

LIGHT

MUSIC & LYRICS BY: ANDREW SEOK

This one is soaked with tears
The ink has run but through the years
The aching has never faded

Here, torn and stained
When hope was lost their love remained
And carried him home unbroken

I have seen the heart break with thunderous despair
But I've seen the heart triumph and conquer and dare
This world will break us or tear us apart
This is all I know

All is not gone
All is not lost
Hold steadfast and true
No matter the cost
All is not lost

All we have is love
All we have is love

Look at this, these gentle words
From a little girl who holds the world
In her bewitched imagination
"These" are all I need
To know the world was always free
Only mortar and brick can crumble
I have seen darkness burn down kingdoms of might
But I've also seen love burn darkness with light
This world will break us or tear us apart
"This" is how I know

"Marry me"
"Carry me home to you"
"Let me love you"
"Let me hold you"
"Let me breathe you"

All is not gone
All is not lost
Hold steadfast and true
No matter the cost

All we have is love
All we have is love
