

May 3, 9:31 PM

PatriciaMoore: Hi Kim, glad to see you....wondered if I was in the right place

May 3, 9:31 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Hello!

May 3, 9:31 PM

KimEdsen: Yep! If you're ever unsure there is an 'events' section in the FB group that lists everything. I think Amy usually puts in links too!

May 3, 9:31 PM

TaraNolley: Hi

May 3, 9:32 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): This chat room is both on the Book Club page and on the main page of the membership. Same room, two locations!

May 3, 9:32 PM

Cindy March: Hello Everyone.

May 3, 9:32 PM

PatriciaMoore: good to know

May 3, 9:33 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): How is everyone doing tonight?

May 3, 9:33 PM

Cindy March: Good. The weather has finally turned nice.

May 3, 9:33 PM

KimEdsen: I'm multi-tasking...looking for recipes for the rhubarb that has started to explode this week!

May 3, 9:33 PM

JudiPartlo: Good. The wind finally wasn't blowing hard today.

May 3, 9:33 PM

PatriciaMoore: been stormy here, but clear now

May 3, 9:34 PM

JudiPartlo: I miss rhubarb!

May 3, 9:34 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Here too Cindy! A little too nice, 85 degrees is like summer already. We totally skipped spring.

May 3, 9:34 PM

Cindy March: Here on Long Island too. Crazy.

May 3, 9:34 PM

PatriciaMoore: strange, Jennifer south of you and only 72

May 3, 9:35 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Tonight we are discussing Burnt Toast Makes You Sing Good.. and when reading the book I realized I totally mis-typed the author's name in every instance. It's Kathleen Flinn, not Finn.Doh!

May 3, 9:35 PM

KimEdsen: You'd think I'd just make the same recipes every year, but I like to experiment! We're in the 70's,gloomy the past few days but the weekend is predicted to be sunny and beautiful! I'm looking forward to getting out in the yard and garden

May 3, 9:36 PM

PatriciaMoore: I haven't had rhubarb since Iowa...too warm here

May 3, 9:37 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Yes, only 72 now.. was speaking of yesterday's 85 degrees. We had to turn on the AC bc the upstairs was SO hot.

May 3, 9:39 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): So, I had fun writing the questions for tonight's chat because this one was so different than other books. There weren't really any quotables, but more than half the questions don't require having read the book.

May 3, 9:39 PM

Cindy March: I thought it was a sweet story.

May 3, 9:40 PM

KimEdsen: I really enjoyed this one. I got all choked up when she wrote about her Dad's passing...

May 3, 9:40 PM

PatriciaMoore: I enjoyed the easy read..

May 3, 9:40 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Me too.

May 3, 9:40 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): It was definitely a nice, easy read. I did it in one sitting, while DH was driving.

May 3, 9:40 PM

TaraNolley: It was easy to read and heartwarming. It was perfect timing for some rough weeks.

May 3, 9:40 PM

JudiPartlo: It was fun

May 3, 9:40 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Here's the first question:

May 3, 9:40 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): 1. Did you read this month's book? Have you read any other books by Kathleen Flinn? Would you like to in the future?

May 3, 9:41 PM

PatriciaMoore: yes, yes & yes

May 3, 9:41 PM

EdithBanks: I didn't read the book

May 3, 9:41 PM

Cindy March: This was my first book by the author. Yes, I would read another one.

May 3, 9:41 PM

KimEdsen: 1. I did like this book 2. I have read two other books by this author - the Kitchen Cooking School one and the one where she goes to Le Cordon Bleu...can't remember the name

May 3, 9:42 PM

JudiPartlo: Yes, read it. No, haven't read anything else by her, and yes, would read another one.

May 3, 9:42 PM

PatriciaMoore: oops I haven't read another of her books

May 3, 9:42 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): I would like to read her other books.

May 3, 9:43 PM

KimEdsen: It's called "The Sharper Your Knife, the Less You Cry"

May 3, 9:43 PM

KimEdsen: https://smile.amazon.com/Sharper-Your-Knife-Less-You/dp/0143114131/ref=sr\_1\_2?ie=UTF8&qid=1525398144&sr=8-2&keywords=Kathleen+Flinn

May 3, 9:43 PM

Cindy March: It's on my list of books I want to read.

May 3, 9:43 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): 2. Which story in the book stands out the most to you?

May 3, 9:44 PM

Cindy March: That's a hard question,

May 3, 9:44 PM

Cindy March: There so many good ones.

May 3, 9:44 PM

KimEdsen: I loved the story about her Grandpa growing beans in his garden, making the chili, and giving food to neighborhood kids in need. I also liked the stories of spending time with her Dad in FL.

May 3, 9:44 PM

JudiPartlo: Lots of good ones. Loved the farmhouse when they moved in. Also the dollhouse one.

May 3, 9:44 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): I really liked how her Dad went with his gut and how that theme came up again and again.

May 3, 9:45 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): The dollhouse is where I started to cry.

May 3, 9:45 PM

JudiPartlo: Yup

May 3, 9:46 PM

KimEdsen: I just liked the stories about everyday life - living on the farm, her grandmother 'getting her hair done' but really doing good deeds, playing harmonica with her grandpa...they were all good!

May 3, 9:47 PM

PatriciaMoore: And they stuck together as a family

May 3, 9:47 PM

KimEdsen: I got all choked up when she read 'A Tree Grows in Brooklyn'

May 3, 9:47 PM

JudiPartlo: Her parents relationship was pretty awesome

May 3, 9:48 PM

KimEdsen: Patricia, well except for her skallywag (?) of a grandpa..the guy with like 4 wives in multiple states...he didn't stick together with anyone! But still, a message of what can be learned from /taken away from crummy situations.

May 3, 9:49 PM

PatriciaMoore: I guess I just wrote him out, Kim

May 3, 9:49 PM

JudiPartlo: And the grandma was such a strong woman!!

May 3, 9:49 PM

KimEdsen: Oooh, I also liked it after her Dad passed and she started cooking and caring for her mom. That was pretty sweet and , having read her other books, gives insight into her decisions later in life.

May 3, 9:49 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): There's a scallywag in every family tree somewhere, right?

May 3, 9:49 PM

JudiPartlo: For sure!

May 3, 9:49 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): 3. Which aspects of the author's stories felt most resonant with your own?

May 3, 9:49 PM

KimEdsen: Yes!

May 3, 9:50 PM

Cindy March: Making do with less and still surviving.

May 3, 9:50 PM

KimEdsen: I grew up with gardening and fishing and road trips eating sandwiches at parks along the way, so I really identified with those stories. I think it was the concepts of making do (like Cindy, said!)

May 3, 9:51 PM

JudiPartlo: Her closeness with her siblings while they were young, being poor and making it work

May 3, 9:51 PM

PatriciaMoore: I noticed that she took care of herself....like deciding to come home after school because I had to take care of myself that way

May 3, 9:51 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Me too Kim.. but I didn't know we were "making do".. I thought that's what everyone did.

May 3, 9:51 PM

KimEdsen: I liked her curiosity and her faith in herself - she just worked out how to cook like Julia, even if it took some trial and error

May 3, 9:52 PM

KimEdsen: Jennifer, agreed.

May 3, 9:53 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): My parents eat out a lot now, but my parents as they were in 1988 would be astonished at how we live now.

May 3, 9:53 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): So the flip of this question is...

May 3, 9:53 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): 4. Which were more difficult to connect or relate to?

May 3, 9:54 PM

Cindy March: When I was a kid, going out to dinner was a big deal.

May 3, 9:54 PM

JudiPartlo: Couldn't connect with her dad cooking since I never ever saw my dad cook - or even grill!!!

May 3, 9:54 PM

KimEdsen: We still don't eat out a ton...my kids actually prefer to eat at home! We live in a rural area, so it's often not worth the hassle, plus, what we make is almost always better than what we'd get out!

May 3, 9:55 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): I feel like my family's story has been relatively uneventful compared to the author's.

May 3, 9:55 PM

PatriciaMoore: My family didn't play..Dad didn't cook, or fish. No fun road trips or outings

May 3, 9:55 PM

JudiPartlo: Yes, the big moves were different than what I experienced.

May 3, 9:55 PM

KimEdsen: My grandparents were more reserved, or at least the ones I remember. My paternal grandfather was supposedly pretty jovial, but he died when I was 6, so I remember little of him.

May 3, 9:56 PM

KimEdsen: We definitely didn't own a restaurant or move cross country!

May 3, 9:56 PM

Cindy March: No moves or restaurants for me.

May 3, 9:56 PM

PatriciaMoore: yes, same house

May 3, 9:57 PM

KimEdsen: My aunt and uncle did own a restaurant though...and when we visited, which was rare as they were far away, we thought it was such a blast to bus tables!

May 3, 9:57 PM

Guest8675 (Guest): My dad always cooked breakfast & Sunday evening meal which was usually Welsh rarebit over waffles

May 3, 9:58 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): We did move from Michigan to Texas when I was 9... but it was very planned long in advance.

May 3, 9:58 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): 5. How much do you know of your parents, grandparents. and great-grandparents? Did reading this book make you want to learn more?

May 3, 9:59 PM

KimEdsen: Guest 8675 - that sounds delicious! My Dad cooked rarely, but one time I remember making him Brussels sprouts with cheese sauce and he turned the cheese sauce green!

May 3, 10:00 PM

Guest8675 (Guest): I know LOTS about my grandparents - 1 lived with us and the others lived a few miles away - always had weekend sleepovers and Sunday Dinner together - also lots of vacations together.

May 3, 10:01 PM

JudiPartlo: My dad and brother have done a lot of family genealogy, so I have plenty of factual information, but not so much about their personalities and things that made them unique. We lived far away from most of my relatives and only saw them about once a year.

May 3, 10:01 PM

ShannonJones: I know a lot about my parents, a little about my grandparents, nothing about my great-grandparents.

May 3, 10:02 PM

KimEdsen: I don't know as much about my family as the author did. We have had more conversations in the past 10 years since I've been scrapbooking, so I feel like I'm learning some, but my parents aren't always very apt to share or don't understand why I might find it interesting. I find it does help to have photos to prompt stories, or when I've done some ancestry research...like WHY was Grandpa in SD when he was 3 years old? What happened to Great Grandpa between the 1930 census and 1940?

May 3, 10:02 PM

Guest8675 (Guest): @10 years ago, I bought few of those books with questions to Ask your parents - my parents did great and we learned a lot, my husband's parent were really reluctant too answer ("Nobody cares about that stuff!")

May 3, 10:02 PM

KimEdsen: Spoiler alert: he was shot and killed by his son while hunting rats in the barn! Yikes!

May 3, 10:03 PM

KimEdsen: Guest 8675 - I bought two of those types of books when my girls were born but my mom wasn't very receptive to filling them out...maybe I can give them another try!

May 3, 10:03 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Yikes, for sure!

May 3, 10:03 PM

PatriciaMoore: I know a lot about all my family in general, but not a lot of specific daily routines.

May 3, 10:04 PM

Guest8675 (Guest): Kim - not sure why I am a "Guest"

May 3, 10:04 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): I feel the desire to try to create a general timeline to put in my Before Your Story album.. for all the stuff that happened before I was born.

May 3, 10:05 PM

Guest8675 (Guest): @jennifer Wilson Great Idea !

May 3, 10:05 PM

KimEdsen: Crazy , but I had never heard that story until I asked about the census thing. I think people are less apt to share stories they feel are negative, or shed light on something they're not proud of (either of themselves or their family history)

May 3, 10:05 PM

PatriciaMoore: true Kim

May 3, 10:06 PM

KimEdsen: Guest8675 - I wonder if it has to do if you access the chat from the Book Club side of things vs.the Member site where you'd be signed into your account?

May 3, 10:06 PM

Guest8675 (Guest): @kim edsen agreed

May 3, 10:07 PM

KimEdsen: Though, it could be that some things aren't best shared with children - like how the author's Dad didn't share information about his childhood until he felt she was ready to hear it.

May 3, 10:07 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Here on the main website you can log in with social media account or as guest..not connected to your member login.

May 3, 10:08 PM

ShannonJones: I sorta always thought someone would be around that could tell me about the past....but my dad passed away a few weeks ago, all my grandparents died many years ago, all aunts and uncles are gone,my mom is the only one left and she only knows about her immediate family. Time flies, and then everyone is gone that could have told you about the family history.....

May 3, 10:08 PM

JudiPartlo: I'm so sorry for your loss, Shannon.

May 3, 10:09 PM

PatriciaMoore: I didn't get some important info until I was an adult. Then it was an important puzzle piece to the way things were in our family.

May 3, 10:09 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): So sorry to hear this Shannon. Time does go by so much faster than we think it will.

May 3, 10:09 PM

KimEdsen: Shannon, so sorry to hear about your Dad's passing. So true about how quickly time passes.; you always think you'll have time

May 3, 10:09 PM

NancyFrazier: So true - I have lost 2 children.

May 3, 10:10 PM

PatriciaMoore: Sorry Shannon. I waited too long to ask questions

May 3, 10:10 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Many hugs Nancy.

May 3, 10:10 PM

PatriciaMoore: so I understand

May 3, 10:10 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): 6. In what ways do you think your family's history has shaped your present-day experience?

May 3, 10:11 PM

KimEdsen: Yes, life definitely throws unexpected curve balls. My sympathies, Nancy.

May 3, 10:11 PM

NancyFrazier: The discussions & questions are really important for understanding who we are!

May 3, 10:11 PM

PatriciaMoore: sooo sorry Nancy for your loss

May 3, 10:12 PM

ShannonJones: Thanks.... and, yeah,... if you have people around that can tell you about the past, you should ask the questions now instead of assuming you can ask them later.... I really wish I had asked some things before it was too late....

May 3, 10:12 PM

PatriciaMoore: I feel like I wasn't prepared for life and have struggled to learn

May 3, 10:12 PM

ShannonJones: soooo sorry, Nancy... .... can't even imagine....

May 3, 10:12 PM

NancyFrazier: There are many blessings too - I have 7 amazing grandchildren - triplets who I get to care for every day!

May 3, 10:13 PM

JudiPartlo: Oh, Nancy, I'm very sorry for your loss, too. These things remind me of how important it is to connect with our loved ones while we can.

May 3, 10:13 PM

NancyFrazier: YES

May 3, 10:13 PM

KimEdsen: I think it has instilled a DIY tendency; once upon a time it was probably for financial reasons, we rarely had work men at our house for repairs, my Dad just did it all; now it's more a source of pride/preference

May 3, 10:13 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): One of the themes that bubbled up for me in this book was how, despite all the things that change, so much of what we experience remains the same. There are hardships and joys, fun times and trying times.

May 3, 10:14 PM

KimEdsen: For me , I think it's a sense of independence, vs. dependence on others.

May 3, 10:14 PM

PatriciaMoore: yes, what goes around tends to come around again...maybe in a little different way but familiar

May 3, 10:15 PM

KimEdsen: So true, Jennifer - no matter the generation, or the cultural /political situations, some things definitely endure

May 3, 10:17 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Shifting gears a little.... 7. Why do you think memoirs about food are so popular?Are there others you would recommend?

May 3, 10:19 PM

JudiPartlo: This was the first one I have ever read that I can recall, so I definitely enjoyed the change of pace!

May 3, 10:19 PM

NancyFrazier: Everyone eats & every family celebration revolves around food.

May 3, 10:19 PM

KimEdsen: I feel like I have read a lot of these...but titles are escaping me...I agree with Nancy's reasoning

May 3, 10:20 PM

JudiPartlo: I have done a recipe scrapbook for a family reunion and loved how it turned out. Got them spiral bound at a print shop and gave each family one.

May 3, 10:20 PM

NancyFrazier: watch the movie : Julie & Julia

May 3, 10:20 PM

JudiPartlo: Loved that movie, Nancy!!

May 3, 10:20 PM

Kristin (Guest): Me too!

May 3, 10:21 PM

KimEdsen: When my Grandma passed I typed up the recipes in her recipe box and had them printed into books for family members. I tried to make notes - some of which made no sense when I didn't know who 'Ruth' was, etc. and a lot from newspaper clippings, but it was fun to see the types of foods and ingredients that were used.

May 3, 10:22 PM

NancyFrazier: Nourished: A Memoir of Food, Faith & Enduring Love

May 3, 10:22 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): This is part memoir... and includes the recipe from Big Night:https://www.amazon.com/Cucina-Famiglia-Italian-Families-Traditions/dp/0688159028/ref=pd\_sim\_14\_7?\_encoding=UTF8&pd\_rd\_i=0688159028&pd\_rd\_r=DVZ1DN4X3BVAPM1JV6E0&pd\_rd\_w=UUFFQ&pd\_rd\_wg=1m2cm&psc=1&refRID=DVZ1DN4X3BVAPM1JV6E0

May 3, 10:24 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): That's awesome Kim.. I have my grandma's recipe cards in a two albums. One is for desserts and the other is everything else. She had a sweet tooth.

May 3, 10:24 PM

NancyFrazier: When we have a family wedding, I ask both sides of the families to contribute recipes & print a cookbook for the newlyweds .

May 3, 10:24 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Love that Nancy!

May 3, 10:24 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): 8. Have you scrapbooked about favorite foods or food-related traditions?

May 3, 10:24 PM

KimEdsen: Oh, this was one I liked: <https://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0062080903/dialost-20>

May 3, 10:24 PM

NancyFrazier: I so want to to that!

May 3, 10:24 PM

Cindy March: Yes-holiday meals.

May 3, 10:25 PM

KimEdsen: Dinner: A Love Story revolved around a family and eating dinner together mixed in with family stories and recipes. I can highly recommend the grandmother's meatballs.

May 3, 10:25 PM

NancyFrazier: LOVE Jenny's website

May 3, 10:26 PM

KimEdsen: I have scrapbooked about food - I did one last summer about summer foods and one when the girls were little and we made pumpkin custard, just like my grandma did regularly - all the deliciousness of pumpkin pie without the work of making the crust!

May 3, 10:26 PM

NancyFrazier: So important for families to eat together

May 3, 10:26 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Food-related memoirs are totally up my alley! We could do a whole Book Club just on those.

May 3, 10:26 PM

ShannonJones: never thought to scrapbook about food....but maybe I will now...that's a good idea

May 3, 10:26 PM

NancyFrazier: YES

May 3, 10:27 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): I sometimes think I scrapbook about food too much.

May 3, 10:27 PM

NancyFrazier: LOL

May 3, 10:28 PM

KimEdsen: I do love food memoirs - it's one of my favorite genres...which is probably why I've read 3 of this author's books. I also enjoyed one by Ruth Reichl...I think she was a restaurant critic for some NY paper or magazine...I'm bad with remembering titles...

May 3, 10:28 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Yes, I've read one of hers.

May 3, 10:29 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Alright... one last question for tonight!

May 3, 10:29 PM

KimEdsen: Here it is - not really a memoir - this is a novel but revolves a lot around food and a 'plucky 12-year-old' https://www.amazon.com/Delicious-Novel-Ruth-Reichl-ebook/dp/B00GL3PXAM/ref=la\_B000AQ403C\_1\_1?s=books&ie=UTF8&qid=1525400930&sr=1-1

May 3, 10:30 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): 10. How did your experience reading this book compare with others in the Book Club? Would you like the Book Club to include more selections in this genre?

May 3, 10:30 PM

Cindy March: That would be great.

May 3, 10:31 PM

JudiPartlo: It was a refreshing change - nice not to have to think hard or try to see how I can improve in my life. I'd love to see some more books like this.

May 3, 10:31 PM

KimEdsen: I enjoyed it - it was more focused on story telling . Some of the self-help ones can feel pretty heavy, depending on the author and approach

May 3, 10:31 PM

NancyFrazier: Has anyone read: Life From Scratch: A Memoir of Food, Family, and Forgiveness Paperback – March 1, 2016

May 3, 10:31 PM

Cindy March: The Recipie Club is a sweet novel with lots of recipes.

May 3, 10:32 PM

KimEdsen: Nancy - I have! I enjoyed that one.

May 3, 10:32 PM

NancyFrazier: thanks

May 3, 10:32 PM

KimEdsen: Cindy, good to know.

May 3, 10:32 PM

PatriciaMoore: It was refreshing to read ....a break from the other books that required deep thought . Like to have a mixture of reading experience.

May 3, 10:32 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): I found it refreshing as well.

May 3, 10:32 PM

Cindy March: Lots of great book suggestions.

May 3, 10:33 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): I think memoir is a good genre to help us look at storytelling in new ways and create new motivation to tell our stories.

May 3, 10:33 PM

NancyFrazier: yes

May 3, 10:33 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): I'd like to include more in 2019, so I'll be interested to hear of others that are easy-reading and not necessarily food related.

May 3, 10:34 PM

PatriciaMoore: I sent you a FYI today for a book to consider

May 3, 10:35 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Thank you Pat.. I'll check it out! I'm so behind on my email.

May 3, 10:35 PM

KimEdsen: Oooh, I will have to think - my 'in real life' book club read one a few months back about a woman cleaning out her family home after her mother passes away, which sounds so depressing, but it was really a reconciling of her memories of her parents and what they're lives were actually like...again, the title escapes me, but I'll figure it out!

May 3, 10:35 PM

KimEdsen: ***woman*** ***their*** must be getting late...I can't type

May 3, 10:36 PM

PatriciaMoore: LOL

May 3, 10:36 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Thank you all for joining me tonight! I love these discussions and can't wait to explore The Four Tendencies next month.

May 3, 10:37 PM

KimEdsen: Got it: They Left Us Everything by Plum

Johnson <https://www.goodreads.com/book/show/18333481-they-left-us-everything>

They Left Us Everything: A Memoir by Plum Johnson

May 3, 10:37 PM

PatriciaMoore: My copy is arriving tomorrow

May 3, 10:37 PM

Cindy March: Thanks Jennifer.

May 3, 10:37 PM

Kristin (Guest): Yay! Thanks! ❤️

May 3, 10:37 PM

KimEdsen: Night, all!

May 3, 10:37 PM

Cindy March: Have a nice night everyone.

May 3, 10:37 PM

JudiPartlo: Goodnight, all!!

May 3, 10:37 PM

PatriciaMoore: Happy International Scrap Day...thanks ladies

May 3, 10:37 PM

Jennifer Wilson (Moderator): Good night, friends! <3
