

WHEN DOES IT END?

MUSIC & LYRICS BY: ANDREW SEOK

FIANCE:

How could it be?
Everything you thought you knew were empty dreams
Sailing through this world into a heartless sea
Holding onto something that you'll never see
But you still believe

But what if you knew then all that you know now?
Would it mater? Would it change anything?
The world is still cold. Darkness still falls.
What happens now?

When does it end?
When does it break?
When is the debt repaid? When does the darkness fade and the heart not ache?
When does the tide turn? And with it a new dawn?
When did it all go so wrong?

Enter Fiance as a child

When I was young...

YOUNGER FIANCE:

...everything was bright and new and endless fun
Chasing clouds until we lost them one by one...

Exit Fiance as a child

FIANCE

...into the sun
Then it all came undone

But what if you knew then all that you know now?
Would it mater? Would it change anything?
The world is still cold. Darkness still falls.
What happens now?

When does it end?
When does it break?
When is the debt repaid? When does the darkness fade and the heart not ache?
When does the tide turn? And with it a new dawn?
When did it all go... Why did you have to go? How did it all go so wrong?
