The purpose of a storyboard is to plan and visualize the sequences of action in film, video, or other motion graphic media. Use this storyboard to outline what footage you need to shoot (or find from other sources) and how you will edit it together. Consider what background/location you want for the video, what props or models you might need, and whether you want to appear on camera or record voiceover on top of still images, video, or animation.

Directions:
Sketch each scene in the boxes and provide a short description underneath.
