times. Since the inception of the NCAA women's ice hockey championship in 2001, the WCHA has won 18 titles, landed at least one team in every Frozen Four and iced two or more teams in 16 Frozen Fours.

The league has also produced eight Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award winners as well as an additional 24 student-athletes who were among the Top-3 finalists for the award.

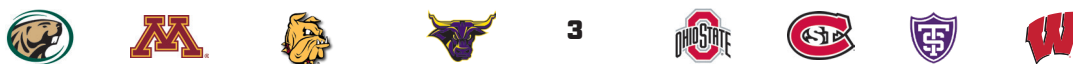

WCHA student-athletes have made 222 appearances in the Olympic Games since women's ice hockey made its first appearance in the Games in 2002 in Salt Lake City. Since 2002, every team to medal at the Olympics has had at least one player with WCHA ties on its roster.

WCHA players have been recognized as All-Americans 115 times in league history, including three-time selections Hannah Brandt, Natalie Darwitz, Brianna Decker, Jincy Dunne, Hilary Knight, Monique Lamoureux, Annie Pankowski, Noora Rätty, Maria Rooth, Lee Stecklein, Daryl Watts and Krissy Wendell.

When it comes to coaching, WCHA teams and players have benefited from the expertise of some of the best minds in the game. Current bench bosses Mark Johnson (Wisconsin) and Brad Frost (Minnesota) are the nation's winningest active coaches and their respective career winning percentages rank among the top five in NCAA history. Johnson became the first coach in NCAA women's hockey to reach the 500-win plateau a season ago.

THE WCHA FINAL FACEOFF IS ANNUALLY PLAYED BEFORE SELLOUT CROWDS AND FEATURES MANY OF THE TOP PLAYERS IN COLLEGE HOCKEY EACH SEASON.

THIS IS THE WCHA

WCHA coaches have won 11 of the 25 AHCA Women's Division I National Coach of the Year awards presented since the honor's inception in 1998.

Crowds at WCHA games are always among the most enthusiastic in all of hockey. The Top-10 most-attended women's ice hockey games in NCAA history, including a record 15,359 fans who turned out for the Wisconsin-St. Cloud State game on Jan. 14, 2017 at the Kohl Center in Madison, Wis., featured WCHA teams.

In January 2020, a pair of WCHA schools - Ohio State and Minnesota State - met outdoors at Parade Stadium in Minneapolis as part of the annual Hockey Day Minnesota festivities in the Land of 10,000 Lakes.

The WCHA provides fans the opportunity to watch league action throughout the season. Every game hosted by WCHA member institutions, along with the WCHA Final Faceoff, will be streamed live and on demand exclusively on the Big Ten Network.

With eight high-quality institutions producing leaders and champions on and off the ice, and playing in front of the sport's best fans, this much is certain: The WCHA - like it has for two decades - will remain elite on the ice, while growing the game by providing an exemplary student-athlete and fan experience.

WISCONSIN'S ABBY ROQUE BECAME THE WCHA'S 26TH PATTY KAZMAIER TOP-3 FINALIST IN 2019-20. THE LEAGUE HAS NOW SEEN AT LEAST ONE PLAYER FINISH IN THE TOP 3 IN 21 OF THE LAST 22 SEASONS.

INTERIM COMMISSIONER TRACY DILL

Following approval by the league's Board of Directors, the Western Collegiate Hockey Association has announced that Tracy Dill will begin serving as its Interim Commissioner beginning Aug. 1. Dill, who retired as Bemidji State University's Athletic Director on June 30, replaces outgoing Commissioner Jennifer Flowers who resigned the position in mid-June after piloting the WCHA for three years. Flowers joined Southwest Minnesota State University as its Director of Athletics and officially began those duties on July 1.

"I am excited about this opportunity to continue working with some great colleagues. We have wonderful student-athletes and coaches in this league and I will continue working and advocating on their behalf," Dill said. "Jen Flowers did a terrific job during her time with the WCHA and has put us in a great position to continue as the premier women's college hockey league in the country. The bar has been set pretty high and I look forward to working alongside our talented and dedicated staff to uphold those standards."

Dill has been involved in college athletics as a player, coach, and administrator for more than 40 years. He spent the last nine years at Bemidji State, managing what was arguably the most successful overall athletic program in its history. While there, Dill oversaw an era of change for BSU's Division I ice hockey programs, guiding the men's program in its transition from the Western Collegiate Hockey Association into the revitalized Central Collegiate Hockey Association, and hiring Jim Scanlan as head coach of the women's program. During Dill's tenure, the men's program advanced to the 2021 NCAA Tournament. Prior to his tenure at Bemidji State, Dill was at St. Cloud State University, another WCHA member institution, for more than 25 years in various capacities, including coaching and administration.

"We have attracted a seasoned professional in Tracy Dill. Tracy was a consensus choice to fill this role and is highly regarded by his peers," said Kevin Buisman, Director of Athletics at Minnesota State and current WCHA Board Chair. "He is passionate about the sport of hockey and he will be an outstanding ambassador and representative of the WCHA."

Buisman indicated that the work of the NCAA's Transformation Committee, currently in the process of a historical re-drafting that body's Constitution, made an interim appointment the right strategy at this time.

TRACY DILL

"We feel we are moving in a direction of deregulation that may create a different type of responsibility at the conference office level," Buisman explains. "There are also some uncertainties about how potential changes regarding roster sizes, scholarship allowances, and staffing plans will impact hockey, as well as other sports. We need a clearer picture about multi-divisional status and single sport conferences. All of these issues will eventually resolve, but the group felt pausing right now and pumping the brakes on a national search was the right approach at this time."

Buisman indicates the WCHA will likely begin a national search for a full-time replacement at a date to be determined next spring. "At some point, the work of the NCAA's Transformation Committee will provide a much clearer picture about the future of intercollegiate athletics and will help better define the landscape we will operate in and the skill set we are seeking in our next leader."

WCHA REGULAR SEASON CHAMPIONSHIP

The Western Collegiate Hockey Association women’s regular season championship, as has proven time and time again over the past two decades, has traditionally been one of the toughest titles to win in collegiate sports.

Minnesota leads all WCHA programs with 11 regular season outright or shared [*] titles (2001, 2002, 2004, 2005, 2009, 2010*, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2018, 2022) since the league’s founding in 1999, while Wisconsin has captured nine league crowns (2006, 2007, 2011, 2012, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2020, 2021) and Minnesota Duluth claims four championships (2000, 2003, 2006, 2010*).

Minnesota captured the most-recent WCHA regular season championship in 2021-22, finishing league play with a 21-6-1 record and .821 points percentage. Ohio State was a close second at 21-6-0 with a .778 point percentage.

The conference regular season title includes the awarding of the Julianne Bye Cup to the team champion.

THE JULIANNE BYE CUP

JULIANNE BYE CUP

The home of a record 19 national championships, the Women’s League of the Western Collegiate Hockey Association presented a new regular season championship trophy named in honor of longtime women’s hockey advocate Julianne Bye for the first time in 2018-19.

“For 20 years I have watched the highly skilled and competitive teams of the WCHA Women’s Hockey League,” Bye said at the time of the trophy’s announcement. “In my opinion, the WCHA is the premier women’s college hockey league. Winning the regular season championship should be celebrated with joy and pride. The perpetual trophy recognizes this amazing accomplishment.”

Julianne Bye’s love for the game of hockey began as a child watching the 1960 Winter Olympics and she has been a strong advocate for the women’s game ever since.

She was instrumental in the launch of the women’s hockey program at the University of Minnesota and has been one of the WCHA’s biggest boosters since the Women’s League was founded in 1999.

The Julianne Bye Cup is a custom-made perpetual traveling trophy that will be presented to the winner of the WCHA regular season championship each year. The trophy travels from champion to champion at the conclusion of each regular season.

The Cup rests on a three-tier base that includes the trophy name and the Julianne Bye story on the first tier and engraved plates with each championship school’s name.

2022 JULIANNE BYE CUP CHAMPIONS - MINNESOTA

In addition to featuring the names of every team to win the WCHA regular season title, the Julianne Bye Cup contains the following inscription on its base:

The Julianne Bye Cup

It is my true honor to present the perpetual trophy for the WCHA Women’s League Regular Season Champion. The WCHA stands as the nation’s premier women’s college hockey conference, proudly showcasing the talents of incredible female student-athletes. WCHA teams have been a force in the women’s hockey community since the league’s inception and I marvel at the growth in skill, talent and high standard of hockey that is played every day. This trophy celebrates and recognizes these outstanding accomplishments.

As a lifelong lover of the game of hockey, it is important to me that future teams, coaches and staff recognize that women are supporting women to grow the game we all love. My message to the regular season champions, “Raise this trophy with pride and joy. Congratulations on your hard work and drive. You are WCHA Regular Season Champions!”

Julianne Bye

WCHA FINAL FACEOFF

Annually pitting the nation's top programs and players, the WCHA Postseason Tournament – capped by the four-team, two-day WCHA Final Faceoff – is the premier conference tournament in women's collegiate ice hockey.

This year, the top four teams in the final regular season standings will qualify directly to the Final Faceoff, March 3-4 at Ridder Arena in Minneapolis.

The winner of the 2023 WCHA Final Faceoff will receive an automatic bid to the NCAA Women's Ice Hockey Championship.

History

The first WCHA Playoff Championship was held March 2-4, 2000 at the Bloomington (Minn.) Ice Gardens and culminated with Minnesota Duluth taking the tournament title with a 2-0 win over Minnesota.

Since that inaugural event, the tournament has been held in Rochester, Minn. (2001), Blaine, Minn. (2002), Grand Forks, N.D. (2003, 2015), Minneapolis, Minn. (2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2013, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, 2021), Duluth, Minn. (2008, 2012) and Bemidji, Minn. (2014).

Wisconsin leads all WCHA teams with nine postseason titles (2006, 2007, 2009, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2019, 2021), followed by Minnesota with seven (2002, 2004, 2005, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2018), Minnesota Duluth with five (2000, 2001, 2003, 2008, 2010) and Ohio State with two (2020, 2022).

The Trophy

The home of a record 19 national championships, the WCHA now has the league postseason hardware to match its standing as the country's premier women's college hockey conference, thanks to the generosity and support of John Buccigross, the longtime ESPN anchor and renowned benefactor of hockey at all levels.

Through his #bucciovertimechallenge and #cawldigehawkey initiative, Buccigross provided the funds for a custom-designed, perpetual WCHA Final Faceoff Championship Trophy, which debuted in 2018 and is awarded annually to the winner of the League's postseason tournament.

WCHA CHAMPIONSHIP TROPHY

OHIO STATE BECAME THE FIRST TEAM IN WCHA HISTORY TO WIN BACK-TO-BACK OVERTIME GAMES TO CAPTURE THE FINAL FACEOFF TITLE IN 2020. THE BUCKEYES TOOK DOWN NO. 2 SEED MINNESOTA AND NO. 1 SEED WISCONSIN EN ROUTE TO ITS FIRST POSTSEASON CROWN.

2021-22 WCHA AWARD WINNERS

2021-22 WCHA PLAYER OF THE YEAR

TAYLOR HEISE, MINNESOTA SR. / F / LAKE CITY, MINN.

The Western Collegiate Hockey Association is proud to recognize Minnesota senior forward Taylor Heise as its 2021-22 WCHA Player of the Year, presented by Sterling Trophy.

Heise, who was named WCHA Offensive Player of the Year, was chosen for the overall honor by league head coaches and assistant coaches from among the All-WCHA First Team selections that included fellow forwards Minnesota Duluth's Gabbie Hughes (Sr.), Wisconsin's Daryl Watts (5Yr.), blueliners Sophie Jaques (Sr.) of Ohio State and Nicole LaMantia (Sr.) of Wisconsin, as well as St. Cloud State goaltender Emma Polusny (Grad.).

"Congratulations to Taylor Heise on her selection as our 2021-22 WCHA Player of the Year," WCHA Commissioner Jennifer Flowers said. "This award is well-deserved as Taylor has had an outstanding season leading the NCAA in scoring. The WCHA is home to many of the nation's best collegiate women's hockey players, which makes this award all the more impressive as Taylor continues to elevate her team and the WCHA."

On her way to collecting three WCHA Forward of the Month honors, Heise registered 60 points in the regular season by 26 goals and 34 assists. She tallied a nation-leading four shorthanded goals on the year and was recognized nationally as the Hockey Commissioners Association named her National Player of the Month for November.

A native of Lake City, Minn., Heise became the first Gopher to score 60+ points in a season since 2016-17 off of an impressive 194 shots on goal. While skating to a plus-38 rating on the ice, Heise scored a team-topping six game-winning goals and helped Minnesota find the twine first in 25 of the regular season's 32 games by scoring seven opening goals this year. Two of Heise's opening goals even came in the first 40 seconds after dropping the puck.

Recently surpassing 150 career points, Heise has also found success in the circle, winning 333 faceoffs in the regular season.

Heise is the seventh different Gopher to be honored as WCHA Player of the Year, earning the ninth title in school history, joining two-time winners Krissy Wendell (2004, 2005) and Hannah Brandt (2014, 2015), Courtney Kennedy (2001), Ronda Curtin (2002), Amanda Kessel (2013), and Sydney Baldwin (2018).
