

An Egyptian family, also headed to Indiana, recognized my loneliness.

So we talked, the way kindred souls separated from home tend to.

After the plane landed, we vowed to stay in touch.

