Westfield Council Unveils Plan For Paving of Roads

By REBECCA MEHORTER

WESTFIELD — The Westfield Town Council unveiled its multi-year road improvements plan at the end of March. The plan utilizes a road assessment that was completed in 2019 and gave the streets of Westfield an empirical score based on their condi-

The assessment was done two years ago by a third-party engineering firm, Councilman David Contract said in a meeting with residents from and near Myrtle Avenue. Roads with scores of 40 or under are considered poor/very poor and are the top priority to repave. The average score on the paving plan was approximately 51. The road with the lowest score, claiming the title of the worst road in Westfield, is Hampton Court, with a score of 25. When first released at the end of March, the plan listed the roads to be paved in 2021, 2022 and 2023, but in response to resident feedback, the council added a list for 2024 to the plan as well. "We are going to be adding a fourth year of paving to that plan ... to make sure all roads in the two worst categories are paved over the next four years," Councilman Contract said at the April 6 town council conference meeting. "I think it's smart, and also given how much variability is in this plan, it's highly likely that some of these roads will be paved sooner."

The speed at which roads are paved partially depends on how public bidding goes for the town. Town Administrator Jim Gildea said at the April 6 conference meeting that if the bids come in under the budgeted amount, the town can add roads or expedite the process because it will have more funds. He also said more roads will be paved because of the relatively new partnership between utility compa-

> to be able to pave the half of the side where they trenched to put in new pipes — no longer. If a utility company does work and opens up a road, they have to pave curb-to-curb now.'

The partnership benefits both parties, Mr. Gildea said. "The utilities are coming to us now seeking to do work in town because now we know that if they do work of a certain length, the whole road has to be paved curbto-curb," he said. "And now they know that we're likely to approve their project, rather than defer it, because ve're in need of getting paving done.'

The road-paving plan, which can be found online at westfieldnj.gov/ roadimprovements, lists which streets will be paved by the town and which will be paved by utility companies.

The town is still able to do pothole paving and patching if roads are in bad shape, Councilman Contract told Myrtle Avenue residents.

"We still have a lot more paving to do, but we're trying to tackle it worst first, because that's the appropriate way to do it," Councilman Contract said. "We have to pave the roads in the worst shape."

Commissioners Adopt $16.8M Ordinance for New Complex

By MICHAEL P. CARVALHO

COUNTY — The Union County Board of County Commissioners adopted an ordinance to appropriate $16,750,000 for the Union County Government Complex Project during its bi-weekly meeting last Thursday.

This ordinance was introduced at the board's March 25 meeting, when was given its first reading. During last week's meeting, the ordinance was then voted on and adopted by the board after the meeting was opened up for public comment on the ordinance. The $16.75 million will be appropriated from the capital improvement fund and capital surplus.

Bibi Taylor, director of the Union County Department of Finance, was on hand at the meeting to explain where exactly the funds are coming from and why this path was taken.

"The capital ordinance that is on for consideration this evening is being funded as a result of all of the ordinances that we have previously cancelled when projects were completed and we would close out the books. If those were funded, those pieces of the funded ordinances would lapse to capital surplus," explained Ms. Taylor.

"And we've done that throughout the years in order to build up what is essentially a nest egg, so that way we don't have to issue debt for projects," continued Ms. Taylor.

Started in 2020, the Union County Government Complex Project involves consolidating the county's administrative services into two new buildings that would be constructed on the site of the county's motor vehicle services division in Elizabeth.

The Union County Improvement Authority is tasked with the planning, design and construction of the new county government complex at 61-99 West Grand Street. The project will allow the county to continue efforts to reduce its lease and overhead costs, while providing efficient service delivery for county residents.

Ms. Taylor added, "As the ordinance relates to the government complex, that project is anticipated to save approximately over $100 million as a result of coming out of leases.'

The original estimation for the roject ranged from $100 million to $145 million and will allow the county to combine its government infrastructure into one complex.

"So, when we are issuing the debt for this project, the debt that we are authorizing is $120 million and we are using capital surplus and capital improvement funds in order to not have to issue debt for the additional $16.7 million associated with the project," explained Ms. Taylor.

DIGroup Architecture, a New Brunswick-based firm, was awarded the design contract for what will be a two-building, 225,000-square-foot project to help consolidate the county's footprint.

Westfield Democrats Introduce Familiar Faces As '21 Candidates

By REBECCA MEHORTER

WESTFIELD — The Westfield Democratic Committee has announced its nominees for mayor and Wards 1 through 4 council seats for the upcoming elections. Mayor Shelley Brindle and incumbent council members Linda Habgood, Michael Dardia, David Contract and Dawn Mackey are running for re-election under the name "Westfield Together."

Mayor Brindle said that the past four years have taught her to have a high level of empathy when dealing with resident concerns. "If it's important to them, then it's important to me," she said, even when she personally does not consider a concern a high priority. She said that, as mayor, she has realized that "things aren't always what they seem" in local government. She said that as a resident, she assumed slow progress indicated incompetence, but there are procedures in place to make changes that are important. She said the hard work town officials have done — like the Master Plan Re-examination — is complete, and now, "the fun part" of implementing the public input into physical changes can begin.

"When you're a local politician, saying 'no' is very easy; saying 'yes' is hard," Mayor Brindle said. "Our town is in the middle of a reinvention, and I want to be part of it.

Councilwoman Habgood, who represents Ward 1, serves as chair of the Finance Policy Committee and as a member of the planning board. She also is a co-founder of the Westfield Mental Health Council. Reflecting on her last four years, Councilwoman Habgood said she has learned the importance of communication and echoed Mayor Brindle's statement about the process of government.

"As an elected official, I think it is paramount that residents have clarity on the nuances of complex issues or ordinances that I am voting on and why," she said. "Change is welcome and possible, but sometimes takes longer than you want it to!'

She said she hopes to finish the projects this group of officials have started, namely, further diversifying the town's revenue sources "to further reduce the burdens on the resident taxpayers," advancing redevelopment that is both "smart and environmentally protective" and improving town parks.

Ward 2 Councilman Dardia chairs the Pedestrian Safety, Transportation and Parking Committee and serves on the Public Works Committee. He said the long-term strategic plan the Westfield Together team has created is ready to be actualized. "It is now time to put those plans into action by realizing this vision that will enable and encourage more visitors to our downtown stores and restaurants," he Individually, Councilman Dardia said he will focus on resident safety, including community-policing efforts and providing "adequate fire department resources, including the planning and funding for a much-needed new firehouse that meets modern safety standards." He also mentioned improvements to street lights and pedestrian-safety measures.

"The pandemic has certainly challenged us in many ways, but many of our challenges can also be reframed as opportunities," Councilman Dardia said. "When I watched the coverage on various news channels, I couldn't help but think that Westfield would be the place where I would want to live if I was a young parent in the city considering a move.

Councilman Contract, of Ward 3, chairs the Public Works Committee and is the vice chair of the Finance Committee. He also serves as the liaison to the Green Team and to Lifelong Westfield. Like his colleagues, Councilman Contract cited the importance of communication as what he has learned during his term. "This took on even more significance during the pandemic when communication about health and safety protocols and shutdowns/openings/ vaccinations became critical and misinformation could turn out to be literally harmful," Mr. Contract said via

Mindowaskin Park Takes on Spring Cleaning

By REBECCA MEHORTER

WESTFIELD — Mindowaskin Park is currently undergoing a spring metamorphosis. Passersby may notice the cleared Daffodil Bank, also known as Daffodil Hill, where the town has removed overgrowth and a few trees. While clearing the area, the Garden Club of Westfield spotted what is believed to be a Native American mortar. The mortar was previously donated to the park, but its precise location had been lost for some time, according to Margaret Allen of the Garden Club of Westfield.

Town Administrator Jim Gildea said the Friends of Mindowaskin Park has requested the town's assistance on the project for years. Mr. Gildea said that the town was inspired to take on the project after Clara Christian, the Westfield Girl Scout who is creating a sensory garden in Mindowaskin, started her project. The town is getting input from the Friends of Mindowaskin, Ms. Christian, the Department of Public Works and the garden club for the design and maintenance of the new and improved Daffodil Bank.

"We're only in the beginning phases of restoring the natural beauty to the park," Mr. Gildea said in the April 6 town council conference meeting. He said the design and implementation of plans will continue throughout the spring and summer.

Last Friday, the Garden Club of Westfield discovered what members believe to be a Lenape grinding mortar buried in the hill. Garden club member Margaret Allen said that the artifact was intentionally placed there long ago but that "no one had been

Westfield Zoning Board Approves Five Applications

By REBECCA MEHORTER

WESTFIELD — The Westfield Zoning Board of Adjustment approved five applications at its Monday night meeting, almost making it through its long agenda.

Kenneth and Nancy Leonard withdrew their application for 206 Dickson Drive, and the application of Gilberto Arroyo for 230 Elizabeth Avenue was carried to the board's May meeting. Both applications were started during previous meetings.

Monica Alvarez and Alvaro Quintana of 158 North Euclid Avenue remained elusive after attending neither the last meeting nor this meeting. The board agreed to carry the application to the next meeting and then, if they do not appear again, dismiss the application.

Applicants Howard and Nadine Mandel of 25 North Wickom Drive requested variance relief to build a shed and a basketball backboard. The applicants appeared in February and made changes to address board and neighbor concerns. The board acknowledged the hardships of the applicants' corner lot but noted neighbors' safety concerns. The board approved the application with the following changes/conditions: The shed must remain a temporary structure with no foundation, the remaining portion of the asphalt patio shall not be used as a game court, the property's fence must be moved back to the 15-feet right-of-way and the court asphalt in the town's right-of-way must be removed. The board approved the placement of a basketball hoop less than 15 feet from the property line and a shed placed less than five feet from the property line.

Alyssa Stanek, owner of 251 East Dudley Avenue, brought back an updated application to construct an inground pool and patio on her property, which would exceed maximum improvement coverage. The application was redrawn to add in the pool fencing and pool equipment (which contributes to the coverage) and removed portions of the existing tennis court. The board approved the application on the conditions that the fence surrounding the pool area be solid and six feet high and that the applicant removes a walkway in order to reduce the coverage by approximately 180 square feet.

Garwood Council Reviews Paving, Safety, '21 Budget

By JULIA BONAVITACOLA

GARWOOD – The Garwood Council met last Thursday, at which time officials updated residents of the borough on various recent and upcoming events. Councilman Sean Benoit was absent for this meeting.

Mayor Sara Todisco started the night with an update on the paving contractor for Elizabethtown Gas. Mayor Todisco said that paving is planned on numerous streets, curb to curb. The work was scheduled to begin on April 14 and should last five days, weather permitting. Mayor Todisco said that she was able to add an additional block to the initial contract that was originally requested by a resident.

"This also proves the point that it's always worth asking," said Mayor Todisco. The streets to be paved include the dead-end street of Fourth Avenue, Third Avenue, Cedar Street, Walnut Street, Second Avenue and the first 25 feet of Maple Street. All affected homes will receive fliers before the paving

Mayor Todisco closed by congratulating Paul Nieves on being sworn in as a Union County Superior Court Judge. Judge Nieves is a local resident who has spent the last 22 years as a Deputy Attorney Gen-

Councilman Michael Ince said that the police department is "kicking off its month-long 'Street-Smart New Jersey Pedestrian Safety' campaign with a news conference...on Wednesday April 14." The sociallydistant event was to include a review of steps to make the roads safer. The infrastructure proposals from the campaign also are being installed now and will be done by the end of the spring.

Councilman Mark Lazarow gave a summary of the special budget meeting that was held on April 5.

"I wanted to clear up any confusion about salary increases. In 2020, all non-union salaried employees did not receive any increase. In 2021, the introduced budget includes a 2-percent increase for these employees, with the exception of the CFO and borough administrator, who are receiving the statutorily-required increase of 2 percent for 2020 and the 2-percent increase for 2021," said Councilman

The total budget for the Borough is $8,736,855, with $6,352,512 to be raised by taxes. The increase totals $144,334 over last year, raising the average home by $80 for the municipal portion of the tax bill. Printed copies of the budget are available to the public upon request.

Councilman Lazarow also gave his report on Garwood Public Library activities. A book discussion group will meet on Monday, April 19. A Zoom link for the discussion group will be sent via email after registration. On Tuesday, April 20, a virtual adult craft class will be held. Registration is limited to 10 people. All participants will receive a craft kit after registration for the class. Lastly, the library director has expressed interest in resuming story time next month. The library will use the grassy area in the back of Hartman Park given the warmer weather.

Councilman Vincent Kearney gave a report for the Celebrations Committee in Councilman Benoit's absence. "Kudos are certainly due for the entire Celebrations Committee. They put together a heck of an event this year...The Easter Bunny ride-around with the assistance of the volunteer fire department was very well received," said Councilman Kearney.

The activities for Easter that were arranged by the committee were met with praise, according to Councilman Kearney. He also thanked the fire department for all of its help with the Easter festivities.

Councilman Kearney additionally thanked everyone who supported the Restaurant Week initiative. "I hope to see our community continue to support all of our local businesses no matter what the day or week is," he said.

This meeting also marked the first time Deputy Clerk Catherine Cameron conducted the reading of minutes and presentation of ordinances to the governing body, a duty usually performed by Borough Administrator/Municipal Clerk Christine Ariemma. email. He mentioned, as an example, his "near daily" updates to residents throughout the pandemic and after council meetings.

Councilman Contract said that, if reelected, he hopes to further invest in town infrastructure, implement the recommendations of the Master Plan Re-examination and the Parks Master Plan, and improve the town's sustainability in the next four years.

Ward 4 Councilwoman Mackey chairs the Town Code Review and Property Committee and is the liaison to both the Downtown Westfield Corporation and the Westfield Public Arts Commission. She also said the municipal processes are, "more complex than they seem. Every promising idea requires more hours, energy, oversight and coordination than expected, especially because it carries with it the obligation to be a responsible steward of taxpayer monies."

Councilwoman Mackey said she hopes to build on those initiatives, like AddamsFest, the Westfield Public Arts Commission, Yoga on Quimby and the seesaw installation, that have "an intrinsic economic invigorator as a core component" if she is reelected. "It is my goal to make sure these pursuits have the roots to sustain themselves and flourish into the future," she stated.

Cranford Committee Reviews 2021 Budget

By MARTA ESQUÍROZ

CRANFORD — The township committee approved the 2021 budget during its official meeting on uesday night.

With the total amount of $39,312,880, the township will designate $1,255,835 of the budget to the swimming pool utility to address the deficit that the pool has been suffering "for years," as Mayor Kathleen Miller Prunty pointed out.

Resident Gina Black questioned the portion of the budget that was assigned to the pool. Chief Financial Officer Lavonna Patterson explained that in 2020, the pool utility revenues were approximately $600,000 with a budget of $1.7 million. "We were really short last year," she said.

"This is a tendency that has been going on for the last few years. We have three pools, and to maintain these pools, the memberships have to be there, and they're not. That's the problem."

Ms. Black pointed out that the miscellaneous package portion of the budget, which usually includes clubs and all the special programs the pool offers, was increased to $305,835 without having kids' clubs. Ms. Black doubted if the township will make this number.

Ms. Patterson explained that even though there will not be kids' clubs this summer, the pool will open up other activities, such as swimming

During the meeting, the township committee gave an update on Covid-19, as the township continues adding new cases each week.

With 12 new cases last week, Mayor Miller Prunty announced that Cranford had passed the one-year mark since Covid-19 arrived in the township in March 2020.

Mayor Miller Prunty encouraged citizens to keep wearing masks, practicing social distance and getting vaccinated. "Covid is still in Cranford," she remarked, although she noted that the number of cases "is certainly better than it was a year ago.'

"Since last summer, the trend in the confirmed cases in Cranford has not really been in long-term-care nursing facilities, but in what we describe as in the community,"

Mayor Miller Prunty said. Health Officer Mike Fitzpatrick attributed the beginning of the trend to what he said was poor guidance provided by the state government.

'A year ago, in March, we essentially had a situation where nobody knew so much about Covid. And the state government said that we didn't need to do anything in nursing homes or hospitals," Mr. Fitzpatrick said.

He continued by saying that be-cause of this lack of knowledge, the health workers "were the most vulnerable," and since they were moving to different facilities, "they spread the virus.'

Now that they have addressed the situation in health-care facilities, Mr. Fitzpatrick said, the focus is "in the community" and that the spread of the virus comes from "multiple locations.'

'Sports like lacrosse and soccer have some significant impact, as well as people are getting more comfortable going out, and groups are getting together," Mr. Fitzpatrick said. He expressed that, "the high density of the New Jersey state" also may "have an impact on this Emergency Management Coordinator Matt Lubin added that longdistance traveling also is part of this equation, as people are resuming trips because of vaccinations.

'It is something that people should still avoid because of the different pandemic restrictions that the different states may have that could impact ours," Mr. Lubin said.

The next township committee meeting will be on Monday, April 26, at 7 p.m. The public hearing on the 2021 budget will be held at the Cranford Municipal Building on Tuesday, May 11, at 8 p.m.

Zoning Bd. Hearing Resumes For Proposed Development

By MARTA ESQUÍROZ

CRANFORD — The zoning board of adjustment continued hearing an application Monday night from Cranford Harrison Developers LLC, which is seeking to build new luxury apartments at 24 South Avenue West.

This time, the applicant had professional planner Barbara Ellen give testimony. She explained the project again, providing more details and new changes that the applicant has made to address the board's con-

The applicant is proposing 75 residential units along with parking, retail space and a residential lobby. Ms. Ellen added that the project would have a courtyard by framing the second floor, creating a Board Vice-Chair Ronald Marotta expressed his concern about this concrete building's density. He contrasted the thickness of other projects that are taking place in Cranford with this one, saying it has "higher density."

"Cranford Crossing or Riverfront has 30 to 40 units per acre while this one is seeking to have 100 units per acre," Mr. Marotta remarked.

Mr. Marotta continued questioning the benefits that this "density" could bring to the community and the neighborhoods across the property's street.

Ms. Ellen defended the development by pointing out that township able to find it" in the overgrowth. She said the garden club met with Mr. Gildea on Thursday to provide input on the area.

Ms. Christian's sensory garden is named Veronica's Garden after Ms. Christian's cousin, who has Down Syndrome. The Girl Scout Gold Award project was approved approximately a year ago and will be 2,500 square feet in size. The Gold Award is the highest achievement a Girl Scout can attain and is meant to make a positive difference in the community. Ms. Christian said she plans to add more plantings near the back of the garden as a second phase because she has approximately $1,500 left over to spend. She said she would like to install some donated art pavers to add to the project. The council gave its approval for the additional aspects.

You've inspired us, with the whole Daffodil Bank — you've been an inspiration," Mayor Shelley Brindle told Clara at the April 6 conference meeting. "Your garden is worthy of the rest of it looking as great.'

Residents can get more details about the garden's layout and about Ms. Christian at veronicasgarden.org

Residents may have noticed the foundation lit up blue at the park. Councilman Michael Dardia thanked the Department of Public Works at the April conference meeting for acknowledging and celebrating National Autism Awareness Month. Mr. Gildea said the lighting device will be used for other events as well.

Mr. Gildea also mentioned at the April 6 meeting that the town uncovered an electrical issue in which electrical lines were in the ground between the playground and town hall. He said the conduit was deteriorated and the threat of electrocution forced the town to turn off a section of the park's light. He said the town is looking at its options to either fix or replace the lines.

ordinances also envisioned hotels or theaters for this area, which would be more "impactful than any residential neighborhood, providing a lot of traffic at a concentrated time.' According to Ms. Ellen, the township envisioned these projects for this space by permitting these uses.

"There's a more intense use of the vision by the ordinance," she said. Dan Aschenbach, board secretary, remarked that the project's density is still higher and is "double what the board is permitting.

"It seems like a lot of activity in a small space," he stated.

Mr. Marotta also addressed the number of children this structure could add to the school district. Ms. Ellen explained that, "74 percent of the units are studios and one-bedroom, and they don't tend to generate school children."

"Our numbers used in November 2019 anticipated a total of five public-school children generated by the affordable units," Ms. Ellen said, pointing out that any property with these kinds of units will always provide school children.

However, the parking area generated the most doubts among board members. The applicant proposed 95 parking spaces, of which 21 would be stackable spots, which would be assigned to the two- and three-bedroom apartments. It also would include four accessible spots and seven Zipcars, vehicles that would be accessible for both residents and public use. Ms. Ellen pointed out that the applicant considered this to be "a good offer for the town."

The board agreed that the application lacks information about the stack parking, the minimum height of these spots, the entrance and exit of cars proximity to the front doors and the Zipcars' location and rules. Any change in these variances also can change the number of parking spots the applicant is requesting.

Because of the lack of time that evening, the board decided to continue with the hearing on Monday, June 14, during the second part of the meeting.

Zoning Bd.

An application by Madeline Lee to install solar panels on the front roof at 59 Michael Drive perplexed the board. Engineer Laurence Murphy gave his expert testimony, saying that the back roof panels would not generate enough energy to be efficient. He said the roof is not oriented in an effective way for solar panels, so the panels on the front and back are necessary. The rear panels only produces 38.8 percent of the total energy needed for the house, Mr. Murphy said. With the front panels, the homeowners would be as close to 100-percent energy as possible, procuring somewhere within 80 percent

The applicants admitted that the solar panels were already built even though they did not receive proper approval.
"I wish it wasn't here this way, but it is what it is, and I want to promote the use of solar in town," Chair Chris Masciale said. The board voted to accept the application as submitted.

Joao Goncalves of 319 Elizabeth Avenue sought approval to install a sixfoot fence in the street side yard; fences on street side yards are supposed to be a maximum of four feet in height. Mr. Goncalves said he hoped to install a sixfoot, white vinyl fence, which he said was consistent with his neighborhood, along the street side yard for added privacy and safety for his children.

The board approved an amended application for Mr. Goncalves to place a six-foot fence along the Columbus Avenue side and the rear of the property, leaving one side open adjacent to the house.

The final application of the night was Michael Guernsey of 154 Harrison Avenue for a side-yard setback relief for an in-ground pool. The application was previously approved with a 15yard setback, Mr. Masciale said, but the pool contractors had made an error in measurement. The project needed to be reassessed with the proper measurement, Zoning Official Lyndsey Knight said. The board approved the application to allow the side yard to the pool to be 13.8 feet on the condition that the existing fence's latticework be replaced with solid fencing.

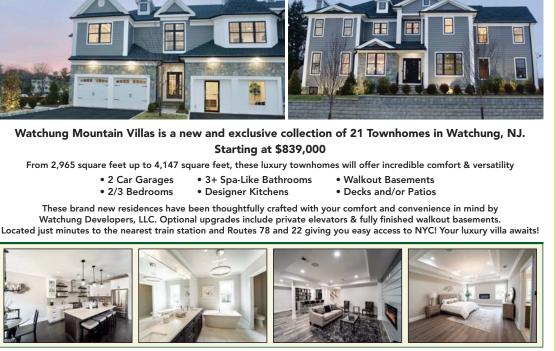

The application of Maureen Higgins for 526 Hanford Place, to construct an in-ground swimming pool and expanded patio, was carried to the May board meeting.

The next zoning board of adjust-ment meeting will take place on Monday, May 10, at 7:30 p.m. Residents can participate via Zoom.

W+H Fifth Graders Take Marine Biology Virtual Tour

AREA — Fifth-grade students at The Wardlaw+Hartridge School in Edison took a virtual walking tour during early March in the town of Port Örford, Ore., to learn about marine biology. The tour took place under the guidance of Jennifer Head, a marine biologist and sister of fifth-grade teacher Tim Head of Cranford, along with other members of the Redfish Rocks Marine Reserve Community Team.

Participants covered 11 topics by watching videos titled "Redfish Rocks Marine Reserve," "Battle Rock," "A Walk on the Beach," "Intertidal Ecology," "Scuba Diving," "Port Orford Sustainable Seafood," "OSU Field Station," "Gray Whale Research," "The Port," "Eco Tourism: South Coast Tours" and "Commercial Fishing."

Ms. Head was joined by colleagues Tom Calvenese, champion of the Redfish Rocks Marine Reserve, director of the Oregon State University field station and leader of the Redfish Rocks Community Team, and Tara Ramsey, developer of the Redfish Rocks/PO Junket to bring their stories to students like you. I hope and pray they are here to tell their stories for many, many years to come," said Ilyse Shainbrown, director of Holocaust Education at the Holocaust Council. "You are probably the last generation to meet with a Holocaust survivor, to meet them face-to-face and hear their story. Think of somebody you will see or speak to in the next 24 hours — your parents, siblings, a friend — and please promise to tell the story of Mr. Peter Fleischmann to that person. If we each tell that story one time, we double the amount of people who hear his story."

WESTFIELD — In 2007, former Westfield Mayor Bud Boothe (1932-2009) sat down with the Westfield Historical Society for a recording of his oral history on the Town of Westfield. The oral recording and YouTube video can be accessed at westfieldhistoricalsociety.org/oralhistory.

Is Vital Lesson For Students "The lesson I would ask you to learn from my story is not necessarily the details of my story but that, in your lives, you cannot go through life with a blind eye or deaf ears,' Mr. Fleischmann added. "Don't stand by and allow something to happen that shouldn't be happening. Don't do something that you shouldn't be doing. Don't be a bystander. Be an upstander."

A stranger also saved Holocaust survivor Sally Frishberg and her family. McKinley Elementary School fifth graders welcomed her for a virtual presentation on March 18.

"Our fifth graders continued a tradition, albeit in a different way, by listening to and learning from Mrs. Frishberg," said McKinley Principal Marc Biunno, Ed.D., in an email to the school community. "Mrs. Frishberg joined our fifth-grade classes remotely and took them through her story while she urged them to be the sorts of people who do the right things on behalf of others.'

Born in Poland in 1934, Mrs. Frishberg shared her experiences as a young child whose family was forced to flee their home in Poland when the Nazis invaded their village. She and her family were taken in by a Polish farmer and hidden in his attic for two years.

"He was the man who saved us," Mrs. Frishberg told the students. "He was an extraordinary man who never gave up helping us."

After the war ended, the family eventually immigrated to America. Mrs. Frishberg, a former high-school teacher, was awarded the Yavner Award for Excellence in Holocaust Education in 2005 and now speaks regularly to students. A mother and grandmother, she encourages her audiences to choose kindness over hate.

"These differences between us are very small. They don't matter," she said. "You reduce the value of your life when you hate.'

"After traveling at night and living in an attic for two years to escape the Nazis, Mrs. Frishberg has taught us to help others through kindness,' said McKinley fifth-grade teacher Ann McDonough, who organized the virtual program with fellow teachers Nicole Giles, William Hannis and Joseph Paradise. "Without the kindness of others, she and many others would never have lived. Never give up hope. Hate hurts but love heals.

Asked about Mrs. Frishberg's presentation, fifth grader Dominick DiDario said, "Hate is never the answer and growing up with that can lead to disastrous things like Hitler. It made me feel encouraged to be more thoughtful."

"Mrs. Frishberg made a point to highlight the ideas of strength, perseverance and courage," Principal Biunno added. "As I listened to her, I thought of perspective and how certain experiences can rock us out of current troubles in order to appreciate where we are and how we live.'

The McKinley fifth-grade team and their students also made a virtual field trip to the Museum of Jewish Heritage in Brooklyn, New York, on March 10.

The museum is "a living memorial to the Holocaust," said Gallery Educator Lisa Hunter as she shared some of the museum's artifacts virtually. "It's very important that we keep the memory alive.'

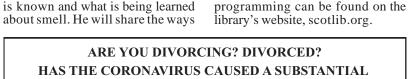

Superintendent Margaret Dolan, Ed.D., noted that these "powerful, age-appropriate presentations" enhance the district's Holocaust Education curriculum.

"We are grateful to Mrs. Frishberg, Mr. Fleischmann and others who share their stories with our school community, reinforcing the common message that hate cannot and will not be tolerated anywhere.'

Knights' Corned Beef Dinner Benefits Scholarship Fund

CRANFORD — Due to Covid-19 restrictions, Cranford Knights of Columbus Council No. 6226 could not hold its annual St. Patrick's Day Dinner Dance in 2020 and again this year in 2021.

As an alternative, the Council decided to hold a corned beef dinner fundraiser that was a tremendous success. Brother Knights and their families cooked more than 650 pounds of corned beef and prepared and sold 550 dinners.

In addition, 110 dinners were donated to Cranford Family Care and five trays of leftover corned beef to St. Joseph Social Service Center in Elizabeth. From the proceeds, the Council was able to raise $4,000, which was donated to the Cranford PAL's Will DeGregorio Scholarship Fund.

The Cranford Knights of Columbus is a Catholic fraternal organization dedicated to four core principles: charity, unity, fraternity and patriotism. The Cranford Council supports multiple charities and civic causes locally, statewide and nationally and is committed to being a viable part of the community. For information about joining the Council, contact Deputy Grand Knight Jerry Conheeney at (908) 416-3464 or visit the Council website at cranfordknights.org.

Michelle Audino's Gold Project Aims to Help Environment

WESTFIELD — Michelle Audino, a sophomore at Westfield High School and a member of Girl Scout Troop 40491, is working toward her Gold Award – the highest award in Girl Scouting — with a project called Tees 2 Totes.

The project involves recycling Tshirts into tote bags. Michelle describes it as, "a fun, easy craft to do with your friends, family, youth groups, sports teams, students and clubs that can support the community and save the environment."

Tees 2 Totes is aimed at combating industrial and freshwater pollution generated by the fashion industry, while also fulfilling a community need, since single-use plastic bags will be banned from stores in New Jersey effective May 2022.
According to Michelle, recycling

T-shirts into totes bags will address two environmental issues — by cut-ting down on fashion-related pollution as well as plastic pollution in landfills and oceans.

The completed, recycled T-shirt tote bags will be donated to various organizations, including The Hope Chest, a thrift shop located in downtown Westfield that benefits the Center for Hope Hospice and Palliative Care, and the Westfield Food Pantry, housed at the Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church.

Michelle Cisneros Initiated Into Phi Kappa Phi

BATON ROUGE, La. — Michelle Cisneros of Mountainside was recently initiated into The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi, the nation's oldest and most selective all-discipline collegiate honor society, which has its headquarters in Baton Rouge, La. Ms. Cisneros was initiated at Fordham University.

Ms. Cisneros is among approximately 30,000 students, faculty, professional staff and alumni to be initiated into Phi Kappa Phi each year. Membership is by invitation only and requires nomination and approval by a chapter. Only the top 10 percent of seniors and 7.5 percent of juniors are eligible for membership. Graduate students in the top 10 percent of the number of candidates for graduate degrees also may qualify, as do faculty, professional staff and alumni who have achieved scholarly distinction. Phi Kappa Phi was founded in 1897 under the leadership of undergraduate student Marcus L. Urann, who had a desire to create a different kind of honor society: one that recognized excellence in all academic disciplines. Today, the Society has chapters on more than 325 campuses in the United States and the Philippines. Its mission is "To recognize and promote academic excellence in all fields of higher education and to engage the community of scholars in service to others."

Since its founding, more than 1.5 million members have been initiated into Phi Kappa Phi. Some of the organization's notable members include former President Jimmy Carter, NASA astronaut Wendy Lawrence, novelist John Grisham and YouTube co-founder Chad Hurley. Each year, Phi Kappa Phi awards more than $1 million to outstanding students and members through graduate and dissertation fellowships, undergraduate study abroad grants, funding for postbaccalaureate development and grants for local, national and international literacy initiatives. Gratitude for Pets: They Promote Well-Being, Especially Now

By PATRICIA STECKLER, Ph.D.

Pet-owners and their dogs and cats create a perpetual love-fest of mutual delight and affection. Rover, Duke, Gruff, and Autumn light up our lives, especially during these pandemic-depriving days. Take a walk, and you'll encounter dogowners pausing to pat their dogs, speaking words of endearment, and who will proudly fill you in on this favorite creature's name, sex, and breed. Dog-less walkers bond with their dog-walking neighbors in moments of mutual pleasure.

A local resident relates her petsharing gratitude tale:

"Our next-door neighbors have come to love our dog, Autumn. They asked this past Sunday morning if they could see her. (We call it 'an Autumn fix.') Since the start of the pandemic, Autumn is allowed inside their home for playdates. She is the only family member currently entering indoor spaces unmasked!"

"I love petting and snuggles with Autumn with touch so scarce these days, and (especially as my kids become more independent)! I love the unconditional devotion of a loyal companion who never tires of you (unlike the human in-home inhabit-

Westfield Board Of Health President Recaps April Meeting

The Westfield Board of Health met on April 5. Covid-19, its effects on Westfield and the programs to keep residents informed and to vaccinate them were the principal areas of discussion.

The Mexifield Leader and The Scotch Plains - Fanwood TIMES

Currently, Covid-19 activity appears to be increasing in New Jersey, probably due to the variants. It would probably be worse if residents were not being vaccinated and continuing to adhere to the 4 Ws when appropriate. These well-established, effective health promotion infection control measures are:

Watch your distance.

Wash your hands.

Work or school only when well. The current vaccination programs in the state have expanded, which should continue to help. Starting April 19, all New Jersey residents at least 16 years old will be eligible to be vaccinated. The Westfield Regional Health Department has had several programs to educate town residents and to help vaccinate Westfield residents who are homebound or less able to access vaccinations. As a clinician who has been vaccinated, I urge you to register for the vaccination too if you are eligible https://covid19.nj.gov/ pages/vaccine.

More information is available at the Westfield Coronavirus Information Center at https:// www.westfieldnj.gov/coronavirus and the State Covid-19 Information Hub at https://covid19.nj.gov/ forms/datadashboard. These may help you go to several community resources to help you get vaccinated or find a vaccination site if

The board unanimously passed a resolution marking the week of April 5 to 11 as National Public Health Week to recognize and celebrate the accomplishments of the Westfield Regional Health Department, its professional and staff personnel and its director, Megan Avallone, RN, MS. The department's employees have worked tirelessly during the past year to provide Covid-19-related services, assistance and information for the residents of Westfield, and we are very grateful. For example, they investigated over 2,000 cases in Westfield residents, answered innumerable queries and assisted getting hundreds of residents vaccinated.

In addition to its work related to Covid-19 prevention, surveillance, education and control, the Westfield Regional Health Department has continued to provide all the public health promotion and disease prevention services required by the state and Westfield sanitary codes. These activities include the following:

animal health and control services, including animal bite investigations, rabies prevention and rat chronic disease screenings, communicable disease control and surveillance, disease and injury prevention and investigations, including of clusters, environmental inspections and licensing, including restaurants and pools, health education,

immunizations for children and adults, including influenza vaccimaternal and child health promotion, including nutritional counseling and support, noise abatement, vaccination audits and

Information about all of the health department's activities, including helpful health-related advice and recommendations and free education programs, is available at https:/ /www.westfieldnj.gov/health. Recent topics in the department's monthly newsletter, "Your Health Matters," include mental health and substance abuse issues related to Covid-19, alcohol awareness and child abuse prevention. It is available on the department's website in the April Newsletter tab.

The complete minutes of the April board meeting will be posted after review and approval at our May 3 meeting, which starts at 5:30 p.m. and will be virtual. As always, the public is invited to attend.

I think it's wonderful that our local newspaper is now including coverage of these important subjects. Issues such as climate change, conservation and extinction are becoming more prevalent in the media and in political discourse, but they are often covered in an abstract way, as if none of these issues really affect us here in New Jersey. But they do, and our choices can have a huge impact.

Not only do we live in the most densely populated state, we have over 1,700 miles of shoreline, according to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Association. Our rivers literally lead to the ocean, and our storm drains lead directly to those waterways — the words "No dumping, drains to waterways" are actually engraved on them. Throughout the pandemic, so many of us found joy and solace in nature.

As Earth Day approaches, let's not forget that. We can each make a difference in our own patches of earth. We can choose not to use poisons and carcinogens on our lawns or synthetic fertilizers that leach into waterways. We can avoid planting invasive species to protect our limited wild spaces, such as Watchung. And we can definitely plant more native flowers to help our state insect, the honeybee, and include swamp milkweed or butterfly weed as food for Monarch caterpillars (it's estimated that the Monarch population in the U.S. has declined more that 80 percent since the mid-1990s). It's easier than you think: Swamp milkweed and other native flowers like joe-pye weed and rose mallow grow readily and vigorously from seed. You just need

Crime Victim Blaming and Shaming Is Alive and Well in Westfield

Sadly, crime victim blaming and shaming is alive and well in Westfield. Like me, I am sure that you have received dozens of Nixle alerts from the town advising of yet another stolen car, but quickly adding that it was "unlocked" or that the "key fob was left inside." I understand and agree that residents should take reasonable precautions to safeguard their property. But is it too much to ask our local elected officials to provide us with a safe community, free from an ever-present risk of theft? That, after all, is there job, not ours. Shouldn't we expect to be able to leave our cars unlocked in our driveways or in front of our homes for a few hours without fear of them being stolen? If we leave our homes unlocked while we walk the dog around the block, is it our fault if someone enters and robs it? Must we (and outof-town shoppers and other visitors to Westfield) be greeted by large electronic message signs at the border scolding us to "Lock Your Car" and

"Hide Your Things"? Is that the best the town can do?

Our kids should be able to leave their bikes unlocked on their front lawn when they go into the house for a drink. Our Amazon deliveries should be free from porch pirates until we bring them inside. And I should be able to walk downtown with my wallet in my back pocket with being accused of "inviting" a pickpocket. We can do better, Westfield, and we should demand better from the local officials we elect this November.

Linda Habgood Announces First Ward Re-Election Bid

I am excited to announce my decision to run for re-election to Westfield's Town Council.

My work on the Council over the last three-plus years has enabled me to play many impactful roles, and I look forward to continuing my work to make Westfield a better place—for

I ask for your support, and I share below just some of the work I have done and will continue to do as your Ward 1 Councilmember and Deputy

I am the four-year Chair of the Finance Policy Committee and help craft the municipal budget alongside the Town Administrator and CFO. My unwavering pledge is to make your tax dollars work hard for you, not sitting idle in excess surplus amounts and earning low interest rates. Under my leadership, we have unlocked hundreds of thousands of dollars sitting idle in trust accounts, tapped close to $3 million in grant monies, doubled the interest rate paid on our savings, kept the average tax increase to 1.1 percent over four years, and initiated an annual public meeting to review how we performed against the budgets we passed.

As a fierce advocate for cost savings and shared services, I constantly question the status quo. This financial decision-making philosophy has allowed us to save money through partnerships with Elizabethtown Gas, contracting with a specialized company to provide school crossing guard services, leasing police vehicles and advocating for shared services in the Court and elsewhere.

When the pandemic hit, I was one of five leaders tapped by the Mayor to execute on the We Love Local strategy to help support our local businesses. I was integrally involved in raising close to $300K in eight weeks, and rapidly disbursing those funds in a fair and transparent way to more than 175 Westfield businesses.

I am Council Liaison to the Historic Preservation Commission. Over the past four years we have designated 6 properties (in the years 2010-2017 there were none), saving one home built in the 1700s from demolition by working with the owner to craft an outside-the-box solution. Ihelped draft changes to Westfield's historic preservation ordinance to make it easier for owners of historic homes to comply, and to enable Westfield's eligibility for greater grant dollars in the future. In addition, homeowners of designated homes can now receive tax abatements on the capital improvements to their properties.

I am the Co-Founder of the Westfield Mental Health Council. I sit on the Council and actively lead the sub-committee focused on driving Westfield's commitment to being stigma-free. C.A.K.E., a phrase I coined, stands for Compassion, Acbehaviors encouraged as we shine a light on the importance of mental health awareness, and equality for all in our community.

I am a four-year and vocal voting member of the Planning Board and a member of the Site Plan Review Committee ensuring that wise and futureminded decisions are made about subdivisions and new construction.

I am the Founder of the Investment Advisory Council, a nine-person volunteer group, including three Westfield High School students, which assists the town in doing analysis and establishing smart long-term capital plans that impact budget decisions at every level.

I am a passionate member of the Stakeholder Committee for Redevelopment. For the past 32 years, my work in finance has been centered on financing smart and effective public/ private partnerships. Every day I translate my professional expertise into my work in Westfield where we are using our stellar bond rating to proactively drive redevelopment and to diversify our sources of municipal revenue.

My commitment to making Westfield better is even stronger today than it was 4 years ago. When I ran for office in 2017, I knocked on every Ward 1 resident's door because I believe that every voice matters; Finding common ground between people, while respecting their differences is a passion of mine. I am excited to further my work with the Brindle Administration, and, moreover, to be accountable to you. Today, I re-commit my promise to use my passion and skills to achieve our collective goals of smart fiscal management, environmentally sensitive preservation, and sound and effective redevelopment.

privilege of realizing the tremendous satisfaction that comes with serving my community. I am grateful for the opportunity to help transform our local government and contribute to the growth and improvement of our amazing town. Personally, I have learned a tremendous amount about collaboration, innovation and how to actualize creative ideas into concrete change. I've learned a tremendous amount by listening to my creative, innovative neighbors and then finding solutions to the issues that are important to them. I've been privileged to be in a position to engage and collaborate with various agencies and organizations to solve complex and consequential problems. I enjoy knowing that solving one neighbor's problem usually helps the entire community. Every small issue we resolve improves the town as a whole.

In spite of the sorrow and challenges we have endured during Covid-19, I am proud of how much we were still able to accomplish. I remain inspired by the resilience and spirit our community demonstrated as we managed through this unprecedented time. I remain committed to building on our past achievements as we look to the next four years. With the public's input, we have spent the last few years establishing a long-term strategic plan for Westfield, focusing on the transformation of our downtown. It is now time to put those plans into action by realizing this vision that will enable and encourage more visitors to our downtown stores and restaurants. I see this as the inception of a robust, prosperous Westfield that will be a model for other towns rebuilding from this pandemic, and I'm excited to offer my contribution to these efforts.

Personally, I am committed to continuing my efforts to ensure the safety of our residents. That includes continuing my work with our police department to support their community policing efforts, prioritizing enforcement of speeding policies and traffic

Contract Applies for Re-Election For Ward 3 Councilman

The Mestfield Leader and The Scotch Plains - Fanwood TIMES

I am thrilled to announce my reelection bid for Ward 3 Town Council.

It's been my honor to represent Ward 3 for the past three plus years, and I hope to have the opportunity to continue to do so for the next four.

I'm running to ensure Westfield continues to move forward. When I ran for council in 2017, I promised to bring "Fresh Ideas and Proactive Leadership" to the council, and this is exactly what I've done — leading to tremendous progress in many areas that I committed to focusing on:

Pave More Roads — Under my leadership as chair of the Public Works Committee, the town has tripled the number of roads paved from 201821 versus the prior four years of 201417. This adds up paving nearly half of Westfield's roads (47 miles to be exact).

Create robust two-way communications with Ward 3 residents — I have worked tirelessly to send out regular email updates to constituents keep you informed. In fact, since joining the council, I've sent out over 500 emails and countless social media posts, including updates after every council meeting and near daily updates since Covid-19 started.

Strong fiscal management and low taxes — As both vice chair and a member of the Finance Committee, I directly contributed to the development of town budgets that have cut municipal tax increases by 44 percent on average during the past four years versus the prior four years. And I've also ensured the town maintained its AAA bond rating and a robust surplus while significantly increasing investments to ensure the town operates more effectively and efficiently, including holding public events, strengthening communication, purchasing needed equipment, increasing use of mobile and digital technology and improving parking in our downtown.

I look forward to serving another four years to maintaining this momentum (along with Mayor Brindle and my fellow council members from Westfield Together) so we can continue to move Westfield forward including:

investing further in our town's infrastructure, implementing the Master Plan Reexamination findings to ensure the long-term economic vitality of our downtown, implementing the Parks Master Plan recommendations to enhance sports and recreational offerings in town, increasing our community's focus on sustainability, improving pedestrian safety and am excited to announce my candiconsistent concern about the condition of our roads. My research indicated that Westfield did not have a process to properly assess road conditions or a plan for efficient repaving. I delivered on my promise to prioritize our paving. Learning that we had no safeguards in place to protect a newly paved road from utility or contractor work, as chairwoman of the Town Property and Code Review Committee, I introduced and passed a protective road ordinance mandating a full, proper repaving of any moratorium road disrupted within seven years. This resulted in a partnership with utilities whereby they now strategically plan their maintenance and absorb repavings costs. These initiatives will have yielded 47 miles of roads repaved by the end of this year, compared to about 16 miles in the prior four years.

As the liaison to the Downtown Westfield Corporation, I spent my first term interacting with business owners and residents community building, creating and developing an environment that is welcoming and engaging for young families as well as established residents featuring activities such as Yoga on Quimby, Dog Days of Summer, Holidays in July and, most recently, the seesaws.

Engaging more than 300 talented and passionate volunteers, students and local artists, Addamsfest has attracted visitors from more than 80 towns and benefits the local economy.

Westfield Public Arts Commission, I have led the efforts that brought the "Art Takes Flight" butterfly sculptures, the murals in the underpass and a new outdoor photography exhibit. Racism Runs Rampant in European Soccer

By WILL MCGLYNN

Over the past few weeks, there have been multiple incidents of racial injustice in big-time European football clubs, and, unfortunately, this is not a new trend. Manchester United, one of the world's most prolific professional football clubs, led all English clubs in arrests of fans having to do with racism with 27 incidents from 2014 to 2018, according to irishtimes.com. Unfortunately, the racism hasn't stopped in the past few years. According to abcnews.com, an incident occurred during a heated match between premier-league title contenders Tottenham and Chelsea. Chelsea defender Antonio Rudiger, who is Black, began to complain to the referee that Tottenham fans had been calling him a monkey. Obviously, Mr. Rudiger was disturbed and upset, and the referee was forced to stop play for the time being.

This incident, like many others, never amounted to any real change. The fans were never identified nor brought to any justice, and Mr. Rudiger was forced to continue playing in a hostile environment.

More recently, racism against footballers has taken to social media. ABlackTottenham defender, Davinson Sanchez, received a lot of racial harassment on social media following a draw against Newcastle. Tottenham fans took to social media posting monkey emojis and writing the words

"Nothing changes." While Tottenham has been involved in many incidents, racism has grown beyond one man or one club; it has become a systemic problem, especially amongst fans.

Mr. Sanchez is one of many to experience racist comments this season. Fellow premier league players such as Manchester United attacker Marcus Rashford, Chelsea's defender Reece James and many more have also been attacked on the premise of their race on social media.

European soccer games have always been known to have rather rowdy fan sections constantly jumping, shouting and cheering for their teams for the full 90 minutes. These rowdy fan sections, though, can turn to unruly behavior that prompts fans to make some horrible comments about players. These comments go beyond the football pitch and really degrade the players as people.

Unfortunately, no effective action has been taken to stop racism toward players who belong to a minority group. The Union of European Football Associations (UEFA) has developed a campaign to stop racism by encouraging clubs to make a conscious effort to educate their fans. Referees are also encouraged by UEFA to combat racism to the best of their abilities by ceasing play in order to settle the crowds and regain order.

According to uefa.com, the official is to stop the game upon the hearing of racist behavior. If the behavior persists after the first restart, the official is to take a long pause and send the players back to the dressing rooms. After five or so minutes, the players will return to the field and begin to play once again. If all else fails, the referee can abandon the match and let UEFA authorities handle the situation. But what does this accomplish?

Now that racism has expanded beyond the field into social media, what does ending the match do besides delay the problem? Comments follow people beyond the pitch and into their homes. So what does ending the match truly accomplish? It may stop the problem for the moment, but it doesn't truly protect these players. This is a systemic issue that needs to be changed by educating the fans. Fans being too excited and too passionate isn't an excuse to tear down another person, and UEFA needs to make a more conscious effort to condemn these fans for their actions because, in many cases, there have been no consequences for their actions.

Truthfully, I'm not sure what the solution is for these players. In the 21st century, you'd think that players could be treated with respect by their passionate fans. Maybe not even respected as players, but, at the very least, respected as men.

Blue Devils Return Six Starters From Very Strong 2019 Squad

Despite missing out on an entire season in 2020, the Westfield High School softball team still returns six starters, along with a few additional experienced players, from the 2019 season when the Blue Devils finished with a very fine 21-3 record, which included winning the Union County Conference Watchung Division title with a 9-0 record.

Offensively, Calugay finished with a .397 BA going 31-for-78 with four home runs, four triples, six doubles and a teamleading 19 walks. She also led the team in stolen bases with eight, scored 31 runs and added 21 RBI.

"We have a nice mix of returning varsity experience combined with some talented newcomers. So far, the energy is really positive and we're looking to be very competitive this season," Blue Devil Head Coach Caitlin Cheddar said.

Defensively the first base position is up for grabs but Casey Laguna, Cat Heflin, Sam Hoffman and Ali Verga are likely candidates. Hoffman could also get time behind the plate and Heflin could be at third base, while Verga and Laguna could roam the outfield. Aden Brooks could assume the catcher's position. Grace Loder will cover leftfield. Sydnee Goulet could see time as a pitcher or in the outfield. Gabby Scipioni could pitch and play second base.

At this point in the season, the batting order could be Stogner, Macaluso, Calugay, Pietrewicz, Hobson, Loder, Fernandez, Brooks and Gordon.

The Blue Devils are expected to begin their regular season at Linden on Monday, April 19. Their first home game will be against Union Catholic on Wednesday, April 21.

McDONALD RECORDS PIN IN FINAL BOUT FOR WINNER

Cougars Nudge BrH2O Panther Wrestlers, 39-36, in Final Bout

By DAVID B. CORBIN

Last minute changes turned the Cougars' cancelled match with Westfield into a showdown with the Bridgewater-Raritan Panthers in Cranford on April 8. By agreement, each team's coaches decided to rest a few of their top wrestlers for the up-coming Super Region 3-4 Tourna-ment that will be held in Union on April 17-18.

"Coach [Mike] Denver and I have a good relationship, so when his match got cancelled, he reached out to me and we both agreed that where we are out in the season it's smarter to leave the guys who could be in the region kind of isolated. Then we talked about just getting our guys matches, so I moved my guy up from 182 to give their 195 guy a match," Cougar Head Coach Pat Gorman explained.

The result of the adjusted match between the Cougars and the Panthers came down to the final bout at 220-lbs. With the Cougars trailing 36-33, Dylan McDonald converted a reversal into a half nelson/body press to pin Josh Guasco in 3:47 to earn Cranford a 39-36 victory. Prior to the fall, McDonald was leading Guasco, 4-2, after recording a reversal and a two-point nearfall.

SPF Baseball Raiders Return One Starter from 2019 UCT Title Team

Prepared By DAVID B. CORBIN

Two years ago the senior-heavy Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School baseball team had a very slow start with a 2-6 record but turned it into an amazing 18-9 season, which included the Raiders' fifth Union County Tournament championship. Only one starter plus one with limited experience return from that 2019 squad, so a lot of yet to be tested faces will step to the plate and fill the defensive position this season. The one returning starter is senior catcher Chris Smith, who recorded a .318 batting average (14-for-44) with three doubles, six RBI, six runs scored and six free passes due to walks of being hit by a pitch. The limited-time returner is senior Dallas Lorenzetti, who had six hits (1 double) in 27 atbats, scored four runs and had three RBI.

As of April 10, "We still haven't finalized varsity and JV roster," commented Raider Head Coach Joe Higgins.

Lorenzetti is expected to play at the shortstop position, seniors Stefon Kennedy will play second base and junior Ryan Beaureguard will cover third base. A trio of candidates could play first base with seniors Lucas Mackey and Kyle Wester, and junior Zach Stagaard, who could also be the designated hitter. Chris Smith will be behind the plate but Beaureguard is also a fine catcher and senior Max Niessen is a capable backup.

Senior football standout Shawn Martin will roam centerfield, while senior Ryan Jones will cover leftfield and senior Joey DiQuollo will cover right field. Other outfielders in the mix are Kennedy and junior Brendan Karyczak, who may alternate between varsity and JV to acquire adequate ticular order) are seniors Alex Smith, Matt Drubulis, Alex Fazzino and DiQuollo. Others in the mix are junior Max Sponheimer, sophomore Parker Raham, senior Jon Shults and Mackey.

$650,000 in the year 2023, $700,000 in the year 2024,

$750,000 in the year 2025.

$800,000 in each of the years 2026 to 2028, inclusive, and $1,000,000 in each of the years 2029 to 2032, inclusive

To the extent any instructions or directions set forth in PARITY conflict with this Notice of Sale, the terms of this Notice of Sale shall control. For further information about PARITY, potential bidders may contact Ipreo at 1359 Broadway, 2nd Floor, New York,

New York 10018, telephone (212) 849-5021.
The Bonds shall be issued in registered form by means of a book-entry system with no physical distribution of bond certificates made to the public. One bond certificate for each maturity will be issued to The Depository Trust Company, New York, New York ("DTC") and immobilized in its custody. The book-entry system will evidence ownership of the Bonds in the principal amount of $5,000 or any integral multiple thereof, with transfers of ownership effected on the records of DTC and its participants pursuant to rules and procedures established by DTC and its participants. The successful bidder, as a condition to delivery of the Bonds, shall be required to deposit the bond certificates with DTC, registered in the name of Cede & Co., its nominee. Interest on the Bonds will be payable on each May 1 and November 1, commencing November 1, 2021 (each, an 'Interest Payment Date"), in each year until maturity or prior redemption, and principal of the Bonds will be payable, at maturity, by payment of immediately available funds by the Bond Registrar/Paying Agent to DTC or its nominee as registered owner of the Bonds. Transfer of principal and interest to participants of DTC will be the responsibility of DTC. Transfer of principal and interest to beneficial owners will be the responsibility of the DTC participants and other nominees of the beneficial owners. The Township will not be responsible or liable for such transfers of payments or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing the records maintained by DTC, its participants or persons acting through such

In the event (a) DTC determines not to continue to act as securities depository for the Bonds or (b) the Township determines that continuation of the book-entry system of evidence and transfer of ownership of the Bonds would adversely affect the interests of the beneficial owners of the Bonds, the Township will discontinue the book-entry system with DTC. If the Township fails to identify another qualified securities depository to replace DTC, the Township will deliver replacement bonds in the form of fully registered

The Bonds maturing on or before November 1, 2028 are not subject to redemption prior to their stated maturities. The Bonds maturing on or after November 1, 2029 are subject to redemption at the option of the Township prior to maturity, in whole on any date or in part on any Interest Payment Date, on or after November 1, 2028, upon notice as hereinafter set forth at the redemption price of 100% of the principal amount being redeemed, plus accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption.

If the Township determines to optionally redeem a portion of the Bonds prior to maturity, such Bonds so redeemed shall be in such maturities as determined by the Township, and within any maturity, by lot; provided, however, that the portion of any Bond to be redeemed shall be in the principal amount of $5,000 or some multiple thereof and that, in selecting Bonds for redemption, the Bond Registrar/Paying Agent shall treat each Bond as representing that number of Bonds that is obtained by dividing the principal amount of such Bond by $5,000. Notice of redemption shall be given by first class mail in a sealed envelope with postage prepaid to the registered owners of the Bonds at their respective addresses as they last appear on the registration books kept for that purpose by the Bond Registrar/Paying Agent at least thirty (30) but not more than sixty (60) days before the date fixed for redemption. Such mailing is not a condition precedent to redemption, and the failure to mail or to receive any redemption notice will not affect the validity of the redemption proceedings. If any Bond subject to redemption is a part of a greater principal amount of the Bonds not to be redeemed, such entire amount shall be surrendered to the Bond Registrar/Paying Agent and, for that portion of the Bond not to be redeemed, a new Bond shall be issued in the name of the registered owner in an amount equal to the principal amount of the Bond surrendered less the amount to be redeemed. The Bonds are general obligations of the Township and are secured by a pledge of the full faith and credit of the Township for the payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon. The Bonds are payable, if not paid from other sources, from ad valorem taxes to be levied upon all the real property taxable within the Township without limitation as to rate or amount.

Each proposal submitted must name the rate or rates of interest per annum to be borne by the Bonds bid for, and the rate or rates named must be a multiple of 1/8th or 1/20th of one percentum (1%). The interest payable with respect to each Bond on any one date will be evidenced by a single rate of interest. Not more than one rate may be named for Bonds of the same maturity. There is no limitation on the number of rates that may be named. If more than one rate of interest is named, no interest rate named for any maturity may be less than the interest rate named for any prior maturity. Each proposal submitted must be for all of the Bonds offered and the purchase price specified must not be less than $9,700,000 nor more than $9,797,000. The Bonds will be awarded to the bidder on whose bid the total loan may be made at the lowest net interest cost, such net interest cost shall be computed, as to each bid, by adding to the total principal amount of Bonds bid for (which shall be all of the Bonds offered) the total interest cost to maturity in accordance with such bid and by deducting therefrom the amount of premium, if any, bid, which premium shall not exceed $97,000 (1% of par). No proposal shall be considered which offers to pay an amount less than the principal amount of Bonds offered for sale or under which the total loan is made at an interest cost higher than the lowest net interest cost to the Township under any legally acceptable proposal. The Township reserves its right to reject all bids, and any bid not complying with the material terms of this notice will be rejected. The Township reserves the right to waive defects it deems non-material, in its sole discretion.

The successful bidder must pay accrued interest from the date of the Bonds to the date of delivery. No interest will be paid upon the deposit made by the successful bidder. The Bonds will be authenticated by the Chief Financial Officer, acting as Bond Registrar/

Paying Agent for the Bonds. Sealed proposals should be addressed to the undersigned Chief Financial Officer, and enclosed in a sealed envelope marked on the outside "Proposal for Bonds". A good faith deposit (the "Deposit") in the form of a cash wire or a certified, treasurer's or cashier's check drawn upon a bank or trust company in the amount of $194,000, payable to the order of the TOWNSHIP OF CRANFORD, is required for each bid to be considered. If a cash wire is used, the wire must be received by the Township no later than 11:00 A.M. on May 4, 2021. If a cash wire is utilized, each bidder must notify the Township of its intent to use such cash wire prior to 11:00 A.M. on May 4, 2021, and must provide proof of

WF National League 5th & 6th Opening Day Softball Results:

UCLA and Virginia played a sixinning thriller with UCLA edging Virginia, 6-5, on the final at-bat. Powered by the strong pitching of Ashley Tso and solid hitting of Mia Esposito, Virginia held a 2-1 lead through most of the game and added three runs in the 5th. Outstanding pitching by Olivia Perez and timely hits by Maddie Diaz, Kara Benacchio and Amelia Donnelly got UCLA the win in a game marked by excellent play by both teams.

Across the field on Memorial 3, stellar defense by Minnesota's Sydney Elmquist at third base and the strong pitching of Mia Zbranak and Talia kept the hot bats of Bulldogs Paige Everett, Sair Korr and Megan Reilly off the board most of the afternoon leading to a victory. Chipping in defensively for the Golden Gophers and helping turn two double plays were Phoebe Lyons, Alexandra Paul, and

Morgan Eckenthal. Ultimately the Minnesota Gophers' on-base skills led the way to victory in their home

Finally, the Oregon Ducks defeated a shorthanded Texas Longhorns team in an 11-10 nail-biter. Adley Grantz and Andrea Licini led The Ducks with strong pitching performances. The Ducks also had a stellar defensive play by Sadie Soriero who tracked down a base hit to left center and cut down the runner with a great throw to Sydney Man at second for the tag

The Ducks overcame a valiant pitching performance by Teagan Greeley, as well as some timely hitting by Caitlin "MB" Brouder who led her team with three hits. The Longhorns are looking forward to returning to the diamond to face the Ducks later in the season for redemption.

electronic transfer of such cash wire prior to 11:00 A.M. on May 4, 2021 (with return wiring instructions). Wire instructions for the Township can be obtained by contacting the Township's Bond Counsel (Steven Rogut or Thomas Bace (908) 931-1150). If a check is used, it must accompany the bid or be received by the undersigned Chief Financial Officer prior to the opening of bids. Each bidder accepts responsibility for delivering such cash wire or check on time and the Township is not responsible for any cash wire or check that is not received on time. Checks or wires of unsuccessful bidders will be returned upon the award of the Bonds. No interest on the Deposit will accrue to the successful bidder. The Deposit will be applied in part payment for the Bonds or to partially secure the Township from any loss resulting from the failure of the successful bidder to comply with the terms of its bid.

Award of the Bonds to the successful bidder or rejection of all bids is expected to be made within two hours after opening of the bids, but such successful bidder may not withdraw its proposal until after 3:00 p.m. (local time) of the day of such bid-opening and then only if such award has not been made prior to the withdrawal

It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be printed on the Bonds, but neither the failure to print such number on any Bond nor any error with respect thereto shall constitute cause for a failure or refusal by the successful bidder thereof to accept delivery of and pay for the Bonds in accordance with its contractual obligations arising from the acceptance of its proposal for the purchase of the Bonds. All expenses in relation to the printing of CUSIP numbers on the Bonds shall be paid for by the Township; provided, however, that the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of said numbers shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid for by the successful bidder. CUSIP numbers must be communicated to Bond Counsel within 24 hours of the award of the Bonds in order to have the CUSIP numbers printed on the Bonds. The Bonds shall be delivered on or about May 13, 2021 at the office of Rogut McCarthy LLC, Cranford, New Jersey ("Bond Counsel"), or at such other place as may be determined by the successful bidder and the Township. PAYMENT FOR THE BONDS ATTHETIME OF ORIGINAL ISSUANCE AND DELIVERY SHALL BE IN IMMEDIATELY

A preliminary Official Statement has been prepared and is available at www.i-DealProspectus.com or may be obtained from the undersigned, Chief Financial Officer, Municipal Building, 8 Springfield Avenue, Cranford, New Jersey 07016, Telephone No. (908) 709-7250. The preliminary Official Statement is deemed to be a "final official statement", as of its date, within the meaning of Rule 15c2-12 of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Rule 15c2-12"), but is subject to (a) completion with certain pricing and other information to be made available by the successful bidder for the Bonds and (b) amendment. The preliminary Official Statement, as so revised, will constitute the 'final official statement". By the submission of a bid for the Bonds, the successful bidder contracts for the receipt of a reasonable number of copies of the final Official Statement within seven business days of the award of the Bonds. In order to complete the final Official Statement, the successful bidder must furnish on behalf of the underwriters of the Bonds the following information to Bond Counsel and the Township by facsimile transmission or overnight delivery received by Bond Counsel and the Township within 24 hours after the award of the Bonds: (a) initial offering prices or yields (expressed as percentages), (b) selling compensation (aggregate total anticipated compensation to the underwriters expressed in dollars), (c) the identity of the underwriters if the successful bidder is part of a group or syndicate and (d) any other material information necessary for the final Official Statement, but not known to the Township (such as the bidder's purchase of credit enhancement). It shall also be the obligation of the successful bidder to furnish to DTC an underwriter's questionnaire and the denominations of the Bonds not less than seventy-two (72) hours prior to the delivery of the Bonds.

Concurrently with the delivery of the Bonds, the officials of the Township who will have executed the final Official Statement will deliver to the purchaser of the Bonds a certificate stating that, to the best of their knowledge, the preliminary Official Statement did not as of its date and as of the sale date, and the final Official Statement did not as of its date and does not as of the date of delivery of the Bonds, contain an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact required to be included therein for the purpose for which the preliminary Official Statement or the final Official Statement is to be used or necessary to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, provided such certificate shall not include consideration of information supplied by, or which should have been supplied by, the successful bidder for the Bonds.

The Township has agreed in its bond resolution adopted on March 30, 2021 to provide or cause to be provided, in accordance with the requirements of Rule 15c2-12, (i) not later than seven months after the end of the Township's fiscal year (presently December 31) certain annual financial information and operating data, including audited financial statements for the preceding fiscal year (commencing with the fiscal year ending December 31, 2020), (ii) timely notice of the occurrence of certain material events with respect to the Bonds and financial obligations of the Township and (iii) timely notice of a failure by the Township to provide the required annual financial information on or before the date specified in (i) above.

The successful bidder's obligation to purchase the Bonds shall be conditioned upon its receiving, at or prior to the delivery of the Bonds, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the successful bidder, evidence that the Township has made the continuing disclosure undertaking set forth above in a written agreement or contract for the benefit of the Bondholders and the beneficial owners of the Bonds.

The approving legal opinion of Bond Counsel will be furnished without cost to the purchaser. The preliminary Official Statement contains a discussion of the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), with respect to the exclusion from gross income for Federal income tax purposes of the interest on the Bonds and a description of the opinion of Bond Counsel with respect thereto. The Township has covenanted, to the extent permitted by the Constitution and laws of the State of New Jersey, to comply with the provisions of the Code required to preserve the exclusion from gross income of interest on the Bonds for Federal income tax purposes. There will also be furnished the usual closing papers.

The Township has designated the Bonds "qualified tax-exempt obligations" within the meaning of Section 265(b)(3) of the Code and will represent that it reasonably expects that neither it nor its subordinate entities will issue more than $10,000,000 of new money tax-exempt obligations in the current calendar year.

If the Bonds qualify for issuance of any policy of municipal bond insurance or commitment therefor at the option of a bidder, any purchase of such insurance or commitment therefor shall be at the sole option and expense of the bidder and any increased costs of issuance of the Bonds resulting by reason of such insurance, unless otherwise paid, shall also be paid by such bidder. Any failure of the Bonds to be so insured or of any such policy of insurance to be issued, shall not in any way relieve the purchaser of its contractual obligations arising from the acceptance of its proposal for the purchase

ISSUE PRICE DETERMINATION UNDER INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

If the "competitive sale requirements" are not satisfied, the winning bidder shall have the option to designate whether the "10% test" or the "hold-the-offeringprice rule" shall apply to all the Bonds. The following paragraphs contain the terms for the determination of issue price.

(a) The winning bidder shall assist the Township in establishing the issue price of the Bonds and shall execute and deliver to the Township at closing an "issue price" or similar certificate setting forth the reasonably expected initial offering price to the public or the sales price or prices of the Bonds, together with the supporting pricing wires or equivalent communications. A form of issue price certificate is available upon request to Steven L. Rogut, Bond Counsel, (908) 931-1150 or slr@rogutmccarthy.com.

The Township intends that the provisions of Treasury Regulation Section 1.148-1(f)(3)(i) (defining "competitive sale" for purposes of establishing the issue price of the Bonds) will apply to the initial sale of the Bonds (the "competitive sale requirements")

(1) the Township shall disseminate this Notice of Sale to potential underwriters in a manner that is reasonably designed to reach potential underwriters;

(2) all bidders shall have an equal opportunity to bid;

I don't know if they all will have enough criteria to make a bracket. The top-16 get seeded. But those kids are there incase someone gets sick."

To finish off their regular season, the Cougars would face River Dell, New Providence and Governor Livingston.

"The rest of the season, Saturday, Tuesday and Wednesday is just getting more mat experience because a lot of kids got forfeits throughout the season and there just wasn't enough competition and dual meets. It's just about getting these kids as many matches as they can," Coach Gorman

PUBLIC NOTICE PUBLIC NOTICE

(3) the Township may receive bids from at least three underwriters of municipal bonds who have established industry reputations for underwriting new issuances of municipal bonds; and

(4) the Township anticipates awarding the sale of the Bonds to the bidder who submits a firm offer to purchase the Bonds at the highest price (or lowest interest cost) as set forth in this Notice of Sale.

Any bid submitted pursuant to this Notice of Sale shall be considered a firm offer for the purchase of the Bonds, as specified in the bid. Bids will NOT be subject to cancellation in the event that the competitive sale requirements are not satisfied. Unless the bidder intends to hold the Bonds for its own account with no intention to offer the Bonds to the public, the bidder, by submitting a bid, represents to the Township that the bidder has an established industry reputation for underwriting new issuances of municipal bonds.

In the event that the competitive sale requirements are not satisfied, the Township shall so advise the winning bidder. In that case, the winning bidder shall have the option to designate (by 5:00 P.M. Prevailing Time on the sale date) whether the issue price will be calculated upon either (a) the first price at which 10% of each maturity of the Bonds (the "10% test") is sold to the public as the issue price of that maturity, applied on a maturity-by-maturity basis, or (b) a commitment to neither offer nor sell any of the Bonds of any maturity to any person at a price that is higher than the initial offering price to the public as of the sale date (the "initial offering price") during the holding period (as defined

If the 10% test is selected, the winning bidder shall advise the Township if any maturity of the Bonds satisfies the 10% test as of the date and time of the award of the Bonds, and bidders should prepare their bids on the assumption that all of the maturities of the Bonds will be subject to the 10% test in order to establish the issue price of the Bonds. If the competitive sale requirements are not satisfied and the 10% test is selected, then until the 10% test has been satisfied as to each maturity of the Bonds, the winning bidder agrees to promptly report to the Township the prices at which the unsold Bonds of that maturity have been sold to the public. That reporting obligation shall continue, whether or not the Closing Date has occurred, until either (i) all Bonds of that maturity have been sold or (ii) the 10% test has been satisfied as to the Bonds of that maturity, provided that, the winning bidder's reporting obligation after the Closing Date may be at reasonable periodic intervals or otherwise upon request of the Township or Bond Counsel.

In the event the "hold-the-offering-price" method is selected, for each maturity of the Bonds the winning bidder shall (a) neither offer nor sell any of the Bonds of such maturity to any person at a price that is higher than the initial offering price for such maturity during the holding period for such maturity (the "hold-the-offering-price rule"), and (b) verify that any selling group agreement shall contain the agreement of each dealer who is a member of the selling group, and any third-party distribution agreement shall contain the agreement of each broker-dealer who is a party to the third-party distribution agreement, to comply with the hold-the-offering-price rule. Pursuant to such agreement, no underwriter (as defined below) shall offer or sell any maturity of the Bonds at a price that is higher than the respective initial offering price for that maturity of the Bonds during the holding period.

By submitting a bid, each bidder confirms that: (i) any agreement among underwriters, any selling group agreement and each third-party distribution agreement (to which the bidder is a party) relating to the initial sale of the Bonds to the public, together with the related pricing wires, contains or will contain language obligating each underwriter, each dealer who is a member of the selling group, and each broker-dealer that is a party to such third-party distribution agreement, as applicable, (A) to either comply with the hold-the-offering-price limitations stated herein or to report the prices at which it sells to the public the unsold Bonds of each maturity allocated to it, whether or not the Closing Date has occurred, until either all Bonds of that maturity allocated to it have been sold or it is notified by the winning bidder that the 10% test has been satisfied as to the Bonds of that maturity, provided that, the reporting obligation after the Closing Date may be at reasonable periodic intervals or otherwise upon request of the winning bidder, depending upon whether the hold-the-offering-price method or the 10% test is selected by the winning bidder, (B) to promptly notify the winning bidder of any sales of Bonds that, to its knowledge, are made to a purchaser who is a related party to an underwriter participating in the initial sale of the Bonds to the public (each such term being used as defined below) and (C) to acknowledge that, unless otherwise advised by the underwriter, dealer or broker-dealer, the winning bidder shall assume that each order submitted by the underwriter, dealer or broker-dealer is a sale to the public, and (ii) any agreement among underwriters or selling group agreement relating to the initial sale of the Bonds to the public, together with the related pricing wires, contains or will contain language obligating each underwriter or dealer that is a party to a third-party distribution agreement to be employed in connection with the initial sale of the Bonds to the public to require each broker-dealer that is a party to such third-party distribution agreement to either comply with the hold-the-offering-price limitations stated herein or to report the prices at which it sells to the public the unsold Bonds of each maturity allocated to it, whether or not the Closing Date has occurred, until either all Bonds of that maturity allocated to it have been sold or it is notified by the winning bidder or such underwriter that the 10% test has been satisfied as to the Bonds of that maturity, provided that, the reporting obligation after the Closing Date may be at reasonable periodic intervals or otherwise upon request of the winning bidder or such underwriter, depending upon whether the hold-the-offering-price method or the 10% test is selected by the winning bidder.

(g) Sales of any Bonds to any person that is a related party to an underwriter participating in the initial sale of the Bonds to the public (each such term being used as defined below) shall not constitute sales to the public for purposes of this Notice of Sale. Further, for purposes of this Notice of Sale:

(i) "public" means any person other than an underwriter or a related party (ii) "underwriter" means (A) any person that agrees pursuant to a written contract or otherwise with the Township (or with the lead underwriter to form an underwriting syndicate) to participate in the initial sale of the Bonds to the public and (B) any person that agrees pursuant to a written contract directly or indirectly with a person described in clause (A) to participate in the initial sale of the Bonds to the public (including a member of a selling group or a party to a third-party distribution agreement participating in the initia sale of the Bonds to the public),

(iii) a purchaser of any of the Bonds is a "related party" to an underwriter if the underwriter and the purchaser are subject, directly or indirectly, to (A) more than 50% common ownership of the voting power or the total value of their stock, if both entities are corporations (including direct ownership by one corporation of another), (B) more than 50% common ownership of their capital interests or profits interests, if both entities are partnerships (including direct ownership by one partnership of another), or (C) more than 50% common ownership of the value of the outstanding stock of the corporation or the capital interests or profit interests of the partnership, as applicable, if one entity is a corporation and the other entity is a partnership (including direct ownership of the applicable stock or interests by one entity of the other),

(iv) "sale date" means the date that the Bonds are awarded by the Township to the winning bidder,

(v) "holding period" means, for each maturity of the Bonds, the period starting on the sale date and ending on the earlier of (i) the close of the fifth business day after the sale date, or (ii) the date on which the Underwriter has sold at least 10% of each maturity to the Public at prices that are no higher than the Initial Offering Price for such maturity

Head Coach Dennis McCaffery's 399th career victory at the helm.

Van Dam had a no-hit, two-walk shutout going for the first four innings, while recording five strikeouts, until Tiger Justin Esposito tagged him with a solo home run over the right field fence in the top of the fifth inning. He later allowed a two-out single to Gabi Abreu before recording the final out. Tyler Szczech, Pat Connolly, Jamie Shriner, Jake DeClerico and Mike Murphy provided the fire power Several hours later, the Cougars would defeat the Linden Tigers, 5-3, this time at Memorial Field in Linden to award Coach McCaffery with his 400th career victory. Connolly went 3-for-3 and Aidan Plick had a hit and two RBI.

ENROLLMENT CATEGORIES

April 13, 2017: The early season had not been kind to the Cranford baseball team. After stumbling out of the gates to a 1-3 start, the Cougars got to take out their frustrations on Linden by mauling the visitors, 19-2, in on April 13 at Orange Avenue School in Cranford. Brian Oblachinski had a perfect day at the plate for Cranford going 3-for-3 with a triple and three RBI. Patrick Connelly and Ryan Bakie each added two hits and two RBI.

April 13, 2017: Magic may have been the only explanation for the sudden shift of momentum in the final 47 seconds of the game between the Westfield girls lacrosse team and the West Morris Mendham Lady Minutemen at Gary Kehler Stadium in Westfield on April 13. The Blue Devils converted three straight draw controls into three goals within that span to overcome a 9-6 deficit to force a sudden victory overtime period then co-captain Hannah Liddy slammed home the winner within 29 seconds to give Westfield a 10-9 triumph.

After Westfield won the draw, Liddy quickly assisted senior Haley Farella on the first goal that made the score, 9-7, with 47 seconds on the clock. With :26 remaining, Liddy made the score 9-8 then co-captain Natalie Bond scooped the ball on the next draw and found the mark with 14 seconds left, eventually forcing the overtime. April 13, 2016: Governor

Livingston pushed across the go ahead

run in the bottom of the sixth inning then relied on starter Cole Schneider and reliever Nick Cocchia to close the door on the Cranford Cougars baseball team, while earning a tight 3-2 victory in a game played on April 13 in Berkeley Heights.

Schneider held the Cougars hitless through five innings before Cranford with some help, rallied to tie the game with two runs in the sixth. Schneider threw wide of first base on a routine tapper back to the mound. Then Ryan Bakie was called safe on another grounder when first baseman Cocchia dropped the throw from shortstop after trying to transfer the ball from his glove. The delayed call by the umpire sent Highlander Head Coach Chris

Michael Smith came through with the Cougars' first hit, lining a double off of the leftfield fence that scored both runners and tied the game at 2-2. Schneider helped his own cause in the GL sixth by drilling a double into left-center field. Cranford pitcher Librera walked Jace Tweeten then loaded the bases with two outs when he plunked Josh Katz. Dan Baroff calmly took a close pitch just off the

Hillside Homicide Linked to Death in Union Township

AREA — The deaths of two women in Hillside are believed to be connected to a death investigation in Union Township, acting Union County Prosecutor Lyndsay V. Ruotolo announced April 7.

In the early morning hours of April 5, officers from Union Township Police Department noticed a vehicle parked in the rear lot of an Enterprise Rent-A-Car facility located on the 1700 block of Morris Avenue in Union.

After approaching the vehicle, officers discovered the body of 45year-old Akanni A. Martin, of Hillside, inside with a gunshot wound to the head. A weapon was recovered near his body. Investigators do not believe foul play was involved.

In working to notify Mr. Martin's next of kin, detectives from Union Township visited Mr. Martin's home on the 1500 block of Summit Avenue in Hillside. After further investigation, detectives determined two individuals close to Mr. Martin were missing.

On April 6, detectives visited K & K Jamaican Restaurant on the 1500 block of Summit Avenue in Hillside, a restaurant co-owned by Mr. Martin. Both juvenile and adult spotted lanternflies are eye-catching. The juveniles will appear by May, after the eggs hatch. They are small, crawling insects about the size of the dime. They have shiny black coats with bright white spots or red coats with white spots and black stripes. Their legs are black with white spots.

The adult is about the size of a typical moth, or slightly larger. Their upper wings are a papery whitish hue with black speckles. The upper wings open to reveal bright red and black lower wings underneath. When startled, the adult can quickly hop and glide away like a grasshopper, so stealth is advised when approaching one. Both adults and juveniles should be immediately crushed underfoot or by any other means.

The eggs are more difficult to distinguish because they are laid in flat, grayish patches that can blend into their surroundings. However, there are telltale signs. A freshly laid egg patch resembles a small dab of wet mud, about 1 inch long. Over time, it develops cracks that can resemble miniature tire treads. The appearance of seed-like rows means the eggs are ready to hatch.

Lanternflies prefer to lay their eggs on flat surfaces. The egg patches mainly appear on trees about 10 feet off the ground. They can also appear on rocks and vehicles and other manufactured surfaces.

Egg patches should be destroyed by using a plastic card or other sturdy object to crush them where they are, then scraping them off the surface.

The spotted lanternfly is an invasive species and a serious threat to $New \, Jersey's \, agriculture \, industry \, and \,$ wildlife habitats. It can damage or kill native trees like the black walnut, red maple, silver maple and river birch. It can also carve a destructive path through valuable crops and other

Westfield Green Team Announces Earth Day Events

WESTFIELD — The Town of Westfield will hold its largest Earth Day celebration ever, including the third annual Free Market and Earth Day Fair, on Saturday, April 24 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the South Avenue train station lot. These events, coordinated by the Westfield Green Team, are part of the Town's Earth Month celebration, the aim of which is to assist residents in adopting more sustainable practices and taking steps to address climate change.

"We hope to engage, educate, inform and entertain with all of our Earth Month activities,"saidWard3CouncilmanDavid Contract, who serves as the Council Liaison to the Green Team and helped plan the Free Market. "In particular, we hope the Earth Day Fair and Free Market shows residents specific ways they can live more sustainably like recycling unneeded household goods at the Free Market."

The Earth Day Fair will feature more than a dozen exhibits and vendors showcasingwaysresidentscanlivemore"green" — including through solar energy, EV cars, home energy efficiency improvements, composting, rain barrels and so much more. Making their first appearance willalsobe Karma, Westfield's first EV car dealer who will have one of their sporty EV cars on display.

As in past years, the Free Market is like a giant yard sale except everything is free. Westfield residents can bring gently used household items such as clothing, housewares, sporting goods, books/ movies, kitchenware, small furniture and more, leave them for others to take, and take anything that's left by others. Anything remaining at the end of the Free Market will be picked up by Green Drop for distribution to deserving families in the area. Attendees may browse for goods at any time, although dropping off items requires advance registration for a time slot at https://bit.ly/FreeMarket2021.

Social distancing and mask wearing

Garwood Joins Statewide Pedestrian Safety Campaign

GARWOOD — Mayor Sara Todisco announcedthatinAprilandMay,Garwood will be conducting a Street Smart NJ pedestrian safety education campaign aimed at changing unsafe behaviors and reducing pedestrian-motor vehicle crashes at the intersection of South Avenue and Center Street. Mayor Todisco said, "Garwood takes pedestrian safety seriously, and this campaign will be part of an effort to make our community safer."

Street Smart NJ, initiated and managed by the North Jersey Transportation Planning Authority (NJTPA) in 2013, is a statewide, collaborative effort between public, private and nonprofit organizations. The campaign reminds people that everyone has a role to play in making our streets safer. Drivers must obey speed limits and stop for people crossing, people walking or biking must use crosswalks (marked and unmarked) and cross with the signals and everyone must avoid distractions. Street Smart NJ is one of many initiatives working to reach zero pedestrian fatalities.

EZ Ride, the Transportation Management Association that serves Union County, will be managing the local campaign and will work with the borough, schools and community partners to educate and distribute safety information. Large educational signs will be displayed attheintersection and all around Garwood, and local police will be enforcing pedestrian laws as part of the campaign.

The borough kicked off the campaign on Wednesday April 14 at 2 p.m.

Pedestrian safety is a concern nationwide, but it is particularly important in New Jersey, which the federal governmenthas designated as a pedestrian-safety focus state for its high rate of fatalities and injuries. On average, one pedestrian is killed every two days in New Jersey and 12 are injured daily. New Jersey ranked 18th in the nation in pedestrian fatalities per 100,000 people in 2018, and pedestrians comprised 32 percent (176 people) of the 558 people killed in vehicle crashes in New Jersey in 2019, nearly double the national average of 17 percent, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA).

There were 13 motor vehicle crashes involving pedestrians and seven crashes involving bicycles in Garwood from 2015-19. None of those crashes were fatal, but two senior citizens were hit and killed by cars while crossing the street in 2020.

"Garwood has committed to making pedestrian safety a priority, and this campaign will help raise awareness about the common sense steps we can all take to make our roads safer for everyone," Union County Commissioner Bette Jane Kowalski said. "Drivers must avoid distractions, stop for people crossing and slow down for safety. Pedestrians should use crosswalks or cross at intersections and wait for the walk signal or green light before stepping into the road.'

Nancy Ori and Linda LaStella Host a Free Art Conference

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — Nancy Ori, well-known local photographer and instructor, and Linda Vonderschmidt-LaStella, a professional ceramic artist, have joined forces to support each other and are now opening the door for other artists to join in the conversation. The two artists have collaborated and written articles for each other's newsletters on the topic of the maturing artist. The articles required a look-back at two incredible careers: where did they start? How did their art progress? What are the key elements that were learned along the way including this past year?

Once they realized how powerful the two journeys have been, they decided that it would be worth sharing this information with other artists as well as hearing from others on the same topic.

On Sunday, April 18 at 3 p.m., Nancy and Linda will host a free Zoom meeting with an opportunity for other artists to share their thoughts about their own journeys, give helpful tips for younger artists and plan for the future.

Nancy and Linda will host the free conference on Zoom. Anyone interested in joining the discussion will need to contact Nancy Ori to get the Zoom link. Attendance is open to any artist of any age using any medium. Along with important information about how to build an art business from experienced mentors, a major part of the conference discussion with attendees will be about what has been learned during this past year.

What has evolved from our working together to create a series of articles on the Maturing Artist and what we drew from each other was so eye-opening to me about my own work, the roots of my own art, that it has been quite a mind-blowing experience to have with someone who works in a totally different medium from me," said Linda.

Linda Vonderschmidt-LaStella, a widely exhibited ceramist, established Earthsongs Ceramic Studio in 1993 in Metuchen. She has taught ceramics in formal settings at every level from pre-K to college and given workshops in the more informal settings of studios and community gatherings. Her ceramic murals are permanently installed in public, commercial and residential spaces in the tri-state area and Ireland. Currently her focus is on creating original work both for commissions and her own creative designs.

Nancy Ori, owner of New Jersey Media Center in Berkeley Heights, is respected internationally as a corporate photographer and has been a photography instructor for many years. She teaches workshops both locally and internationally and was affiliated for many years with the Ansel Adams Workshop in California. She currently teaches privately and is on the faculty of numerous museums and art centers throughout the state.

Nancy says, "I came up with this idea of collaboration with other artists and invited Linda to be the first one. I would like to continue these conversations with other artists throughout the year and share our thoughts through our newsletters on a variety of topics. It will be a great networking opportunity for everyone. The idea of the Zoom conference is a great way for experienced artists to share their inspirations and realizations to help other artists. The conference will be void of discussions on anything political or negative. I would like the attendees to walk away with some positive energy and tips for how to plan for what to do after the quarantine. How will they redefine their normal?"

For more information on the Maturing Artist Conference, please contact Nancy Ori at (908) 790-8820 or nancyori@comcast.net. You will need to contact Nancy to receive the Zoom link. You can visit both artists websites at nancyoriworkshops.com and www.claysongs.com. To read the articles that inspired the conference, go to: https://drive.google.com/drive/u/0/my-drive

Awareness on Alcoholism

COUNTY — In an effort to help connect Union County residents with guidance and resources on coping with alcoholism, the Union County Board of Commissioners is joining in a nationwide campaign in April to raise awareness about the facts and dangers of alcohol abuse.

Alcoholism is a progressive disorder that results in severe health issues, and alcohol accounts for a significant proportion of substance abuse treatment admissions. In Union County, 35 percent of persons admitted for treatment list alcohol as their primary drug.

Even before the Covid-19 crisis began, alcohol was listed among the leading causes of preventable death in the U.S. The social and economic stress of the pandemic has worsened the problem.

Alcohol sales in the U.S. rose 54 percent at the beginning of the pandemic, according to a Nielsen survey. A recent study also demonstrates consumption has increased significantly since one year ago, with women accounting for a disproportionate share of the differ-

Alcohol consumption by women rose 17 percent since last year, compared to an increase of 14 percent for all genders. The study also tracked a 41 percent increase in heavy drinking by women.

The Union County awareness campaign is being conducted through the Office on Behavioral Health and Substance Abuse in the Department of Human Services.

As part of the campaign, all Union County residents and visitors are encouraged to wear purple on April 16, which has been declared "Wear Purple Day" in support of the Alcohol Awareness Month program of the Council on Substance Abuse -National Council on Alcoholism.

By wearing purple, members of the public demonstrate that they support treatment and recovery for alcoholism or that they know someone who has benefited from treat

The Commissioner Board will also support the campaign through social media and by providing information on resources and guidance on the county website at ucnj.org/obhsa.

In addition, banners honoring Alcoholism Awareness Month will be hung in the lobby of the county administration building in Elizabeth, and county staff will distribute Alcohol Awareness ribbons.

A national helpline run by the Council on Substance Abuse - National Council on Alcoholism is available to the public at (800) 662-HELP (4357) to provide free, confidential referrals and information on a 24/7, 365-days-a-year basis.

Dragons in the Crease Returns to Theater Project

UNION -- Dragons in the Crease, a play that premiered in the prestigious New York Theater Festival's Summerfest, is returning to The Theater Project for three livestream presentations, Thursday, April 29 through Saturday, May 1.

Each of the streaming performances by The Theater Project — a leading incubator for rising talent and a showcase for New Jersey artists — begins at 7:30 p.m. A live discussion with playwright Joseph Vitale will follow the Saturday, May 1 performance.

Based on a real event, the play concerns a college student with a severe stutter who has been asked by his professor not to speak in class but instead write his questions down. Because of the media coverage that ensues, the incident becomes a national news story, changing both their

Dragons in the Crease playwright Mr. Vitale is one of The Theater Project's most prominent playwrights and founder and executive producer of the company's THINK FAST one-act play fest, a program he developed to expand opportunities for other playwrights. He recently received one of only 12 New Jersey Individual Artist Fellowships for 2021.

Amember of The Theater Project's playwrights' workshop and a semifinalist for the 2012 Eugene O'Neill Theater/National Playwrights Conference, Mr. Vitale is the author of a dozen full-length plays, including, Murrow, a one-man show about the life of Edward R. Murrow, which premiered at The Theater Project and was later performed off-off Broadway in 2016 at The Phoenix Theatre Ensemble. His one-act play The Monster Under the Bed was voted "Best Play" at both the 2018 St. Paul Theater Festival and the 2019 One-Act Jamboree at the Rhino Theater, Pompton Lakes.

'We are thrilled to have Joseph Vitale's thought-provoking Dragons in the Crease back," said Mark Spina, The Theater Project's artist director. "Ten years ago he joined our workshop, and everyone has benefited from his guidance and experience. It's a pleasure and privilege to watch his work develop. We couldn't be prouder of his accomplishments and look forward to another run of unforgettable performances of Dragons.

Tickets are $15 and can be purchased by visiting The Theater Project Presents: DRAGONS IN THE CREASE. Purchasers will receive a link one hour before the performance.

For further information, visit The Theater Project.org or phone the Union Township box office, (908) the dedication of volunteer first-responders during the Covid-19 pandemic. Cranford Native to Screen Comedy Short at Hometown Festival

By JENNIFER GLACKIN

CRANFORD -- Peter Collier found his passion as a comedy writer. The Cranford native's short film, Santa Force will be featured as a part of the inaugural year of the Cranford Film Festival.

Encouraged to begin acting by his elementary music teacher Tom Pedas, Peter began acting in school musicals at a young age. His first role was as an orphan in Hillside Avenue School's production of Oliver! "That's how I got into it and I've never looked back," he told The Westfield Leader and The Scotch Plains-Fanwood Times. Peter continued to act, sing, and dance his way through life at summer camps, local productions, and eventually musicals at Cranford High School. Then he entered West Chester University in Pennsylvania as a theater major where his skills took a more dramatic turn in plays.

It was a twist of fate that brought him back to New York after college, when he met the LAByrinth Theater Company and began studying with Maggie Flanigan. "It's a really wonderful company with some really wonderful people," he said of the off-Broadway group, whose thirtyyear history includes members such as Philip Seymour Hoffman, Daphne Rubin-Vega, and Ron Cephas Jones. There he continued acting in dramatic plays, but after seven years those more serious roles began to take their toll.

"I was tired of crying all the time," he joked, adding that he started writing comedy sketches and jokes as a way to make himself laugh while performing those dramatic roles. Peter sent his comedy scripts to his younger sister Molly, also an actor with LAByrinth, and she suggested he turn a Halloween sketch into a short film. They produced it together and had fun doing it, he said. "I got bit by the bug and wanted to do it again."

Peter kept writing various sketches and taking classes to hone his skills, "plugging away at a number of scripts." Eventually a "silly" thought about an army of Santas led to the script for Santa Force. Shot in one day in the basement of his apartment building, the five minute and twentyfive second film stars Peter and fellow LAByrinth Theater Company members Aaron Weiner and David Zayas and directed by Peter's close friend, David Zayas, Jr. "I wrote it with those specific actors in mind and they all agreed," he said. "I was very fortunate." The eight-hour shoot also included friends who stepped in as craft services making eggs, burritos, and coffee to keep the actors and crew fueled.

"I wanted to show my family and friends because I was proud of it," Peter said, so he posted it on YouTube. After some encouragement from friends, he began researching film festivals that would accept submissions that had already been made public. The Cranford Film Festival seemed like the perfect fit. "It's the town that I know and love - and grew

The Cranford Film Festival will run virtually this year due to Covid restrictions. While Peter is disappointed he won't be able to see his film on the big screen, he is still incredibly proud that his work will be shown in his hometown festival.

The Cranford Film Festival will run from Saturday, April 17 through Sunday, April 25. For more information tickets, www.cranfordfilmfestival.org. To check out more of Peter's work, follow him on Instagram or Twitter

Landscaping: It's the First Impression Your Home Makes and Can Help Sell Your Home

Here are a few tips to add value and curb appeal with attractive plantings and well-maintained landscape

Potential home buyers form their first impression of your home from its curb appeal. Yet the home's outdoor landscaping is overlooked, or underdone, when preparing your home to sell.

Ideally the time to get started cleaning up your yard is weather permitting and about a month before you plan on showing your house. That should give you enough time to get everything looking just right and not leave the impression that you simply waited until the last minute to put things in order. Here are a few tips for sprucing up your yard to help your home sell quickly.

Spruce up the outdoors with container pots they are portable and create attractive design on the lawn or patio or deck. Container plants, especially large palm plant, adds considerable interest to patios and doorways where potential buyers enter and exit the house. Color is also a way to provide interest Use Flowering plants that are in season to take you thru the spring summer season. If it's Autumn you can never go wrong with Mums

Montauk Daisies Sun Flowers. Such displays also demonstrate the endless possibilities for designing with container plants.

Touch up the mulch. This is a must your gardens especially around the foundation of the home add drama. The vibrant t flowers or shrubs against the back drop of rich black mulch. It's a classic look and is inexpensive but provides that WOW factor.

Seasonal color makes the landscape pop as well, and flats of annuals are also relatively inexpensive. Go for a splash of several colors or a more monochromatic scheme, whatever fits in with the look of your home.

Do you have a water fountain or a water feature that can sit next to a garden patio, so the sounds of the water can be heard while relaxing in the sun? Add some beautiful stone even a small elevated stone wall with lush green plants making it pleasant for the eyes, as Regular Maintenance goes without saying Shape unsightly or overgrown trees and shrubs. Regardless of the season, it's a good idea to tackle any overlooked pruning chores because nothing says neglect like a bunch of dead branches. The idea is to give the impression you have maintained the home inside and out. It's okay to prune deciduous trees and shrubs any time of the year.

Perennial beds. Are the jewels. Tidy up your annuals and your perennials if they don't look good trim prune or pull out and replace Take care of any irrigation issues, you are lucky if you have one. If there are any problems with an irrigation system, fix them. Irrigation system repairs can be expensive, and you don't want to lay the cost of those repairs on the buyer. Provide information about your irrigation schedule, especially if you have an automatic system. Include instructions as to how the system operates and recommend the same watering schedule that's worked for you.

Repair faucet leaks. A leaking faucet suggests that there may be other problems elsewhere in the plumbing, and that can be an instant turn-off to buyers.

Consider labeling as many plants as possible especially if it's an herb garden and or vegetable garden. That way the buyer will at least know the name of each plant and can then research their growing needs. Also consider creating a complete plant inventory in scrapbook form and leaving it out on a table for prospective buyers to browse through as they tour your home. This relatively simple step can have a powerful effect on buyers, whether they're gardeners or not.

Power-wash dirty surfaces. Consider buying or renting a power washer to clean paved surfaces. With very little time or effort, you can make grungy, grimy surfaces look brand-spanking new. Power washers also do a great job of cleaning fences, as well as brick and vinyl siding.

The outside needs to be as pristine and beautiful as your interior and you will appreciate the effort and so will you buyer.
