

My mother was a homemaker with a fast temper

My father was a bailiff who worked long hours, so my mother ran the house.

And with that power came a great responsibility.

