December Events

As A Jew (Book Study): Wednesday, December 3 and 10 at 6 PM on Zoom

Rabbi Laurie guides participants through Sarah Hurwitz's (Here All Along) newest book, As a Jew. In the book, Hurwitz (Here All Along) documents her quest to take back her Jewish identity, how she stripped away the layers of antisemitic lies that made her recoil from her own birthright and unearthed the treasures of Jewish tradition. With antisemitism raging worldwide, Hurwitz's defiant account of reclaiming the Jewish story and learning to live as a Jew, without apology, has never been timelier or more necessary.

Micah Interfaith Couples Panel: Sunday, December 7 at 11:45 AM

Learn from other Micah interfaith couples about how they navigate a myriad of issues and reflect on their experience as part of a Jewish community. Moderated by Mike Drongowski and Rabbi Laurie. Presented by the Lifelong Learning Committee.

Pre-Chanukah Celebration: Friday, December 12, 5:30 PM Wine-Down (Pre-Neg), 6 PM Shabbat Service followed by Dinner, our Homemade Chanukiah Contest, and Micah's Got Talent—season FOUR!

Back by popular demand, Micah's Got Talent is your chance to showcase your Skills! Whether you sing, dance, play an instrument, do gymnastics, or are a Rubik's Cube master, step into the spotlight and let the community see what you do best!

Micah Reads: Monday, December 15 at 7 PM

Education Director Julie Greenberg leads the discussion on Songs for the Broken Hearted by Ayelet Tsabari.

Ladies' Night: Tuesday, December 16 at 6 PM

The ladies of Micah are getting together again for good food and even greater conversation. Regardless of how you identify, all are welcome to this fun and laid-back opportunity to get to know your fellow congregants.

Micah-Nections Late Night Shabbat: Friday, December 19 at 7:15 PM

Celebrate Shabbat AND Hannukah (Shabbanukah??) with Micah-Nections as part of Now Gen's 8 Nights of Nashville. Short service followed by dinner, dreidel, and more.
