“The Live Your Dream Awards will help me to further my growth, accountability and commitment to be a transformational agent and end this cycle of poverty and abuse for my family!”

—Trafficking Survivor and Live Your Dream Awards Recipient

Our organization exists to economically empower women to rise above their difficult circumstances and achieve their life goals. What we do is powerful and transformative.

In FY16/17, Soroptimist focused on setting the direction for our organization’s future—a future where our organization is thriving and helping even more deserving women and girls.

We know that access to education is the most effective anti-poverty intervention. And because we measure the outcomes of our Live Your Dream Awards and Dream It programs—we also know they achieve their stated goals of economically empowering women and girls who face obstacles such as poverty, violence and teen pregnancy. The transformation doesn’t end there. Our programs ignite a ripple effect that spreads to the families of the women and girls we help, their communities, their countries and our world.

We are proud our work aligns with the UN Sustainable Development Goals. UN Secretary-General António Guterres stated, “We will not achieve the Sustainable Development Goals if there is no accelerated action to empower women economically.” We agree, of course. Our award-winning Live Your Dream Awards and Dream It, Be It programs absolutely support five of the UN’s 2030 Sustainable Development Goals for women’s equality.

We live in a rapidly changing world. Entrenched social inequalities that keep women and girls down require a new way of thinking and doing. Throughout our history, Soroptimist has demonstrated a willingness to chart new territory. To take risks. To try new things to adapt our collective mindset to a changing world.

We are eternally grateful for the strong partnerships throughout SIA. To the women and girls we serve, who inspire us every single day. To our clubs and members for the tireless work they do in their communities. To our generous donors, who make dreams come true for the amazing women and girls we serve. And to our committed leaders and professional staff, who confidently guide our organization into the future. Heartfelt thanks to all of you for your dedication and passion.

The Soroptimist Dream Programs

The Soroptimist Dream Programs—The Live Your Dream Awards: Education & Training Awards for Women and Dream It, Be It: Career Support for Girls—are dedicated to helping women and girls achieve economic empowerment.

Thanks to your support of these programs, we are giving women and girls the resources and opportunities they need to reach their full potential and live their dreams.

In 2017, our Dream Programs earned two American Society of Association Executives “Power of A” Awards. Dream It, Be It received The Summit Award, ASAE’s highest award given to associations that make exemplary commitments to creating a stronger America and the world. Soroptimist is one of only six associations chosen for this honor.

In addition, the Soroptimist Live Your Dream: Education and Training Grants for Women was named an 2017 ASAE Power of A Gold Award winner.

The Soroptimist Live Your Dream Awards program provides financial support to head-of-household women striving to enhance their economic status and create better lives for themselves and their families. Recipients may use the cash grants however they choose in support of their education goals—including for tuition, books, childcare and transportation.

This year, thanks to our generous donors, funding for the program increased by 11 percent and SIA gave 112 additional women awards!

In FY16/17:

1,467 women’s lives were improved

+$2 million in education grants was disbursed through the program

100% of Soroptimist countries and territories gave awards

“Education is so important for mothers because they have a major influence on their children’s education. This award will help me continue my education and graduate, so that I can provide a good example for my children and give back to my community.”

—Sara, 2017 Live Your Dream Awards Recipient
Each Year, Soroptimist Grants Three $10,000 Live Your Dream Finalist Awards

Rochelle
The Philippines

As a young child growing up in the Philippines, Rochelle dreamed of becoming an elementary school teacher. Her mother worked abroad and as the eldest, Rochelle had to raise her three younger siblings, one of whom has special needs. Her difficult upbringing turned even darker, when she was raped by her father and became pregnant with his child at the age of 14. After living in fear for years, her father was found guilty and is serving a three-term life imprisonment sentence. Determined not to let her past keep her dreams out of her future, Rochelle is currently working toward a bachelor of science degree in education and is scheduled to graduate in 2021.

Aislinn
Alabama, USA

Aislinn dropped out of high school to help support her parents and take care of her aging grandparents. After she got married and had a daughter, she knew she wanted to make a better life for her child. She decided to enroll in community college. After a few semesters, her grades were good enough to transfer to a local four-year university, where she is studying sociology and women and gender studies. But her struggle is far from over. Her husband was recently diagnosed with a terminal illness. When she sat her daughter down to explain what this news would mean for their family, Aislinn told her if they were going to make it, they had to be their best selves—they had to do better. This statement, as a guiding principle, is a mantra that keeps Aislinn strong and informs the projects and commitments she takes on. She is on track to graduate in 2018 with a bachelor’s degree in sociology and plans to go on to graduate school.

Sara
Michigan, USA

Sara grew up in Iraq. Her family sent her to the United States to marry a man she did not know, in hopes that she would have a better, safer life and escape the chaos going on in her country. As it turned out, her marriage proved to be a nightmare when her husband began physically and mentally abusing her. She realized that if she was going to leave, she needed a plan for economic independence, so she enrolled in community college. Sara completed her associate’s degree in pre-elementary special education and graduated with honors. From there, she transferred to a four-year university. Then the abuse escalated. Sara and her children were able to safely escape to a domestic violence shelter. Though she is still fighting legal issues surrounding her divorce, she and her children are surviving and moving forward. Sara continues to work on her bachelor’s degree in elementary special education and will graduate in 2018. Her dream is to become a teacher and eventually obtain a Ph.D. so she can help improve her state’s public schools.

When you ask Past SIA President Cathy Standiford why Soroptimist is her cause of choice, she quotes her mother: “See a need, and fill it.” Cathy lives by these words. She sees the world’s greatest need as the immense gender inequality facing women and girls. She sees filling that need through Soroptimist and its global Dream Programs as the answer.

Cathy’s dedication began nearly 30 years ago as a member of SI/Huntington Beach, CA. She then advanced to governor of Soroptimist’s Desert Coast Region, ultimately being elected to the SIA Board of Directors, where she served as SIA president in 2009-2010.

In the years since her accomplished presidency, Cathy continues to contribute selflessly to Soroptimist. She currently chairs her club’s Dream It, Be It program, and is a founding member of SIA’s Donor Relations Taskforce. And though reaching the Laurel Society’s elite Inner Circle some time ago, she continues placing value on our programs—just last year pledging $50,000 to support our online activist platform, LiveYourDream.org.

In her view, Soroptimist should aspire to contribute to an even greater number of victories in women and girls’ lives than it has ever before, and Cathy is committed to making this inspirational dream come true.

While Cathy gives so much to Soroptimist, she feels she receives an immense amount in return. On the Live Your Dream Awards, Cathy says, “the act of empowering other women to live their dreams empowers us too.” She describes Dream It, Be It as a “fantastic, fantastic opportunity for us and the girls we’re helping ... the opportunity to do real career mentorship with girls who need the extra support rocks my world!”

Another reason Cathy prioritizes Soroptimist in her life is the alignment of the Dream Programs’ outcomes with the United Nations’ Sustainable Development Goals. “There are lots of organizations doing good things, but many aren’t necessarily helping to achieve women’s and girls’ empowerment on a global level. Our Dream Programs do that! We can show a direct nexus between the Dream Programs and the Sustainable Development Goals, and I think that’s something we should really be proud of!”

Just as Cathy is proud of Soroptimist and our work to help women and girls, Soroptimist is immensely proud she has chosen us as her “cause of choice.” We couldn’t be more grateful to her. With her aid, we will ensure her vision of helping even more women and girls comes true.

“I give financially because I want to radically bridge the gap [between our results and the greater need], and it takes money to do that. It takes money for resources, to help clubs to do more. It takes money to offer more awards. It takes money to do research. It takes money to make sure our Dream Programs achieve the goals we set. So I do it because I see our potential as an organization to do more, and I want to help with that.”

—Cathy Standiford
