Bio/Introduction

Julia Glyde has been entertaining, educating and inspiring audiences for over 30 years. She knows that being visible is KEY to business success which is why she teaches video marketing and public speaking to entrepreneurs.

- Julia started her professional entertainment career at the early age of thirteen as an equestrian stunt rider and trick roper.
- In her early twenties she formed her own band, recorded and promoted three bilingual music CD's and toured the country.
- In her thirties she became the spokesperson for a major California Casino and appeared on numerous television and radio shows.
- Alongside her entertainment career, in her early forties Julia founded a Non-Profit Animal Rescue Organization and rescued and rehomed over 1,000 homeless pets.
- At age 46, after spending three years in career transition, Julia launched her very own San Francisco Bay Area Training Company in 2013. She has empowered thousands of business professionals to speak with confidence, share their message and build their business through video.
