

Most Egyptian girls at that time wedded early, and had no say in the matter.

Marriage was a ritual, an unavoidable expectation by parents.

