

Scuba Diver

© Words and music by Bruce Harrott
12 bar blues in E (Bridge: A/E/A/B7/E/B7)

Well I'm a scuba diver in Manitoba
A mountain climber on the open sea
I'm a warm-weather lover in a cold, cold town,
Where am I meant to be?
I don't know I guess I'll wait and see.

I'm a dancer on the football team
I'm one and one makes three
I'm a soulful singer in a tourist town,
Where am I meant to be?
I don't know, I guess I'll wait and see.

Am I meant to be in Vancouver or on a ship way out at sea?
Am I meant to be anywhere but where I am?
Guess I'll just wait and see, see what will be.

(Instrumental – 12 bars)

Well I'm a clothing salesman in a nudist camp,
I'm whip cream in a cup of tea,
I'm a slightly bent man in a very straight town,
Where am I meant to be?
I don't know I guess I'll wait and see.

Am I meant to be right where I am? Am I meant to be where I will be?
Am I meant to be anywhere but where I am?
Guess I'll just wait and see, see what will be.

(Instrumental – 12 bars)

Well I'm a spiritual guy in a physical place,
I'm a cow caught up a tree.
I'm a long distance runner on a short, short trail,
Where am I meant to be?
I don't know, I guess I'll wait and see.
Yes I'll stay right here
And I'll just wait and see.

[Big finish on E]