I, I am damaged goods
And I can't function the way I should
Can't follow the ways of the world around
So wired shut, I won't make a sound
I'm broken down, right down to the marrow
Got lost in my sorrow
No one would listen
No, no one could hear me
Their ears are sealed

So watch me run, I cannot stay
I'm sorry things had to end this way
This time, I'm sorry I'm too scarred
To hang around
Just watch me fall, I'll be alright
I'll try my best to keep myself clear out of sight
And I will run right til the end
Some day I'll be strong enough to stand

My fragile bits are scattered
And I know, it's hard, to try, to find, to like
Every shattered piece of my mind
But i can't possibly hold you at guilt for anything
That's gone wrong
It's me against myself and I'm learning to like
All I am

So watch me run, I cannot stay
I'm sorry things had to end this way
And I will run right til the end
Some day I'll be strong enough to stand
I'll write a letter, I'll write a letter
Oh, oh, to myself
