What Are Community First Circles?

Do you ever find yourself feeling alone and needing support? Learn how to use a group, or belief in a higher power, as a secure base. A community circle is a small intimate group of no more than 10 like-minded individuals coming together once a month in members' homes to deepen in practice, have fun and build community.

Here's what community first groups are saying:

- "I feel like I have a second family."
- "We all check in with each other."
- "The topics of conversation are spiritual and thought provoking."
- "Time spent with my group has helped me through some rough times."
- "My spiritual safety net."
