A Morning of History on the Cold War with Andrew Chatfield

Friday, December 9, 2022
at the Holland Street Center
at 10:00am

The discussion on the origins of the Cold War will trace the cultural, social, economic, political, and diplomatic components of the United States during the early years of the conflict beginning in 1945.

We will examine the events of the mid-1940s that sowed the seeds of mistrust, suspicion, and tumult as both the American and Soviet blocs became more wary and more hostile towards each other.
